SURVIVORS OF THE ITALIA WELCOMED TO HOMELAND

Flowers and Gifts Were Showered Upon the Returning Explorers at Each Stop in Italian Territories—Premier Mussolini Sent the Prefect of Bulzano to Welcome General Nobile and His Men at the Brenner Pass in the Name of Fascist Italy.

ROME, July 31—(AP)—"Viva Nobile" was the slogan of Italy today as countrymen of the Polar explorer welcomed him and five other survivors of the dirigible Italia to their home land. Enormous crowds met the train at each stop in Italian territory throughout the day, showering the returning explorers with flowers and gifts of wine and shaking rafters of railway stations with their roars of encouragement.

The demonstrations constituted a veritable march of triumph from the northern frontier and offered a sharp contrast to the cold receptions or incipient hostile demonstrations which have marked the homeward journey at several places in northern Europe.

Premier Mussolini sent the prefect of Bolzano to welcome Nobile and his men at the Brenner Pass in the name of Fascist Italy. Heartened by this concrete evidence of the support of their government, members of the party were further delighted by the enthusiasts of enthusiasm that greeted them at every stop, there were striking demonstrations at Trento, Verona and Bologna.

At Florence their special car was stormed by cheering, singing autograph hunters who made up the van of a swarm of people that packed the railroad station and surrounding streets to capacity.

Lieutenant Alfred Viglieri, navigator of the dirigible Italia and who was in command of the Red Tent encampment on the ice after Nobile himself was rescued, was the center of a demonstration all his own. He left the train soon after passing the frontier and went to his home in the little town of Borgetto Santo Spirito. En route, however, he had to stop at Milan, the city from which the Italians departed for the north.

The prefect of Milan and an enormous crowd welcomed him at the depot, the officials embracing and kissing him on both cheeks in the name of the entire population of the city. Women and girls covered him with flowers and Admiral Camperio, whose wife was Eleanor Terry, daughter of Admiral Silas W. Terry, U. S. N., presented Viglieri with a basket of fruit and champagne decorated with ribbons in the colors of the Italian navy.

The crowd shouted: 'Viva Viglieri' and "Viva Nobile" and added:

"Down with the jackals of the anti-Italian press."

Although it was early in the morning when the train arrived at Brenner Pass, thousands of persons were on hand and burst into a frenzy of cheering. The Italia survivors, Dresses in their pajamas, appeared at the windows smiling.

At Bressanone all the officers of the battalion of Alpine Chasseurs to which Captain Sora, of the rescue party who was lost and found again, belongs, greeted General Nobile and asked him news of their companion. The radio operator Giuseppe Biagi, who kept the Foyn Island party in touch with the rescue expeditions, was honored by his townsmen at Bologna with a huge, piping hot dish of marcaroni, cooked in the Bologna fashion.

"That's just what I needed to bring me back to life," he exclaimed.

At Bolzano, Engineer Caretto, secretary of the local Fascist organization, kissed General Nobile on both cheeks, saying "this is a kiss from all Fascisti of Bolzano."

One of the most affecting scenes took place at Trento where the brother of Vincenzo Pomella, motor attendant who was killed in the crash of the Italia, embraced General Nobile with tears in his eyes while the crowd solemnly saluted by stretching out their right hands in the ancient Roman fashion.

At Verona the wife of Natale Cecconi, who was injured in the crash, threw herself into her husband's arms and burst into tears.

"Don't be silly," Cecconi admonished her, "if you don't stop crying I will go back to the Pole."

"What did you do when you saw the rescuing airplane?" Biagi was asked.

"We had a banquet consisting of half an ounce of chocolate, parsimoniously distributed by General Nobile, and it was fine," the radio operator said.

The demonstration assumed solemnity at Rome where the governor, Prince Ludovico Potenziani, and other high officials awaited the survivors in the royal room of the railway station and greeted them in the name of the Eternal city. Women showered them with flowers and an immense crowd shouted "Viva."

LEADERS OF NEW BEDFORD STRIKERS ARE IN JAIL

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 31—(AP)—Virtually leaderless by the commitment to jail today of textile mill committee's organizers on charges of rioting, pickets at mill gates tonight had lost some of the militancy that characterized their actions during the past 24 hours.

But one arrest was reported tonight in contrast with a total of 250 last night, which was followed by a threat of 10,000 strikers and sympathizers to storm police headquarters to release prisoners. The arrest tonight was that of a woman who refused to move at the Whitman mill.

While Judge Frank A. Milliken was continuing a session of the district court into the evening, to clear the docket of 250 cases resultant from last night's disorder, the pickets centered their activities at the Whitman and Acushnet mills. At both of these mills, crowds averaging about 4,000 each gathered to look on at comparatively small picket lines. The lines were composed mostly of women and children and police made no effort to disperse them.

Indication that the wholesale commitment to jail today of the more than 200 pickets arrested yesterday, had chilled the spirit of the strikers, at least temporarily, was noted at the Whitman mill tonight. There picket lines left the scene when a patrol wagon full of police arrived. Small picket lines at a few other mills remained at their posts but a short time. Fall River police who were called here yesterday remained tonight.

A record day for the third district court was established when Judge Milliken found nearly all of those arrested yesterday guilty of rioting. He imposed sentences of two months in the house of correction on all but ten who are classified as leaders and received longer terms, and 22 whose cases were continued. Bail ranged from $500 to $1,500.

REP. HOODLUM WAS SHOT DEAD IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 31—(AP)—The slaying of Bennie Zion, 20th ward hoodlum and alleged political henchman of Morris Eller, ward committeeman and republican leader, today was added to the list of crimes arising from election day frauds and disorders now undergoing investigation by a special grand jury.

Zion, himself under indictment on nine different counts charging kidnaping, assault and murder, was slain a few hours before Morris Eller appeared before the special investigators under subpoena to tell what he knew of the election day violence in the "Bloody 20th."

It was in this ward that Octavius Granady, Negro candidate opposing Eller for ward committeeman, was shot to death on election day, and Zion was one of those accused of killing him. But four bullets in his body removed Zion from further connection with any election day troubles. His body was found in an alley back of a West Side saloon, an ice man noticing it partly buried under a pile of rubbish. Police said the slaying apparently had taken place in the saloon.

Authorities characterized Zion's slaying as a "warning from those pulling the strings that it isn't healthy to squawk." Zion, it was understood, had told too much, John Stege, chief special investigator for the grand jury, describing him as a man with a "gabby tongue."

TO REORGANIZE THE AERONAUTICAL C. OF C.

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—The rapid development of the Aeronautical industry from a military to a predominently commercial business was given as the reason for the reorganization today of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce in America.

The two outstanding developments in the reorganization plan provide for the establishment of regional offices in Hartford, Conn.; Detroit, Chicago, Wichita, Kan.; Los Angeles and Seattle and segregation of the membership according to specialized interest.

Major L. D. Gardner, of New York was elected president.

It was said that the volume of business in the commercial aeronautical field in America has grown from a few million dollars last year to an estimated $100,000,000 in 1928, largely as a result of increased interest growing out of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's flight to Paris last year.

The regional vice president elected for the eastern division was F. B. Rentschler, Hartford, Conn.

Nun Denies Inciting Slaying Of Obregon

Flat Ro[illegible] Made in an I[illegible] With a Group of [illegible]paper Men.

MEXICO CITY, July 31—(AP)—Flat denial that she had in any way influenced Jose de Leon Toral to kill Gen. Alvaro Obregon was made here today by the Catholic nun, Concepcion Acebedo de la Lata, who has been accused by the police of fostering in the mind of Toral a belief that he could solve the religious problems of Mexico by his crime.

She gave this denial in an interview with a group of newspapermen whose next question was:

"Who did influence Toral to kill General Obregon?"

"I do not know," she replied. "Toral himself has stated that nobody knew of his intention and that nobody influenced him. His father, mother, wife and brothers say they knew nothing of his plan. If anybody has admitted knowledge of his intention that admission has not been made public."

"The policy, however, is still to think that he was influenced by somebody who knew of his intentions."

The nun said if she had done any wrong she wished to be punished for she could find happiness in God's will.

"INDIRECTLY INFLUENCED" BY NUN, ASSASSIN TESTIFIES

MEXICO CITY, July 31—(AP)—Jose de Leon Toral, assassin of President-elect Alvaro Obregon, admitted in testimony before a criminal court today that the nun Concepcion "indirectly influenced" him in his deed.

His hearing before a court today marked the first step in the legal procedure which is aimed at trial and punishment for the assassination of the president-elect. It took place before "the preliminary court of first instance" of the town of San Angel, where the crime was committed, a suburb of Mexico City.

When Toral was placed on the stand he was asked if he had a lawyer to defend him. He answered negatively and the court made the customary offer of an attorney which Toral in turn, refused. The court decided, however, that he must have an attorney and two lawyers were appointed to defend him.

Toral's only comment on the procedure was that he had no defense to offer.

In the questioning which followed he asserted vehemently that "nobody on earth" knew his intention prior to the assassination. Further questioning elicited the statement that he had been "indirectly influenced" by the nun, Concepcion Acebedo de la Lata, who is being held by the police in connection with the case.

This statement is, after a fashion, contradictory to his contention all along that no one had influenced him in the least, and followed a denial by the nun herself that she had done so.

Toral, questioned by Judge Mendosa, admitted that he would have killed President Calles, too, if he could have slain him at the same time with Obregon.

"However, I never thought especially of killing General Calles," he said.

Prosecuting Attorney Correa Nieto exhorted Toral to tell the truth and told him that if he did so, innocent persons now under suspicion, including members of his own family, would be released from jail.

Toral replied with more emotion than he has shown since he was arrested:

"To no person on earth did I give the least indication of my intention."

Naval Pact Between France And Britain

Size of Cruisers is Understood to Be an Important Part of the Agreement.

PARIS, July 31—(AP)—Questions upon which the United States and Great Britain did not agree at the three-power naval conference at Geneva appear to be involved in the naval compromise agreement which has been reached between France and Great Britain.

The British conception of the size of cruisers is understood to be an important part of the agreement. The size of guns is left out although this question appears conditioned by the size of the cruisers.

The negotiations, the Associated Press learns, were brought about by frequent mention of American naval convictions but both sides are described as endeavoring to avoid anything which might annoy the government of the United States. Some objection, however, is expected from Washington upon the clause relating to the size of cruisers, both the British and French conceptions being for small cruisers rather than large ones. The agreement in no way touches the size or length of life of capital ships.

The text of the agreement already has been dispatched to the American government.

POLICE DEMOLISHED THE KESSLER CHURCH

CHICAGO, July 31—(AP)—A humble church-home on the edge of a forest preserve which for 26 years served as place of worship and habitation for August Kessler, head of a small religious colony, tonight was demolished by county highway police.

During the last quarter century few persons had ever heard of Kessler, who claimed to be a retired priest, although his name was not found on the records. Last Sunday the aged recluse was attacked by three persons, who since have been arrested. The following day police found a crude casket containing the body of a woman, identified by Kessler as his cousin, Clautia Clara Haupt. Today they discovered an old sword in the building, which they said was blood stained.

In the roof of the shack police also found a bullet imbedded in a rafter, which, they said, indicated that persons might have died there from other than natural causes.

Kessler was in a hospital, still in a critical condition, from the beating. Those held in connection with the attack upon him were James Donaghue, Mathias Ott and Mrs. Ellen Matterville, all of Chicago. Robbery was believed to have been their motive, although police said they were under the influence of liquor when they visited Kessler.

Kessler said the dead woman had been his housekeeper for 26 years. Last April he said, she became ill and died without medical attention because he had no money. Lack of funds for what he described as a "decent burial" was given as the reason the body was kept in his hut.

R. W. WATKINS, ABSCONDING HARTFORD BROKER, ARRESTED AT LORAIN, OHIO

SANDUSKY, Ohio, July 31—(AP)—Roger W. Watkins, 30, broker of West Hartford, Conn., was lodged in the city jail here tonight a short time after he had been arrested at Lorain, Ohio, on a charge of embezzlement.

John Taylor, Sandusky detective, who assisted in the arrest, said that Watkins was wanted at West Hartford, for the embezzlement of funds totaling $600,000 but he would give no further details of the case.

Watkins was trailed to Lorain by Detective Taylor and a secret service operative from West Hartford.

For a month he eluded pursuit, while in the company of his family, which he carried over the country in two cars. At Santa Fe, N. M., while on the way to complete an oil deal that he had had long under way, he narrowly escaped capture, having had to jump from the window of fashionable Bishop's lodge to avoid capture.

While he escaped, his wife, and two brothers-in-law, were arrested on the charge of being accessories to the embezzlement.

While the family was under arrest in Santa Fe, N. M., County Detective Edward J. Hickey went to the mission site and made a desperate but unsuccessful attempt to capture Watkins, but the latter's ingenious methods of communication and the fact that he used an airplane to traverse the great distaces of the southwest and the west defeated the Hartford detective.

The detective returned to Hartford and resumed the trail, following him over thousands of miles which lay between, by all the police and private agencies at his command, until he was rewarded by Hotchkiss' action this evening.

On April 24 a warrant was issued by the superior court at the request of State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn, charging the fugitive with the embezzlement of $167,000 from stockholders and investors in the companies.

DRIVE CONTINUES ON THE NIGHT CLUBS OF NEW YORK

Evidence Was Obtained by Four Prohibition Agents From Washington—Disguised as Wealthy Men of Leisure, They Took an Active and Expensive Part in the Gayest of the City's Night Life Circles—It is Estimated That the Four Officials Spent Between $60,000 and $75,000 in Four Months—Ordered Cocktails at $2.50 Each, Champagne at $42 a Bottle and Moselle at $22.

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—The prohibition drive to sponge up the night clubs of New York continued unabated today.

The federal grand jury which indicted 107 persons yesterday for conspiracy to violate the liquor laws in 18 night clubs returned eight additional indictments today which named 31 defendants for liquor conspiracies in eight other night clubs.

While the grand jury was handing down its new indictments, deputy marshals visited six of the places named in yesterday's indictments and attached prohibition padlocks to the bar room doors. In these clubs, court orders were served on the proprietors restraining them or any of their employes from serving liquor under penalty of contempt of court proceedings.

It was learned that the evidence on which the indictments were found was gathered by four prohibition operatives from Washington who, disguised as wealthy and carefree men of leisure, took an active and expensive part in the gayest of the city's night life circles for more than four months.

Their presence in New York was not known at the office of the prohibition administration here and they acted under direct orders from Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, deputy United States attorney general.

These secret agents patronized the night clubs attired in faultless evening dress and apparently never aroused the least suspicion that they wanted the liquor they ordered for any other purpose than the pleasure of the moment.

Attaches at the federal building estimated that their expenses from the middle of February until the latter part of June were somewhere between $60,000 and $75,000. If this is correct it means that each of the agents scattered approximately $5,000 a month along the primrose path during the entire period of investigation.

It was said that the agents paid liquor prices high even from the night club point of view, ordering cocktails at $2.50 each, champagne at $42 a bottle and Moselle at $22.

When all the evidence had been gathered a date was set for wholesale raids and every effort was taken to prevent the night club owners from getting a "tip-off." On the day of the raids all New York agents were taken to a room in the federal building and shut in without any means of communication with the outside. At the hour planned, they were released and assigned to help the Washington agents.

With all these precautions officials believed that there was a leak somewhere. When the agents raided Texas Guinan's Salon Royal the hostess was not there and investigation revealed that she was home in bed. Her absence apparently made little difference, however, as her name was among the 107 persons indicted yesterday.

CAPONE INVOLVED IN THE SLAYING OF YALE

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—Police questioned the young son of a former mayor of Miami, Fla., today, in an effort to connect the gunmen of Scarface Al Capone, Chicago racketeer, with the slaying of Frankie Yale, one-time crony of Capone's who was "put on the spot" in Brooklyn on July 1.

After a lengthy conference between District Attorney Dodd of Brooklyn, police inspectors in charge of the detective forces of Brooklyn and Manhattan, Chief of Police Reeve of Miami, and Parker A. Henderson, Jr., whose father, now dead, was once a Miami mayor, police announced that they had definite information that the guns which killed Yale came from the Capone arsenal.

They said they had discovered that shortly before Yale was killed four of Capone's henchmen went to Miami from Chicago and were furnished there with weapons and told to "get" Yale. They bought tickets back to Chicago which they ostentatiously showed around before leaving Miami in an effort, police said, to establish an alibi in advance.

Instead of returning to Chicago according to the police, these four gunmen dropped off the train in Tennessee, bought an automobile and proceeded to New York. On July 1, Frankie Yale, who had broken with Capone, was seated in his automobile in a quiet Brooklyn street when bullets from a machine gun, a shotgun, and a magazine pistol in the hands of occupants of a passing car blotted out his life. The weapons were later found in an abandoned automobile bearing Tennessee license plates.

WILL FIGHT TO BREAK THE DEMOCRATIC "SOLID SOUTH"

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—The republican party will wage a vigorous fight for the democratic "solid south's" electoral votes, Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire said today, reversing his recent stand that the party would be unwise to campaign there.

Hundreds of encouraging letters from the south had now convinced him, the republican eastern campaign manager said, that Hoover had a splendid chance of victory in the southern states.

"My correspondents tell me," he asserted, "that I am crazy if I think Hoover will not get the electoral votes of the south. I'm in a highly chastened mood as a result of those letters."

The New England senator, who visited New Jersey yesterday, said he found "some trouble" there, but he declared he was optimistic. Hoover's cause, he believed, would be helped by the attacks on Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, a vice chairman of the democratic national advisory committee.

Minnesota and Illinois were safe, he said, adding that Chicago presented the only problem to republican leaders in the latter state. Although he said he had been warned by observers to watch Wisconsin and Minnesota, the senator said nothing about the party's chances in the LaFollette state.

SERIOUS OUTBREAK OF RABIES AT WINDSOR, ONT.

TORONTO, July 31—(AP)—Officials of the Ontario department of health announced today that an outbreak of rabies at Windsor had spread from dogs to rats and that the situation was extremely serious.

"We may as well admit that the Windsor situation is a serious one" Minister of Health Godfrey said, "and we are having trouble controlling it."

It is considered especially dangerous that rats should contract the disease as it is feared that waterfront rats might easily carry the sickness in boats to other ports and so spread the malady.

SEES $100,000,000 DEFICIT FOR P. O. DEPT. IN YEAR 1929

WASHINGTON, July 31—(AP)—Postmaster General New estimated today that his department would have a deficit of $100,000,000 for the fiscal year 1929 as a result of the decision by the interstate commerce commission yesterday granting increased pay to railroads carrying the mails.

$50,000,000 A YEAR TAKEN IN BY VARIOUS SPORTS POOLS

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—Fifty million dollars a year have poured through the treasuries of various baseball and sports pools in this and neighboring states, the United States attorney's office estimated today.

Publicity attached to the investigation of the Albany baseball pool, Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas T. Cooke, said had brought in scores of "leads". Letters indicate, he said, that pools were thriving in and around Albany, Troy, Rensselaer, Hudson, Schenectady, Binghamton and many smaller municipalities.

The largest, apparently, Cooke found is circularized as "The Great Eastern" promoted by the "Bay State Syndicate" but operated from Syracuse and Schenectady. It pays out in prizes, according to circulars, $107,500 a week or approximately $5,500,000 a year.

As most pools take in twice as much as they give away, Cooke believed the Great Eastern takes in $11,000,000 a year. This pool bases its awards upon scores of 24 baseball teams. The Great Eastern pool, like the Albany and Rensselaer pools, uses the stock market as a basis for chance play between baseball seasons.

Complaints also were received, it was said, concerning the Imperial pool of Boston; the Sax pool of Peoria, Ill.; the Square Deal Lottery of Troy, several alleged representatives of which, booked in Boston by federal authorities in 1927 and 1928, received suspended sentences; and the National Automobile association which distributes cars to winners each week and operates from Binghamton.

The association's circulars call it a "club" providing a pension for its members in case of accident or sickness. The high award each week is a $2,000 automobile.

One letter claimed the C. C. and B. M. A. pool, supposedly cleaned up two weeks ago, still was operating in Albany.

William J. Pringle, treasurer of this pool, known as the Albany baseball polo, failed in an attempt to obtain a writ of habeas corpus at Malone, N. Y., Cooke said, he is under indictment there.

HOOVER CAUGHT NEARLY A DOZEN RAINBOW TROUT

BROWN'S CAMP, near Hornbrook, Calif., July 31—(AP)—Herbert Hoover demonstrated his skill as an angler today by catching nearly a dozen rainbow trout in Beaver creek, about 30 miles from this place.

Accompanied by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford university, and another friend, the republican presidential nominee left his cottage here shortly after dawn and motored nearly ten miles to a point where the highway ended. The party fished in the creek there until saddle horses could be obtained from a nearby ranch.

The mountain trail then led through trees and underbrush for a distance of 15 miles to what proved to be good fishing grounds.

Some of the rainbow trout were so small that they were thrown back into the stream, but the party brought home a sizeable string.

After lunch, Mr. Hoover rested until time for his party to break camp and leave by motor for Shasta Springs, 70 miles away across the Siskiyou range and to the foot of Mount Shasta, the snow-clad peak which rises 14,126 feet.

BROKERS TEMPORARILY PINCHED FOR FUNDS

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—Wall street brokers, whose combined borrowings on stock and bond collaters have averaged between four and five billion dollars this year, found themselves temporarily pinched for funds when banks and large corporations called between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 in loans today and they forced the call money rate from 6 to 8 per cent before their demands were satisfied.

Meanwhile, stock prices advanced, broke sharply and then made irregular recovery as professional traders sought to make capital out of the sudden "squeeze" in money. Trading was unusually light, total sales falling below 1,500,000 shares.

DRIVE NETS $10,000 IN PLEDGES ON FIRST DAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, July 31—The drive to raise $50,000 for the bringing to the city of a new silk industry got away to a flying start today. Cursory report on what the team workers had done up to mid-afternoon showed that over $10,000 in pledges had already been announced to the captains. Automatically the bringing of the new industry means that will be followed by a second which will employ twice the number of hands than will the first according t omen experienced in that line of manufacture. The drive is for three days and by pledging one-third of the amount on the first day, not including considerable business done in the evening, it was generally conceded that the citizens were well organized in making it plain that the new industry was welcome to Willimantic.

NO SPECIAL COLLECTOR OF TAXES THIS YEAR

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, July 31—For the first time in the history of the city, taxes this year will be collected by City Clerk and Treasurer Arthur L. Clark instead of by a special collector appointed by the mayor. This new venture which is hoped to create a saving in the cost of collection and effect a more systematic keeping of accounts was authorized by an act of legislature at the last session. Special collectors have done this work for the past 34 years. The tax at the rate of 13 mills is payable Wednesday. The grand list for 1927 is $15,731,530.33 on which the tax will bring about $204,510. There is also an additional income of $50,000 from miscellaneous sources. The budget as adopted at the annual meeting in December 1927 amounted to $242,405. To this was added appropriations made before the tax was laid in June, making the total budget about $267,000.

WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, July 31—There is much interest locally in the announcement by Dr. William L. Higgins of South Coventry, dean of the legislature, that he would be a candidate for the republican nomination for secretary of state provided that Secretary of State Francis A. Pelotti is not a candidate to succeed himself in that office. It is reported that Mr. Pelotti is a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor. Dr. Higgins, who is known to many as "the patron of good gravel roads for the country districts" points out that Tolland county in which he resides, has not been represented on the state ticket for 18 years and he places himself in candidacy at the urgency of his friends. Dr. Higgins has served seven terms in the house and one term in the senate, giving him the distinction of dean of the legislature in point of service. He has been mentioned as the logical speaker of the house should he return to that body next year. Dr. Higgins is a native of Chesterfield, Mass. As a young man he came to Connecticut and he studied and practiced medicine in Tolland county for 37 years, making his home in South Coventry. He was elected to the house in 1906 and again in 1907. He was elected to the senate in 1909. Again in 1917 he went to the legislature to represent Coventry and he was returned in 1921, 1925 and 1927. He has held the chairmanship of the important committee on humane institutions and was at one time chairman of the committee on public health and safety. In 1907 he was elected president of the Connecticut State Medical society, the youngest man ever elected to that office. He is now serving his second term as county commissioner of Tolland.

WESTERLY

LYNN YOUTHS WARNED AND ALLOWED FREEDOM

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, July 31—At a special session of juvenile court Tuesday morning at 10.30 o'clock Joseph Anthony Bernard of 7 LeGrange Terrace, Lynn and Swampscott, Mass., and Chas. Freuholm, 2 Valerie street, Lynn, Mass., mother and step father appeared before Judge Oliver H. Williams on wayward complaints of Chief of Police Thomas E. Brown. Their appearance followed the "borrowing" last Saturday night of the automobile of Lawrence E. Thompson, 69 School street, whose Ford coupe was driven by Bernard as far as the foot of Union street on Broad street. Here Officer Frank E. Knight in endeavoring to stop the auto was thrown off the running board when the auto struck an electric light pole. He took Freuholm to the detention room of the Westerly police station. The driver, Bernard, escaped and later stepped out of Knight's auto when he was again picked up on Narragansett avenue. The pursuit of the young man took members of the Westerly police and Rhode Island state police departments all night and the next morning before he was taken into custody at an Ashaway farm.

Both young men appeared thoroughly repentant for what they had done and the trouble and concern that they had caused the police and their parents. With a word of warning on the parents' statement that they were generally good boys, Judge Williams turned them over to their parents and the trip to their Massachusetts home was made by auto.

DANIELSON

SERVICE BATTERY MAY GO BY MOTOR TO TOBBYHANNA

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, July 31—There appeared to be a chance this morning that a convoy will leave the Danielson state armory on Wednesday, August 15, for an overland trip to Tobbyhanna, Pa., where the Service battery and other organizations of the 192nd field artillery will engage in a 15 days period of field service on August 18.

If the convoy is finally ordered, six of the heavy motor trucks, two of the lighter trucks and the light service-repair truck kept here will start to roll over the highways two weeks hence. Probably about 20 men, approximately half the personnel of the local battery at its present reduced strength, will go along with the trucks, Lieut. Gordon J. Gale said this morning. At Danbury the convoy would pick up Lieut. Anthony Sunderland, mayor of that city, an officer of the field artillery reserve.

Following the recent resignations of Captain F. O. Armington and Lieut. W. E. Bitgood, Lieut. Gale is now in charge of the battery. He said this morning that there is a tentative plan for the convoy to leave on August 15, but the movement has not as yet been definitely ordered. For several years past there has been a convoy from Danielson to Tobbyhanna for the annual encampment and the enlisted men have rather enjoyed the overland trip in preference to making the journey by train.

Chautauqua had swung into its stride today following the formal opening last evening of this season's series of programs. Favored by ideal weather, the audiences enjoyed both this afternoon's and this evening's entertainment in comfort. Why Die So Young? was the subject of a lecture this afternoon by Miss Marie E. Dohm. This evening's offering included a recital by Naoum Blinder, violinist from the Moscow conservatory, and a lecture—You and I and the Crime Wave—by William E. Bohn.

Following a minor accident in which his car figured on Dyer street this morning, Pierre Paquette was ordered to appear in the town court Wednesday morning by State Officer James Carmody to answer to a charge that he failed to grant the right of way. The cars came together and were somewhat damaged.

In the town court of Plainfield this morning Walter Benedict of New London was fined $100 and costs on a charge that he had been operating a motor vehicle while he was under the influence of an intoxicant.

Of gratifying interest to his many friends here is the report that Lieut. E. V. Streamen of the Groton state police barracks is making splendid progress toward a full recovery after having been ill for many weeks. Before his promotion to a lieutenancy and transfer to the Groton station Lieut. Streamen was stationed at the Danielson barracks, meanwhile making his home in Moosup.

At a session of the town court this morning Bernice Bellaceau of Pomfret pleaded guilty to a violation of the motor vehicle laws and was fined $5 and actual costs by Judge W. Fenner Woodward. This was the only business of the day for the court to consider.

Rev. F. X. Richards, M. S., who is leaving the coming week end to return to his parish at Estevan, Sask., said this morning that he has accumulated a considerable nucleus for the establishment of a parochial school. Estevan, a community of about 3,000 souls, is a central trading point for territory for many miles about. In that far northwestern community Fr. Richards continues his interest in athletics and has developed a very capable baseball team this season. He has been invited to coach the junior hockey team this fall. To those who appreciate what a lovely month September is hereabouts, it will be of interest to note that Fr. Richards goes back to a land where snow begins to fall about the middle of September and where near-Arctic winter conditions prevail each year until about mid-May.

It was said today that the delay in starting the improvement of that section of Water street that was authorized a considerable time ago by voters in a special town meeting is due to the fact that it is desired by the selectmen to have the expenditure included in the new fiscal year opening August 1, instead of the fiscal year closing today. The work to be done is largely grading. When completed the work will improve a section of street that long has been in very poor condition, although used a great deal every day and only one street removed from the very center of the business community.

The first political activity leading over the long trail that will end for the time being with the presidential election next November comes Friday of this week when the registrars of Killingly meet for the purpose of beginning the work of perfecting caucus lists. Upon these occasions those who are not registered on either caucus list of the town and are qualified electors will have an opportunity to express their preference as to which party they will affiliate with for caucus purposes, and those who are now qualified to take part in one party caucus or another may change their registration if they wish. A few weeks ahead comes various party gatherings to name delegates to the different conventions to be held incident to the state and national elections this year as well as the caucuses at which candidates for offices at the town election in October will be named.

The Dodge Bros.-Chrysler merger strike sone note of special local interest because of the fact that a former Danielson man—William Phillips—is a member of the investment banking firm of Dillon, Read and Company that engineered the deal, and because Mr. Phillips' long time acquaintance with Mr. Read brought Read into the firm a few years ago. Messrs Phillips and Read were classmates and roommates at Worcester academy and later at Harvard. Following their graduation from Harvard they drifted apart for a long term of years, but were destined to be reunited in the banking field. It is related that, not having seen each other for years, Mr. Phillips met Mr. Read on the street in New York a few years ago, and, finding that he was not engaged, induced him to seek a place in the banking firm with which he was associated. Mr. Read agreed, was engaged, eventually became a partner and is now one of the outstanding figures in the financial life of America. Estimates of the profits of the Dillon, Read and Company firm in the new automobile merger run as high as $45,000,000.

While a long stretch of concrete roadway has been put down half the width of the highway just above Attawaugan, it has not as yet been opened for use of the traveling public, but will be within a few days. One-way traffic arrangements are in force in that section.

MR. AND MRS. F. E. RUSSELL NOT INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, July 31—The express bearing Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Russell of Grove street and many other members of the American Bar association home from the recent convension held in California was wrecked near Los Angeles Monday and the telegraphic dispatches kept members of the Windham County Bar association in an anxious state today until a telegram was received from Judge Russell by State's Attorney Howard Branford today stating that neither he nor his wife had been injured in the train crash.

D., commanding officer of the newly organized medical detachment of the 43rd division, National Guard, stated today that his detachment had been federally recognized by a federal inspecting officer who had recently examined conditions of the small company and had sent his approval to the war department in Washington. Captain Perry, a local physician, has been granted his commission of rank and he will command his outfit when they leave for Camp Trumbull in Niantic on next Sunday for the first period of active training. Among the personnel of the organization are two Putnam men, Privates Omer Valade and Lawrence Phaneuf, both former members of the headquarters company of this city, the remaining enlisted quota come from Danielson, where the company was organized. In Putnam military circles, officers and men were engaged Monday evening in a last-minute preparation relative to their leaving for Camp Trumbull at Niantic on Sunday, Aug. 5, for the fourth annual training period. The first trespassing victim of the season, arrested because he was trying to gather a few huckleberries on posted land, was John Cody of Chapman street. Cody stated in police court this morning that he had seen the beautiful berries growing and going to seed and thought gathering a few would result in no harm. While in the process the owner of the land, George E Perry of Grove street, discovered that Cody was on his land and he sent his son to scare him away. This threat had no effect, so Perry summoned Officer E. L. Chandler of the Putnam police, who placed Cody under arrest. Perry said that he did not want the berries growing on his land picked because trespassers had been damaging fences, failed to replace cattle gates and many other cattle barriers on the large farm, so he went to the trouble of posting his land. Cody pleaded guilty to the charge and was imposed a minimum fine of $1 and costs of $1.

The presence of this tree in northern climate has been the subject of much comment and many have wandered into the freight yards to prove its species. For a number of years the tree has been growing in the yard, but this is the first season any fruit has been borne on its limbs. The identity of the tree was made by Assistant Supt. RELIEF FOR RAILROADS

Fifteen million dollars a year to the railroads of this country does not mean a very big boost in income, and yet when the interstate commerce commission grants them that increase in rates for the hauling of the mail it means that recognition has been given to the justice of the plea which the roads have been making for a number of years.

According to the award, which is retroactive to 1925, the commission does not grant all that was asked. Commencing today new schedules are effective and through the adjustment the railroads will come nearer to getting what they are entitled to for the service which they render. In the opinion of the commission that will be a fair and reasonable compensation for the carriers although in their opinion the 15 per cent. increase should have been 40 per cent.

Although busses, trucks and airplanes are being utilized to a large extent in the carrying of mail which was formerly handled exclusively by the railroads, the rail carriers are nevertheless responsible for the transportation of the great bulk of the mail matter, and they will continue to be for a long time to come. Speed is being obtained by the use of the flying machines, while the busses, autos and electrics are for the most part rendering auxiliary service, or replacing the trains where inadequate patronage has required their removal.

Whatever method of transportation is employed is entitled to proper compensation. When the railroads are not properly compensated it means that they are doing a considerable part of their work for nothing, or furnishing the service at a lower rate than can be profitably done. They have presented so strong a case in this respect that the commission has found the evidence balancing in favor of the carriers, and while the relief may be less than sought it will nevertheless help to offset the losses which have been experienced over a considerable period of years from various causes, some of which were entirely beyond their control. With the roads under regulation it is to be expected that they will get fair treatment.

PROTECTING THE TREES

More and more attention is being given to the value of trees. We are urged to engage in reforestation to provide for the timber requirements of the future and we are providing funds for the placing of trees along the highways in order to make them more attractive. We point with pride to some of the most attractive streets which are lined with impressive trees and we note with interest the opposition that arises to the removal of such real assets.

It is a comparatively easy task as things go for the woodman to put his axe to the roots of a tree and fell it, but it is a far different and longer process when it comes to restoring such a tree. It is because of this that there is so much sincere opposition to the cutting of trees, especially when they occupy a commanding position in a community and represent so much value to property and the scheme of beautification.

Still there are times when trees have to be sacrificed on the march of municipal advancement. When they are in the way and there is no method of escaping it the trees have to give way if removal isn't necessary there can be none too much commendation for those who protest and fight their removal.

It is a fortunate thing for the community where a public hearing is required for the removal of trees. It is the practice in some cities to have a printed form tacked to the tree which is scheduled for removal, or which someone has petitioned to have cut down, on which is given the date and place of the hearing and a statement of the proposed removal. This permits all who are interested to appear and present their views and when removal isn't necessary or wise to raise sufficient objection to prevent it. This blocks the rough shod methods of those who would first cut the trees and then seek permission, but it further shows a recognition of the fact that the trees are entitled to this form of protection. And while it is a protection to the trees it is also a protection to the best interests of a community. The community which doesn't value trees misses much in its development.

LEADING IN ARGENTINE

Not so many years ago South America was getting its supplies to a large extent from European markets. The United States found it difficult to get a hearing until the World war opened. Then South America was forced to turn in this direction and trade relations have been improving ever since.

What has been accomplished is told in an interesting way by Trade Commissioner Henry A. Bates, who has just returned from Buenos Aires and told the department of commerce that "the American share in Argentine trade has increased rapidly over the last few years, until our shipments into that country stand first among all nations and this expansion is still taking place."

We have gained this position because of the institution of branch houses, through well managed investments and by the use of commission agents with exclusive territorial rights. American business is now witnessing the effects of giving serious thoughts to the South American field.

Having received the opening we have proceeded to make a study of the situation, to learn what Argentine wants in the way of goods which we can furnish, what facilities are required for the marketing of American products and then meeting those requirements. At different times we have been criticised for trying to force South America to take what we thought it ought to have instead of providing it with what it wanted. Perhaps there was an opportunity to interest those countries in newer and better goods than they had used, but experience has taught that interest has got to be created in that direction through careful and well thought out methods, through better banking facilities and closer trade relations.

If we can judge by the report to and from the department of commerce excellent progress has been made in this direction. It represents no more than should be the case but there is cause for congratulation in the accomplishments made within the past ten years. It shows American business alive to the opportunities in the foreign field.

A GLORIOUS VICTORY

France is of course rejoicing in the fact that it retains the Davis cup. It has reason to do so, but that reason is greatly increased because of the attitude which it took in regard to the Tilden incident.

From the standpoint of the cup holder, France might have accepted the decision ruling excluding Tilden from the contest without in any way showing poor sportsmanship. It was nothing which it invited. There was no protest on its part.

On the other hand instead of remaining silent while the situation was being shaped that would make more probable a French victory, France used its influence in the opposite direction. It called for the presence of Tilden in the contest, and called so strongly that its demand was heeded. The result was that Tilden played and in spite of Tilden the Davis cup remains in France.

Thus it was a victory made all the more glorious because French sentiment demanded the best there was to be presented in the way of American players. There is no chance to say that it might have been different if Tilden had played. Tilden did play, through the insistence of the French, and he attracted a big gallery but the skill of the French tennis stars was too great to overcome, and as it has a right to do France is the better pleased because of the stand it took in regard to the Tilden incident.

So far as the Davis cup this year is concerned the decision has been made. There remains however plenty of time in which the merits of the attitudes taken concerning Tilden's treatment of the tennis association's rules and his elimination can be thrashed out and decided.

WHERE PENALTY MEANS SOMETHING

Those who figure that they can rely upon the pardon or parole boards to get them out of prison after a brief time spent behind bars are not disappointed in some instances, but get no consideration in others.

It seems highly probable that many a crime is committed under the belief that it will mean but a slight penalty if caught, regardless of what the penalty for such a crime actually is. It is to be noted that there are always many applications for parole and pardon when the respective boards meet for action. This indicates that a careful study has been made of what these boards do and there are always plenty of petitions to keep them busy.

In the state of Indiana there were 65 appeals for pardons or clemency before the pardon board in that state last week. When the board had completed its work there was one appeal granted. There were 68 which were denied.

It cannot be said that such action operates to encourage crime in that state. The attitude of the board is that inasmuch as those individuals have preyed upon the public in greater or less degree it is time for the board to stand by the laws and see that they are not turned loose any sooner than they ought to be and allowed to return to old practices. From the judgment of the board those 68 have not shown a sufficient reason for pardon or parole and they are unwilling to place a different interpretation upon the penalty than was applied by the courts. They realize the harm that can and does come from giving the impression that the commission of crime means little or nothing, and it seems highly probable that the people of Indiana will heartily endorse their attitude.

QUILTS AND COBBLER

Bob's eyes shoveled their way through the crusty exterior of Dot's expression with scrutinizing intensity.

"'S'matter, Twinkles?"

"Oh, nothing."

"Say, I'm too live a goose to stuff."

"Well, if you must know, the matter is Aunt Prude. That woman has the most tyrannical way of forcing her ideas on me and trying to pretend they are for my good. As if I don't know what I want and what I like! What does she think she can force me to swallow? This afternoon it was a quilt."

"Swallow a quilt?"

"Exactly. In she walked with a pattern and a cold-blooded resolution to intrigue me into making one. I give you my word, Bob, I tried to be polite to her. I said, 'It's awfully sweet of you, Aunt Prude, but you know I never pieced a quilt in my life.'"

"'The more's the reason why you should begin now,' replied your audacious aunt. 'There is nothing quite like the pleasure which comes from accomplishment. When I was a girl a man wouldn't marry a woman who could not piece quilts.'"

"You'd better believe I let her know that I didn't catch you with a quilt, Bob Perkins, and that I don't expect to hold you with one, either. And besides, I told her I had too much to do to even think of attempting one."

"And she says to that, 'All women do nowadays is to cut off their hair, starve themselves and coax their husbands for more money to buy less clothes with. In my day a woman baked bread, raised from two to ten children, milked a cow, did her washing and ironing, made her clothes, went to church four times a week, pieced quilts, wove rag rugs and never thought of complaining.'"

Bob gave a long, long whistle. "How did you sidetrack my ingenious relative?"

"Sidetrack her? The only way to sidetrack Aunt Prude is to dispose of the matter in hand to her advantage. I cut off her pattern, got out a chest of patches and littered the house up generally."

"And I suppose he went home smiling?"

"You're right; then I put the patches back in the chest and the pattern into the furnace." Bob grinned, changed the subject.

"What do we have for dessert?"

Dot vanished into the kitchen and returned with two plates.

"Great guns," groaned Bob, "why on dietetics. The basic idea of pie and cobbler practically coincide."

"Don't give a bang if they do."

Tears from Dot.

"My gosh," groaned Bo, "who started all this racket?" and plunged his spoon contritely into his dessert.

Dot dried her eyes and watched the ensuing operations. With the disappearance of the food, a smile of contentment flickered about her countenance. When the last mouthful had been consumed she observed, in a tone more victorious than conciliatory, "Now, it was good, wasn't it?"

With majestic endurance Bob arose from the table. "You misconstrue my motive entirely," he said with dignity. "I swallowed that stuff for the same reason that you swallowed Aunt Prude's tyranny to keep peace in the family, and nothing more. I'm here to tell you I think eating cobbler is fully as crazy an idea of joy as you think piecing a quilt is."

But Dot thought it was quite different, which, as Bob told her—but she wouldn't believe—is the way with Dots all over the world.—Chicago News.

YOUR HEALTH

TRENCH MOUTH

By Norval H. McDonald, D. D. S., Baltimore, Md.

During the World war much was heard about a mouth and throat disease that was quite prevalent in the camps and combat centers. This disease was popularly called Trench Mouth. While the disease is not as prevalent now as it was ten years ago, there is still a great deal of it. Nowadays it is called by several names, one of the most common being Vincent's Infection when it is confined to the mouth, or Vincent's Angina when it occurs in the throat.

This infection usually follows some gum irritation and often exists in the gum tissue around a partly erupted third molar or wisdom tooth. It is the result of the invasion of a particular bacterium and manifests itself in several ways. When acute, it produces considerable pain, the gums become swollen and inflamed, a white membranous film forms that keeps sloughing off, there is a characteristically foul odor and the gums bleed freely. It is possible for the sufferer to pass it on in various ways to others, so it is quite properly called a communicable disease.

Because of the peculiar nature of the germ, it is sometimes extremely difficult to control or eliminate, as it thrives in the north where conditions seems to be ideal for it.

Whenever any of the symptoms are noted in the mouth, the first thing to do is to see a dentist and if he is certain, from clinical indications and miscroscopic examination, that there is Trench Mouth, treatment should be instituted without delay. Care should be exercised not to pass it on to relatives and friends with whom one associates, and directions should be faithfully and carefully followed. All infected or suspicious areas on the gum and cheeks should be treated with any of the preparations that experience has proved of greatest value in eliminating the disease, and at the proper time the affected teeth should be carefully cleaned and polished. If any teeth are particularly affected and it is necessary that they be removed, it is ordinarily better that their removal be delayed until after the acute condition has subsided or the infection is well under control. As there is a likelihood of the infection spreading into the throat, every effort should be made to prevent it doing so.

If proper treatment is instituted, the pain disappears almost instantly, the bleeding stops, the gums soon show indications of returning to normal and the foul odor is eliminated. Although some cases might be stubborn, the disease is curable and the sufferer should not become discouraged.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Tribute to Arthur E. Boyer, Jr.

Mr. Editor: The death of Arthur E. Boyer, Jr., only child of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Boyer of No. 2 Orchard street, which occurred at 9 p. m., Saturday, July 28, created much surprise and a great deal of sadness in the neighborhood where he passed the two years and ten months of his life. He was a lovable manly little fellow; he had a wonderful memory and his bright sayings were many and surprising; he was too bright and good for this world; to know that dear little boy was to love him and the love held for him was most impressively shown in the many beautiful floral tributes. I never saw such a profusion of flowers for a child of his age.

A FRIEND.

Who will never forget dear little Junior Boyer.

Vivid Description

Two cute little flappers in high-heeled red and green shoes, knee length skirts and no stockings were in the dance pavilion dressing room, comparing notes on their boy friends.

"You know Bob, that fella I came to the dance with the other night—," began one.

"Is he a blonde?" said the other.

"No, he's tall," was the brilliant answer.

Two Babies Interest King Eagle

Unknowingly we often tell
The secret that we guard so well.
—Mrs. Lightfoot.

There was one secret that King Eagle had discovered in the Green Forest that he kept to himself. He didn't even hint of it to Mrs. Eagle. It wasn't selfishness that caused him to keep this secret to himself. No, it wasn't selfishness. It was quite the opposite. You see, from the moment that King Eagle discovered that secret in the Green Forest, he hoped to give Mrs. Eagle and the two babies in their nest a pleasant surprise.

King Eagle had been sailing high in the blue, blue sky over the Green Forest, looking down as was his habit. Presently he discovered Mrs. Lightfoot the Deer. She was alone. In fact, she was getting her breakfast at the time. The sight of her reminded King Eagle of something.

"Let me see," said King Eagle, talking to himself, for there was no one else to talk to up there in the blue, blue sky. "It is about time that Mrs. Lightfoot should have babies. I wonder if it can be that she has them already, but has hidden them away somewhere. My, my, my, my, how good one of those young fawns would taste! I don't want it for myself, but one sure would make very tender and delicate meat for Mrs. Eagle to give to the children. I think I'll hang around for awhile and keep an eye on Mrs. Lightfoot."

So King Eagle did this very thing. He appeared to just float around way up in the blue, blue sky. Apparently, he wasn't doing anything special or watching any one in particular. But all the time he managed to keep Mrs. Lightfoot the Deer in view.

For some time Mrs. Lightfoot seemed to be concerned only with getting her breakfast. She was grazing on some tender plants and young grass in a little opening in the Green Forest. After every bite or two she would lift her head to look this way, to look that way, sniff the air, and turn her great ears to catch every Merry Little Breeze that was wandering about. Even from way up there in the blue, blue sky, it was easy to see that she was nervous. While he watched her King

"I won't tell Mrs. Eagle," said he

Eagle searched on all sides in the grass for baby Deer, for the little spotted fawns that are the prettiest babies in the Green Forest. But not a glimpse of one did he get.

After a while Mrs. Lightfoot went down to the Laughing Brook for a drink. Then she lightly leaped across it and moved slowly along through the Green Forest.

"I guess she hasn't any babies after all," thought King Eagle, and for a moment turned his attention to the pond of Paddy the Beaver, where Buster Bear was getting a drink.

When he looked back at Mrs. Lightfoot he got such a surprise that he almost forgot to keep his wings spread. Beside Mrs. Lightfoot were two spotted babies! Yes, sir, there were two spotted babies, and prettier babies never lived. But where they had come from King Eagle couldn't imagine. He had to be satisfied with the knowledge that there were two babies in the Deer family. There was no chance to get one of them then.

"I won't tell Mrs. Eagle," said he. "No, sir, I won't tell Mrs. Eagle. I won't raise any false hopes. But I'll keep my eye on Mrs. Lightfoot. Sooner or later, before they get too big, I'll have a chance at one of those babies of hers. At least, I hope I will."

BAGGAGE ORDERED SENT TO APPRAISERS' STORES

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—Seventeen pieces of baggage brought by Miss Mary H. Wiborg, daughter of a wealthy manufacturer and resident of Park avenue, were ordered by customs officials sent to the appraisers' stores today when she disembarked from the liner Majestic.

Customs officials after examination of the first trunk said it contained many articles which had not been included in her declaration of purchases abroad.

In 1924 Miss Wiborg's mother, Mrs. Frank B. Wiborg, pleaded guilty to a federal indictment charging her with smuggling $4,000 worth of goods into the country and was fined $1,750.

DEMPSEY DOUBTS TUNNEY IS SINCERE IN ANNOUNCEMENT

BOSTON, July 31—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, whom Gene Tunney dethroned as heavyweight champion, does not think Gene is serious in his announced retirement from the boxing game an undefeated champion.

Dempsey, who arrived here today to act as announcer at the Schaaf-Mays bout at Braves field tonight, expressed the belief that Tunney would enter the ring again should the occasion demand it.

"It is a shame that Tunney is quitting just now when he is at the top of his fighting career," the Manassa Mauler said. "I can say, however, that Gene's retirement will not affect my own plans in any way."

Dempsey, who is also supposed to be on the retired list, did not appear to be very sure that he was through with the game for keeps. He declared, however, that he had no immediate fistic plans.

"If I do fight again it will not be this year," he said.

The former champion was given an enthusiastic welcome when he arrived here from New York. More than 5,000 persons assembled at the South station to cheer him, and as he was driven through the downtown streets of Boston, he was acclaimed by the crowds homeward bound from business. He planned to be back in New York tomorrow.

Americans Have Good Lead

AMSTERDAM, July 31—(AP)—Although Americans have captured only three of the eight Olympic championships decided thus far, the United States tonight still held a commanding lead in points on the field at Amsterdam. Scoring 16 points today under the unofficial scoring system, the United States has rolled up 71 points to 29 for her nearest rival of the moment, Great Britain, who tallied only ten points today. Unable to place in either of the two men's finals today, Finland saw herself passed in the standing by both Sweden and Germany.

UNCASVILLE METHODISTS BUILDING NEW MODERN CHURCH EDIFICE

The congregation of the Uncasville Methodist Episcopal church, whose church building was struck by lightning and burned in April, 1927, is having a new church built in a new location on a lot presented to the church by Mrs. Ralph Meicer, fronting 200 feet on the Norwich-New London highway. The church is being built by the Peck-McWilliams company of this city, the contract having been signed June 16 and since that time such good progress has been made that the building is ready for the ceremony of laying the cornerstone which is to be carried out on Saturday afternoon of this week at 2 o'clock.

According to the plans made by the architects, Cudworth and Thompson of this city, the building will be 120 feet deep and 46 feet wide over all, with a steeple 75 feet high. It will be built of brick and hollow tile with steel trusses for the roof, which will be covered with the best quality asbestos shingles. The architecture will be colonial and the outside of the building will be of rustic red brick with cut stone trim. The inside will be plastered.

The front part of the building is the auditorium, seating about 250, and in the rear is the spacious Sunday school room. Adjoining are the social parlors with a large fireplace, and the arrangement is such that sliding doors make it possible to throw all the rooms into one. Other appointments in the building include pastor's study, built-in organ and choir loft, stage for entertainment, ladies' parlor and toilets, and a fully equipped kitchen with cabinet, sinks and stove.

SEE TIRES MANUFACTURED IN POQUETANUCK FACTORY

Tuesday afternoon a group of 15 men representing many interests in the community such as the chamber of commerce, the Lions, the Rotarians, the merchants bureau, the credit rating bureau, the real estate board, manufacturers and others watched with interest an educational exhibition of how the new puncture proof rubber tires are manufactured in the home of the Air Proof Rubber company in Poquetanuck. Among those present were the president of the chamber of commerce, H. D. Larrabee, Secretary Walter H. Pilcher, E. W. Taggart of the Norwich gas and electric department and member of the Rotarians, H. H. Gallup, Norwich Belt company; Shepard B. Palmer of Chandler and Palmer, Leonard Main of North Stonington, Francis Donahue of the real estate board, William R. Frisbie, Earl Taggart and L. M. Crandall of the Norwich chamber of commerce and the Lions.

William Mileski conducted the party through the plant showing them how the crude rubber was received and explaining the different processes it passes through on its way into the new puncture proof tire which this company is now manufacturing. Each step of the manufacturing process was demonstrated to the committee and a final demonstration, that of driving spikes into an inflated tire and withdrawing them without the loss of pressure or the escape of air.

Mr. Mileski stated that this company was not connected in any way with any other rubber company, but this company had bought out patent rights and equipment of others which they have been using in their experiments during the past two years since they began building and equipping their plant which is now ready to do business. The company has on hand many unfilled orders as well as many filled ready for shipment. The demonstration was a success and greatly enjoyed by those who were privileged to see it.

NEW STYLE RUM BOAT MAKES ITS APPEARANCE

That a new type of rum boat, built especially to engage in the rum running business, has made its appearance off the New England coast and has created a new problem for the coast guard in enforcing the prohibition laws.

The new vessels are of an oceangoing speed type, unusual in construction and apparently built with thought of making them exceptionally seaworthy, difficult to see at a distance, speedy and easy to maneuvre. Within the past week more than a half dozen boats of the new rum fleet have been discovered operating from St. Pierre island, a tiny dot in the North Atlantic south of Newfoundland.

This island, owned by France, is regarded by the prohibition enforcement forces of the United States as the present center of rum running activities, exceeding even the British colonies in the West Indies.

These boats can carry 2,500 cases of liquor. It was found they take on their cargoes at St. Pierre and then transfer their liquor to smaller, faster boats outside of the 12-mile limit.

RECOVERING FROM INJURIES IN CHESTERFIELD CRASH

All five victims of the collision which occurred at Chesterfield Sunday night between automobiles operated by E. Oliver Abernathy of 173 Ocean avenue, New London, and Prof. Kossuth Williamson of Wesleyan college, Middletown, were reported Tuesday at the Lawrence and Memorial Associated hospitals to be resting as comfortably as can be expected, considering the nature of their injuries. Abernethy is suffering from serious burns about the feet and legs and lacerations about the body and face; and Professor Williamson has a fractured right arm and facial and oddly lacerations.

Miss Martha Hale, Middletown school teacher, who was riding in the latter's car is suffering from a fractured left arm and painful lacerations about the body. Miss Esther Welch, of Station 5, Waterford and Oliver Harris, 69 Montauk avenue, New London, both of whom were passengers in Abernathy's car have severe burns about the feet, legs and body and multiple lacerations on the face and body.

George Malleck of 28 West High street, New London, who was the driver of one of the cars involved in the accident gave his version of the accident.

He states that he was proceeding in a southerly direction along the turnpike with his wife and eight children in his seven passenger sedan when the Abernathy car in passing him on the road struck his rear left fender and glanced off to collide head-on with the Williamson car which was going in a northerly direction.

The Abernethy and Williamson cars piled up with the front wheels of both the cars rising high in the air following which they crashed to the pavement with the Abernethy car falling in such a manner as to jam the doors and imprison the occupants. Malleck said he came to a stop alongside the other two cars and alighting from his car called for help from other motorists arriving as he made frantic efforts to release the occupants of the Abernethy car who were in grave danger of being burned to death when the car took fire.

According to Malleck two farmers in the vicinity came to his aid in rescuing the three in the blazing car after which Malleck said he took one of the three to the Lawrence hospital.

SEN. KEENEY OF SOMERS FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Senator R. Leland Keeney of Somers is being quietly boomed as a contestant for the nomination of lieutenant governor on the republican ticket, thus bringing four candidates from four different counties into the contest.

Senator Keeney is not campaigning for the office, although it is known that friends are testing his strength before they launch him as a candidate possessing enough support to make him a formidable contender at the convention. The senator is quoted as saying Tuesday that at present he cannot be considered formally as a candidate since he is making no serious move to enlist support, but he qualified this statement with the assertion that if sufficient strength is in evidence at the convention he will not object to having his name placed before the delegates.

BAKER'S MOTOR TRUCK RAN INTO BALTIC P. O.

The driver of a baker's motor truck craved for nourishment, so he left his means of transportation parked on a steep incline and went to a nearby restaurant. H. A. Cusson, who is the driver, evidently remained away too long for the truck became restless, released its brakes in some manner and started rolling down the hill backwards. It was not in motion very long for it came in contact with the windows of the Baltic postoffice and came to a stop within the building. Postmaster Louis Stefon, who was engaged in his daily routine at his desk, was struck by a flying piece of glass, receiving a cut on the forehead over the left eye. Deputy Sheriff John McGuire, who was summoned, tried the brakes of the truck but they were found to have been properly adjusted, so no arrests were made.

FARM BUREAU GOING TO WATERFORD FIELD DAY

An attractive programme has been arranged for the annual field day of the New London county farm bureau to be held Saturday, Aug. 4, at The Strand, Great Neck road, Waterford. Last year more than 600 were present, which was greater than in any other year, but it is safe to say that this year this mark will be eclipsed.

Those who attend will have an opportunity to go bathing, which is a sport always looked forward to by the younger generation. The next number is an A-1 clam chowder dinner to be served at noon by the Gilead community club of Waterford. Following this an address will be given by Prof. Allen W. Manchester, head of the farm management department and assistant director of the extension service. Prof. Manchester's address will be followed by a programme of sports, in which young and old, men, women, boys and girls may take part.

Everyone is expected to register on this day, because the farm bureaus having the largest attendance are to be presented silver loving cups. In other years banners were offered. There is also another contest, the town having the largest total score in attendance is to be given free tickets by the Connecticut state fair on Sept. 8th.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HAD TEN CALLS IN JULY

There were 10 calls for the Norwich fire department during the month of July, which was one call less than for the previous month. Six were telephone alarms, two oral calls and the same number of bell alarms. One bell alarm was for a blaze in the cellar of the wholesale fruit and produce store of Levine Bros., Inc., 75-79 Water street, while the other was for a blaze in the house occupied by Mrs. Joshua Ruley at 10 Mt. Pleasant street. The fire was caused by an explosion of a can of stove polish, which had been left on the shelf of the stove, in which there was a hot wood fire. Very little damage was done at either place. There was also a call out of the city limits, the local department being asked to help combat a blaze in a 12-car garage at Hallville, owned by the Hallville Mills company. One car was destroyed and two others were damaged in this fire. The damage for the month was small.

SPECULATION INVADING SAVINGS BANK FIELD

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—Reginald Roome, president of the Excelsior Savings bank, writes in the current "Savings Bank Journal" that an analysis of savings bank deposits in New York city indicates that probably $10,000,000 a month is being taken out of the banks by depositors who have decided to "take a flier" in Wall street.

He calls the stock speculation fever the latest invader of the savings bank field and traces it back to the education the general public got in finance by subscribing to Liberty loan bonds during the war.

This education, he says, has been used to advantage in the successful customer ownership campaigns of the public corporations, but also millions of limited means have discovered that they do not have to buy securities to keep, but if they buy and sell at the right time they can make a lot of money.

Roome says that the primary need in order to keep these small depositors from throwing away their savings is a campaign of education on the real basis of sound investing. He believes the savings banks should be the chief factor in such education but says that old restrictive laws prevent it.

THREE WORLD'S RECORDS SET IN OLYMPIC TRACK CHAMPIONSHIPS

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Amsterdam, July 31—(AP)—Douglas G. A. Lowe, young British barrister, retained the Olympic 800 meter crown this afternoon by outclassing a great field, including the American favorite, Lloyd Hahn, and smashing the Olympic record with the most spectacular performance of the third day of the track and field championships.

What was expected to be the most exciting middle-distance struggle in Olympic history with world's champions and record holders all assembled turned out to be a rout. Lowe, running like a thoroughbred, came from behind in the last 100 meters to beat his nearest rival, Erik Byleho of Sweden by ten yards, while Hahn after leading almost from the start staggered home fifth, badly whipped.

Hahn, running his own race, had no excuses for wilting so badly. He was passed by Herman Englehard of Germany and Phil Edwards of Canada while the two remaining Americans, Earl Fuller and Ray Watson, were eighth and ninth respectively, bringing up the rear.

Lowe not only dealt another blow to the apparently groggy American runners but his time, 1 minute 51 4-5 seconds, beat by 1-10 second the former Olympic mark set by Ted Meredith in 1912. The Englishman also shattered precedent by winning the Olympic 800 for the second straight time.

In a day marked altogether by the shattering of three world's records and two Olympic standards, Yankee fortunes again ebbed and flowed. It was not so disastrous as the day before, however, for Hahn's defeat was off-set by a triumph by Ed Hamm in the running broad jump and victory for Little Miss Elizabeth Robinson in the women's 100 meter finals in the world's record time of 12 1-5 seconds.

Hamm Breaks Broad Jump Record

Hamm wound up the most sensational broad jumping campaign any human kangaroo ever had by adding the world's championship to his national and world's record holding honors. His winning leap of 25 feet 1 3-4 inches displaced the Olympic mark set in 1912 by the American A. L. Gutterson and gave the Georgia Tech star possession of all the jumping honors worth mentioning. He out-leaped S. P. Casor, Negro rival from Haiti, and his own countryman Al Bates who finished third, while the former champion, Dehart Hubbard, failed to reach the finals.

Where the American men sprinters had been failing dismally Miss Robinson the only Yankee to reach the women's sprint final ran a beautiful race to beat two Canadians and one German rival. Bobbed hair flying to the breezes the Chicago girl sped down the straightaway, flashing a great closing spurt to beat the Canadian favorite Fanny Rosenfeld by two feet.

New Discus Mark Set

It took a world's record discus throw of 39.62 meters or 129 feet 11 113-128 inches by a husky Polish lass, Halina Konopacka, to beat another American feminine star, Lillian Copeland, who finished second with 37.08 meters or 121 feet 7 111-128 inches.

High Hurdles Mark Lowered

The third world's record was clipped by the rangy South African hurdler, G. C. Weightman-Smith, who beat the American, John Collier, by half a yard as he skimmed the 110 meter high timbers in 14 3-5 seconds. Carl Ring of the United States was fourth in his heat and thus did not qualify. Weightman-Smith's performance, establishing him as another likely to upset American victory hopes, followed semi-final triumphs by two other Americans, Leighton Dye and Stephen Anderson, each equalling the former world's record of 14 4-5 seconds made by Earl Thomson in 1912.

American Sprinters Get Setback

American sprinters suffered a fresh setback in the 200 meter trials when Charley Borah was nosed out for the second qualifying place by Percy Williams, the Canadian youth who now qualifies as the Yankee nemesis, on top of his 100 meter triumph yesterday. Helmut Koernig, German ace, captured this heat, equalling the Olympic record of 21 3-5 seconds but it was a real battle between Williams and Borah. The American appeared to have the place cinched but lacked the stamina to meet Williams closing rush. The Canadian just got the width of his chest across the line first.

The other three Americans each came through two heats easily to qualify for the semi-finals tomorrow. Jackson Scholz, the defending champion, and Charley Paddock, won their second trials in similar time of 21 4-5, while Henry Cumming placed second to the German, Jacob Schuller, in 22 flat in the second heat.

The 5,000 meter trials, determining 12 competitors for the finals Friday gave two young Boston A. A. stars, Leo Lermond and MacAuley Smith, a chance to shine. Lermond uncorked a typical sprint, won the first heat in the day's best time, 15 minutes 2 3-5 seconds. Smith even more spectacularly had the moral satisfaction of leading the great Paavo Nurmi at least for a day. The American, running third most of the way behind Edvin Wide of Sweden, rushed out in the final lap to win by a big margin. The Scandinavians did not chase him, being satisfied to qualify.

AMSTERDAM, July 31—(AP)—The schedule for tomorrow, fourth day of the Olympic track and field championships, includes:

200-meter dash—Semi-finals and finals.
Pole vault—Trials and final.
110-meter hurdles—Final.
3,000-meter steeplechase—Trials.
1500-meter run—Trials.
800-meter run (women)—Trials.

CUBS AND GIANTS SPLIT IN SNAPPY DOUBLEHEADER

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—The Giants won their series against the Cubs, four games to two, by dividing an exciting double-header here today. The home team got away with the first clash 8 to 7, by putting on a five-run uprising in the ninth, but the visitors hit three New York pitchers hard to take the second, 10 to 4.

The last-ditch rally of the Giants featured the opener. Ott, Lindstrom, Terry Reese, Cohen and Hogan all hit after two were out, the last two drives being off Bush who relieved Blake. Hogan's hit was a double with the bases full, which ended the game. The Cubs had taken a healthy lead through home runs by Stephenson, Cuyler and Heathcote off Fred Fitzsimmons.

Walker, young Giant left-hander fanned five in four innings to start the second game, but the Cubs knocked him out in the fifth when English's homer with two on capped a four-run rally. Wrightstone hit for the circuit with two on in the Giant half, but Root steadied, while the Cubs carried on their attack against Hubbell, winning pitcher in the first game and Nichols.

Hack Wilson was retired for the rest of the day when he kicked against a third strike called on him by Bill Klem in the opener.

DUWELL JUNIORS LOSE FIFTH STRAIGHT GAME

The Duwells lost their fifth straight game in the Junior Twilight league Tuesday evening, the Y. M. C. A. winning 10 to 1.

Lavarge was in the box for the Duwells and although hit rather freely costly errors behind him made the score much larger than it should have been. Cohn relieved him and pitched the last two frames, allowing two hits, and hitting two. While the "Y" was scoring almost at will, Greene was holding the Duells down without any trouble. He allowed but three hits and fanned five.

The "Y" started off in the first inning, scoring one run, and added 3 in the third, two in the fourth, one in the fifth and three more in the sixth. The Duwells only score came in the fourth on a sigle by Monty, a stolen base, an infield out and a passed ball. The score:

WHITE SOX DOWN SENATORS IN FINAL GAME OF SERIES

CHICAGO, July 31—(AP)—A four run rally by Washington in the eighth inning was not enough and the White Sox won the final game of their five game series, 7 to 5, today.

Ted Blankenship allowed but three hits until the eighth when he walked three men and Bucky Harris doubled. Grady Adkins relieved him and held the Senators in check after they had tallied four runs. The White Sox nicked Gaston and Marberry for 11 hits. Goose Goslin hit a home run in the first inning with none on base.

CARDS SWARM OVER PHILLIES FOR 18 RUNS

PHILADELPHIA, July 31—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals administered a 18-5 trouncing to the Phillies today that gave them the series three games to one. The Cards got sixteen of their runs in four successive innings, starting with five in the fifth. Taylor Douthit was the batting star with four singles and a double.

In the fifth inning, Sand, the Phillie shortstop, thinking there were three out, threw the ball into the diamond scored all the way from first while some of the other Phillie players walked off the field. This began the Phillie rout.

BRAVES POUND PIRATE PITCHERS FOR EASY WIN

BOSTON, July 31—(AP)—The Braves hopped on two Pittsburgh pitchers today to run up a commanding lead and defeat the Pirates in the final game of the series, 11 to 5. IRONMEN INCREASE LEAD IN DUSTY LOOP BY DOWNING THERMOS, 3 TO 2

The Richmond Radiators tripped the Thermos Bottlers for the third straight time in the industrial league Tuesday night at the Academy campus and assumed a most favorable position in the league race. The score was 3 to 2 and this victory boosted the ironmen into a two-game lead over the United States Finishers who are now in second place. The Foundry has three games yet with the Bleachery, the first coming Thursday night, so that something interesting ought to result.

Jarvis Invincible

Lloyd Jarvis was in brilliant form for the Radiators last night, allowing but two hits and fanning 14 men, outpitching his two rivals, Moon Mullin and Johnny Greene, who were nicked for ten safe drives and both struck out one man apiece.

However, the Richmond machine could not bunch their blows with any success until the last two innings popping up when a safe drive would have put the game safely in the icebox. For that reason they had to fight hard and put on two brilliant rallies in the seventh and eighth innings to come out ahead.

The Thermos assumed the lead with their two runs on their two hits, a hit batsman and an error in the second, while the Richmonds made up one in the third and then annexed one each in the seventh and eighth.

Thermos Score Twice

In the second, Greene opened and was safe on an error. Eddie Paul singled him to second and when Dudek walked, the bases were loaded. A. Pineault then hit the center field fence with a lofty double and Greene and Paul came in.

From then on, however, the Bottlers went hitless before the southpaw slants of Jarvis while the Radiators started pecking away. Their one run in the third came on singles, by Kotch Kampf, and Jarvis. Kotch scoring.

Kampf's Hit Brings Greene

After McCrum had grounded out in the seventh, Kotch singled. Burke forced him at second but Kampf drove one into center field that went for a double when Greene played it poorly and Burke scored with the tying run. Greene then relieved Mullins. Cimikoski was the next batter and Greene promptly hit him, but after a long argument, Hank Morin insisted that he had stepped into the ball and this had to go, although it was quite contrary to the opinion of some in the crowd. Cimmy then struck out.

The Thermos went out in order in the eighth and Jarvis opened the Richmond half with a one-base shot into left. Bargnesi hit Jarvis with his single and Lloyd was out. Goldblatt flied out to Dudek but Blinderman singled, sending Bargnesi to third. McCrum walked, filling the bases, and Kotch then hit one to Pineault, who muffed it, and Bargnesi trotted across with the winning counter.

The crowd was very large and interest ran at a high pitch throughout.

Tonight's Game

The Insilcos and Polish club battle tonight in the Industrial league at the Academy. Neither are what could be called in the pennant hunt right now but a victory tonight surely will help a lot toward boosting them into the first division. The Insilcos now rest in fifth place, ahead of the last-place Polish team.

The Polish boys, rumor has it, will appear tonight considerably strengthened for the last half of the race. One of the Finn brothers, Jim Fenton and Lefty Dona are the reported newcomers. Eddie Koslowski and B. Labenski for the Silvers and Leo Jarvis or Jerry Lamphere and Al Mish for the Insilcos are the probable batteries. The game starts at 6:30 o'clock.

SORRELL HOLDS RED SOX AND TIGERS WIN HANDILY

DETROIT, July 31—(AP)— Victor Sorrell held the Boston Red Sox to four hits today and the Tigers took the final game of the series 7 to 2. It was the seventh Detroit victory in the last eight games. Charley Ruffing, Boston hurler, who was hit consistently during the game robbed Sorrell of a shut out in the seventh inning when he drove the ball over the scoreboard for a home run with Rogell on base.

Peterson and Sharkey Matched

MINNEAPOLIS, July 31—(AP)— Big Boy Peterson, Minneapolis heavyweight, has been signed for a ten round match with Jack Sharkey, at Boston, August 23, his manager, Mike Collins, announced here today.

SCHAAF SHADES HAROLD MAYS AT BRAVES FIELD

BOSTON, July 31—(AP)—By a decision that did not meet with the favor of a crowd of 30,000 assembled at Braves field tonight, Ernie Schaaf Boston heavyweight, defeated Harold Mays of Bayonne, N. J., Gene Tunney's chief sparring partner, in ten rounds. Ringside experts gave Mays at least six of the rounds. Schaaf weighed 191 pounds and Mays 185.

Mays did most of the fighting. Throughout the bout he used Tunney's favorite left jab and he also tried to connect with the deadly Tunney right to the body. Each boxer cut the other's eye in the sixth round but the damage was not serious. Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, acted as announcer for the main bout and for one preliminary. He was given a rousing reception by the crowd the largest to see a fight at Braves field this season.

Eddie Hartwell of Kansas knocked out Lee Anderson, Berlin, N. H., in the eighth round of a ten-round bout.

Burlap Loses

Charlie Rammell, Germany, defeated "Big Boy" Burlap Westerly, R. I., in four rounds.

Jimmy O'Neil, Cambridge, won a technical knockout over John Sikors, Nashua, N. H. in the second round.

Eddie Holms, Providence, defeated Harry Stabine, Boston, in four rounds.

Freddie O'Connor, Boston, defeated K. C. Brown of Fall River in four rounds.

Jimmy McGonigle, Weymouth, defeated Manuel Cantot, Boston, in six rounds.

VANCE PROVES HIS SUPERIORITY OVER REDS

BROOKLYN, July 31—(AP)— Late rallies enabled the Robins to defeat the Reds, 3 to 2, here today and earn an even break in the four-game series. Dazzy Vance pitched fine ball for the home team, allowing only seven hits and fanning eight.

Herman and Flowers got three hits each, and it was Flowers' third single with the bases filled in the eighth that drove in the two deciding runs. Cincinnati scored its first run on a pass to Hargrave and singles by May and Critz. Bissonette's two base muff of Critz's pop fly, Zitzmann's single and Walker's sacrifice fly accounted for the other.

May pitched well until the seventh when Brooklyn scored one run. He gave way to Red Lucas after the Robins started another flurry in the eighth, but he was charged with the defeat as he already had put the winning run on base.

STOCK MARKET WAS UNSETTLED BY FLURRY IN THE CALL MONEY RATES

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP)—A flurry from 6 to 8 per cent. in the call money rate, accompanied by the calling of between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 in loans, temporarily unsettled today's stock market.

Prices rallied briskly at the opening and held well in the face of a renewal rate of 6 per cent. Marking up of the rate to 7 and 7 1-2 per cent. in quick succession around mid-day brought a wave of selling into the market, which wiped out many of the early gains and sent a number of issues down 2 to nearly 9 points. Buying support was quickly provided and the market headed upward again in the face of a further advance in money to 8 per cent.

Credit conditions completely overshadowed the day's business developments. A large quota of semi-annual earnings statements made their appearance during the day and most of them compared favorably with the first half of last year, the list including the Texas and Pacific and Missouri Pacific railroads, Allis Chalmers, Ludlum and Inland Steels, Wire Wheel corporation of America, Atlas Powder and Kraft-Phenix Cheese.

General Asphalt, Westinghouse Air Brake and General Cigar did not do so well.

The United States Steel corporation, making its report public after the close of the market earned $4.86 a share in the first six months as against $5.60 in the first half of 1927, but earnings in the June quarter were $2.75 against $2.11 in the first quarter and $2.73 in the second quarter of 1927.

Establishment of new low levels for the year by British and Dutch currencies and the shifting of the Canadian dollar from a premium to a discount were the outstanding features in the mixed foreign exchange market. Sterling cables were quoted as low as $4.85 5-8 and Dutch guilders around 40.17.

The temporary credit stringency today resulted from the usual heavy month-end demand for funds, coupled with the need for cash by holders of American Telephone and Telegraph stock to exercise their "rights" as this was the last day for the filing of subscriptions. Heavy withdrawals also were made by large corporations, which have been investing millions of surplus funds in the call money market because of the attractive yields available.

Consistent strength was shown by a few issues, notably Montgomery Ward, which advanced nearly 4 points to a new high record at 135 3-4 and closed within a point of the top. Other issues to move into new high ground were Atlantic Refining, American Smelting, Postum, Savage Arms, Kroger, Jewel Tea, Chicasha Cotton Oil and Utah Copper, but not all of the early gains in these issues were maintained.

Radio slipped from 175 1-2 to 172 1-4 and went back to 174 1-2, Wright Aeronautical from 160 1-2 to 155 and back to 158 3-4. General Motors from 193 1-2 to 191 1-4 and back to 192 3-8 and U. S. Steel from 148 1-2 to 141 5-8 and back to 142 3-8, all closing at net declines. American Car & Foundry, Cuba Cane Sugar common and preferred, Debenham Securities, General Outdoor Advertising, Peerless Motor and Stanley Co., were among the dozen issues to sink into new low ground for the year, or longer.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. The Cleveland federal reserve bank raised its rediscount rate from 4 1-2 to 5 per cent., making the eighth bank to take such action.

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, July 31—Maria Corsino, Hartford, today caused suit to be brought against Joseph Sigal and the Commodore Realty company, Boardwalk, Ocean beach to recover damages of $12,000. Ten pieces of realty owned by either Sigal or the realty company at the shore resort were attached today by Deputy Sheriff Manuel J. Martin. Edward Frankerwicz, 22, a laborer, residing at 85 Bayonet street, was presented in the police court this morning charged with loitering, but with the admission of testimony by the accused and Patrolman Henry Sylvia, who arrested Frankerwicz, Judge S. An altercation followed, which resulted in Frankerwicz's arrest. Frankerwicz proved to the court that he was within his rights standing on the sidewalk and it was this fact that brought about his acquittal.

This work, it is planned, will begin before the expiration of the present week. The new building will be of brick, with granite trimmings and two stories in height.

HELD ON CHARGE OF ROBBING U. S. MAIL

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, July 31—William Donovan, charged with robbery of the United States mail, was presented before United States Commissioner Russell H. Corcoran here today. Probable cause was found and Donovan was held for trial before the Sept. term of the United States district court at New Haven. In default of a surety on his bond of $1,500, Donovan was remanded to the New Haven county jail to await trial. Donovan was arrested several weeks ago following the theft of a mail pouch from a truck at the mail room, Union station. After stealing the pouch, which contained a large quantity of mail, Donovan went through Water street, to the rear of the Swift & Co., beef house, where after examining its contents he deposited it in a yard. He was observed by Andrew Rowley, watchman at the beef house. During the night a patrolman in trying the rear doors of business houses, observed the pouch and caused it to be taken to the post office. Besides four sons, George, Daniel, Walter and Benjamin Rowley, all of this city. Mrs. Rowley was a native of New London, being born Nov. 20, 1860, the daughter of the late John and Maria Chisholf Rowley. She was a member of the Huntington street Baptist church.

Five persons narrowly escaped death Monday in a three car collision on Hartford turnpike, near Chesterfield, and are now under treatment at the Lawrence Memorial Associated hospital. They are Oliver Harris 21, of 69 Montauk avenue; C. Oliver Abernethy, 21 of 178 Ocean avenue; Miss Esther Welch 19, of Station 5, Waterford; Kossuth Williamson, 37, professor at Wesleyan university and Miss Martha Hale of 165 Lincoln avenue. All five have severe lacerations about the face and arms with the exception of Miss Hale, who is suffering from burns.

The accident occurred as a small coupe, occupied by the first three named, while attempting to pass a number of cars traveling towards Hartford, crashed into one driven by Williamson and in so doing overturned and the other automobile crashed into it. The coupe immediately caught fire and its three occupants for a while were threatened to be burned to death. However Joseph B. Barry and Peter McKenna of Hartford happened by at the time and immediately sensing the danger jumped from their car and rushed to the blazing auto, prying open the doors which had become stuck in the impact. To this it was necessary to break the glass in the rear window and extricate Miss Welch through the top of the car. All three were unconscious and all haste was made in rushing them to the hospital.

In answer to a telephone message, Sergeant Henry J. Albright and Troopers Bernard E. Kenerson, Donald Brown and Peter Busch of the Groton barracks rushed to the scene. Upon their arrival the coupe was a mass of ruins.

As the result of the investigation Abernethy will be arrested on a charge of reckless driving just as soon as he is well enough to leave the hospital.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Palace Theatre

There's a breath of the old days when 10-20-and-30 melodramas toured the country under canvas, in "The Matinee Idol," the Columbia production at the Palace theatre. Romance of the theatre is woven into a captivating comedy interspersed with pathetic and intensely human situations offering strong appeal.

Bessie Love portrays the role of a spirited actress-manager capable of filling in wherever needed from property boy to little Eva. The plot revolves around the heart interests of this girl and a Broadway favorite, who, at the insistence of his manager, is instrumental in bringing the tent show to New York as part of a revue.

Johnnie Walker is admirably cast as the blackface comedian and gives a notable performance.

The production was made under the direction of Frank Capra from a story by Robert Lord and Ernest Pagano.

The second feature, "Out of the Past," starring Mildred Harris and Robert Frazer with a competent assisting cast, is a very interesting photoplay from every possible angle. In this picture are shown all the high spots of glittering night life in a vast metropolis: Night clubs with their tremendous crowds of dancing merry-makers sparkling jewels, disillusionment, famous solo dancers, scantily clothed ensembles, and scandal-mongers.

From this playground of fashionable and riotous living, one is transported to a filthy dive in the South Sea Islands—a lounging place for sailors and an occasional tourist—where native girls, decked in a few beads, dance to the taunts of leering beasts whose brains are befogged by liquor.

These are a few of the scenes to be glimpsed in the stirring drama, "Out of the Past." There is an ingenious working out of the plot which holds one to the very end.

AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS

NATION WILL ALWAYS NEED WOOD SAYS ECONOMIST

The United States will continue to need wood indefinitely, in the opinion of W. N. Sparhawk, forest economist in the forest service, United States department of agriculture. The United States is now by far the greatest wood user in the world, using more saw timber than all other countries together, and more than two-fifths of the world's consumption of timber of all kinds.

More and more wood has been needed with advancing civilization ever since the caveman first used a wooden club, says Mr. Sparhawk. The recent rapid development of substitutes, which brought timberland owners, for whom the growing trees represents a long-term investment, face to face with the question of the future need of timber, has not changed the trend of development in the use of wood.

It is pointed out that the production of substitutes for wood often requires wood. The mining of coal for fuel requires a billion board feet of wood a year for mine props and other uses. Brick and concrete dwellings ordinarily use much lumber for interior work, and a great deal of wood is required in concrete construction. Along with the development of substitutes for wood, there is a constant broadening also of the uses for wood. The manufacture of paper and other products from wood pulp, which consumed practically no wood 40 years ago, now takes the equivalen of more than two billion board feet from our forests, besides an equal or greater amount in the form of imported wood, pulp and paper. Wood is now being used in any number of new ways, for example, in the manufacture of phonograph records and viscose sausage casings. The manufacture of artificial silk from wood takes large quantities.

"For the United States to follow in China's footsteps in this respect," says Mr. Sparhawk, "would be an inexcusable crime against future generations. For, unlike coal, iron and most minerals, timber can be renewed like any other crop after the orginal supply has been consumed. Moreover, it is renewed largely by natural forces which in proportion to the effort expended produce greater values than any other use of many million acres of land. Promptness in utilizing these forces will prevent the conversion into idle, non-productive wastes of great areas capable of yielding continuous crops of timber."

A decrease in the per capita consumption of wood, in the opinion of Mr. Sparhawk, will be offset by the normal increase in population. The United States can grow all the timber that it needs, however, to take care of a continuing demand. Upwards of 80,000,000 acres of land, once covered with forests and now denuded, is capable of producing timber crops, while 250,000,000 acres of cut-over land, more or less stocked with second growth, will produce full crops under proper forestry management. More careful utilization of the trees that are cut will allow us to cut seven or eight billion board feet less, witout diminishing the present rate of consumption; and adequate fire protection will add greatly to the producing capacity of the forests.

"We must grow timber because nature unaided will not grow it for us in sufficient quantities, nor can the deficiency in our supplies be made up from sources outside our country. It is immediately urgent that full timber crops be grown wherever cut-over land is available for this purpose. It is of vital interest, not only to the landowner, the timber operator, and the manufacturer of forest products, but to every citizen who in one way or another has already felt the first effects of the timber shortage which improvident and unregulated exploitation of our forest resources is bringing upon us."

SNOW IS A REAL BLANKET FOR CLOVER FIELDS IN WINTER

Winter-killing of alfalfa and clover presents examples that seem to be contradictory, Dr. A. J. Pieters explained to a gathering of seedsmen recently. Dr. Pieters, who is one of the forage-crop specialists of the United States department of agriculture, in discussing the adaptation of alfalfa and clover to climatic extremes and in resistance to diseases, said imported seed was, as a rule, inferior to native seed, and that strains successful in one region in the United States were to be recommended only for other regions having approximately the same extremes of temperature. Temperature averages are of small service as guides, he said. He also emphasized the important role which snowfall plays in the wintering of alfalfa and clover, particularly in the northern sections where winters are severe.

"We need to know the lowest temperatures," said Doctor Pieters. "Not only that, but we need to know whether these low temperatures will reach the plant. When plants are covered during winter under a heavy blanket o snow, the cold recorded by the weather bureau may never reach them. In the northeast low temperatures are usually accompanied by heavy snowfalls, so that these low temperatures do not operate effectively on plants at the ground level. As an illustration, Italian clover at Chatam in the northern pennsula of Michigan has never been winter-killed so much as it has near Lansing, Mich., or in Ohio, though the air temperatures at Chatham are much lower. The snowfall begins early and the plants are protected by several feet of snow during the entire period of severe weather."

HINTS FOR THE FARM

Recent experiments reveal that in using the Brown-Duvel tester, 200 degrees centigrade is the correct temperature to which shelled peeanuts and rough rice and brown rice should be treated to determine their moisture content.

Experiments show that Didiopla seedling blight of sweet corn can be largely prevented by dust or liquid treatment of the seed. Dust treatments are more consisent in their beneficial effects, are more easily applied and involve less risk of injury to the seed than liquid treatment.

It is a serious mistake to use any unsound, immature or poorly ripened fruit in the manufacture of cider or apple juice. The apples should be at a stage between "market ripe" and "dessert ripe." In case the orchard is picked clean for the market, the sound culls from the grading should be stored for ripening or sweating. With rare exceptions the flavor of cider can be improved by judicious blending of the juice from several varieties of apples.

Quack grass often is confused with other grasses having similar names and habits. Whenever there is any question, samples should be sent to the nearest agricultural college for identification. On a small area quack grass can be eradicated by hand digging to make sure every bit of the root stalks are destroyed by smothering with a well-secured covering of tar paper, or by thorough spraying with chemicals.

As a means of fly control, manure should be removed from stables at least twice a week in summer and once a week in winter. The manure pile is the principal breeding place of the house fly, which is not only disagreeable, but definitely dangerous to the health of the family.

It is comparatively easy to save watermelon seed from one crop for planting the next. Select the choicest melons and tie a white cloth around the stems to mark them. Leave them in the field until fully ripe, then carry them to a safe place for more ripening. Split the melon lengthwise, scrape out the seed-bearing pulp, and allow it to ferment in a wooden barrel or tub for 24 to 36 hours. Then add water, pour off the pulp and wash the seeds in several changes of clean, cold water. Spread the seeds thinly on cotton sheets and dry them in the shade, stirring them occasionally.

DOSING POULTRY FAILS TO ERADICATE VERMIN

Many farmers and poultrymen have believed it possible that certain chemicals administered as medicine or mixed with feed or water may protect their animals from external parasites. Ignorant and unscrupulous dealers, particularly in the poultry business, have played on this belief. The prevailing idea is that the material is taken up by the blood and then excreted on the surface. Many believe that the parasites are either poisoned in this way, or else that a condition is induced which makes the fowl displeasing to its parasites and causes them to leave. Vendors of nostrums have sold liquids, tablets and powders for use in this way. The insecticide authorities in the United States department of agriculture have issued warnings against these remedies, and in many cases have forced the makers to cease advertising and selling the frauds.

In Technical Bulletin 60-T, "Ineffectiveness of Internal Medication of Poultry for the Control of External Parasites," just off the press, department investigations give the results of experiments on which they based their opposition to this fakery. In approximately 50 tests of the preparations advertised, none showed any indications of value against the common external parasites with which the hens were infested. Lice and mites thrived and multiplied as they might have been expected to do if the "medicine" had not been administered. These tests were the basis of the campaign against the fakers.

In addition, the department carried out tests with a considerable number of other chemicals in addition to those revealed by analysis of these "vermin eradicators." Chemicals tested included magnesium sulphate or epsom salt, sodium carbonate, napthalene, calcium thiosulphae, calcium sulphide, magnesium oxide, sodium sulphate, potassium nitrate, ferric oxide, ferrio sulphate, ferrous sulphate, potassium tellurate, potassium tellurite, diethyl diselinide, sodium nitrate, tartar emetic, potassium iodide, sulphur flowers, capsicum, gentian, ginger, fenugreek, garlic, camphor, powdered tobacco, quinine, nux vomica, and others.

In no case was there conclusive evidence of any benefit from dosage. The ticks, lice, mites, and fleas were not eradicated. Furthermore, there is grave danger in giving certain internal medicants to healthy fowls, as their vitality may be decreased to such an extent that the parasites find them an easier prey than they would have been had no doses been administered.

The conclusion of the investigators is that "the use of internal medications against external parasites is detrimental to the poultry industry in that it not only involves useless expenditures but allows the parasites to continue their ravages when they might be destroyed by recognized methods."

Robert Evarts, head clerk at Edward Andrews, grocery store at Groton Long Point can guess the weight of potatoes by lifting the bag and he has never failed on a guess yet. Having a big order of potatoes to put up and turning to a few people who were there he asked, "Do you want me to guess 5 lbs of potatoes without a potatoe over? and Stretch Moran said, I bet you a steamboat to a doughnut that you will fail and if I lose you will get a new of potatoes without a potato over? put them on the scales. MOTORISTS WILL SOON USE NEW BRIDGE OVER POQUETANUCK COVE

In the latter part of July a year ago work was begun on the new bridge for the Military highway over Poquetanuck cove, replacing the old wooden bridge that had done duty for so many years, and now the time is not far distant when the bridge can be thrown open to use. The steel and concrete bridge itself has been finished for some time, but the final work has been to build the approaches at the northerly and southerly ends. This work is now in the last stages, for the crushed stone is being laid for the tar bound macadam highway and as soon as this has been completed the bridge can be ready to be opened for travel.

At the southerly approach there has been considerable work in filling in order to bring the highway up to the level of the bridge floor but at the northerly end there has been some filling and also the cutting down of a hill to make an easier grade for the approach. While the construction work has been underway it has been possible to continue using the old wooden bridge, as the new concrete and steel structure is placed somewhat to the east of the old bridge and the line of the highway has been changed to conform.

The new bridge, which will cost something over $200,000, is 580 feet long with seven spans of 74 feet each, which are supported on six piers and two abutments. Concrete and steel piles, weighing on the average eight tons each, which have been driven deep under the water, make up the foundations for the piers, which are faced with Ashlar granite from three feet under water to one and one-half feet above mean sea level. The roadway is 28 feet wide in the clear and the railings on the side are about three and a half feet high. The steel framework of the structure is encased in concrete so that the bridge presents the appearance of solid concrete formation.

The old bridge was built with a draw but as there is no further navigation up the cove by large boats the new bridge is built without a draw, but the clearance above mean sea level is 11 feet, which is seven feet more than the clearance under the old wooden bridge.

MODERATE GAINS SHOWN BY FIVE FRATERNAL SOCIETIES

That the five Connecticut fraternal societies as a whole showed moderate gains in membership and insurance in force, although the business of the 52 fraternal societies licensed in Connecticut showed a slight decrease, is indicated by the statistics published in Part III of the Connecticut insurance report, which is released by Insurance Commissioner Howard P. Dunham. This volume relates to fraternal societies only and completes the department's annual report for 1928, covering the business of 1927.

Figures from the 1927 statements of the 52 fraternal societies licensed in Connecticut are brought together in this report. The number of members decreased from 5,048,777 of Dec. 31, 1926, to 5,029,650 on Dec. 31, 1927, and the insurance in force decreased from $5,815,892,231 to $5,784,990,695. Twenty-six societies showed gains in membership and in insurance in force.

The five Connecticut societies increased their membership from 274,841 on Dec. 31, 1926, to 276,733 on Dec. 31, 1927, while insurance in force increased from $292,740,969 to $297,464,715. Four of these societies showed gains in membership and in insurance in force.

The Connecticut business in all of the 52 societies decreased slightly, there being 92,607 certificates in force for $82,760,128, on Dec. 31, 1927 as against 93,400 certificates for $83,651,595 on Dec. 31, 1926. The societies having the largest membership in Connecticut on Dec. 31, 1927, were as follows:

	No.	Amount
1. Knights of Columbus	8,724	$8,906,000
2. Modern Woodmen of America	7,682	9,556,000
3. Polish National Alliance of U. S.	6,063	3,528,550
4. Union St. Jean Baptiste	5,835	2,688,750
5. Rakoczy Hungarian Sick Benefit society	5,562	4,503,000

The same societies were also the leaders in 1926, but in slightly different order.

The total income received from members by all societies amounted to $113,790,132.04, distributed as follows:

Mortuary fund	$ 85,592,943.64
Reserve fund	1,005,047.84
Disability fund	2,943,989.47
Expense fund	19,000,154.15
Other purposes	5,247,996.94
Total	$113,790,132.04

The total disbursements amounted to $105,879,867.81, of which $78,256,161.71 comprised death claims and other benefits paid to members, and $19,687,674.96 was for expense of management. The total admitted assets amounted to $510,659,176.93, and the liabilities were $19,151,142.91, leaving a balance to protect contracts of $491,508,034.07.

The report contains many interesting tables and ratios. The ratio of death claims paid to mortuary assessments was 78.47 per cent. The ratio of management expense to total income was 12.32 per cent. The society showing the lowest expense rate was the New England Order of Protection with 3.55 per cent. The average number of deaths per 1,000 of membership was 11.86. The average lapse rate per 1,000 of membership was 92.30. The society experiencing the lowest lapse rate was the Catholic Women's Benevolent Legion, which had a lapse rate of 13.10 per 1,000.

WILL GIVE RECOGNITION TO OUTSTANDING FARMERS

One of the most interesting features of the Farmers' Week program at Storrs will come today (Wednesday) when names of those selected for "Honorary Recognition" by the college will be made public. Since the inauguration of the "Honorary Recognition" policy in 1924, the college has each year conferred this award on persons who have made notable contributions to the agricultural industry and to the betterment of rural life in the state.

Selection of the persons to receive "Honorary Recognition" is made by a special committee of the college faculty, and its nominations are subject to the approval of the board of trustees. Special exercises will be held Wednesday afternoon in Hawley Armory, where the certificates of "Honorary Recognition" will be formally presented.

Thirteen persons prominent in the agricultural and rural life of Connecticut have already received these awards, and their names constitute an agricultural hall of fame for this state. They include C. J. Abell of Lebanon, E. H. Jenkins of New Haven, and Elijah Rogers of Southington, honored in 1924; Edward H Hazen of Haddam, Clifford E. Hoyt of Hartford, and Samuel Rogers Scoville of Cornwall, chosen in 1925; Charles E. Bacon of Middletown, George E. Cosgrove of Willington Hall, Wilson H. Lee of Orange, and Miss M. Estella Sprague of Templeton, Mass., 1926 selections; and John D. Avery of Stonington, Burton C. Patterson of Torrington, and Charles Palmer Viets of East Granby.

He approached the intersection of the New rapidly that when an officer put the Palmertown road in Montville so rapidly that when an officer put the signal on him to stop, his car was nearly overturned when brakes were applied. He was tried before Justice of the Peace Lewis LaBounte Jr. in Montville.

DR. HIGGINS CANDIDATE FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

In a statement made Tuesday night, Dr. William L. Higgins of Coventry announced his intention of being a candidate for the republican nomination for secretary of state. Attached to his announcement, however, was the proviso that he would not seek the nomination if Secretary of State Francis A. Pallotti should decide to run again. It has already been reported that Mr. Pallotti is a candidate for the nomination as lieutenant governor.

In his statement Dr. Higgins said: "My friends have been urging me to be a candidate for secretary of the state as Tolland county has not been represented on the state ticket for 18 years. They feel that they would like to see me nominated for that position. As I understand that Secretary of the State Pallotti is a candidate for lieutenant governor I shall be pleased to be a candidate, with this provision."

Dr. Higgins has been practicing medicine in Tolland county for 37 years. He is a brother of Dr. Harry E. Higgins of this city.

Dr. Higgins was elected to the House for the first time in 1905 and was reelected in 1907. He was elected to the senate in 1909 and then retired from the legislature until 1917, when he was again sent back as the Coventry representative. He was returned again in 1921, 1925 and 1927. In his earlier service he was chairman of the important committee on humane institutions and later chairman of the committee on public health and safety.

Dr. Higgins is serving his econd full term as county commissioner of Tolland, having been first elected to fill the unexpired term of Former Commissioner William B. Sprague. He has been first selectman of Coventry for 11 years.

POLISH PRIEST IS TO BACK HOOVER CANDIDACY

Rev. S. A. Iciek, pastor of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, whose parishioners are chiefly those of Polish national affiliations, acknowledged the accuracy of a report current on Tuesday that he would aid in any way possible those working for the election of Herbert Hoover, the republican nominee for president. Rev. Father Iciek, who calls himself an independent in politics, was associated with Mr. Hoover in the office of the American relief organization for several months during the World war, doing publicity work.

"I feel it is my duty, and that it is no more than loyalty," Father Iciek said. He said he thought he would use the Polish press as a medium, through which he said he could reach several hundred thousand Polish-American voters, writing his observations of Mr. Hoover's work in "saving millions of people" as he saw it in the New York office of the organization, and more concretely later when he visited Poland.

The priest was non-committal when asked if he would take the stump for Hoover. "If the republican leaders want me for that work, they know what my address is," he said.

Rev. Father Iciek explained that he had "great regard" for Governor Smith and had the republicans nominated anyone except Hoover, he would have voted for the New York governor.

RODMAN WILL BE TRIED IN SUPERIOR COURT

George Rodman, 40, of Poquetanuck was bound over to the criminal superior court for September from the city court Tuesday morning on the charge of attempted burglary. He went to jail to await trial in default of a $300 bond.

Rodman was arrested early Saturday morning after he had broken the glass of a window in the restaurant at 35 North Main street, conducted by John J. Donahue. At the time, after he had been found hiding under a flight of stairs by Officers J. Quinn and Elmer Allen, he denied that he was there to burglarize the place but to investigate the crashing of glass which he had heard from the battlegrounds across the river.

It was found Tuesday that Rodman had only recently finished serving a 15-day sentence in New London for theft and that he had been arrested here in 1924 for a similar charge.

The accused was represented in court by Public Defender Charles L. Stewart.

TWO "WET" DRIVERS ARE FINED IN GROTON COURT

Two autoists received fines of $100 and costs of $11.55 each in Groton town court Monday morning, before Judge Cornelius C. Costello. Frank Hempstead of New London, arrested Saturday by State Trooper George Webber, when found driving under the influence of liquor, entered a demurrer through his counsel. Judge Costello over-ruled the demurrer and imposed fine and costs. James Edley of New London also pleaded guilty to the charge of driving under the influence, and a similar fine and costs were imposed upon him. Edley was arrested Friday after his car had crashed into another owned and operated by Albert Christian of Poquonoc.

Edley was proceeding toward New London, on his left of the highway, while Christian was proceeding toward Poquonoc Bridge, on his right of the highway. Christian, seeing Edley on the left, decided to go to his own left also, to avoid a collision, but about that time Edley returned to his right of the road, and the crash ensued. No one was seriously injured.

House Cleaning

To make my heart's house clean,
I'll throw out hate,
And every thought that's mean,
Or cheap or second rate.

I'll wash up from the floors
The mud of selfishness;
I'll take down hate and greed,
Make envy powerless.

I'll wipe out dust and dirt
Of sordid pettiness,
To make my home a joy,
A pride and a success.

To make my heart's air fresh
I'll open windows wide
To everything that's beautiful
And gay and good outside.

To make my heart's home large
And roomy I must find
Some poor unhappy souls
And to their griefs be kind.

Ah! now that I am rid
Of clutter and of waste,
I feel my house is furnished
In much more restful taste!

Old Campmeetin' Road

I.

Summer sets me dreamin'
Of the finest times I've knowed
Goin' from the old home
Down the old campmeetin' road;
World o' blossoms bright,
Paradise in sight—
For that's where I was goin'
Down the old campmeetin' road!

II.

But it warn't so much the blossoms,
Bright bloomin', fur and wide,
That made the dream of heaven,
But the woman at my side!
For what could be as bright
As Jenny's eyes of light
Where I seen myself in heaven
Down the old campmeetin' road!

III.

I love to think it over —
That time, so fur away,
When the sweetheart o' the blossoms
Made the story of the day;
Once more I'd love to roam
Where Jenny's heart made home,
An' kept my soul a-sighin'
Down the old campmeetin' road!

TO RAISE $4,000,000 FOR REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN

That Amount Has Been Fixed by the Republican Leaders—Active Solicitation of the Funds Will Be Begun Soon—Chairman Work Says No Limit Had Been Set on Contributions, But He Emphasized the Fact That "Discretion" Would Be Used.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(AP)—Republican leaders today fixed $4,000,000 as the amount to be raised for use in the coming campaign.

Chairman Work of the national committee worked out the dimensions of the campaign war chest at a conference with party heads, including J. R. Nutt, committee treasurer, and Franklin Fort, committee secretary.

Active solicitation of funds will be begun soon. Mr. Nutt said no limit had been set on contributions but he emphasized that "discretion" would be used. He explained this by saying that "no contributions of half a million dollars or even $100,000" would be accepted if they were offered.

The announcement of the campaign funds program was made at the national committee through the publicity section, in accordance with the policy of Chairman Work, who has left all his public statements to this bureau. Although reluctant to talk, Work did call attention that there were 12,000,000 more voters this year than in the last national campaign and increased postal expenditures alone would mount high.

The party also is planning a more extensive radio campaign than four years ago and the cost for this is expected to run perhaps to $200,000 as compared with $40,000 in 1924.

The campaign of President Coolidge in 1924 has been estimated to have cost well over $3,000,000 and it is the view of the republican chieftains that fully as extensive a battle should be pursued this year as in the three-cornered race of Coolidge, John W. Davis and Robert M. LaFollette four years ago.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who ran against Governor Smith in the New York gubernatorial race four years ago, was among the callers on Chairman Work today. He predicted that New York would go for Hoover.

In a statement given out through the national committee Mr. Roosevelt declared if the election were held today the republican nominee would carry New York "and he will carry it by a much larger majority when the election comes in the fall."

"Immediately after the conventions," he said, "there seemed doubt as to what would happen in New York state. The fact that the democratic candidate was a native son of that state naturally caused much sympathy for him. That time is past in New York state now. The people there are thinking and but one result can come when the people of my state think. The state will go for Herbert Hoover by a big majority. He is gaining every day."

OVER $250,000 BOUNDS FOR NEW BEDFORD STRIKERS

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 1—(AP)—Jail doors had opened tonight for nearly all of 240 textile strikers imprisoned at the local house of correction since yesterday to await bail. Swamped by the great amount of work entailed in the arrest of the strikers, and their conviction in district court on charges of rioting, Clerk of Courts Walter R. Mitchell had been unable to begin release of the prisoners until this afternoon.

Some of those released tonight were to appear again in district court tomorrow when more than [illegible] others were to be arraigned on charges previously continued.

In single file, long lines of anxious persons stood for hours outside the institution all afternoon and evening waiting patiently for the call that would permit them to free relatives and friends.

Bank books, real estate deeds and personal property went up as surety. It was estimated tonight that cash and property valued at over $250,000 had been put up as bonds for law violators since the strike has been in progress. The bank accounts offered as bonds were sufficiently numerous to indicate that the strikers possessed substantial resources even though they had been unemployed for four months.

Following failure of the textile mill committee's organization to obtain bonds for strikers other than leaders, Albert Weisbord of Passaic, N. J., an organizer said: "We intend to provide bail for leaders only. They are needed to carry on the work."

The pickets at mills tonight were few. The only noteworthy gathering was at the Whitman mill where a score of pickets were seen going through their regular grind by about 1,000 persons.

INJUNCTION AGAINST CONN. LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 1—(AP)—Three infringement suits that had been pending in the United States district court for the past few months were ended by Judge Thomas in decisions given today. Judgement for the Power Specialty company allowing an injunction against the Connecticut Light and Power company of Hartford was issued.

The Power Specialty company was granted a patent in 1925 on a fuel economizer and an economizer of similar type was adopted and used by the Connecticut Light and Power company in its Devon plant. The Power Specialty company claimed infringement of its patent and it was found that the differences constituted improvements made upon the plaintiff's construction.

In allowing the injunction restraining the Connecticut Light and Power company from manufacturing and selling the economizer, Judge Thomas directed that the defendant make an accounting and pay costs to the Power Specialty company.

In another case it was found that the Seamless Rubber company of this city, defendant, in a suit brought by the Brunswick-Balke, Collender company, does not infringe on the plaintiff's patent issued in 1918 for a type of closet seat.

The Economy Appliance company and Frederick W. Collier won an injunction suit against the Fitzgerald Manufacturing company after it was found that the Fitzgerald company had been infringing on a toaster patent.

NOMINEE SMITH RETURNS TO HIS POLITICAL DUTIES

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—In fighting trim, Governor Smith returned today from a short vacation at the seashore to the main base of his campaign operations, determined, in mapping out battle lines, to give immediate attention to the corn belt sector.

Anxious to take advantage of any spirit of revolt against the republicans on the part of the farmers of the west, the political lieutenants of the democratic presidential nominee have arranged for him to confer here tomorrow with George N. Peek, of Illinois, one of the farm leaders who has been at odds with the administration on agricultural relief.

BOTTLE MESSAGE FROM MACKAY AND HINCHLIFFE

LONDON, Aug. 1—(AP)—A bottle washed up on the shore near Flint, North Wales, Tuesday contained a note on which was written, "Goodbye all."

Beneath the brief message were signed the names Elsie Mackay and Captain Hinchliffe, and beneath the names the words, "down in fog and storm."

TO UNRAVEL THE TANGLED CALL MONEY SITUATION

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—Wall street today took preliminary steps to unravel the tangled call money situation.

The first definite step was the announcement that members of the New York clearing house association would meet tomorrow noon to discuss ways and means of checking the steady rise in bank "loans for others." the loans through which corporations great and small have been putting their surplus funds into the call money market, where yields have been high and maturities dependent only upon the whim of the lender.

Shortly after announcement of the meeting was made, the New York Federal Reserve bank disclosed through its "monthly review" that the banks of the country have been in an overloaned position and that firmer money conditions and higher loan rates have reflected chiefly an increasingly vigorous effort on their part to correct it. This objective, however, has been delayed of achievement by the lethargy of a number of banks in reducing their loans and investments. Some banks continuing to borrow of the federal reserve, total borrowings exceeding $1,000,000.

Underlying the situation appears to be the apparently recent discovery of large corporations that they can employ their surplus funds to better advantage in the call money market, obtaining there nearly double the yield they might expect from leaving the funds on deposit in the bank.

COOLIDGE TO VISIT IRON RANGES OF NORTHERN MINN.

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 1—(AP)—President Coolidge looked forward today to a day-long trip tomorrow to the iron ranges of northern Minnesota to see one of the industrial nerve centers of the country and examine some of the largest mining plants in the world.

Today he spent mostly in rest, resorting to reading when a light drizzle drove him indoors from his fishing on the Brule river.

The open pit mine at Hibbing, Minn., unique of its kind, is known to have aroused Mr. Coolidge's curiosity ever since he first came to Wisconsin.

The trip will be made by train and Mr. Coolidge, accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge and his son, John, will be driven in a special car to the very heart of the mining industry of the northwest.

Accompanied by a special committee consisting of high officers of the mining companies concerned in the inspection trip, Mr. Coolidge will return to the lodge tomorrow evening in time for dinner.

AIRPORT NECESSARY FOR GROWTH OF BRIDGEPORT

BRIDGEPORT, Aug. 1—(AP)—Bridgeport's business and industrial future depends almost entirely on the immediate and expansive development of the Bridgeport airport into the center of commercial aviation for this section, F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war in charge of aviation, told 140 of the leading manufacturers and business men of the city at an aviation luncheon today at the Black Rock Yacht club.

The luncheon, to which Mr. Davison and other aviation notables, including Maj. Gen. James E. Fechet, head of the army air corps, flew here from Mitchel field, L. I., was given by Harry O. King, vice-president of the Bassick company, in the interest of Bridgeport's future in aviation.

Among the guests of honor were Mr. Davison, General Fechet, Igor Sikorsky, aviation pioneer and manufacturer; C. B. D. Collyer, round-the-world championship flier, and Lieut. Codr. E. O. McDonnell, U. S. N., and Capt. Ira E. Eaker, U. S. A., who took part in the Bremen rescue expedition at Greenly Island.

NO LAW IN MASS., TO STOP THE "MARATHON DANCE"

The marathon dance, in which two dancing teams are to participate, headed by Harry Wiseman and Louis Lerner, is scheduled to start from the Providence city hall at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning. The journey of approximately 40 miles is expected to be completed in about 14 hours.

MORROW HAS FAITH IN FUTURE OF MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 1—(AP)—Firm faith in Mexico in this time of its trial and tribulation and confidence that her problem will be settled by orderly process of law were voiced by Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow in an address as honor guest at the dinner of the American chamber of commerce tonight.

Ambassador Morrow praised the calmness and steadiness shown by the Mexican government and the Mexican people since the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon, and he counselled Americans and other foreigners to help Mexico by showing their faith in its future.

If American businessmen are to succeed in Mexico they must have confidence in Mexico and Mexico must have confidence in them, he said.

C. Alberto Mascarenas, director of the "Banco de Mexico," also spoke.

"In these sad moments we feel much sustained by the friendship of the United States, a friendship which is appreciated greatly," he said.

"In President Calles Mexico has at the head of its government a strong man who will undoubtedly be able to carry it through these difficult times."

PROHIBITION OFFICERS PAID $10 PINT FOR WHISKEY

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—Affidavits and expense accounts filed in federal court in connection with applications for warrants against night clubs were made public today, revealing in more detail how the prohibition agents gathered their evidence.

For four months these agents, sent from Washington without even the knowledge of the local prohibition administrator's office, frequently the city's night clubs, at an estimated expense of between $60,000 and $75,000. As a result of their investigation 138 persons have been indicted so far this week for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act in 26 resorts.

The expense accounts submitted with affidavits to Judge Hazel of Buffalo when warrants were desired for the night clubs, state that the agents paid $25 a bottle for champagne at Texas Guinan's Salon Royal and $10 a pint for whiskey at the same place. At the European club they said they bought whiskey on some occasions at $10 a pint and on others at $1 a drink.

FRAUD CLAIMED BY FOUR INSURANCE COMPANIES

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 1—(AP)—Claiming that he made statements when applying for life insurance policies that were false and fraudulent, four insurance companies have brought actions in equity against Max Berkowitz, of New Britain, who secured policies totaling $32,000 in favor of his wife, who is also made a defendant. The companies ask that the United States district court declare the policies void and that they be returned for cancellation.

One of the companies in its suit claims that Berkowitz before filing an application for a policy of $10,000 said he was in good health and never had an illness nor medical treatment. It is now pointed out in the suit that prior to the time the policy was issued Berkowitz was operated on for rupture and that he had rheumatism, cancer, appendicitis and a tumor.

The company has offered the defendant a premium of $240, if he would give up the policy but he has refused. The claims of the other three insurance companies are similar.

OBITUARY

Delphin M. Delmas

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 1—(AP)—Delphin M. Delmas, attorney for Harry Thaw in the latter's sensational murder trial more than twenty years ago, died here today. He was 84 years of age and had practiced law until a few months ago.

Delmas was born in France, April 14, 1844. He came to this country at the age of ten, later attending Santa Clara college at San Jose, Calif., from which he graduated in 1862. He took up the study of law at Yale university and was admitted to the bar in Connecticut.

Commutation Rates Of N. H. Road Upheld

Public Service Commission Finds No New Evidence to Warrant Change

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—The public service commission today confirmed an order of July 20, 1925, upholding the present commutation rates on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. Stating that "there being no new evidence to warrant an amendment or change in the former order," the commission directed that the case, which has been pending for a rehearing, be closed.

On July 10, 1925, the interstate commerce commission held that the rates were justified. Subsequently the public service commission approved the rates for intra-state travel. A taxpayers' suit was brought against the road to restrain operation of the then newly increased charges, but the supreme court permitted collection of the new rates upon issuance of rebate slips until the public service commission ruled on a petition for a rehearing.

Municipalities interested said the ground rental revenues of the Grand Central station in New York were improperly considered in determining the fair proportion of expenses by commuters, and that in allowing the toll charges over the Harlem river in this city, the commission should have excluded certain items including franchise values. Municipalities also alleged the commission should have considered other factors affecting valuation.

The contested rates became effective Aug. 1, 1925.

A. P. REPORT TO BE FAIR, TRUTHFUL AN DIMPARTIAL

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—All employes of the Associated Press today received the following from Kent Cooper, general manager:

"We are on the eve of what promises to be a memorable political campaign. Every Associated Press man will share in the responsibility it imposes.

"Keep in mind the necessity that our report must be absolutely non-partisan. Avoid predictions, speculation and editorial opinion. Insofar as we are responsible for what is said, there must be nothing that may be construed for or against any political faction. Do not use stories of election betting or straw votes. In describing attendance at political meetings do not estimate capacity in numbers or in any manner open to disputes.

"But we want all the news. Do not withhold a story because it is partisan, if it may be attributed to a responsible source. For example, statements from political headquarters are desired if they contain news and are credited to party spokesmen. These statements must speak for themselves and their leads should be brief, without inference, deduction or other editorial comment. All anonymous expressions of opinion must be avoided. Write only what can be substantiated.

"During the campaign, as at all other times, the Associated Press report must be fair, truthful and impartial."

MAN KILLED, 55 INJURED BY OIL STILL EXPLOSION

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill., Aug. 1—(AP)—Explosion of an old steam oil still at the Indian refinery here today caused the death of one man and injured fifty five others, nine seriously.

The blast occurred while the refinery's volunteer fire brigade was fighting a small blaze at the still and drenched three score of them in burning oil.

The explosion occurred without warning. Burning oil spurted 100 feet upward through a man hole of the still. The blazing oil sprayed down upon the fire-fighters who had no chance to save themselves.

Jack Freese, 43, refinery employe, father of two children, died of his burns, and lives of nine other men were despaired of by physicians.

He was noticed slumped over the steering wheel more than two hours before police were notified. The bullet went through his head.

Dentist Killed Wife And Two Children

Slayer Was Faced by Worries Which He Was Unable to Tell About.

ROSELLE, N. J., Aug. 1—(AP)—Faced by worries which he apparently was unable to tell about, Dr. Arthur F. Woolsey, prominent young dentist today shot and killed his wife and two little children while they slept. The victims were Mrs. Marguerite W. Woolsey; Field, 4 and Mary Marguerite 3.

The shooting occurred at 6:30 a. m. More than six hours later Woolsey telephoned police headquarters and asked for Chief Burt Avery.

"I have something for the police," he said. Avery hurried to Woolsey's home at 133 East Sixth street with two patrolmen and was met at the door by Woolsey.

"I killed my wife and two children," he announced quietly. "Have you got a cigar chief?"

Dr. Woolsey's first statement after he was brought to headquarters was that "domestic troubles," motivated his act. This later was changed to "financial troubles," but his explanations were vague. Neighbors said the family always appeared to be happy, but understood that Wolsey recently had had financial difficulties.

Police recorder ordered him committed to the Union county jail at Elizabeth.

County physicians found that each of the victims had received a bullet wound in the head. Mrs. Woolsey in addition was shot twice in the chest. They believed the slayer had made some effort to wipe the blood from their faces. The body of Mrs. Woolsey was found in one bed with that of her daughter and the boy's was found in his bed in another room.

Woolsey told the police he spent the hours after the murder in "smoking and writing letters." Three, he said, were written to residents of Roselle and one to some one in New Hampshire. Authorities declined to say whether they had been mailed or whether they obtained them.

Woolsey is 35 years old. He graduated from the dental school of the University of Pennsylvania in 1913. He formerly was president of the Union County Dental society.

Dr. Walter Woolsey, of Westfield, his father who was associated in the profession of dentistry in Elizabeth, hurried to the Roselle police station when he learned of the slayings. He wept, and said:

"My boy's mind must have been affected."

UNLAWFUL SOLICITATION OF FUNDS IN THE STATE

HARTFORD, Aug. 1—(AP)—Many people are soliciting funds throughout the state unlawfully, it was announced at the regular meeting of the state department of public welfare today. It was pointed out that section 6449 of the general statutes requires authorization from the state department of public welfare, if the solicitor or the charity is located outside the county in which the soliciting is done.

Applications from the Jenkins orphanage of Charleston, S. C., and the Christian Record Publishing company of College View, Neb., for licenses to solicit were tabled, pending further investigation.

A new license was granted to the Southern New England conference of Seven Day Adventists. All the local chamber of commerces are co-operated with the state department to eliminate unlawful soliciting, it was said.

The Adult Public Welfare bureau issued a license to Mrs. Ebba M. Millard, of Canton Center, to board four aged people.

The following homes were licensed to board children: Mrs. Edward Simmons, of Pawcatuck for two children; Mrs. Giles Chapman, of Groton for two; Mrs. Hyman Horowitz, of Chestnut Hill for two, and Mrs. Barbara Dizgiemann, of Rockville for one child.

SEC'Y DAVIS IN MINING TOWN OF HIS BOYHOOD DAYS

CARDIFF, Wales, Aug. 1—(AP)—James J. Davis, American secretary of labor, leading 1,000 Americans returned today to Tredegar, mining town of boyhood days, and visited the humble house in which he was born. With him, too, were his wife and two children.

The host of pilgrims were members of the Moose International congress.

The Davis birthplace is one of a row of little gray stone dwellings, now homes of miners. The secretary's voice had a suspicion of a tremor as he recalled childhood experiences and landmarks.

"Here's the old fire grate," he said, "where my mother used to tell me stories about fairies."

"I remember her telling me once we were going to 'The Land of Promise'—that was how I first heard of America. She was right."

BRITISH PLANE IN FLIGHT WESTWARD SPANISH PLANE WAS FORCED DOWN

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—Although the Spanish plane Numancia was known tonight to be down less than 100 miles from its starting point, Cadiz, Spain, nothing has been heard from the Dornier-Napier seaplane of Captain Frank Courtney, which left Horta, Azores, at 8:55 p. m., (C. M. T.) for Newfoundland.

The Courtney plane had a wireless operator and radio apparatus aboard but despite this its silence has caused no apprehension. It has a cruising speed of approximately 100 miles per hour, which with 1800 miles to be covered en route to Newfoundland might put it at that island as early as 8 a. m. eastern standard time, Thursday.

Head winds which it is quite likely to meet, however, may force a further flying of as much as four hours or more, making its probable arrival sometime after noon.

There still was some speculation late tonight as to what had caused the failure of the Numancias flight, but it was believed that motor trouble had forced it down off Faro, Portugal, less than 100 miles from its starting point, Cadiz. Madrid dispatches said that the plane had arrived at Huelva, on the Spanish coast, about half way between Faro and Cadiz, but it was not indicated whether it had arrived under its own power or had been towed. All on board were said to be safe.

8 MEN CRUSHED TO DEATH BY A 500 TON STEEL GATE

Huge Construction Crane Dropped the Gate Into a Lock of the Welland Canal—About Forty Workmen Were in the Vicinity of the Lock When the Accident Occurred and None Apparently Escaped Injury—At Least 87 Persons Have Been Killed Since Construction of the Canal Started 15 Years Ago.

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., Aug. 1—(AP)—With the death tonight of two of the 30 or more men injured today when a 500-ton steel lock gate crashed into an excavation for the Welland ship canal at Thorold, the death list was increased to eight.

Several of the bodies recovered were badly crushed, but all the victims were identified as workmen who had been in the excavation when the huge construction crane hoisting the gate weakened and dropped its burden upon them.

Approximately 40 workmen were in the vicinity of the lock when the accident occurred and none apparently escaped death or injury. Rescue workers immediately attacked the mass of tangled steel and debris in an effort to reach crane men, riveters, helpers and ground men who were trapped.

Two cranes were raising the gate. One held but the second slipped and dropped the gate into a steel fabric on one side of the lock.

Identification of victims was difficult, some of them being crushed almost beyond recognition. Reports were that two men on the faltering crane were pitched into the pit and killed. Some of the injured who were extricated were so badly mangled that little hope was held for their lives.

The accident brought to a total of at least 87 the deaths incurred since construction of the canal was started 15 years ago. Eight men were killed in August, 1926, when a shackle broke at a lock near the spot where today's crash occurred.

The Peter Lyall Construction company has the contract for the section of the canal in which the accident occurred, although the erection of the steel gates on all sections is being carried out by a specially organized company known as the Steel Gates company of Canada.

All officials of the company engaged in relief operations.

DRIVE ON TO SUPPRESS GAMBLING IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1—(AP)—Chartered social clubs in New Orleans again felt the grip of police power in spite of temporary court restraint on raids when the Old Gem Social club was raided late today.

Acting under direct orders from Police Superintendent Thomas A. Healy a squad of policemen and detectives invaded the club and arrested 45 men, 31 of whom were charged with gambling with cards for money, 12 with loitering and 4 officers of the house with operating a house for gambling.

Will S. App, president of the club and John A. Remmick, vice president, were the officers arrested.

The raid on the Old Gem, one of the principals in a court order of last Monday forbidding police raids on chartered clubs unless evidence was obtained of violation of the law, was carried out after authorities had consulted Bertrand I. Cahn, city attorney, Mr. Healy explained.

It also followed a threat from Governor Huey P. Long last night that troops would patrol the streets of New Orleans if gambling were resumed here.

BROKER WATKINS WILL BE ARRAIGNED TODAY

HARTFORD, Aug. 1 (AP)—The criminal superior court will be convened at noon tomorrow with Judge Arthur F. Ells presiding, for the arraignment of Roger W. Watkins on the charge of embezzling $167,000 from stockholders and investors of his two Hartford investment companies, State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn said tonight.

Mr. Alcorn made this rapid move when he learned from County Detective Edward J. Hickey that the officer was bringing the former broker from Lorain, Ohio, where he was captured Tuesday night by Deputy Sheriff E. Harrison Hotchkiss, to Hartford tomorrow morning. The Hartford officers left Sandusky, Ohio, this afternoon, after removing Watkins from the city jail there, and took a train out of Cleveland due in Springfield, Mass., tomorrow morning.

Mr. Alcorn said that he would ask Judge Ells to fix the bond at $100,000 in Watkins case. This is the same bond which Judge Ells fixed in the cases of Watkins' alleged accessories to the embezzlement, his wife, Mrs. E. Watkins, and his two brothers-in-law, Maynard W. Tressler and Guy Tressler.

POPE ON IMMODESTY OF DRESS IN WOMEN

ROME, Aug. 1—(AP)—Early Christian women dragged into the circus at Rome to be devoured by wild animals were more concerned in covering their nudity than in saving their lives, the pope said today in a discussion of immodesty of dress in women of today.

Christianity early transformed pagan women into Christian women so that the tenet of modesty was a primary concern even under the stress of a horrible death, the pontiff said.

His remarks were made in the course of an audience to the "Organization Against Immorality in Women's Dress." The pontiff accepted with a show of gratitude an album containing the names of more than 50,000 ecclesiastics pledging themselves to wage war without compromise against "immodesty of dress in women."

A. F. OF L. PREPARING REPORT OF POLITICAL COMMITTEE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 1—(AP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor today prepared the way for the presentation of the report of the organization's non-partisan political committee.

While there was still much speculation and discussion by the members of the council concerning the attitude which the federation would take toward the presidential candidates, no one would venture to predict whether Hoover or Smith, or either, would receive the endorsement of the organization.

William Green, president of the federation, indicated however, in his statements that the action of the council depended upon the "clarification" of the party platforms by the candidates.

In discussing with newspapermen the published reports that Governor Smith had approved the labor planks in the democratic platform before it was adopted and which were considered by labor as unfavorable to them, Mr. Green stated that "a political platform was a very general thing."

He added, that "the personal views of the candidate can make it mean an entirely different thing."

Mayor James A. Fowler of Knoxville is unopposed for the republican senatorial nomination.

SILK MILL FUND IS NEARING $20,000 MARK

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, Aug. 1—The chart thermometer registering the progress of the drive for $30,000 for a new silk industry in the city hovered on the $18,000 mark about 3 o'clock this afternoon when reports of progress were either made personally by the workers or telephoned into the chamber of commerce office. Up to this time the teams, headed by captains have been working in organized manner with the use of a card system but according to an arrangement the field was thrown open this afternoon and canvassing for new subscribers is now on the "catch-as-catch-can" basis.

One more day of the drive is fully expected to put the effort up to if not over the quota. Final reports will be made Thursday evening. Team workers claim that they are meeting with but little difficulty in the drive. They find that about every person approached has a general knowledge of the project and the response to the progressive cause is very encouraging. One man who labors for a weekly wage pledged $200. He said that he was satisfied with his own job but he was interested in seeing other people get an opportunity to work. After making his pledge he volunteered to see some of his friends whom he felt assured would be glad to pledge amounts from $25 up.

While the drive for the industry referred to booms, a committee of the chamber of commerce is hard at work on the project of securing another and associate industry to also locate here and a report on progress made in this endeavor will be made Thursday night.

GAVE PUBLIC RECITAL ON TUBULAR CHIMES

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, Aug. 1—A public recital on the new tubular chimes just installed in the west tower of St. Mary's R. C. church attracted much attention and favorable comment this evening. The recital was in connection with the service of solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, noting the passing out of use of the old bell which tolled the Angelus morning and evening for the past quarter century and the completion of the installation of the new chimes.

Professor Frank S. L. Walter of Baltimore, Md., representative of the McShane Bell Foundry company, makers of the chimes manipulated the keyboard in the organ loft for the recital which consisted of a programme of 15 delightful numbers. The renditions were: The Bells of St. Mary, America, Glorious Voice Through the Night, Nearer My God to Thee, Lead Kindly Light, Home Sweet Home, Old Folks at Home, Adeste Fidelis, How Can I Leave Thee, Wedding March from Lohengrin, O Promise Me, Old Black Joe, Tantum Ergo, Auld Lang Syne, and Holy God We Praise Thy Name.

The chimes are installed in the tower and are 80 feet above the street level. Every tone, in its full beauty and mellowness could readily be heard in all parts of the city. The chimes are known as the ten tone tubular type having the eight notes of the diatonic scale of the tenor or large tube, plus the flat seventh and the one note above the octave. In addition to the keyboard in the loft there is another keyboard located in the sacristy and an automatic clock controls the ringing of the chimes daily for the Angelus at 6 a. m., 12 noon and 7 p. m.

Tubular chimes have been in use for 40 years but have never become much in vogue in this part of the country. Chimes of somewhat similar makes are to be found in Boston and Lenox, Mass.

The old bell is in the belfry of the parochial school, adjoining the church property and was the gift of Attorney Harry H. Hunter, formerly of this city, now a prominent lawyer in New York city. The presentation was made when the parish was organized in the spring of 1903.

In the presence of a capacity gathering representing nearly all denominations in the city the service of benediction started at 7:30 o'clock with Rev. J. J. Papillon officiating. Rev. Horace C. Belec was deacon and Rev. Edward A. Mathieu sub-deacon. Rev. Father Papillon, pastor of the church, addressed the congregation thanking the parishioners and the general public for their response to the committee that had charge of the drive to secure the funds for the chimes. While the service was being carried out the old bell was tolled and with the first note on the chimes it was still. Upon the completion of 25 years of faithful service the bell will not be used only for school purposes.

LOUIS HADDAD SHOWS IMPROVEMENT AT HOSPITAL

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, Aug. 1—Attending physicians said today that Louis, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph's hospital Tuesday, was showing improvement and his ultimate recovery was hoped for. The boy suffered from gas gangrene, an infection that was particularly common and dangerous to soldiers who suffered injuries during the World war. The child's right arm was fractured in two places in a fall from a stone wall. In one of the fractures the bone protruded through the skin and it is believed that the "gas bug," a dangerous germ, entered in the arm through this opening. The infection developed less than 24 hours after the injury was sustained and after a consultation of physicians the amputation took place. The arm was removed to a point just above the elbow.

N. E. AGRICULTURE IS MAKING STRONG COMEBACK

(Special to The Bulletin)

STORRS, Conn., Aug. 1—New England agriculture is making a strong "comeback" according to Prof. W. J. Spillman, agricultural economist for the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, who delivered the principal address of today's program which brought the 1928 Farmers' week at Connecticut Agricultural college to a close.

"The Eastern Farmer in His Relations to National Agriculture" was the subject of Professor Spillman's address given this afternoon. "The Role of Agricultural Economics in the Organization of the Farm Business" was the subject of the principal address of the morning program, given by Prof. F. T. Weaver, head of the department of agricultural economics at Penn. State college. Other features of today's concluding program were the exercises held in connection with the awarding of "honorary recognition" by the college, the annual livestock parade, a sheep drive, and other demonstrations arranged by agricultural departments of the college.

"The fast growing cities of these New England states are responsible for the strong 'comeback' that is evident in the agricultural industry of this section of the country" asserted Professor Spillman. "This rapid growth of the cities means much to our agricultural industry because of the increased demand for food.

"The New England states, Vermont excepted," he continued, "are the only states east of the Mississippi river to increase their acreage of crop land during the period from 1919 to 1924. Explanation of this increase during a time when other states were reducing acreage of crop land is found in the increased demand for farm products by the growing cities.

The development of winter vegetable production in Florida and other gulf states has brought about a considerable amount of competition for the New England grower of vegetables under glass, Professor Spillman said. The New England growers, however, have the great advantage of being able to put their goods on the market in a fresher condition than the products of their southern competitors. It was a question of competition between the two, he felt, and within certain limits there was opportunity for both growers on the local markets.

New England has a larger proportion of its land in fruits and vegetables than any other states, New Jersey and California excepted, Professor Spillman pointed out. These proportions should be increased, he declared because our markets are growing apace with our cities. The New England markets, he said, were growing faster than the markets of any other section of the country with the exception of the Pacific coast region.

Discussing the poultry industry, Professor Spillman said that on the Pacific coast the development of poultry farming was going ahead at a tremendous are, and there are times of year when 50 per cent of the eggs consumed in New York city are shipped by boat from the Pacific coast.

He advised the New England poultrymen to put more study into the organization of the poultry plant as a means of cutting down production costs. Larger flocks with less labor expense were recommended as a means of cutting down production costs, which must be done if competition from other regions is to be met. Professor Spillman said he has visited poultry farms where one man cared for 4,000 birds without any hired help, and that he knows of one place in New Jersey where one man cares for 17,000 birds alone. One great advantage that lies with the New England poultryman is that he is near his markets and can obtain fancy prices for a fancy product. Professor Spillman said that in his opinion the farmers who have depended on dairy products and poultry have been better off than any other classes of farmers.

"Agriculture has undergone a revolution in the last 50 years that is comparable in scope and significance to the commercial revolutions of the sixteenth century, and with the industrial revolution of one hundred years ago," declared Prof. F. P. Weaver in discussing the role of economics in agriculture.

"This agricultural revolution has largely resulted from three main causes, the first of which is the development and use of farm machinery and of steam, gas and electric power for the farm," continued Professor Weaver. "Second, the great increase and development of transportation and manufacturing facilities for the nation as a whole, and third, a revolution in the social customs of the American people."

DANIELSON

SPECIAL BOROUGH MEETING ON SEWER EXTENSION

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, Aug. 1—Today Warden Harry E. Back issued a call for a special borough meeting to be held the first of the coming week. It appears that extensions of the sewer system are desired in several different sections of the borough, and it is to put petitions that have been filed with borough officials before the voters for action that the special meeting has been called.

In each instance the sewer extensions asked for are short. One is wanted in Prince street, from the manhole at the corner of Prince and School streets to run easterly a distance of 136 feet to property owned by Mrs. Edward Hammett. Another extension is desired through Stearns street a distance of 300 feet easterly from the junction of Main and Stearns streets to a point opposite property of Miss Grace O'Brien.

For the first time in several years an extension of the sewer system is desired in Broad street, from a manhole at the junction of Academy and Broad streets northerly a distance of 160 feet to a point opposite property owned by Mrs. Eno Roberts. Construction of 100 feet of sewer in that section of Water street from a point opposite the old borough hall northerly is asked by persons who have property interests in that section. Still another petition is for the building of 100 feet of sewer in Franklin street, commencing at the end of the present sewer opposite property of Charles Rapp and thence easterly to take care of a dwelling being constructed in that section. The length of the various extensions asked for totals 896 feet.

FINED FOR FAILURE TO GRANT RIGHT OF WAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, Aug. 1—Pierre Paquette came to court this morning to answer to a charge that he failed to grant the right of way on Dyer street yesterday when a car he was driving was in collision with another machine operated by Francis E. Storer of North Main street, both cars being considerably damaged in the crash, though no one was injured. Paquette represented by Attorney Thomas Shields of Norwich, pleaded not guilty to the charge, but was found guilty and fined $5 and costs, by Judge W. Fenner Woodward. In the absence of Attorney Arthur G. Bill, Attorney E. L. Darbie acted as prosecutor.

BOY VANDALS LITTER UP SCHOOL ROOMS

(Special to The Bulletin.)

DANIELSON, Aug. 1—Young America has been having an outbreak in Danielson. Possibly, the weather is responsible. Maybap, the long vacation is wearing stale on the youngsters. In any event, they have had Chief McFarland hopping around right smart all day today checking up on their activities, which are nothing to brag about when mentioned in connection with good behavior.

Late this afternoon the chief had a good line on the groups that have been doing such things as vandalizing the interior of the graded school building on School street and dropping bags of sand from trees on Franklin street on the heads of unsuspecting people passing underneath. The boys that made a mess of the interior of several rooms of the school building, freshly painted and cleaned for the opening of the fall term next September, operated separately and independently of the sandbag operators, who appear to have developed a brand new idea for razzing their elders.

Messing up of rooms in the school building, it develops, took place last Sunday when a pair of little boys climbed a fire escape and made their way into the building through a window. The condition of the building was not discovered until Monday and was not fully cleared up until today. The boys littered the rooms with unrestrained enthusiasm, and incidentally took away some writing pads and other school supplies. They have been ferreted out and their parents will deal adequately with them, whether or not the law has a hand in their punishment.

The aerial bombardment of pedestrians by boys hidden among the leafy boughs of trees equipped with bags of sand is a brand new racket hereabouts. Some direct hits that were registered made no hit at all, as it were, with those who happened to be made targets, and they complained to the borough police about the matter. This group of boys have qualified for a good tanning at home as well as for such other action as it may officially be deemed necessary to take against them. All the culprits are juveniles of tender years and for that reason escape personal publicity.

Walls of the new Brooklyn Savings bank building are up to the height of the first story and today the work was being arranged for the further rising of the walls. Some steel work was being put in place today and there remain a few other steel beams to go in at the top of the first story level. Building operations have progressed rapidly the past three weeks, and it is now anticipated that the exterior work will be very far advanced by the end of August.

To Enroll New Voters

It is forecast that party leaders will make a special effort in the next two months t oenroll as many new voters as possible in Killingly. A feature of this effort likely will be along the lines of interesting a great many women who are residents of Killingly and entitled to vote in becoming electors, something that have not done through the years since members of their sex were granted the right of franchise.

Bathing in the rivers hereabouts has practically stopped, and it is sad circumstance to relate that this is largely due to the drowning that took place here a fortnight ago. The unfortunate tragedy again has brought a revival of talk about having a swimming pool where bathing would be safe. Several plans have been suggested, some of them involving diversion of river water into an area where swimming could go on, but no action has been taken giving any promise of this proposal being carried out.

The matter of forming a fire district at Connecticut Village continues to drag on. Persons who are much interested in the matter who have been away on vacations and who have now returned or will return this week intend to take up the proposal and ascertain how many of the residents of the section can be interested in forming a district or borough zone.

PUTNAM

TWO ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF RAILROAD PROPERTY

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, Aug. 1—Co-operation on the part of the Putnam police and the New Haven railroad police today cleared up the mysterious break and theft at the supply office of the New Haven railroad at Putnam, committed last week. In following up the clews left by the thieves, Captain Jarvis and Detective John Murray of the railroad police found that the theft was the work of young boys. An Oak street boy and another youngster were arrested by Officer Murray and Officer Benoit of the Putnam police and were charged with the stealing of 154 pounds of brass bearings, used on passenger coaches. In apprehending the boys the police were informed that the stolen railroad property was accepted and paid for by Nathan Kurtzman and Morris Harrison of Putnam, junk dealers. Captain Jarvis of the Putnam police later investigated the story related by the boys. His investigation brought about the arrest of the men, who had the property in their possession.

The boys were placed in the care of Probation Officer Peter A. Gardner and will be arraigned before Judge Geissler in police court Thursday morning. Kurtzman and Harrison also charged with accepting stolen goods, will be tried in police court Thursday morning.

This offense is similar to one committed a few months ago, when young boys stole the brass flagholders off the new memorial bridge on Pomfret street and offered them to a local junk dealer, who bought them from the boys and later resold them. The police arrested the boys, whose stories led to the arrest of the purchaser. He admitted his guilt, and stated he had sold them and it would be impossible to recover them. The court imposed a fine that easily provided funds for the replacement of the holders on the bridge.

BELIEVE GOBEILLE HAS NOT FLED TO CANADA

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, Aug. 1—Little faith has been placed in the reports that the missing Danielson contractor, Eugene L. Gobeille, has fled to Canada. Reports have been forwarded to the Worcester police that the missing man was seen in an automobile at Glen Falls, New York, but the report was not definite enough to cause an investigation. The Worcester police authorities have entered him upon the missing persons columns and are making effort to locate him through the ordinary channels. Since his wife and family and other persons with whom the missing man came in contact have not asked for any police assistance the matter has been given only a slight amount of attention.

The members of his firm at first advanced the theory that Gobeille had become a victim of foul play because of the large amount of money he had on his person when he disappeared, but since then this belief has been supplanted by the thought he actually intended to escape with money forwarded him from the state road contracts he held in Danielson and Clinton, Conn.

Captain William Jarvis of the Putnam police today returned to their rightful owners the quantity of stock taken by Oscar Reisenberg on last Friday evening from the drug store of Edward H. Burt and from the novelty store of George Anas. The stolen property consisted mostly of a number of razor blades and candy, including a highly valued wrist watch, the personal property of Mr. Anas. Reisenberg was tried on Monday afternoon in police court and was fined over $200 for his thefts. Following the session of court, Judge Geissler ruled that the property be returned to the owners.

A death in Putnam this morning was that of Paul Auger of Walnut street, who died following an illness of about one week. Mr. Auger was 32 years of age. He was a native of Canada. He came to the United States at an early age and lived the greater part of his life in Putnam. Mr. Auger was of a quiet nature, he was not affiliated with political office. He was a devout member of St. Mary's church and a member of the church organizations. He is survived by his son, Paulite Auger, who resides in Putnam.

About 40 members of the American Legion posts in Woodstock, Putnam and North Grosvenordale gathered Tuesday evening at the home of Louis Ream in Thompson and witnessed the showing of motion pictures photographed by the United States signal corps during the war in France. All scenes exhibited were actual pictorial descriptions of the important battles of the war. The literature accompanying the reels explained that the pictures had not been worked upon by any illusions. The showing of the pictures deeply interested the ex-soldier audience and brought back to many of them the happenings in France ten years ago. After the screen hour the host, Mr. Ream, served his guests with refreshments.

L. Hector Lucier has announced he will soon establish himself in the optometry business in Putnam as soon as he passes the state board examinations required to practice the profession. Mr. Lucier is the son of Frank X. Lucier of Putnam and has resided the greater part of his life in Putnam. He graduated from Putnam high school in 1919. He continued his studies in the LaSalette school in Hartford and later entered the Rochester School of Optometry in Rochester, N. Y., where he was graduated in June. During his time at school Mr. Lucier held many collegiate positions. He being elected president of his class, and chairman of the students' forum and a member of the college fraternities of Epsilon Psi Epsilon and the Gamma chapter.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at St. Mary's church for Napoleon Jette at 9 o'clock. A solemn high mass of requiem was officiated at by Rev. U. O. Bellerose, celebrant; Rev. W. A. Routhier, deacon, and Rev. J. D. Casey, sub-deacon. Music for the occasion was rendered by the 9 o'clock choir of St. Mary's church.

The funeral service of the former Putnam business man was largely attended by the numerous friends and acquaintances he had made during the period of years he had served the public in Putnam as a clerk in the store of J. E. Rich & Co. Burial followed the funeral mass, in St. Mary's cemetery. The bearers were: Joseph Rivard, Alfred Bonnevilles, Prosper Vegiard, Frederick Magnant, Alphonse Boucier and Augustas Giraca, all prominent Putnam business men.

Harold Barette, 12-year-old son of Owen Barette, of Providence, formerly of Putnam, is a victim of blood infection caused by stepping upon a sliver, while at the Y. M. C. A. camp at Black pond.

The small piece of wood had been lodged in the boy's foot for about a week before he was subjected to the severe pains, and later to a fever. The boy was rushed to Putnam where medical attention was rendered and he was later taken to his home in Providence.

Former Supt. of School Ralph C. Jenkins is moving his family to his new home in Johnson, Vt., where he will assume the principalship of the Johnson Normal Training school in that village. Mr. Jenkins tendered his resignation to the members of the school committee on July 1.

It has been learned here that in the event State Treasurer Ernest E. Rogers of New London is nominated on the state republican ticket for governor, John B. Byrne of this city, vice-president of the Connecticut Trust company, will be placed on the roll for state treasurer to succeed Mr. Rogers. A few weeks ago a preliminary announcement was made, mentioning Byrne for the position; it was then believed he would not encounter any difficulty in obtaining the nomination. To the statement issued to the press from the republican headquarters in Hartford, Byrne made no comment.

THE BRITISH-FRENCH PACT

Even before signatures have been affixed to the Kellogg peace treaty there are evidences that the nations are seriously striving for a better understanding and are paving the way for the much sought agreement for the limitation of armament.

This is to be noted in the announcement that was made by Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, when he told the house of commons, in explanation of the action on the Kellogg treaty, that an agreement had been made with France to put restrictions on naval competition.

Those countries are, of course, parties to the Washington agreement which limits naval competition up to a certain point, but under the British-French pact which has been recently adopted these two countries have gone further and extended limitations to four instead of two classes.

Much significance is to be found in this action. It will be recalled that France was not willing to participate in the recent conference where an effort was made to bring the leading nations into an agreement for an extension of the naval limitations. It was much opposed to any idea of curbing submarines. It considered them necessary to its defense and would not approve of limiting the number or size.

On the other hand it was the British attitude which was blamed for the failure to get anywhere at Geneva. Thus with the French standing in the way to such an extent that it was inevitable that the British would be guarded in their action, and with the British clogging the machinery at Geneva, it is impossible to look upon the agreement between them as other than a decided step forward.

While it means much to them respectively, the evident reconciliation of their differences holds out large possibilities for a resumption of efforts in behalf of further naval limitations among the leading nations. The new agreement involves the terms of the Washington pact and goes beyond them concerning vessels under 10,000 tons and submarines. There's the chance that by the time the Washington agreement is up for renewal the nations will be willing to replace those terms with those just adopted by Great Britain and France. Likewise with such a sentiment in the air it may even come before that time.

PANAMA'S ELECTION

More than ordinary interest will be displayed in the election which is to be held in the Panama republic Sunday because of the fact that the United States had been asked to supervise it. The invitation extended to this country was not accepted since it was maintained that Panama's constitution provides the machinery for electing its officials and it was not shown to this country that it could not be successfully operated by that government.

What the result will be will therefore be keenly followed. There is no indication that revolutionary conditions prevail there or that the administration will not insure the rights of all voters. The conservatives appear to doubt this but that does not justify our stepping in and taking control. The situation might be different if there was an outbreak in that country or if it is shown that the constitutional rights cannot be maintained by that government.

The situation in Panama differs from Nicaragua in that there is no disorder and the government has not asked for our assistance. The party that is out in Panama has its fears concerning the manner in which the election will be conducted on Sunday but it is not for us to determine whether they are well founded. If the Panaman republic has a government which is not insuring a free and fair election it is to be expected that the people of that country will stand for their rights and demand a change. That should be the issue on which the conservatives ought to bring plenty of pressure if there is really any ground for their feeling. If we were disposed to meddle it would be a grand opportunity, but we are not, and have so declared.

NOT CONNECTICUT ALONE

It was an unpleasant disclosure which was made this week by the motor vehicle department of Connecticut when it was shown that the increase in motor fatalities in this state over last year at this time is 34 per cent.

That the condition does not exist in this state alone is shown by figures which have been revealed by the motor vehicle department of Rhode Island where for the month of July there was an increase of 200 per cent. in the deaths and for the year thus far a gain of 37 per cent. over last year. That shows that however bad the situation in the Nutmeg state is, it is worse in Rhode Island.

Rhode Island authorities are quoted as declaring that there is no wonder there are accidents when it is found that cars are being driven at the rate of 40 to 50 miles an hour on main thoroughfares while cars entering those thoroughfares from the intersecting streets go at 30 miles an hour. Excessive rate of speed for the prevailing traffic and highway conditions is thus put down as the cause for this situation if the officials of our neighboring state are right in their judgment. They maintain that there is lack of judgment on the part of drivers and an excessive rate of speed at street intersections. Under such conditions there is little wonder that the pedestrian is involved in about 50 per cent. of the accidents.

But what is going to be done about this increase in highway deaths? It is possible for the authorities to indicate what they believe to be the cause of them but the matter should not be allowed to stop there. Statistics are not interesting to most people and yet it doesn't require a very long or deep study of the figures that are available concerning the motor vehicle deaths to indicate that the tendency is in the wrong direction.

It is possible for the correction to be applied by the auto drivers in part and by the pedestrians in part. It means that more care must be used, but there doesn't appear to be any certainty that it will follow until those who should exercise greater care are required to do so.

TUNNEY'S RETIREMENT

It is not customary for the world's heavyweight champion pugilist to abandon the ring while he holds such an honor. For that reason more than ordinary attention is attracted by the action of Gene Tunney in announcing that he is through with the profession, profitable though it has been to him, and it is all the more interesting because it doesn't appear that there is anyone in sight at the present time who threatens to take the honor away from him should he remain in the ring.

Tunney has met all comes and demonstrated his superiority in a manner that is convincing. He differs from the ordinary type of pugilistic champion and from all indications might expect to continue to successfully meet all challengers for some time to come, and by so doing greatly increase his supply of worldly goods.

But Tunney thinks of other things. Fighting is not the only thing that engages his attention. He has jumped into fame through the manner in which he has handled himself as a fighter, but his aspirations are higher than simply being a champion pugilist. Having amassed sufficient means to devote his time to other activities which are perhaps more congenial to him he is convinced that age does not bar him from making a start in a new field. Without a doubt, from the kind of a record he has already made, he will be frequently heard from in such line of work as he enters.

This presents a new situation for pugilism. It will be necessary for someone to go to the top again by defeating all contenders. It would not be fair for Tunney to confer the title upon someone else. It is to be expected that some one will win and then defend it. There is of course a chance for former champion Dempsey to step into the breach and endeavor to regain the coveted place which he once held with great popularity until Tunney came along. Whether he will or can do it is a question in many minds, although he has yielded first place to no one except the champion who has voluntarily relinquished the title.

CUBA'S CANCER PROPOSAL

No one knows what Cuba will do, but there is to be introduced in its legislature a bill which would make it possible to use condemned criminals for experiments in the fight against cancer.

Under the provisions of the bill the person convicted would be given the option of the garrote or innoculation with cancer germs for experimental purposes. To most people there would seem to be little choice; except that the garrote might mean the quicker death and less suffering. However there are plenty who are ready to grasp at a straw and who might get the impression that either the innoculation would have no effect upon them or that they could overcome the effects of it. They might be willing to take a chance that those who would conduct the experiments might be able to check the disease even if the innoculation took.

The purpose of the legislation is apparently to obtain living subjects on which tests may be made in the hopes of making a more successful fight in behalf of humanity in general. Under the law the criminal would not be forced to offer himself for the experiment but even though there are not many criminals who would be subject to such a law should it be adopted there is bound to be plenty of opposition to it even while it is being advocated. Whether it would serve, if adopted, to prevent capital crimes any better than the garrote is a question.

This effort in Cuba appears to be a display of new interest in that republic in the fight against cancer. Even though this plan doesn't succeed any real contribution which Cuba can make in the fight will be most welcome.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Even though Tex Rickard lost heavily on the recent fight he needn't expect that it will be made up by popular subscription.

As we welcome the last month of summer, something better is hoped for in the way of weather than indicated by the almanac day.

It has long since become evident that it is impossible to deal leniently with criminals and expect any perceptible reduction in crime.

A STORM OF GOOD WILL.

You've seen a bonfire built and watched the flame lean from one crumpled paper to the next and the next until the whole pile was burning merrily? Well, that was the way in which the entire atmosphere of the Junction road became thoroughly permeated by grouch and sheer hatred. Chris Davis, whose fertile field's came first, got mad at Henry Lillis, whose acres were next, because of some rivalry at a county fair. Henry Lillis eventually refused to speak to his next neighbor, Wendell Jones, on account of a quarrel over chickens and Jones had no use on earth for Chris Davis because of a bitter political argument. And each year the concrete set still harder around each of the parties to the general hostility.

You can plunge through a rain, you can swallow a fog, but a blizzard puts a full stop to puny human activities because its fury is elemental.

It set in shortly after Dr. Haines, from Norton Junction, had, with deep breathings and some curses, crashed his sturdy flivver through and over the four miles of bumpy, snowy road and reeled into Wendell Jones' front yard directly over the phlox bed, which was two feet under snow. Dr. Haines, meditating on the unwarranted hard luck of general practitioners with country calls, blew in through the Jones kitchen door and at once became calm, concerned and meditative when he found Mrs. Wendell Jones threatening to have either appendicitis or perhaps just a plain tummyache.

Sally Jones was one of those small, fragile, appealing women still young enough to cause any man to feel strong, protecting and interested. Sitting out in the warm kitchen with Wendell or walking in again to muse over his patient, Dr. Haines and the Jones family at first did not realize the raging demon of storm outside. When they did become aware of windows plastered thick and the howl of the wind and rattle of ice particles it was far into the night. There was no thought of the doctor's returning to Norton Junction.

By morning the sun was out, the thermometer down, the road packed with snow and ice, level across from fence to fence—and Haines had definitely decided that Sally Jones had appendicitis and that it looked like an immediate trip to the Junction hospital.

Breakfast went untasted while her husband and the doctor stared at one another with increasing despair. An auto could not get through the snow, a horse would plunge in up to his shoulders and founder. And there were four miles of it! Then Dr. Haines, setting his jaw, jerked down the telephone receiver and calling the other two families on the Junction road, the Lillises and the Davises, curtly and briefly told them that if Sally Jones did not reach the hospital by night there was likely to be a first-class funeral in the neighborhood. What could they do? They could dig!

Out in the dazzling glare of the zero sun Dr. Haines and Wendell Jones stumbled, muffled to their noses, with great clumsy mittens grasping the farm shovels and up to their thighs in the middle of where the road was supposed to be, began frantically shoveling snow. Way down the road they could see a black speck that moved — that would be Henry Lillis with his shovel. And over the rise they knew Chris Davis was at work. Chris had done more—he had thought to telephone the Junction and men from there were digging out toward him. A snowplow was useless. The sun shone, ears stung, noses froze, but they dug on.

It was dark when the last bank of snow was cleared. The men stood there in the freezing dusk, panting, leaning on their shovels, while the Jones sledge was got out, piled high with robes and Sally lifted into it for her journey so woefully delayed. And as the sturdy old contraption slid by them, bound for the hospital, all of them pressed close and muttered words of cheer to the deathly weary man with the reins in his hands.

"Good luck, Wen," was the word. But two of them, Henry Lillis and Chris Davis did more. Reaching up they patted the driver clumsily on his shoulder and said he was not to worry, that they'd see to things on the farm, and that they knew Sally was going to be all right; and they stood watching the sledge until it was swallowed up in the wintry blackness. And then, ringing out as from a great void, came the faint sound of the bells from the Junction—the bells of Christmas eve far across the arctic fields and woods. —Chicago News.

YOUR HEALTH

Jaundice

By Edmund Andrews, M. D., Chicago, University of Illinois College of Medicine.

Jaundice is a yellowish brown discoloration of the skin. It is caused by the failure of the liver to eliminate certain coloring matters. The substances which give color to the blood cells are carried in the red blood cells. The life of these cells is but a few days or weeks. New ones are constantly being born in the bone marrow and when the old ones die they are destroyed in the liver and their coloring matter passes into the bile. For that reason any failure of the liver to carry out its function will cause a damming back of these pigments in the blood, and a staining of the skin, lips and eyes.

Various diseases of the liver itself may under certain circumstances cause jaundice, but the most common cause is disease of the bile tracts. The bile is made in the liver and constantly flows through the ducts into the intestines and blockage of these ducts is the commonest cause of jaundice.

Jaundice, from whatever cause, is a serious disease. While the coloring matter itself is harmless, the mere fact that it is being dammed back means that other more poisonous products are being dammed back also.

The symptoms of this poisoning are many—extreme intolerable itching of the skin is one of the most prominent, the blood pressure becomes lower, the patient is weak and readily loses weight, and above all there is very severe inflammation of the kidneys which, if allowed to persist, will be fatal.

Another serious feature of jaundice is that the bile is needed in the intestines, as it contains important digestive ferments, and lack of it brings about an inability to digest the food properly, so that it tends to pass through the body undigested. This is essentially true of fats which appear in the stools in large amounts in jaundice.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Buckingham Memorial

Mr. Editor: In Tuesday's Bulletin was a letter from Mr. C. H. "Dad" Shaw which was quite interesting, but as I read it through I did not quite like the ending. The Buckingham Memorial is certainly not in a "deplorable condition." I will admit it needs a coat of paint and perhaps sometime when Mr. Shaw gets off the New England bus, he will see that the patriotic organizations which love the old building have not quite let it "fade out of the picture through neglect." Do you realize, Mr. Shaw, how much it will cost to scrape and paint that building? Perhaps you will donate a few hundred to help the few Grand Army men that are left to defer expenses.

Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps, No. 16, and the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War have not been slackers. When called upon to help we have been there to do our bit, also the Sons of Veterans, and we are still ready and willing to do. If the people of Norwich do not like to see the building in such a "deplorable condition" why, just open up your hearts and pocketbooks and keep the dear old building from "fading out of the picture."

If Mr. Shaw will step into the building sometime, he will find it in a pretty good condition. Strangers who go in there think it is wonderful. Can you tell us, Mr. Shaw, how old the building is?

Vermont Roads

Mr. Editor: Apparently an incorrect idea has found wide circulation to the effect that highways in Vermont are in bad condition. The main highways with few exceptions are in normal condition compared with previous years except for construction work which in part is the result of hard surface road building in the state.

Temporary bridges and short detours wherever provided, are convenient and safe, while alternate routes over patrolled roads are available in avoiding more extensive construction projects. Many tourists have indicated that they have found Vermont roads generally in better condition than in previous years and expressed surprise at the many indications of rapid recovery from the flood.

The state highway department is issuing frequently during the tourist season, maps showing roads with construction work indicated and notes describing highway conditions. Arrangements have been made by which copies of these maps will be sent to you regularly by the Vermont highway department.

State officials have no intention of, or desire to, deceive visitors for the sake of bringing them into Vermont, but they do desire a fair statement of facts. Vermont's doors are open to the traveling public and most of her roads may be traveled with comfort and safety.

Yours very truly,
JOHN E. WEEKS,
Governor.

Even King Eagle is Fooled

By Thornton W. Burgess

The keenest eyes and those best schooled
By camouflage are sometimes fooled.
Mrs. Lightfoot

King Eagle spent considerable time sailing around and around, where he could look down in a certain part of the Green Forest. Occasionally he dropped down and alighted in the top of a tall tree. But he soon found that he couldn't see as well there. Who was he watching for? He was watching for the two spotted little babies of Mrs. Lightfoot the Deer. While they were very very little, they would not be too big for him to carry away. By the time they had grown much they would be.

So most of the time King Eagle was up in the blue, blue sky, looking down. There was a certain little opening in the Green Forest that seemed to be a favorite with Mrs. Lightfoot. Grass grew there and flowers. Several times he saw the twins with her. But each time that he swung over, thinking to shoot down and seize one of them, Mrs. Lightfoot took alarm and she and her babies disappeared.

But there came a morning when Mrs. Lightfoot left the twins for a little while. On the edge of that clearing she bade them lay down and to remain perfectly still until she returned. Now the very first lesson that little Deer learn is obedience. If they did not learn this lesson at the very beginning they would not live long, I fear. So, when Mrs. Lightfoot told them to lie down, they flattened themselves out with their long necks straight out in front of them down on the ground. It was a little bit brushy right there and the branches of some of the trees hung in such a way that the sunlight broke through in little spots. There were many little white flowers about.

King Eagle had seen Mrs. Lightfoot with the twins, standing on the edge of the little opening. Then his attention had been drawn for just an instant to the shore of the pond of Paddy the Beaver. Buster Bear was getting a drink. When King Eagle looked back Mrs. Lightfoot was just disappearing amongst the trees, and the twins were not with her.

"Aha!" said King Eagle to himself. "She has left the twins behind. This is the time for me to get one of them. I ought to have no difficulty in finding them."

But King Eagle did have difficulty in finding those twins. Back and forth he sailed, using those wonderful eyes of his for all they were worth. But not a sign of a fawn could he see. He knew that they must be there in that little opening, or close to it. It provoked him that he was unable to see one of them. But look and look and look as he would, he could see nothing that looked like a baby Deer.

Hedropped down to a tall tree on the edge of the little clearing

All he could see was a shadow here and a shadow there, little spots of sunlight here and little spots of sunlight there, and all about white flowers growing.

He dropped down to a tall tree on the edge of the little opening. He thought probably he could see better there. There were one or two old logs lying half buried in the grass, but there were no Deer. There were no dainty little fawns. Yet King Eagle was positive they were there somewhere. If only one of them would move! Yes, sir, if only one of them would move! He suddenly screamed.

Now the scream of King Eagle is loud and startling. When he screamed he watched in the hope that a frightened little fawn would jump. There was no movement. There was nothing. King Eagle tried it again, with the same result.

"She must have taken them back into the woods and hidden them after all," said King Eagle to himself. Still he waited. He waited until Mrs. Lightfoot returned. She gave a little signal. Two beautiful little babies bounded to their feet. They had been lying right there all the time, but because their little coats, spotted with white, had made them look so like their surroundings with the white flowers and the spots of sunlight, they had been as invisible as if they had been entirely covered with something. But had they disobeyed and moved even though only to twitch and ear, King Eagle would have seen them.

RABALM QUICKLY STOPS ITCHING INSECT BITES

"The bum of one mosquito used to be enough to make a prisoner of me in the screened-in porch. While I'm not easily upset, a mosquito bite poisons me terribly, and itches for days. Though I was often laughed at, and missed a lot of good times, I wouldn't stay anywhere where there were mosquitoes. Recently however a friend suggested I try Rabalm, and the first time I needed it, I did try it with very satisfactory results. And while I don't like to be bitten by mosquitoes any more than I ever did, I know now that if I am bitten, Rabalm will prevent it from poisoning me as it used to. It is a very effective remedy and I am grateful to know of it."

Rabalm is excellent for all kinds of insect bites. The thing about it people most often mention is how quickly it takes out the itch and sting. Two sizes, 50-cents and $1.00 containing 3 times as much. RABALM is for sale by all druggists.

Mother and Son Very Weak After Sickness

Put On Weight, Gain Rapidly and Now Out of Danger.

To McCoy Laboratories:

Two years ago my 12-year-old son and I both had diphtheria, after which we were both left very anemic. My boy had to quit schohol and got so weak he could not walk across the room; after finding he was anemic he took bottles and bottles of blood medicine without any results, so having seen your McCoy's Tablets advertising so much I decided to try them. It was but a short time after doing so that he was out playing and going to school. I also started taking them. At the time I weighed 103 pounds and when I had taken three boxes I weighed 126 pounds. Now weigh 132 and it is the first in years I have felt real well. We are greatly indebted to McCoy's. I have recommended them to ever so many friends and in every instance they have become very beneficial.

JEWETT CITY HIGHWAY TO HAVE NEW LOCATION AT RAILROAD CROSSING

(Special to The Bulletin)

JEWETT CITY, Aug. 1—The public utilities commission notified property owners in Jewett City and Liston on Wednesday that the state highway commissioner and the N. Y., N. H. and H. railroad are ordered and directed to eliminate the dangerous condition of the local Main street railroad crossing by relocating the highway.

As shown by an approved plan and by constructing a bridge of reinforced concrete viaduct type over the Quinebaug river and railroad tracks in the location is set forth in the plan. The bridge to have total span of about 678 3 7-8 inches, a span over the railroad track of about 58 feet 3 3-4 inches, an overall width of about 42 1-2 feet, a clear roadway width of 28 feet and a sidewalk 6 feet wide, an elevation of 18 feet measured from the top of the rail to the lowest part of the steel work of the bridge and a grade of approach from the southwest not exceeding 5 1-2 degrees and from the northeast not exceeding 3 1-2 degrees. Upon the completion of the work of elimination, that portion of the existing highway located within the railroad company's right of way at the grade crossing shall be closed.

The crossing is the first of a series of grade crossings, overpasses and underpasses constituting in the opinion of the state highway commissioner, dangerous conditions calling for their elimination as a part of a general highway improvement which is being made along trunk highway No. 12. The obscure lines of sight at the crossing, approaching from the northeast, and the steep grade of the approach combined with the heavy traffic make the crossing a dangerous one. The highway commissioner's plan which has been accepted, relocates the highway and crossing of the river and tracks.

The highway will be relocated for a total distance of about 2,550 feet of which 1,307 feet represents the length of the viaduct and the approaches. The railroad crossing location will be about 285 feet southwest of the present grade crossing. The length of the span over the railroad right of way would be about 113 feet. There will be a short connecting highway running from a point northeasterly of the new crossing over the river to a connection with the present trunk line highway in the vicinity of the present bridge over the river.

The total cost of the elimination, including an estimate of $25,000 for land damages is computed at about $342,136.

Objected to Plan

At a hearing in April held in Hartford the Fisk Rubber company objected to the plan principally because the relocated highway would run through its property requiring the taking and removal of several of the company's structures. This company withdrew the objection subsequent to the hearing by letter addressed to the state highway commissioner.

The Aspinook mill also objected on the ground that trucks operating to and from the company's plant would have to travel a longer distance over the relocated highway than at present. Objection was also made to the plan by several residents on the ground that the relocation of the highway without any provision for a foot pass under or over the present grade crossing would require pedestrians to walk considerably further in traveling to and from the eastern and western portions of the community. In the commission's opinion suitable compensation is found in the avoidance of the present 10 degree grade on the present highway just east of the present grade crossing, and the elimination of the present delay, whenever gates at the grade crossing are down. With respect to the inconvenience to pedestrian travel, the distance between that portion of Jewett City southeast of the crossing and that portion in the northwestern part measured along the present highway is decreased by the relocation of the proposed new highway although the distance between the portion southeast of the crossing and houses located just northwest is increased somewhat. Here, as in other trunk line highway improvements, the inconvenience caused some, must give way to the general public benefit and since the plan of elimination relocates the highway in this section on a straight highway line, eliminating the present dangerous curves, the general benefit to Jewett City is considerably greater than the inconvenience to a limited pedestrian traffic.

Railroad Filed Plan

After the hearing the railroad company filed a plan whereby the present highway would be carried over the railroad tracks at a point close to the present grade crossing and whereby the crossing of the Quinebaug river would be avoided. The length of highway to be relocated would be considerably less under this plan, but a moderate curve would be introduced into the relocated highway on the easterly approach to the bridge, and the grade of the approach from the west would be 6 degrees instead of 5 1-2 degrees as provided in the highway commissioner's plan. The estimated cost of eliminating the dangerous condition upon this plan was computed by the railroad company at about $157,900. This plan and estimate were criticized in a number of respects by the highway commissioner. The principle criticisms considered by the commission were that the railroad company allowed only a 10 per cent. factor for settlement of borrow fill on the approaches to the bridge, while the state had allowed 15 per cent. a minimum reasonable allowance.

No Provision for Encasing Girders

The company made no provision for encasing the steel girders over the railroad track whereas the highway commissioner made such a provision in his plan, thereby reducing future cost of maintenance. The railroad plan provided for increasing the heights of the existing retaining wall along the Pachaug river by means of a cribbing construction on top of the present wall and that was questionable in the opinion of the highway commissioner if the present wall would bear the increase or surcharge.

The prices for first class concrete were estimated considerably lower by the company than the price used by the highway department. The estimate of property damage in the company's plan was less than reasonable. Another criticism was that the apportionment should be on a percentage basis rather than a flat sum, because of previous experience in elimination of dangerous conditions where the actual cost exceeded considerably the cost estimated by the railroad. The railroad claimed that the greater part of the work called for by the highway commissioner's plan was not properly a part of the elimination of the dangerous condition at the grade crossing, but a part of a general highway improvement on either side. It claimed that the cost of elimination should be based upon the estimated cost of eliminating the dangerous condition upon the railroad company's plan, which was computed at $157,900.

It submitted a traffic count taken during three days of January 1928 from which it appeared that the percentage of highway travel to railroad travel during a 24 hour period each day was about 100 to 1.

The company claimed that an apportionment to it should not exceed $63,000 or about 40 per cent. of the cost of elimination upon the company's plan. The town of Griswold made no specific claim expressing the hope, however, that no apportionment should be made against the town.

Cost of Sidewalks

From the estimate of costs submitted by the highway commissioner it appears that provision for sidewalks on the viaduct on the approaches and on the connecting road and Main street will approximate $13,935, of which the larger part represents the cost of sidewalks upon the viaduct. This case is somewhat like the Reynolds bridge case, where the approved plan involved considerable highway work not directly connected with the grade elimination.

In that case the parties agreed that a fixed amount be assessed against the railroad. Where it is possible to determine the aproximate cost of the "renewal, change or relocation of such crossing, highway, road, tracks, pipes, wires, poles or other fixtures or building or other structure, as may be necessary to eliminate such dangerous conditions" it would seem unwise to adopt percentages on a considerable amount of work not necessarily connected with the elimination. Where a strictly utilitarian plan is considered for apportionment purposes as in this case, an amount approximately one-half the cost of such plan may reasonably represent what the railroad should pay as its portion on the approved plan, taking into consideration all the facts presented.

Apportionment of Cost

The commission has apportioned the cost among the parties as follows: To the town of Griswold $4,000; to the N. Y., N. H. and H. railroad company $87,000; to the state of Connecticut the balance of the total expense of elimination under the approved plan. No time of commencing the work of relocation was given.

STAFFORD SPRINGS BUS LINE HAS NEW OWNER

When the last bus of the Gary Transportation company's line left Springfield for Stafford Springs at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, the Gary Transportation company went out of existence. Some of the lines formerly operated by it were taken over Wednesday by the Connecticut Motor Transportation company, while another line, 16 miles long, from Southbridge to Putnam, will go out of existence altogether at midnight on Aug. 4, it was announced by Henry Hall, manager of the Gary company.

The lines discontinued by the Gary company are from Storrs to Hartford, and from Stafford Springs to Worcester. No provision for a motor line between these points has been made. But the lines formerly operated by the Gary Transportation company from Hartford to Stafford Springs, to Springfield and New London will be continued by the Connecticut Motor Transportation company, which will follow a new schedule, making five trips daily each way between Stafford Springs and Springfield; two trips daily each way between Springfield and New London, and four trips daily each way between Stafford Springs and Hartford.

The New London bus will make connections with the boats leaving New London for Block Island and for Montauk Point. The George J. Gary company, original owner of the Gary line, has taken over the short line between Staffordsville and Stafford Springs.

Seven of the 17 buses formerly operated by the Gary company were purchased by the Connecticut Motor Transportation company, while the other ten were sold to the Colon Bus Line, Inc., and the Newport Street Railways. These ten will be used as extra equipment on the Providence-Newport line and between Worcester and Springfield.

GRAHAM TOPS QUALIFIERS IN PUBLIC LINKS TOURNEY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1 (AP)—Samuel Graham, Pittsburgh police lieutenant, won the qualifying medal today in the national public links golf championship at the Cobbs Creek course with a score of 152 for the 36 holes. Graham's score, made possibly by a 74 in the second round today, one of the two lowest scores made in the medal rounds, topped Frank Brokl, of St. Paul, the leader at the end of the first round by a single stroke.

Graham's good golf was one of the biggest factors in the second consecutive victory of the Pittsburgh team in the Warren G. Harding cup inter-city team play. Pittsburgh is the first team to win this trophy two successive years by scoring 646 with its four man team. Philadelphia finished second in play with a team score of 647 and Cleveland third with 653.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall or Liggett Drug Store.

MAYS-CONNELLY BOUT TONIGHT IS FISTIC FEATURE FOR CONNECTICUT

TONIGHT'S CARD

Main Bout

Bobby Mays vs. Al Conley
Conn. lightweight champion — Formerly of U. S. C. G.

Semi-Final

8 rounds

Irish Tommy Jarrett vs. Frankie Cheslock of New Haven 138 lbs. — U. S. C. G.

6 rounds

Joey Duggan vs. Jimmy Dixon
New London 118 lbs. — Boston

6 rounds

Gene Pecheeni vs. Lou Partone
Norwich 126 lbs. — Worcester

4 rounds

Young McCarthy vs. Phil New
Norwich 124 lbs. — Worcester

The above fistic menu should meet the approval of the most critical fan who will attend the opening of the new arena of the New London Arena A. C. tonight at New London. Little could be desired in the realms of fistiana that is not on the program for this evening there being action written all over the card. The card includes the bantam, feather and lightweight classes which means that the flying entertainment will be snappy from gong to gong.

The Bobby Mays-Al Conley bout tops the program and should be well worth seeing. Those who have not seen Mays box within the past month are due for a real surprise. Bobby is a real fighting lightweight now, packing nasty punches in each glove and throwing them from all angles. Those who knew Mays as a rather awkward defensive fighter will get a thrill to see the champion open a slashing punching attack that should set Conley on his heels inside of six rounds. Of course there is little love lost between Mays and Conley since Mays took the state lightweight title from the ex-coast Guarder and Conley is seeking revenge. Those who have seen Conley know his style which has not changed a bit even though he claims to have been through a strenuous western campaign. He is the same old slugging, boring, head-down fighter of old and a clever fighter can make him look very foolish indeed. However Conley always put up a strenuous fight and his tactics can make a good fighter look mighty poor at times. Such was the case at New Haven some time ago.

Norwich interest of course centers on the two local boys, Geno Pecheeni and Young Tommy McCarthy. Pecheeni takes on a fast boy in Lou Patrone of Worcester, and will have his hands full for six rounds. McCarthy will open the show against Phil New, also of Worcester, another fast youngster. Joey Duggan, well known Woonsocket boy now boxing under Joe Connelly's management, takes on Jimmy Dixon of Boston in another six rounder. Both Duggan and Dixon are two fast and clever glove tossers as local fans can attest.

Frankie Cheslock, pride of the state pier, will meet a fast punching and hard hitter in Irish Tommy Jarrett of New Haven in the eight round semi-final. This bout rivals the main go in interest as Cheslock is a popular sailor who has the backing of the entire Coast Guard service.

The new arena where the bouts are to be held is located on Hamilton street between Howard and Shaw streets and is a wooden bowl-like structure with every one of the 2200 seats a good one. Ernie J. Fakourey, promoter of the show has spared no expense for the comfort of his patrons. He has reserved a block of seats for the Norwich delegation which is expected to turn out in large numbers.

Mr. Fakourey will be host to the sports writers of the state at a dinner at Wardells at Ocean beach this evening before the bouts. The first bout of the evening is scheduled for 8:15 o'clock.

STRIBLING CLAIMS TITLE VACATED BY TUNNEY

MACON, Ga., Aug. 1—(AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling, Macon boxer, today laid claim to the world's heavyweight boxing title which has been relinquished by Gene Tunney.

The announcement was made by Stribling's father, who is his son's manager. "Pa" Stribling said the claim was based on Stribling's defeat of Johnny Risko some time ago and on two defeats he had administered to Jene Cook, Australian heavyweight champion who twice beat Tom Heeney.

Young Stribling once was matched to meet Tunney in Miami, Fla., but the fight was abandoned when financial arrangements failed.

Young Stribling now is in New York.

Riley Wins Title

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., Aug. 1—(AP)—E. G. B. Riley of Fox Hills defeated "Smoky Joe" Wood of Port Jervis 1 up in the finals of the invitation golf tournament at Wolf Hollow today.

Riley, who has been playing golf for many years, laid a stymie on the home hole to win. Wood led 2 up at the turn and was out in 41 to Riley's 44. Riley won the first three holes after the turn.

WHITE SOX TAKE BOTH GAMES WITH RED SOX

CHICAGO, Aug. 1—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox stretched their winning streak to five games, when they won both games of today's doubleheader from the Boston Red Sox. The first 4 to 2 and the nightcap 7 to 3.

Young Ed Walsh went the route for the White Sox in the second affair, beating the Red Sox for the second time this season. He was hit hard but four double plays pulled him out of several holes.

"Red" Faber was master of the situation in the opener and held Carrigan's team helpless in the pinches. In both games the Boston lineup was shaken up but with no better results.

DUGAS' DOUBLE WINS FOR TAFTVILLE IN LAST FRAME

After tying the score at 4 to 4 in the fifth inning doubles by Walt Dabrowski and Lefty Dugas with one out gave the Taftville A. A. a 5 to 4 victory over the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The Y. M. C. A. played exceptionally fast ball in back of Couture who was a trifle wild at times, passing seven men. The game from the spectator's standpoint was one of the best of the twilight season and fans are anxious for a return of the Y'ers. Rabbitt Gauthier who pitched for Taftville allowed but four hits while the Y hurler was nicked for five. Taftville made six errors in back of Gauthier but none was very costly. The score:

INSILCOS PUT CITIZENS IN CELLAR

The Insilcos continued their upward climb in the Industrial league by registering over the Polish Citizens club Wednesday night at the Academy campus, 5 to 1. A four run rally in the fifth inning placed the game safely in the Sittermen's hands after the Polish club had taken the lead with their run in the first part of the third and been matched in this in the last of the fourth.

Leo Jarvis pitched steady ball for the Insilcos, allowing but six hits while fanning seven. Only in the third when Arico opened with a single and came around on Stanley's double was Jarvis in any danger.

However, with Jack Marks leading the attack the scrappy Insilcos outfit hopped on Stanley for a run on Hal Cummings, single, an infield error and Marks' one-baser in the fourth and to win in the next frame on singles by Jerry Lamphere, Jarvis, Cummings and Marks, coupled with two errors and a couple of infield outs for the quartet of tallies.

Hal Cummings, playing center field and Harold Lamphere, in left for the Insilcos, furnished the fielding features with neat running catches.

Tonight's Game

One of the feature games of the year is about to be served up tonight in the Industrial league when the Richmond Radiators, now with two full games as a lead in the race, tackle the up-and-coming second-place United States Finishers. The Bleachery of late has been playing great ball and tonight can be depended upon to put a stiff battle before surrending.

Lefty Dugas and Lloyd Jarvis loom as the opposing hurlers and they should provide quite a duel, being as they are the leading pitchers of the league. Both will have their strongest lineups behind them. The Bleachery is recognized as the hardest hitting club in the circuit and should give Jarvis many anxious moments. A victory for the Ironmen will just about establish them as pennant winners for the second straight year but should the Bleachery come home ahead then the race will be tighter than ever before. This is only the first of the three games in which these teams will clash, two previous games having come to naught when one was postponed and the other went to a tie score.

The game will start at 6:30 o'clock.

YANKEES SLAUGHTER BROWNS; BABE RUTH GETS HOMER

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 1—(AP)—The Yankees matched strides with the Athletics by defeating the Browns, 12 to 1, in the first game of the series here today as the Mackmen won their opener in Cleveland, 6 to 4. The champions thus maintained their lead of five and one half games.

Young Henry Johnson scored a great personal triumph by setting down the Browns with seven scattered hits while getting almost that many himself—five in five times at bat. Such a feat by a picture is almost unprecedented and includes almost as many drives as some hurlers get in a season.

Babe Ruth started the scoring with his forty second home run in the first inning. Alvin Crowder was pitching and no one was on base. The Babe also got a single, Bob Meusel cut in with his ninth home run, scoring two mates ahead of him in the sixth.

Ruth's drive placed him twenty-three games, twenty-seven days and eight home runs ahead of his 1927 record.

ATHLETICS HOLD PLACE BY BEATING INDIANS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 1—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics kept hot on the trail of the pace-making Yankees today downing Cleveland six to four for their ninth consecutive victory.

The Mackmen got all their runs in the second inning when they drove Willis Hudlin fro mthe box with a volley of six hits, three of them extra bases. Howard Ehmke allowed the tribesmen one run in the second but held them in check until the seventh when the Indian chased him with a three run attack.

WILLIAMS PROVES HE IS SPRINT CHAMPION OF THE WORLD TODAY

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Amsterdam, Aug. 1—(AP)—Percy Williams, 19-year old Canadian schoolboy, who was taken along just to keep peace in the Dominion athletic family, now is sprint champion of the world.

Flashing the same speed, stamina and spectacular sort of finish that gave him the 100 meter victory two days ago, the youth from Vancouver staged a whirlwind spurt on a rain-soaked track to win the 200 meters from the best America, England and Germany could produce.

Williams came from behind in a closely bunched field to beat Walter Rangely of Great Britain by a yard with Jackson Scholz, 1924 champion, and Helmut Koernig, German favorite, declared tied for third by the judge.

Williams, through his sensational sweep, registered the first Olympic sprint double since the American, Ralph Craig, turned the trick in 1912, and dealt another stunning blow to Uncle Sam's track men who were shut out in the dashes for the first time in 20 years of Olympic competition.

To make the Americans' rout on the Olympic oval worse, S. J. Atkinson, rangy South African, emerged from the pack in a spectacular 110 meter hurdle final to beat the American trio of Stephen Anderson, John Collier and Leighton Dye and equal the world's record of 14 4-5 seconds. Atkinson beat Anderson by inches in a dazzling finish after Collier, leading at the eighth hurdle, faltered together with G. C. Weightman-Smith, another South African who had beaten the world's record yesterday, only to finish fifth today.

On a rainy day which also saw Lloyd Hahn pass completely and dismally from the Olympic picture in the first 1500 meter trial, it took a series of brilliant performances by America can stalwarts in the field to lift a portion of the gloom now shrouding the Yankee camp. Bud Houser, Los Angeles, and Sabin Carr, the young man from Yale and Dubuque, did it.

In two Olympic record breaking performances, Houser repeated his 1924 discuss throwing triumphf with two other Americans, Jim Corson and John Anderson, placing third and fifth while Carr topped the pole vaulting field in which the Yankees took four of the first five places.

The pole vault was almost exclusively an American affair as had been expected. Carr with 4.20 meters or 13 feet 9 1-16 inches, and William Droegemueller with 4.10 meters or 13.5 7-16 inches, battled it out for first place in a great duel. Charley McGinnis captured a jump-off of a triple tie for third place, thereby sending the stars and stripes up three Olympic poles and giving the Yankee contingent its biggest thrill thus far. Lee Barnes, off form, not only lost the title won in 1924 but also lost the jump-off for fourth place with Victor Packard, a Canadian who has been attending the University of Pittsburgh.

Houser demonstrated himself a marvelous competitor for he came back to win with a record throw of 47.32 meters or 155 feet 2 101-128 inches after nearly being eliminated in the trials. The Californian qualified in his third trial throw after fouling once and missing his second toss. He then put on pressure to beat the Finn Al Kivi and the American Corson, both of whom also bettered Houser's former Olympic record.

These additional two triumphs, giving the United States five of the six field events thus far contrasted with a succession of Yankee setbacks on the track. They started with the elimination of Charley Paddock and Henry Cumming in the 200 meter semi-finals, each finishing fourth, and continued with the elimination of three 1500 meter runners and two steeplechasers.

Ray Conger, Slim Iowan, alone among the Americans, survived the 1500 meter trials and did it impressively by winning the toughest heat in which two favorites, Edvin Wide of Sweden and Dr. Otto Peltzer of Germany were eliminated. Conger exhibited his famous finishing kick to win after facing apparent defeat.

Nick Carter, Pacific coast boy, barely missed qualifying in his 1500 meter heat but Hahn and the southerner, Sid Robinson, both quit in the stretch when too far back to have a chance of finishing first or second.

Thus vanished the last hopes of Hahn, the famous Nebraskan whose United States performances raised the hope that he would win at least one Olympic crowd and possibly two.

Four Finns, led by Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola, were dominant in the steeplechase in which Melvin Dalton and W. O. Spencer survive. Nurmi had a close call from serious injury when he tripped over the barrier to the first water jump and fell with a tremendous splash. Extricated with the help of the Frenchman Duquesne, the Flying Finn proved his durability as well as speed by soon taking the lead and finishing first with Duquesne at his heels and Spencer third.

The women's events were confined to the 800 meter trials in which the feminine world record was twice beaten and one American, Florence MacDonald of Boston, qualified for the final. The holder of the record, Frau L. Radke of Germany, won her heat but saw two others, Fraulein Dollinge of Germany and Jean Thompson of Canada, beat her record. Their times were 2 minutes 22 3-5 seconds and 2:23 1-5 respectively, breaking the women's world record of 2:23 4-5 which Frau Radke set last year.

VELVETMEN TO PLAY SOCONY TEAM SUNDAY

For the week-end attraction the Velvetmen will stack up against the fast Socony nine of New London. This will be their second encounter and as usually when oil meets velvet will be another smooth contest. In their first appearance these two clubs battled to a 2 and 2 score, rain halting the game in the seventeenth inning. The Socony team has the honor of being one of the only clubs so far this season to give the Velvetmen real tough opposition and will come here on Sunday with a strengthened lineup. For this encounter the Velvetmen will have a few new faces in their lineup both infield and outfield. Fisher who held the Oilcans to five bingles in their first tilt will be assigned to mound duty. Both complete lineups will appear in Saturday's papers.

AMERICANS HOLD COMMANDING LEAD IN THE OLYMPICS

AMSTERDAM, August 1. —(AP)—Despite the worst showing that it has made on the track so far in any Olympiad, the United States virtually clinched the team championship today by adding 52 1-2 points and pushing the total for the 12 men's events to 123 1-2.

This trebles the nearest rival, Britain, which has a total of 35, all scored on the track. Percy Williams, collecting 20 points alone, has put Canada into third place with 28. Others are Finland, 23, Germany, 22 1-2, Sweden, 21, South Africa, 14, Ireland, 10, France and Haiti, 5 each, Italy, 4, Phillippines and Norway, 3 each, Japan, 2, and Holland, 1.

ROTARY-DUWELL GAME STARTS 2ND ROUND TONIGHT

With the second half of the Junior Twilight league schedule to open tonight with the Rotary-Duwell game at the Duwell field, the first squabble of the current season looms up with the protest of the recent Jewett City Legion-Rotary contest, won by the latter. According to a letter written and published in yesterday's issue of The Bulletin, the management of the team from the village claims that he filed official notice of the protest with the proper authorities immediately after the Rotary club had committed what is alleged to be an infraction of the baseball rules. While nothing definite has been forthcoming from the officials of the loop in regards to the Jewett City protest, it is known that within the near future a special meeting of the league directors will be called for the purpose of airing the matter in proper form.

The protest of the Jewett City club goes to prove that the members of the different clubs are in the fighting every moment for what they believe belongs to them. Although the Taftville Legion holds a two-game margin over their closest rivals in the league standing it is almost a safe bet that there will be some pretty interesting scraps for that trip to New York before the season is over.

While the Duwell club, one of the two teams scheduled to open tonight, is not as well along in the standing as the Rotary, the club it is slated to meet is, the possibility of an upset always looms up. It will be remembered that in the very first game of the season the Duwells gave the Rotary one of its bitterest struggles, losing out by a 3 to 1 score only after one of the most exciting tilts of the season.

The batteries for tonight's game will be: Jenks and Monty for the Duwells and Weisgrabber and Drew for the Rotary.

WEST SIDE TO CLASH WITH GREENEVILLE SUNDAY

Everything is in readiness for the game on Hollyhock Island recreation field Sunday afternoon, Aug. 5, between the Thames A. C., under the management of Joseph King, and the All-Greeneville team, under management of Ed. Reardon. The fans can be assured of a good game as both of these teams are out to make a name for themselves. Greeneville and the West Side team have always been noted for their rivalry and it will certainly be a treat to the baseball public to have these two teams come together once more. So far, there is no definite battery picked for either team, but at a later date these will be announced in one of the local papers.

The recreation commission has done its best to put the ground

TONIGHT'S CARD

Irish Tommy Jarrett vs. Frankie Cheslock
of New Haven 138 lbs. U. S. C. G.

Joey Duggan vs. Jimmy Dixon
New London 118 lbs. Boston

6 rounds

Gene Pecheeni vs. Lou Partone
Norwich 126 lbs. Worcester

4 rounds

Young McCarthy vs. Phil New
Norwich 124 lbs. Worcester

The above fistic menu should meet the approval of the most critical fan who will attend the opening of the new arena of the New London Arena A. C. tonight at New London. Little could be desired in the realms of fistiana that is not on the program for this evening there being action written all over the card. The card includes the bantam, feather and lightweight classes which means that the opening's entertainment will be snappy from gong to gong.

The Bobby Mays-Al Conley bout tops the program and should be well worth seeing. Those who have not seen Mays box within the past month are due for a real surprise. Bobby is a real fighting lightweight now, packing nasty punches in each glove and throwing them from all angles. Those who knew Mays as a rather awkward defensive fighter will get a thrill to see the champion open a slashing punching attack that should set Conley on his heels inside of six rounds. Of course there is little love lost between Mays and Conley since Mays took the state lightweight title from the ex-coast Guardsman and Conley is seeking revenge. Those who have seen Conley know his style which has not changed a bit even though he claims to have been through a strenuous western campaign. He is the same old slugging, boring, head-down fighter of old and a clever fighter can make him look very foolish indeed. However Conley always put up a strenuous fight and his tactics can make a good fighter look mighty poor at times. Such was the case at New Haven some time ago.

Norwich interest of course centers on the two local boys, Geno Pecheeni and Young Tommy McCarthy. Pecheeni takes on a fast boy in Lou Patrone of Worcester, and will have his hands full for six rounds. McCarthy will open the show against Phil New, also of Worcester, another fast youngster. Joey Duggan, well known Woonsocket boy now boxing under Joe Connelly's management, takes on Jimmy Dixon of Boston in another six rounder. Both Duggan and Dixon are two fast and clever glove tossers as local fans can attest.

Frankie Cheslock, pride of the state pier, will meet a fast punching and hard hitter in Irish Tommy Jarrett of New Haven in the eight round semi-final. This bout rivals the main go in interest as Cheslock is a popular sailor who has the backing of the entire Coast Guard service.

The new arena where the bouts are to be held is located on Hamilton street between Howard and Shaw streets and is a wooden bowl-like structure with every one of the 2200 seats a good one. Ernie J. Fakourey, promoter of the show has spared no expense for the comfort of his patrons. He has reserved a block of seats for the Norwich delegation which is expected to turn out in large numbers.

Mr. Fakourey will be host to the sports writers of the state at a dinner at Wardells at Ocean beach this evening before the bouts. The first bout of the evening is scheduled for 8:15 o'clock.

STRIBLING CLAIMS TITLE VACATED BY TUNNEY

MACON, Ga., Aug. 1—(AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling, Macon boxer, today laid claim to the world's heavyweight boxing title which has been relinquished by Gene Tunney.

The announcement was made by Stribling's father, who is his son's manager. "Pa" Stribling said the claim was based on Stribling's defeat of Johnny Risko some time ago and on two defeats he had administered to Gene Cook, Australian heavyweight champion who twice beat Tom Heeney.

Young Stribling once was matched to meet Tunney in Miami, Fla., but the fight was abandoned when financial arrangements failed.

Young Stribling now is in New York.

Riley Wins Title

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., Aug. 1—(AP)—E. G. B. Riley of Fox Hills defeated "Smoky Joe" Wood of Port Jervis 1 up in the finals of the invitation golf tournament at Wolf Hollow today.

Riley, who has been playing golf for many years, laid a stymie on the home hole to win. Wood led 2 up at the turn and was out in 41 to Riley's 44. Riley won the first three holes after the turn.

WHITE SOX TAKE BOTH GAMES WITH RED SOX

CHICAGO, Aug. 1—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox stretched their winning streak to five games, when they won both games of today's doubleheader from the Boston Red Sox. The first 4 to 2 and the nightcap 7 to 3.

Young Ed Walsh went the route for the White Sox in the second affair, beating the Red Sox for the second time this season. He was hit hard but four double plays pulled him out of several holes.

"Red" Faber was master of the situation in the opener and held Carrigan's team helpless in the pinches. In both games the Boston lineup was shaken up but with no better results.

TIGERS GET EARLY START TO BEAT SENATORS EASILY

DETROIT, Aug. 1—(AP)—A first inning batting rally that netted seven runs off Tom Zachary and Marberry, gave Detroit a 10 to 5 victory over the Washington Senators in the opening game of the series here today. Four Washington pitchers were sent to the mound during the game. Hargrave, Detroit catcher, hit a home run in the seventh with two on. Score:

DUGAS' DOUBLE WINS FOR TAFTVILLE IN LAST FRAME

After tying the score at 4 to 4 in the fifth inning doubles by Walt Dabrowski and Lefty Dugas with one out gave the Taftville A. A. a 5 to 4 victory over the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The Y. M. C. A. played exceptionally fast ball in back of Couture who was a trifle wild at times, passing seven men. The game from the spectator's standpoint was one of the best of the twilight season and fans are anxious for a return of the Y'ers. Rabbitt Gauthier who pitched for Taftville allowed but four hits while the Y hurler was nicked for five. Taftville made six errors in back of Gauthier but none was very costly. The score:

INSILCOS PUT CITIZENS IN CELLAR

The Insilcos continued their upward climb in the Industrial league by registering over the Polish Citizens club Wednesday night at the Academy campus, 5 to 1. A four run rally in the fifth inning placed the game safely in the Silvermen's hands after the Polish club had taken the lead with their run in the first part of the third and been matched in this in the last of the fourth.

Leo Jarvis pitched steady ball for the Insilcos, allowing but six hits while fanning seven. Only in the third when Arico opened with a single and came around on Stanley's double was Jarvis in any danger.

However, with Jack Marks leading the attack the scrappy Insilcos outfit hopped on Stanley for a run on Hal Cummings, single, an infield error and Marks' one-baser in the fourth and to win in the next frame on singles by Terry Lamphere, Jarvis, Cummings and Marks, coupled with two errors and a couple of infield outs for the quartet of tallies.

Tonight's Game

One of the feature games of the year is about to be served up tonight in the Industrial league when the Richmond Radiators, now with two full games as a lead in the race, tackle the up-and-coming second-place United States Finishers. The Bleachery of late has been playing great ball and tonight can be depended upon to put a stiff battle before surrending.

Lefty Dugas and Lloyd Jarvis loom as the opposing hurlers and they should provide quite a duel, being as they are the leading pitchers of the league. Both will have their strongest lineups behind them. The Bleachery is recognized as the hardest hitting club in the circuit and should give Jarvis many anxious moments. A victory for the Ironmen will just about establish them as pennant winners for the second straight year but should the Bleachery come home ahead then the race will be tighter than ever before. This is only the first of the three games in which these teams will clash, two previous games having come to naught when one was postponed and the other went to a tie score.

The game will start at 6:30 o'clock.

YANKEES SLAUGHTER BROWNS; BABE RUTH GETS HOMER

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 1—(AP)—The Yankees matched strides with the Athletics by defeating the Browns, 12 to 1, in the first game of the series here today as the Mackmen won their opener in Cleveland, 6 to 4. The champions thus maintained their lead of five and one half games.

Young Henry Johnson scored a great personal triumph by setting down the Browns with seven scattered hits while getting almost that many himself—five in five times at bat. Such a feat by a picture is almost unprecedented and includes almost as many drives as some hurlers get in a season.

Babe Ruth started the scoring with his forty second home run in the first inning. Alvin Crowder was pitching and no one was on base. The Babe also got a single, Bob Meusel cut in with his ninth home run, scoring two mates ahead of him in the sixth.

Ruth's drive placed him twenty-three games, twenty-seven days and eight home runs ahead of his 1927 record.

WILLIAMS PROVES HE IS SPRINT CHAMPION OF THE WORLD TODAY

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Amsterdam, Aug. 1—(AP)—Percy Williams, 19-year old Canadian schoolboy, who was taken along just to keep peace in the Dominion athletic family, now is sprint champion of the world.

Flashing the same speed, stamina and spectacular sort of finish that gave him the 100 meter victory two days ago, the youth from Vancouver staged a whirlwind spurt on a rain-soaked track to win the 200 meters from the best America, England and Germany could produce.

Williams came from behind in a closely bunched field to beat Walter Rangely of Great Britain by a yard with Jackson Scholz, 1924 champion, and Helmut Koernig, German favorite, declared tied for third by the judge.

Williams, through his sensational sweep, registered the first Olympic sprint double since the American, Ralph Craig, turned the trick in 1912, and dealt another stunning blow to Uncle Sam's track men who were shut out in the dashes for the first time in 20 years of Olympic competition.

To make the Americans' rout on the Olympic oval worse, S. J. Atkinson, rangy South African, emerged from the pack in a spectacular 110 meter hurdle final to beat the American trio of Stephen Anderson, John Collier and Leighton Dye and equal the world's record of 14 4-5 seconds. Atkinson beat Anderson by inches in a dazzling finish after Collier, leading at the eighth hurdle, faltered together with G. C. Weightman-Smith, another South African who had beaten the world's record yesterday, only to finish fifth today.

On a rainy day which also saw Lloyd Hahn pass completely and dismally from the Olympic picture in the first 1500 meter trial, it took a series of brilliant performances by American stalwarts in the field to lift a portion of the gloom now shrouding the Yankee camp. Bud Houser, Los Angeles, and Sabin Carr, the young man from Yale and Dubuque, did it.

In two Olympic record breaking performances, Houser repeated his 1924 discuss throwing triumph with two other Americans, Jim Corson and John Anderson, placing third and fifth while Carr topped the pole vaulting field in which the Yankees took four of the first five places.

The pole vault was almost exclusively an American affair as hed been expected. Carr with 4.20 meters or 13 feet 9 1-16 inches, and William Droegemueller with 4.10 meters or 13.5 7-16 inches, battled it out for first place in a great duel. Charley McGinnis captured a jump-off of a triple tie for third place, thereby sending the stars and stripes up three Olympic poles and giving the Yankee contingent its biggest thrill thus far. Lee Barnes, off form, not only lost the title won in 1924 but also lost the jump-off for fourth place with Victor Packard, a Canadian who has been attending the University of Pittsburgh.

Houser demonstrated himself a marvelous competitor for he came back to win with a record throw of 47.32 meters or 155 feet 2 101-128 inches after nearly being eliminated in the trials. The Californian qualified in his third trial throw after fouling once and missing his second toss. He then put on pressure to beat the Finn Al Kivi and the American Corson, both of whom also bettered Houser's former Olympic record.

These additional two triumphs, giving the United States five of the six field events thus far contrasted with a succession of Yankee setbacks on the track. They started with the elimination of Charley Paddock and Henry Cumming in the 200 meter semi-finals, each finishing fourth, and continued with the elimination of three 1500 meter runners and two steeplechasers.

Ray Conger, Slim Iowan, alone among the Americans, survived the 1500 meter trials and did it impressively by winning the toughest heat in which two favorites, Edvin Wide of Sweden and Dr. Otto Peltzer of Germany were eliminated. Conger exhibited his famous finishing kick to win after facing apparent defeat.

Nick Carter, Pacific coast boy, barely missed qualifying in his 1500 meter heat but Hahn and the southerner, Sid Robinson, both quit in the stretch when too far back to have a chance of finishing first or second.

Thus vanished the last hopes of Hahn, the famous Nebraskan whose United States performances raised the hope that he would win at least one Olympic crowd and possibly two.

Four Finns, led by Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola, were dominant in the steeplechase in which Melvin Dalton and W. O. Spencer survive. Nurmi had a close call from serious injury when he tripped over the barrier in the first water jump and fell with a tremendous splash. Extricated with the help of the Frenchman Duquesne, the Flying Finn proved his durability as well as speed by soon taking the lead and finishing first with Duquesne at his heels and Spencer third.

The women's events were confined to the 800 meter trials in which the feminine world record was twice beaten and one American, Florence MacDonald of Boston, qualified for the final. The holder of the record, Frau L. Radke of Germany, won her heat but saw two others, Fraulein Dollinge of Germany and Jean Thompson of Canada, beat her record. Their times were 2 minutes 22 3-5 seconds and 2:23 1-5 respectively, breaking the women's world record of 2:23 4-5 which Frau Radke set last year.

VELVETMEN TO PLAY SOCONY TEAM SUNDAY

For the week-end attraction the Velvetmen will stack up against the fast Socony nine of New London. This will be their second encounter and as usually when oil meets velvet will be another smooth contest. In their first appearance these two clubs battled to a 2 and 2 score, rain halting the game in the seventeenth inning. The Socony team has the honor of being one of the only clubs so far this season to give the Velvetmen real tough opposition and will come here on Sunday with a strengthened lineup. For this encounter the Velvetmen will have a few new faces in their lineup both infield and outfield. Fisher who he's the Olleans to five bingles in their first tilt will be assigned to mound duty. AMERICANS HOLD COMMANDING LEAD IN THE OLYMPICS

AMSTERDAM, August 1. —(AP)— Despite the worst showing that it has made on the track so far in any Olympiad, the United States virtually clinched the team championship today by adding 52 1-2 points and pushing the total for the 12 men's events to 123 1-2.

This trebles the nearest rival, Britain, which has a total of 35, all scored on the track. Percy Williams, collecting 20 points alone, has put Canada into third place with 28. Others are Finland, 23, Germany, 22 1-2, Sweden, 21, South Africa, 14, Ireland, 10, France and Haiti, 5 each, Italy, 4, Phillippines and Norway, 3 each, Japan, 2, and Holland, 1.

ROTARY-DUWELL GAME STARTS 2ND ROUND TONIGHT

With the second half of the Junior Twilight league schedule to open tonight with the Rotary-Duwell game at the Duwell field, the first squabble of the current season looms up with the protest of the recent Jewett City Legion-Rotary contest, won by the latter. According to a letter written and published in yesterday's issue of The Bulletin, the management of the team from the village claims that he filed official notice of the protest with the proper authorities immediately after the Rotary club had committed what is alleged to be an infraction of the baseball rules. While nothing definite has been forthcoming from the official of the loop in regards to the Jewett City protest, it is known that within the near future a special meeting of the league directors will be called for the purpose of airing the matter in proper form.

The protest of the Jewett City club goes to prove that the members of the different clubs are in the fighting every moment for what they believe belongs to them. Although the Taftville Legion holds a two-game margin over their closest rivals in the league standing it is almost a safe bet that there will be some pretty interesting scraps for that trip to New York before the season is over.

While the Duwell club, one of the two teams scheduled to open tonight, is not as well along in the standing as the Rotary, the club it is slated to meet is, the possibility of an upset always looms up. It will be remembered that in the very first game of the season the Duwells gave the Rotary one of its bitterest struggles, losing out by a 3 to 1 score only after one of the most exciting tilts of the season.

The batteries for tonight's game will be: Jenks and Monty for the Duwells and Weisgrabber and Drew for the Rotary.

WEST SIDE TO CLASH WITH GREENEVILLE SUNDAY

Everything is in readiness for the game on Hollyhock Island recreation field Sunday afternoon, Aug. 5, between the Thames A. C., under the management of Joseph King, and the All-Greeneville team, under management of Ed. Reardon. The fans can be assured of a good game as both of these teams are out to make a name for themselves. Greeneville and the West Side team have always been noted for their rivalry and it will certainly be a treat to the baseball public to have these two teams come together once more. So far, there is no definite battery picked for either team, but at a later date these will be announced in one of the local papers.

The recreation commission has done its best to put the ground in perfect condition and has just completed the bleachers, which was a great undertaking on their part, due to the odds that were against them.

During their stay they report most courteous and hospitable treatment in the Michigan city with everything possible done for their comfort and convenience and marveled at the splendor and magnificence of the city decorations for the occasion.

Considerable interest has been evidenced in the plat on file in the office of the Westerly town clerk on the High street property formerly in Wilcox park on which the Colonial club house is located and recently purchased by a Worcester syndicate. Especially have the dimensions of the plat been taken by those interested in the erection and occupancy of the new business block to be erected on the site.

It costs very little to recondition a MODEL T FORD

FOR nearly twenty years, the Model T Ford led the motor industry and it still is used by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service today—an indication of their sturdy worth, reliability and economy.

The cost of reconditioning the Model T Ford is small because of the low cost of Ford parts and the established Ford policy of charging all labor at a standard flat rate.

For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. This price includes new bearings, reboring cylinders and any other work necessary. Parts are extra.

Valves can be ground and carbon removed for $3 to $4. The cost of tightening all main bearings is only $6. The labor charge for overhauling the front axle is $4.50 to $5—rear axle assembly, $5.75 to $7.

New universal joint will be installed for a labor charge of $3. Brake shoes relined for $1.50. Rear spring and perches rebushed for $1.75. The cost of overhauling the starting motor is $3. A labor charge of approximately $2.50 covers the overhauling of the generator.

Repainting runs from $10 to $25. Taking dents out of body panels and doors runs from $3 to $16 for labor. A fender can be replaced for a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. The cost of fenders runs from $3.50 to $5.

It will pay you, therefore, to see your Ford dealer and have him put your Model T in good running order. By doing so you will protect and maintain the investment you have in your car and get months and years of pleasant, reliable transportation at a very low cost per mile.

NOANK

The members of the Anki club met at their rooms on Broad street on Tuesday evening and marched to the home of Carl Ashcroft, who is president. He was sitting in the parlor, listening to the radio. The members rushed in and said, "Here we are." He was taken by surprise and wondering what brought them there, until Nell Robertson, treasurer, said, "It is your birthday." Games were played and the West View Diamond orchestra, leader, George White, played for dancing. A prize was given to the one who could tell the best lie. Robert Tooker was first. He told about a sword fish trip to Georges Banks, where the fish were thick enough to walk on. Albany Camnery was the man with the pole and et go the iron that sank into a 500-pound fish and the iron broke off in the fish's back. Then Tooker jumped on the sword fish and was stabbing a knife in his neck and got the fish O. K. It was Stretch Morrison's turn. When I was after codfish down in Florida waters in a small row boat with a pole, I got a bite that I thought was a whale. With two men on the line the fish pulled the boat and us right under water. It was a 120-pound codfish on the hook, with a jaw like a bar of steel." The judges said both lies were a tie and a coin was tossed in the air and Robert Tooker won the race. He received a pair of shoes. A short program was put on. Anki Trio sang several songs, We Are Jolly Good Fellows, with Peter Lyon at the piano. John Bracch, in his bare feet, walked on the swords like a pair of steps. He was called Noank sword walker. A large table was set with a large birthday cake in the center with 22 pretty candles on it.

Prospect Hill chicken was served with the trimmings and cake with coffee. Treasurer Nell Robertson made a speech and said, "In behalf of the members of the Anki club I present you with this small box." and President Ashcroft thanked the club for the fine present. It was a picture of Main street in 1876 with one store on the street and not a house in sight. He received many pretty presents.

INTENTIONAL SECOND EXPOSURE

NOANK

The members of the Anki club met at their rooms on Broad street on Tuesday evening and marched to the home of Carl Ashcroft, who is president. He was sitting in the parlor, listening to the radio. The members rushed in and said, "Here we are." He was taken by surprise and wondering what brought them there, until Neil Robertson, treasurer, said, "It is your birthday." Games were played and the West View Diamond orchestra, leader, George White, played for dancing. A prize was given to the one who could tell the best lie. Robert Tooker was first. He told about a sword fish trip to Georges Banks, where the fish were thick enough to walk on. Albany Campnery was the man with the pole and let go the iron that sank into a 500-pound fish and the iron broke off in the fish's back. Then Tooker jumped on the sword fish and was stabbing a knife in his neck and got the fish O. K. It was Stretch Morrison's turn. When I was after codfish down in Florida waters in a small row boat with a pole, I got a bite that I thought was a whale. With two men on the line the fish pulled the boat and us right under water. It was a 120-pound codfish on the hook, with a jaw like a bar of steel." The judges said both lies were a tie and a coin was tossed in the air and Robert Tooker won the race. He received a pair of shoes. A short program was put on. Anki Trio sang several songs, We Are Jolly Good Fellows, with Peter Lyon at the piano. John Bracci, in his bare feet, walked on the swords like a pair of steps. He was called Noank sword walker. A large table was set with a large birthday cake in the center with 22 pretty candles on it.

Prospect Hill chicken was served with the trimmings and cake with coffee. Treasurer Neil Robertson made a speech and said, "In behalf of the members of the Anki club I present you with this small box," and President Ashcroft thanked the club for the fine present. It was a picture of Main street in 1876 with one store on the street and not a house in sight. He received many pretty presents.

EARLY GAINS IN THE STOCK MARKET WERE CHECKED BY BRISK SELLING

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—A wave of selling, sweeping through the stock market in the last hour of trading checked a brisk upward movement of prices today in which more than a dozen issues mounted to new high levels for the year. Early gains of 2 to 17 points were cut down or wiped out, and several of the recent favorites showed net declines ranging from fractions to 3 points. Trading, which had been extremely dull for the last fortnight, picked up considerably, the day's sales running over 2,300,000 shares.

Call money renewed at 7 1-2 per cent but such a plentiful supply of funds appeared at that figure that the rate was dropped to 7 by early afternoon. The calling of a special meeting of the New York clearing house for Thursday to discuss the brokers' loan situation, predictions of a substantial increase in loans this week and recurrent gossip about a further increase in federal reserve rediscount rates probably influenced the late selling movement.

The New York Federal Reserve bank, in its monthly review of credit conditions, states that "while increases during the course of the month of half of 1 per cent in discount rates of seven of the federal reserve banks have been an influence in the direction of higher rates, firmer money conditions are a logical outcome of the banking situation." "Specifically" it adds, "higher rates have reflected an increasingly vigorous effort by the banks of the country to correct an overloaned position."

Further breaks of $2.50 a bale in cotton prices and about 1 1-2 cents a bushel in wheat futures also had a disturbing effect on speculative sentiment.

Steel shares were sluggish most of the session, probably because Wall Street had expected an even better showing by the United States Steel corporation in the second quarter. Steel common closed 1 3-4 points lower at 140 7-8.

Oils presented several points of strength on buying influenced by the announcement that June was the first month since August, 1926, to show a total draught on oil stocks, by a series of gasoline price increases in the middle west and by the publication of an unusually favorable preliminary earnings report of the Atlantic Refining Co., showing $9.97 a share in the first half of the year.

Rails failed to make any appreciable response to the report of higher car loadings in the week ended July 21.

Montgomery Ward continued its spectacular rain by touching a new high record at 193 7-8 and then slipping back to 188, up 3 1-4 points net. Case Threshing, Johns Manville, National Tea, Indian Refining preferred, Corn Products, Motor Products corporation, Woolworth and Worthington Pump also were in brisk demand.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Coffee and sugar quotations were slightly easier.

Except for a break of 15 points in Japanese yen to a new low for the year at 45.15 cents and a further decline in Dutch guilders, there was little interest in the foreign exchange market. Sterling cables were unchanged at $4.85 5-8.

NORWICH TOWN

FIRST CHURCH SCHOOL PICNIC ON AUGUST 16TH

When the Sunday school of the First Congregational church holds its annual picnic at Ocean Beach Thursday, Aug. 16, Clyde M. Beebe is to be chairman of the committee of arrangements. The trip will be made by trolley.

At the Sunday morning worship at the Congregational church, the pastor, Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey, preached from I Samuel, 18:9—And Saul eyed David from that day forward. The theme was "A King Should Be Kingly."

Miss K. Holms has returned to the Hyde home, following a month's stay at Block Island.

For a stretch of about one-half mile, four young men from the state highway department were measuring and making a general survey of that part of the state road running through Washington and Town streets on Wednesday, also getting a line on some of the property lines, in making a map for the new state road to be constructed at some future time.

A former Norwich Town young man, Julian Rangus, has returned to Valparaiso, Ind., where he is engaged as a civil engineer, following a visit of ten days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rangus, of Tanner avenue, Norwich Town.

George F. Hyde and sister, Miss Jessie E. Hyde, of Washington street, are passing two weeks' vacation period at Niantic.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith and daughter, Miss Eleanor Smith, also their son, Master Campbell Smith, of Upper Washington street, are occupying a bungalow at Gardner Lake for several weeks.

William Burdick, who recently returned to his home on Huntington Green, from a stay of several days at Quonochontaug Beach, R. I., is passing a week at the home of his brother, Ed. Burdick, at North Stonington.

Having graduated from the Connecticut Agricultural college at Storrs, also completing a six months' dietetic course at Hartford hospital, Miss Florence A. Sterry returned Tuesday evening to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Sterry, of Lee avenue to pass a few weeks' vacation.

Mrs. William Weaver of Huntington avenue was an automobile guest Tuesday of Mrs. Belle H. J. Robynson of Gales Ferry and her daughter, Miss Frances Robynson, when a trip was made to Connecticut Agricultural college at Storrs, to attend the lecture in observance of annual Farmers' week. Following the afternoon session, the party motored out to Mansfield Center, where they were supper guests of Mrs. Weaver's sister and niece, Mrs. Henry Nye and her daughter, Mrs. Francis Perkins, former Willimantic residents.

Patronize These Well Known Concerns

St. Teresa's Hospital Has Fine Reputation

There are times in the life of women when expert hospital attention is desired. Norwich possesses just this type of a hospital in St. Teresa's Private Maternity hospital at No. 15 Boswell avenue. Conducted for a number of years past by Victoria LeBlanc, this hospital has made a name for itself that has reached far beyond the borders of Norwich.

Hundreds of happy mothers would be only too glad to tell you of the pleasant time they spent there and of how kind and courteous was their treatment. Although St. Teresa's hospital is a private institution the management allows expectant mothers the privilege of securing their own physician. This, coupled with the fact that experienced nursing is given, insures a mother and her child against harm.

In these warm months, when many houses are unfit for the trials of motherhood, St. Teresa's hospital stands as a haven of refuge. Proper ventilation, good food, expert medical attention day and night, and a homelike atmosphere, insures every patient a happy stay there.

Rooms are private and this again insures every patient that homelike atmosphere and a place where loved ones can gather unseen by those without.

All these things have made St. Teresa's private hospital a popular institution with the mothers of Norwich and vicinity and you too will find it so. Let us talk over your problems with you and thus make your task the lighter and more pleasant.

P. F. Sabourin Known For His Workmanship

Now that summer is in our midst—and there is no doubt but that it is—why not consider having your home painted or decorated. P. F. Sabourin of No. 206 Broad street, Norwich, Telephone 552, is engaged in this business and has established a name for his efficiency.

In the summer things look at their best and while windows can be left open, inside painting and decorating is not such a trying thing after all. A call to Mr. Sabourin and you can forget your troubles. He will see to it that everything you ask for is accomplished, and in a manner most pleasing to you and causing you the least of convenience.

Perhaps you do not care to have the work done at once. In that case why not call Mr. Sabourin and talk the matter over. With his experience in the painting and decorating line he will be able to offer suggestions about your problem, give a hint here and there which will perhaps meet your approval and come more nearly making your changes just what you pictured they would be like.

It costs you nothing to secure this expert advice on work to be done about your house and Mr. Sabourin will be only too glad to go over the matter with you, explain what should be done and quote you prices on the work.

In decorating a home people seek to do it in the least expensive way and in the end have work that will require little change in the coming years. This is the kind of work Mr. Sabourin takes pride in doing. Your patronage is solicited.

Why Not Have Houghton Photograph Your Child

There is no time like the present to secure a picture of your children. Every year they grow and change in appearance and unless you have a permanent record of them only your memory will remain in later years to "picture" them as they were in their childhood days.

In Don Houghton, photographic specialists, Norwich has a man who can secure these permanent pictures of your children, catch them in characteristic poses and thus preserve forever the exact appearance of the child at every age. These photographs arranged in order of age would make up an interesting picture history of the growth of the children from a baby to manhood or womanhood.

Many people are now making a practice of catching their children in pleasing little poses, so natural to them, and thus bringing into their possession a permanent record of the child. Small photos are of course very nice to possess but studio pictures or pictures taken by a larger camera tell the story far better than the smaller camera.

Houghton's Studio is located in the Shannon building on Main street, Norwich, and Mr. Houghton will be only too pleased to make an appointment for you at any time.

See The New Buicks at The Jewett City Garage

Buick cars are known the world over for their lasting qualities and the Jewett City Garage takes pride in having the agency for their sale in Jewett City. Perhaps there are some people still seeking the "perfect car." If you are one of these people why not call the Jewett City Garage and asked for a demonstration of the Buick.

In addition to selling one of the best cars that money can buy the Jewett City Garage carries the well known Westinghouse batteries and Fisk and Michelin tires.

Of course it is realized that salesmanship is not everything in the world today. A good salesman can sell an article and that disposes of his end of the transaction. The purchaser, however, is interested further. He wants to know what service goes with his purchase, who stands back of the guarantees and what kind of firm he is to do his future business with. The Jewett City Garage backs every sale with real honest service. Our business is not just salesmanship, it is that every day salesmanship of service that we have to offer out patrons.

Come in and see us some day soon and let us talk over the Buick automobile. Westinghouse batteries and Fisk and Michelin tires. It may lead to a friendship that will prove valuable to both of us and work to our mutual benefit.

In Memoriam

WILLIAM T. BROWNE

Whereas Almighty God in His infinite wisdom has called out of this life His devoted servant, William T. Browne; and

Whereas by his death his family has lost a loyal husband, the community a model citizen and the postal service a faithful agent; and

Whereas we, in particular, his coworker in the government service covering a period of thirty-one years of fraternal association, having enjoyed his confidence and counsel and been under his influence keenly realize our own personal loss; therefore be it

Resolved, By the officers and members of Branch 26, National Association of Letter Carriers, in meeting assembled, that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his family in their hour of trial, counseling them to reconcile themselves to the will of a Merciful Redeemer; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family; a copy spread upon the minutes of this meeting; a copy to the local press and a copy mailed to the Postal Record for publication.

CITY MANAGER HOLT ABSOLVES NEW LONDON POLICE FROM BLAME

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, Aug. 1—City Manager William A. Holt today rendered his finding in the case of Harold Duggan, who made complaint to that official three weeks ago that he had been abused by police officers in being beaten without cause, prior to his arrest. In his finding to Captain Charles A. Pinney, City Manager Holt absolves all of the officers connected with Duggan's arrest from abuse or misconduct, he having arrived at his finding after interviewing witnesses and obtaining the signed statements of the officers relating their version of the incidents that brought about Duggan's arrest.

Duggan, who is a yard brakeman in the employ of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, went to police headquarters after the automobile in which he was riding and which was driven by Howard Chapman had collided with a car driven by Francis Patterson, 76 State street, on Main street. Chapman had been arrested by Patrolman Patrick Sheehan, charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and Duggan desired to relate the circumstances of the accident. While in the hallway leading to the squad room, Duggan engaged in an altercation with Patrolman Sheehan and alleged that Sheehan struck him a blow. He reprimanded the officer for the latter's act and it was then that one of several other officers at police headquarters suggested Duggan's arrest.

Realizing this possibility Duggan ran from police headquarters and down North Bank street. Patrolman Henry Sylvia and John Sullivan put chase and Duggan fled to Atlantic street and to Water street, where he climbed between two freight cars. Patrolman Edward Skoczylas, on duty at State and Bank streets, observed the officers chasing Duggan and he ran to Water street where he found Duggan and arrested him. Duggan claimed that after his arrest he was further beaten. Duggan had been locked up but a short time when he was released after having apologized to Patrolman Sheehan.

Patients dismissed recently at Home Memorial hospital, including today, were Mrs. Roland Hill, 235 Ledyard street; Mrs. Daniel Spellman and infant daughter, 140 Crystal avenue; Mrs. George Gay, 13 Evergreen avenue; Mrs Edward Carkin and infant daughter, 32 Walden avenue; Mrs. Lloyd Potter and infant son, 12 Methodist street; Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, 205 Main st; Joseph Melville, 158 State street; Carl Morgan and infant daughter Mystic; Mrs. Leon Kaplan and infant son of 56 Prest street; Peter Santiejohn, Uncasville; Miss Mae Sadler, 6 Belden court.

Leaving for West

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Troland of 157 Lincoln avenue are leaving tomorrow for an extended tour of the west which will take them through Yellowstone park and other points of interest. At Milwaukee the Trolands will stop off to attend a convention of the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias.

A delightful shower was given Miss Elizabeth Marshall, daughter of President and Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall of Connecticut college, yesterday afternoon, in honor of her approaching marriage to Edward S. Marshall, treasurer of the Winthrop Trust company. The affair was held at the home of Miss Virginia Eggleston of Vauxhall street. Twenty one persons were present and bridge formed a portion of the afternoon's entertainment.

The ladies auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen will hold an out of door picnic tomorrow at Riverside park. Members of the lodge are to meet at 11.30 o'clock in the morning and all will carry basket luncheons.

Mrs. Frederick W. Minson, Jr., of Oswegatchie entertained twenty members and guests of circle No. 3 of the First Baptist church Monday. The day was spent in the enjoyment of lawn and water sports. Dinner was served in the middle of the afternoon.

On Monday evening members of Circle No. 10 of the First Baptist church were entertained at the summer home of Mrs Strong Gardner of New Rochelle, N. Y. About 16 members were present, and during a business meeting it was voted to hold a picnic on August 9 at East Beach, R. I. After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Gardner and a committee.

Mrs. Mary Denehee, Garfield avenue; Mrs. Samuel Pond, 49 Cutler street; Miss Josephine Bradbury, Lyme; Mrs. Frederick Benvenuti and infant daughter, 11 Brainard street; Mrs. Melvin Webb, Thames View, Waterford; Jessie Wilson, 244 Colman street; Mrs. Barrey Zaslow, 27 West Colt street and Mrs. Eugene St. Hilaire, Willimantic, patients at Lawrence-Memorial hospital were discharged today.

Miss Tedissa Jenkins, employed as clerk in the office of Assessor Frederick Burrows, returned to her duties today after having recovered from a recent operation.

A special meeting of the voters of the town of Groton, was held last night at the town hall, Poquonoc and was attended by a large gathering of citizens. The meeting was called for the purpose of acting on an appropriation of $25,000 to be expended in part payment for the construction of a new high school. The meeting voted to make the appropriation, but not without opposition for there were several citizens who did not consider it wise and necessary to make the added appropriation.

The committee in charge of the new school house explained that the additional appropriation was made necessary because of the fact that some of the securities of the estate of Robert L. Fitch, who by his will, provided for the school, not being convertible into cash at the present time. Were it possible to negotiate the securities it would not be necessary to ask for the added $25,000. The citizens several weeks ago voted to accept the gift of Mr. Fitch, but at that time, it was believed that the donor's estate would take care of the cost of the building at once.

A special meeting of the city council will be held tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock to take action on the awarding of bids for the repair of the roof of the Harbor school, the construction of an outfall sewer at Parkway and numerous building applications. City Manager William A. Holt issued the call for the meeting this afternoon.

Archibald S. MacFarlane has sold a house and lot on Shaw street to Bartholomew and Vito Genovese.

Fred Stone, the well known actor, together with his family, are sojourning at the Stone summer residence, Plant Hill, Lyme.

Col. James Gilson, Hartford, who was injured in the crash of an airplane at the Groton aviation field, two weeks ago, was able to leave Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital today and return to this home. Col. Gilson was injured when the plane, in which he and Governor John H. Trumbull, ascended and was about to begin a flight to Camp Trumbull, where Connecticut soldiers were encamped. The plane had not reached a high altitude when it crashed to the ground. Col Gilson receiving head and body injuries, it at first being believed that he had sustained a fractured skull. Gov. Trumbull escaped injury other than sustaining a few minor bruises and contusions.

City Manager William A. Holt today ordered a section of Broad street restricted to parking and he has issued orders to that effect to Captain of Police Charles A. Pinney that the order will be enforced. The order prohibits the parking of automobiles between the first tree on the westerly side of the street, south of Cottage street and the third iron pole north of Cottage street. Another section where parking is now restricted by the order is on the westerly side of the street between the crosswalk line to State street and the crosswalk line to Huntington street.

Only two cases were presented in the police court today. Harry Mori, 581 Ocean avenue, was charged with violation of the city's ordinance in parking overtime on State street. He failed to appear in court and his bond of $2 was declared forfeited. The other case was for intoxication, an old offender having been arrested on North Bank street last night by Patrolman Dennis Murphy, Judge Victor Prince suspended judgment.

The water main at the corner of Eighth and Congdon streets burst early this morning. At 2 o'clock employes of the Central Vermont railroad yard discovered a volume of water pouring into the two streets in such a manner that in a short time a near flood existed. A telephone message was sent to police headquarters, telling of the break. City Engineer George Watters was notified and ordered a repair gang of the water department dispatched to the scene of the trouble, where repairs were made before daylight. Tons of water was deposited into the streets before the workmen shut off the flow and started to perfect repairs.

The contemplated sale of the New London Coach Lines to the New England Transportation company, which was told of in yesterday's issue of The Bulletin, was consummated late yesterday at Hartford and today the former lines are being operated under the new ownership. The acquired lines are operated to the submarine base and Norwich and to Niantic. The New England Transportation company operates palatial busses throughout New England, their night line busses between New York and Boston being taxed to capacity almost every night.

REPUBLICANS PAY RESPECTS TO MRS. WEBSTER KNIGHT

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, Aug. 1—An impressive array of Connecticut republicans assembled this afternoon at the residence of State Treasurer Ernest E. Rogers, No. 605 Pequot avenue, to pay their respects to Mrs. Webster Knight, 2nd., of Providence, a daughter of Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, running mate of Herbert C. Hoover.

The assemblage was arranged by the Connecticut national convention delegation and the guests were limited to those who journeyed to Kansas City during the presidential convention and their wives, with the following exception. The local reception committee was present and was composed of the following persons: State Central Committeeman Daniel M. Cronin, Sheriff and Mrs. Sidney A. Brown, Congressman and Mrs. Richard P. Freeman, Town Chairman and Mrs. P. LeRoy Harwood, former Secretary of State Theodore Bodenwein and Mrs. Bodenwein, Mayor James A. May and Miss Charlotte M. Holloway.

The daughter of the vice presidential nominee was tendered a formal reception in the drawing room of the Rogers' home shortly after 1 o'clock. Immediately following luncheon was served.

Governor John H. Trumbull and J. Henry Roraback, Connecticut national committeeman were present and gave a highly political tone to the affair. In the event that Gov. Trumbull should decline the nomination for another term as Connecticut's chief executive, Mr. Rogers will be the outstanding gubernatorial candidate and should the present governor decide to choose another term, he will be the strongest contendant in the state for the position of lieutenant governor.

Immediately following the luncheon Mr. Rogers sent a telegram to the father of his guest of honor, Vice Presidential Nominee Charles Curtis, to the effect that he was proud to entertain a member of such a distinguished family, and best wishes were extended for the success of the republican party and Mr. Curtis.

Those present at the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Allen; Senate Clerk J. Fred Baker of New Haven; Mrs. Walter E. Batterson of Hartford; Lieut. Governor and Mrs. J. Edwin Brainard, Branford; Miss Katherine Bryan, Putnam; former Senator and Mrs. Nehemiah Candee of Norwalk; Judge and Mrs. Alex Creedon of Hartford; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Emery of Stamford; Sheriff Charles A. Gates and State Agent Raymond Gates, both of Willimantic; Senator and Mrs. William A. Goss of Waterford; Assistant Attorney General Raymond Johnson of Manchester; Edward L. Kelly, secretary to the governor; John H. King, Willimantic; Mr. and Mrs. William S. Reynolds, of Middletown; Comptroller and Mrs. Frederick M. Salmon of Westport; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Senior, Bethel; Senator and Mrs. Samuel R. Spencer of Sufield; Mr. and Mrs. John Wadhams, Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. A. Linn Weatherhead, Windham; Senator and Mrs. Roy Wilcox, Meriden; Clarence Williard of New Haven, secretary of the state central committee; Tax Commissioner and Mrs. William H. Blodgett, Winsted; State Attorney and Mrs. Ernest A. Inglis, Middletown; Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Ellis of Torrington; Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Dayton, Hartford; Labor Commissioner and Mrs. Harry McKenzie of Bethel; Representative and Mrs. Mason M. Manning of Stonington; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Matthies and daughter, Seymour; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Mullinen of Thompsonville; Mr. and Mrs. William O. Park, Hanover; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Putnam of Hartford and George H. Bradford of Montville.

A scare was thrown into residents of Hempstead street early this morning when fire started from an overheated iron in the Arcy laundry. A still alarm was sent in at 6 o'clock this morning. The fire was quickly extinguished and the damage is said not to exceed $200.

On Friday Peter J. Caron of Fowler court will be obliged to stand trial for reckless driving before Justice of the Peace Lewis Labolunt Jr., in the Montville court. He was arrested last night by Officer George Sisson, while he was attempting to pass the officer's car on Dairy hill near the Witch Hazel mill. Sisson's car was going down hill and Caron's passing almost resulted in a bad accident.

Today was the final day on which to pay taxes within the time limit prescribed by ordinance. There was no rush at the office of Tax Collector Hibberd N. Alexander today for the bulk of the payments were made Monday and yesterday. Monday $117,000 was paid at the collector's office and yesterday $207,000 was paid into the city treasury. The prompt payment was brought about by Collector Alexander recently causing City Manager Holt to deputize two patrolmen, as city sheriffs for the purpose of collecting delinquent taxes. The officers were very successful in making the collections for they were empowered with the authority to arrest the delinquent and take him or her to jail in the refusal of payment of the tax.

Held Beach Party

Mrs. Raymond Hirshman entertained members of Amonia circle No. 11, of the First Baptist church Monday evening at a beach party. Bathing and social games were enjoyed. Those present were Miss Elizabeth Gray, Miss Helen Garley, Miss Margaret Carley, Miss Edith Keeney, Mrs. W. H. Payne, Jr., Mrs. Alexander McPhail, Mrs. Henery D. Slate, and Mrs. Raymond Hirshmun.

Breed Theatre

One of the screen's most popular romantic teams is to be seen in "Sailors' Wives," the Warner Fabian novel filmed by First National Pictures, which closes tonight at the Breed theatre.

Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes, who built up a tremendous following with "Forever After," "No Place to Go" and other pictures, are featured in this production, one of a series in which they are to appear together.

"Sailors' Wives" was produced for First National Pictures by Henry Hobart and directed by Joseph Henabery from Bess Meredyth's screen adaptation. There are a number of well-known players in the supporting cast.

"Stormy Waters," the added feature on today's bill at the Breed, featuring Eve Southern, Malcolm McGregor and Roy Stewart, is a drama in which brother is pitted against brother for a siren whose lure was stronger than a man's better self.

Jack London's story, "The Yellow Handkerchief," suggested the story for "Stormy Waters," which was directed by Edgar Lewis. Eve Southern is said to show great versatility in the role of Lola, which is different from anything she has heretofore portrayed. She is the siren who wins a man's love and leaves him with but the husk of his manhood. She gets into her toils, David, younger brother of Robert Steele, a strong, sturdy, loyal soul who would, if he could, spare David every unhappiness in life.

When he finds that David has married this siren from an Argentine port cafe his heart turns heavy, but he wishes them happiness and then stands staunchly by to save David as much as he can—and he is sorely needed. David is played by Malcolm McGregor and Robert by Roy Stewart and others in the cast are Shirley Palmer, Olin Francis, Bert Apling and Norbert Miles.

Palace Theatre

"Half a Bride," Esther Ralston's new starring picture for Paramount, proved to be an intriguing piece of entertainment when shown at the Palace theatre last night and the social drama seemed to be popular with the large audience.

The new Esther Ralston vehicle is a departure from her recent films. "Love and Learn" and "Something Always Happens," those gay comedies which amused audiences at this theatre recently. "Half a Bride" is a dramatic picture based on the experiences of a pleasure-mad girl, who finds true happiness in a trip back to nature.

Gary Cooper, the versatile star, whose recent successes in "Children of Divorce," "Doomsday," "Beau Sabreur" and "Legion of the Condemned" have made him a popular screen favorite, has the leading male role and carries it off excellently.

Miss Ralston and Gary Cooper are washed ashore on a deserted island off the Canadian coast and, during the weeks of privation which follow, Miss Ralston learns the emptiness of her former life as a petted society debutante and, in addition, learns to love her fellow castaway.

The picture is timely, dealing with companionate marriage and its foibles and includes a variety of locale, including the ballrooms of the wealthy, the pleasure dives of the underworld, the life aboard an expensive sea-going yacht and a deserted island.

"Half a Bride" is excellently directed and photographed and is an intriguing, well-acted story of present day life.

In addition to the clever picture, a splendid vaudeville bill has been procured to please our patrons, headed by Mildred Andre and Girls, a company of seven, followed by Davis and Meyers in "Nutical Nonsensicalities"; Jimmy Ryan and company in Gal o' Mine; Mammy Jenny, "The Dixie Songstress," and the Freeborns in an act entitled Perfection in Balance. This bill is far above the average and will be enjoyed by everybody.

The fielding feature of the game was an unassisted double play made by Alex Machnicki. Pino Quinn was the hitting star, getting four hits out of five trips to the plate. It was his double with William Hogan on second base in the ninth inning that broke the deadlock. The lineup for the Newsies was: Edward Quinn, c; William Brown, p; Alex Machnicki, 1b; Pino Quinn, 2b; Lawrence Welland, 3b; William Machnicki, ss; William Hogan, lf; Frank Mopsick, cf, and Louis Welland, rf. WOODSTOCK MAN ONE OF THREE GIVEN RURAL LEADERSHIP CERTIFICATES

STORRS, Aug. 1—(AP)—Three men were given "honorary recognition" certificates today at "farmer's week" exercises held at Connecticut Agricultural college. The awards were made by the college as a tribute to the outstanding rural leadership among men and the example and devotion to rural interests which have helped to make farming more prosperous in Connecticut.

The selections followed the livestock parade, one of the most colorful events of the week. Those who gained the recognition were Charles E. Treat, Orange; Harry T. Child, Woodstock, and J. Arthur Sherwood, of Easton. An address was given by W. J. Spillman, agricultural economist for the United States department of agriculture.

Mr. Child was born June 26, 1846, at Woodstock in the home where he now lives. He was educated in the public schools of the town and at Wilbraham academy.

After completing his school courses he returned home and has spent his life in building up the farm and in contributing to the civic and material progress of the community. The Child home, "Valleyside," was built in 1822 and the farm is a part of an early grant from the Indians. Today the house and barns are modern and the farm one of the most productive in Woodstock, which is known widely for its progressive agriculture.

Although as a farmer Mr. Child has achieved noteworthy success, it has been his record for substantial and progressive citizenship that has won him leadership in a section where good farming and civic pride has combined to produce an outstanding rural community. In 1869, as a lad of 13 years, he first attended the Woodstock fair and has never missed its annual exhibits. As secretary, president, exhibitor and supporter of the fair organization he was for many years a vital factor in its success.

Of the 67 years that Mr. Child has been a member of the Congregational church in his community he has served for 50 years as a deacon and has contributed his services in other capacities. For 50 years he has served as trustee of Woodstock academy and was for many years secretary and treasurer. His five sons were graduated from this academy and are now holding responsible positions. One of his sons, William C. Child, is now operating the home farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Child have the distinction of being charter members of and holding the longest period of membership in Senexet grange.

In 1889-90 Mr. Child represented the town of Woodstock in the general assembly. He has also served for a number of years on the board of selectmen and has held other town offices.

He has always been an exponent of progressive agriculture and through encouragement and advice has helped younger and less experienced men toward success in farming. He represents one of the finest types of the Yankee stock that has builded the incomparable rural communities of New England.

SUES TO FORECLOSE $872.83 JUDGMENT LIEN

Paul Postler of Sprague and Barbara Wunderlich of the town of Norwich are made defendants in a civil action brought by Jacob R. Slosberg of this city, doing business at the Shetucket Coal and Lumber Co., in the court of common pleas, returnable the first Tuesday in August. Slosberg asks for foreclosure of a judgment lien.

According to the papers a judgment of $872.83 and costs of $46.24 was obtained by Mr. Slosberg in the common pleas court on June 11, 1928, against Postler. A judgment lien for this amount was recorded on June 12, against property owned by Postler in the town of Sprague. The judgment has not been paid by the Sprague man.

As Mrs. Wunderlich is alleged to hold two mortgages, one for $1,800 and another for $1,200, on the Postler property she is a part defendant. Mrs. Wunderlich claims she received the two mortgages by assignment from George Green of Plainfield.

TO FILE BRIEFS IN POQUYOGH BEACH CASE

The evidence in the injunction action and $2,000 damage suit brought by the Poquyogh Improvement association against W. Spaulding Warner, a summer cottager there, has all been introduced. Judge Arthur F. Libby, who has been presiding over the case in the court of common pleas at New London this week has ordered attorneys for both sides to file briefs and no oral arguments were made in court.

Attorney Phillip Z. Hankey, who with Attorney Telley E. Babcock, represented the plaintiff, was requested by the court to file briefs by Aug. 13. Attorney Donald Gaffney, who with Attorney Arthur T. Keefe, represents the defendant, was requested to file defense briefs by September 1, and Attorney Hankey was given until Sept. 10 to file his answer to the defendant's brief.

The Poquyogh Improvement association seeks a permanent injunction restraining Warner, his servants or agents from entering upon and damaging the footbridge above Clam pond. The defendant denies that he attempted to damage the bridge and also denies that the bridge is on land belonging to the association.

SUES TWO DEFENDANTS FOR PERSONAL INJURIES

A $500 suit for damages has been brought by Archie Molleur of Norwich in the court of common plea against the Luxor Cabs, Inc., of this city, and Fred R. Miller, also of this city, arising out of an automobile accident. The suit is returnable to the court of common pleas the first Tuesday in August. Mr. Molleur claims in the suit, which was served by Deputy Sheriff Oscar H. Main, that he received personal injuries on Christmas day, while riding in a taxicab owned by the Luxor Cabs and driven by one of its employes and which was in colluision with a machine operated by Fred Miller on the Norwich-Westerly road.

It is alleged in the papers that the accident resulted through the joint and concurrent negligence of the operators of the two machines and as a result Molleur was forced to pay $50 for medical care and attention and was unable to work during the time of incapacity, losing another $100. He claims that he was badly bruised about the chest and shoulders, one knee was badly bruised and strained, causing him severe mental suffering and physical pain.

Kimball of Haverhill, Mass., asks for damages of $500 against Moses Windrowitz of the town of Sprague in a suit brought in the court of common pleas, according to papers served by Deputy Sheriff Oscar H. Main. The suit was brought following an accident on July 1, 1927 on the Norwich-Willimantic road, between the machine driven by the plaintiff and that of the defendant. Kimball makes the claim that he was put to an expense of $139.25 in order to repair his machine and makes an additional claim for inability to use the car, while it was being repaired.

WILSON APPEAL SUSTAINED BY JOINT ZONING BOARD

The joint zoning board of appeals gave a hearing Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock in the mayor's office on the appeal of Samuel C. Wilson of 107 McKinley avenue and sustained the appeal.

Mr. Wilson wanted permission to alter a dwelling house on the southerly side of West Town street, opposite No. 237, near the Yantic river, so that he could use the building for manufacturing sewing machine belts. Under the zoning ordinances this section is classed as a business district and for that reason the selectmen refused to give permission for manufacturing there. Mr. Wilson's appeal from the decision is now upheld by the joint board.

TAFTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sidebottom and their daughter, Miss Alice Sidebottom, of North A street have returned from Pawtucket, R. I., where they have been spending a week with relatives.

Those attending a fish dinner given at the camp of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Heselton at Old Killingly pond early in the week, were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Buffington, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Buffington and son, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Holt and son, Mrs. Francis Hunter and daughter, Miss Elele Hunter, Elmer Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Heselton and children, Kendall and Revela.

When the members of St. Veronica's T. A. and B. society held a business meeting Wednesday evening at their rooms on Providence street, the president, Miss Mary Nolan presided.

President Joseph Dugas presided at the special meeting of the members of the Taftville Business Men's association held Monday evening at Fire Company No. 2 hall on Merchants avenue. There was a large attendance and after the minutes of the previous meeting had been read by Secretary Edward Adams and approved, there was a general discussion on plans for the annual clambake and outing of the association. The outing has always been held on a Thursday, the business houses closing for the greater part of the day to allow their employes to attend. It was felt that there were many who could not attend even if the stores were to close and the general opinion was that the outing be held on a Sunday, and the third Sunday in August was chosen for the date of the affair. Instead of going to Happy Land at the Poquetanuck drawbridge, the association plans to hold the bake at the Scotland road social club. The spacious grounds there will allow the holding of all kinds of athletic events, and there will be sports of various kinds. Committees are already working on the plans, and it is believed that the outing will be one of the most successful ever held by the association.

William Rydinzsward of Hartford has been calling on friends in the village this week.

Daylight saving evenings are appreciated by many of the local berrypickers who frequent the surrounding woods in large numbers each evening to gather the large low blueberries which appear to be plentiful this year.

For the first time in many years the grounds of the Taftville rogue club have not been put in shape this season. The association has several courts on Ponemah Heights and each year there were some interesting tournaments. This season there appears to be little or no interest in the game, and the courts have been abandoned.

Although several pieces of mail for Mrs. E. G. Curtis are held at the local post office awaiting the addressee, no one has made inquiry concerning them and they are being advertised by Postmaster Adams.

Francois Beique of Hunters avenue is spending three weeks in Bristol.

BRITISH AIRMEN DRIFTED HELPLESSLY IN MIDOCEAN

Captain Courtney and His Three Companions Were Located and Picked Up by the Steamer Minnewaska—The Plane Had Drifted From the Position Whence the First Distress Call Was Sent Out—The Helpless Plane Was Located From Later Calls.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—(AP)—Drifting helplessly in mid-ocean, their radio sputtering occasional messages to guide searching ships, Capt. Frank T. Courtney and his three flying companions were located by the steamer Minnewaska today in the flying boat in which they had attempted a flight from the Azores to Newfoundland.

A wireless message from the liner at 4 p. m. announced that another tragedy of the air and ocean had been averted. The sturdy plane had been located 605 miles northwest of Horta, where it took off, and about 766 miles southeast of Cape Race.

It was drifting 275 miles northwest of the point where the Italian flier De Pinedo was picked up last summer after a forced landing en route from Newfoundland to the Azores.

When the flying boat, which had taken off from the Azores for Newfoundland late yesterday, was forced down, Courtney sent out a radio distress call, giving his position as 42 north 41 west. A dozen ocean liners turned from their courses to race to the rescue, but when the first of them arrived at the position given the Courtney plane could not be found.

Hours of silence from the distressed plane after its landing led to the general fear that the radio had gone out of commission after its one cry for help. But the steamer Aghatina got in direct communication with the plane again just before noon and was given the new position of 42.36 north 39.40 west. This indicated that the plane had drifted steadily to the northeast since its landing and was almost 100 miles from its first position.

The second message from Courtney dispelled fears aroused by failure of rescue steamers to find him at the landing position given and by silence of his radio and caused general confidence that the British flier would be able to direct the searching steamers to his rescue.

Accompanying Courtney are E. H. Hosmer, wealthy Montreal backer of the flight; Fred Pierce, mechanic, and E. W. Gilmour, wirless operator.

A later message from the steamer Minnewaska to the Radio Marine corporation, sent at 6 p. m., eastern daylight saving time, announced that Courtney and his crew had been taken aboard the steamer and that all was well.

"Rescued Captain Courtney and his crew from their plane and all is well," the message said.

The steamer, which is westward bound and due to reach New York next Monday, gave its position at the time as latitude 42.27 north, longitude 39.05 west.

SPANISH HYDROPLANE IS BEING TOWED TO CADIZ

MADRID, Aug. 2—(AP)—Capt. Ramon Franco's hydroairplane Numancia, damaged in a forced landing off the Portuguese coast yesterday soon after starting on a world flight, was being towed by a sailing boat tonight from Huelva to Cadiz.

It is understood the flight will be renewed, but that the start will be delayed until some time in September.

According to an account of the landing reaching here, the plane's hull was badly damaged when it struck the water after descending from a height of 90 feet. The bottom of the hull was ripped open and its supports broken. The plane, however, reached Huelva, about 100 miles away, under its own power, but not without supreme efforts by the crew to keep the plane afloat.

At about 10:15 a. m., yesterday, three hours after the hydroairplane's departure from Cadiz, a gasoline pump ceased to function, cutting off the supply of fuel to three of the four motors, and causing the forced landing.

After ten hours of cruising at an average speed of ten miles an hour, Huelva was sighted.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN CONVICTED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 2—(AP)—Charles S. Wharton, former congressman and former assistant state's attorney, today was found convicted by a federal jury of conspiracy in connection with the $122,000 Grand Trunk mail robbery at Evergreen Park last February, the conviction carrying a possible maximum prison term of two years and a maximum fine of $10,000.

Charles "Limpy" Cleaver, Chicago gunman accused by the government of being the ringleader of the train robbers, was convicted with the Chicago criminal lawyer on the conspiracy charge and on six other charges of actual participation in the robbery and carrying a maximum prison sentence of 82 years if served consecutively and a fine of $10,000.

Both Cleaver and Wharton asked for new trials. Cleaver's motion will be heard tomorrow and Wharton's will be argued Sept. 17.

Cleaver was accused of planning the robbery and helping execute it with seven others who held up the train, blew open the mail car and escaped with $124,000 in cash, part of which was found in Cleaver's home after he was arrested.

Wharton was accused of allowing the robbers to use his home to divide their loot for which the government said the robbers gave him $4,000. Wharton claimed Cleaver, an admitted bootlegger, asked to use his home for a "bob" but Wharton believed it was a bootlegging activity and had no knowledge of a mail robbery was contemplated.

Three members of the band confessed and testified for the government against Wharton and Cleaver. Two others have been slain and two accused are at large.

CONDITION OF SENATOR VARE IS UNCHANGED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 2—(AP)—The condition of William S. Vare, of Philadelphia, United States senator-elect seriously ill at his home here, was said to be "unchanged" tonight by his daughter, Miss Beatrice Vare.

Dr. Elwood R. Kirby, of Philadelphia, Mr. Vare's personal physician, who hurried here from Philadelphia early this morning was expected to return to his patient later tonight. Miss Vare said this evening that in the meantime no other physician had attended her father.

Dr. Kirby announced that Vare suffered a paralytic stroke which deprived him of the use of his left arm and leg, and, temporarily, of his speech. He was stricken at 10:30 o'clock last night.

FORMER POLICEMAN HELD ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—(AP)—A former New York policeman today was committed to the Tombs as a fugitive from justice pending extradition to Connecticut on a charge of bigamy.

According to the accusation, the ex-policeman, Gilbert Holmes, married Dorothy Steffy, 15, at Cheshire, Conn., on July 11, while his wife, Harriet, whom he married in 1921, still lived.

An abduction charge in connection with the second marriage was dismissed. Holmes resigned from the police department July 10 and was arrested a week later.

MAN ASPHYXIATED BY THE CAVE-IN OF SEWER

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 2—(AP)—A cave-in of dirt into a sewer excavation today caused the death by asphyxiation of Alexander Sullianelo, 27, a workman 15 feet below the surface. He was repairing a pipe leak in a street to a house when the landslide buried him. Firemen recovered the body.

It was said that Sullianelo and two other workmen were employed by a contractor who received the permit for the job through another contractor after having been turned down for the permit through lack of qualifications. A hearing will be held Monday.

LEGAL CONTROVERSY IN MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—(AP)—Failure of the Paramount-Famous Players-Lasky corporation to comply with the order prohibiting block bookings of motion picture films today resulted in an application by the federal trade commission for a court order seeking its enforcement.

The order, issued July 9, 1927, prohibited the leasing of films in a group under which picture houses are compelled to take all the pictures or none at all without regard to their character or the wants of the picture houses.

It was directed originally against the Paramount-Famous Players-Lasky corporation, Adolph Zukor and Jesse L. Lasky, and ten other motion picture concerns and individuals. The latter ten cases were dismissed.

The commission announced that its court application was filed in the United States circuit court of appeals of New York. It follows long-drawn-out proceedings, including a trade conference held last October in New York before Commissioner Abram F. Myers, who attempted to get the motion picture interests to stop their block booking practice.

TARIFF DEBATED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

LONDON, Aug. 2—(AP)—Stanley Baldwin, prime minister, today refused to be "smoked out" by questioners in the house of commons who sought from him some definite statement on the government's tariff policy. There was a brisk fire of questions aimed to develop whether the free trade speeches of Winston Churchill or the protectionist utterances of Sir William Joynson-Hicks, home secretary, represented the cabinet policy.

The prime minister carefully refrained from making any definite statement. Instead he greeted the heckling in a jocular vein, especially when it turned upon the conflicting sentiments expressed by members of the cabinet. At one stage he said:

"I must frankly confess that after such examination of these speeches as I have been able to make, I am struck not so much by the diversity of testimony as by the many-sidedness of truth."

The sally was greeted with prolonged laughter and cheers.

COMMITTED SUICIDE AT HARVARD CLUB, NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—(AP)—William Andrews Wilson, retired banker and a member of the Harvard club, was found dead in his room at the club today. Police believed he had committed suicide.

Attaches of the club found the body on the floor of the room lying across an automatic rifle with which police believe he inflicted the gunshot wounds from which he died. First police reports indicated he had been dead two days.

Club officials said Wilson was born in New York and was a student at Harvard university from 1902 to 1904. The social register gives his address as Rye, N. Y., but he had lived at the Harvard club for several years.

He formerly conducted a private banking business with offices in Fifth avenue but retired in 1924.

Pope of Pikeville, was third with 5,081. D. W. Dodson of Nashville, the fourth candidate, who made no campaign, was out of the running.

While there were four candidates seeking the democratic senatorial nomination, the race became a battle between McKellar and Representative Finis J. Garrett, minority leader in the house. In the republican primary for governor, 74 precincts gave Raleigh S. Hopkins of Columbia 1,602 and Judge T. Rauliston of Winchester 1,312.

TURKISH FEMINIST AT INSTITUTE OF POLITICS

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 2—(AP)—Separation of church and state in Turkey is not likely to be followed by an important reactionary step, Halibe Edib Hanum, Turkish feminist, said today in the first of a series of lectures she is to deliver before the institute of politics, which opened its eighth annual session today.

The conception of Turkey toward atheism as a result of the abolition of a constitutional provision declaring Islam to be the state religion, Mme. Halibe Edib branded as false.

"The abolition of this clause has been taken as a sign of atheism," she said, "but by abolishing that clause the Turkish republic has followed the historical and logical sequence of secularization which has been taking place in Turkey for a century."

In 1916, she said, there was a definite tendency among nationalists to separate church and state and they triumphed in the passage of a new family law "which pretended to be Islamic in spirit, looking on marriage as a contract based on mutual consent."

"It gives both parties a right to insert in the marriage contract any condition desired," she said, "and if she wished, the woman could insert a clause permitting her to divorce her husband in case of polygamy."

JOHN COOLIDGE WAS AT THROTTLE OF LOCOMOTIVE

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 2—(AP)—Faced with the necessity of finding work now that he has graduated from college, John Coolidge today ascertained how it would suit him to be a railroad engineer.

On leaving Virginia, Minn., on the return trip to Superior after a visit to some iron mines, A. V. Rohweder, superintendent of safety and welfare of the Duluth Missabe and Northern railway, suggested that John make part of the return trip on the locomotive.

John warmed to the idea. Neither the president nor Mrs. Coolidge who were also on the train, interposed any objection and John was soon shedding his coat in favor of a long black slicker. A cloth cap was procured as well as the inevitable red bandana for his neck.

Russell Wood, secret service operative, attached to John likewise disguised himself in a red bandana and accompanied him.

For sixty miles John rode at the side of the engineer and on long and straight stretches he was allowed to work the throttle and keep the train moving at an even rate on the rails.

At the end of the ride, John was his father's son—and said nothing.

Peek Bolts Party To Support Smith

Illinois Farm Leader Made Declaration After a Conference With [illegible] Democratic Nominee

NEW [illegible] ug. 2—(AP)—In his fight [illegible] residency, Governor Sm[illegible] an ally today from the c[illegible] eorge N. Peek, of Illinois, [illegible] s champions of the McNary-Ha[illegible] farm bill, which was frowned on by the Coolidge administration.

Peek announced that he had bolted the republican party to enlist under the Smith banner after he and the democratic nominee had discussed the farm question for two hours.

Immediately after their conference, which took place over a breakfast table in the governor's suite at the Biltmore, Smith reaffirmed his intention, if elected, of calling on the best minds for advice in the shaping up of a farm relief program. He mentioned Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, as one of the republicans he would like to consult.

In his statement, the governor reiterated that he would discuss the farmers' problems at length in his acceptance speech, and observed that "control of the sale of agricultural surplus is recognized by our platform as an essential need, its cost to be imposed on the unit to be benefited."

"That principle is fixed by our platform, on which I stand—only the detail of its accomplishment remains," he added.

Peek, who supported Lowden for the republican nomination, came out for Smith formally after he had visited Chairman Raskob of the democratic national committee at campaign headquarters late in the day.

"As a result of my conference with Governor Smith this morning," he dictated to newspapermen, "I feel certain that he has a clear and corrected understanding of the farm problem and that he will solve it with intellectual honesty if he is elected president.

"Upon the strength of his statement I shall support his candidacy for president."

In a formal statement, Peek then said he had been asked what he thought would be the effect of Mr. Hoover's forthcoming statement on agriculture in his speech of acceptance, and added:

"I think that no campaign promises which Mr. Hoover now makes for the purpose of insinuating himself into the good graces of the farmer, will obliterate his past record from the memory of grain and livestock producers, many of whom have lost or are in the process of losing their homes."

Peek is chairman of the committee of 22 of the North Central States Agricultural conference which, since its organization at Des Moines several years ago, has been endeavoring to get farm relief legislation to its liking on the federal statute books.

TO INCREASE CHARGES FOR HANDLING LOAN FUNDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—(AP)—The New York Clearing House association today thrust a double-edged sword into the tangled skein surrounding the call loan situation by increasing bank service charges for handling funds in an effort to discourage "loans by others" and advancing the interest rate on deposits to encourage the retention of funds in bank accounts.

Increase in the service charge of one half of one per cent, applies only to loans made by others than banks or bankers and does not apply to out-of-town banks. It is aimed at reducing the $1,808,645,000 total of "loans for others" made up chiefly of the investment of surplus funds of corporations and other non-bank interests in the call money market and will become effective September 1.

Yacht Azara Is Safe Off Spanish Coast

American Contender in the International Race Had Been Missing — All on Board Well.

SANTANDER, Spain, Aug. 2—(AP)—The American yacht Azara, missing contender in the transatlantic race for the king's cup, is safe off the Spanish coast and making her way slowly to this port port. All on board are well.

The yacht was spoken first by a government gasoline launch whose skipper talked with Commodore Enrique Careaga, Spanish observer of the trans-Atlantic race and an officer of King Alfonso's royal yacht.

Commodore Careaga explained to the launch's skipper that the delay to the Azara was caused by adverse weather, she having been becalmed for some time on her voyage.

Later King Alfonso went out on another launch and talked with the crew. Tugs have started to the Azara carrying the Santander reception committee and a delegation of yachting enthusiasts.

STRIKE VOTE TAKEN BY NEW BEDFORD UNIONS

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 2—(AP)—Poll of operatives affiliated with the New Bedford textile council unions, on the question of submitting the strike issue here to arbitration, was completed tonight and the decision forwarded under seal to the state board of arbitration.

Secrecy was maintained by executive members of the council although many operatives have openly stated that they were firmly against arbitration at this time. One of the seven unions in the council was known to be overwhelmingly opposed to it. There was, however, reticence on the part of some interested persons to agree to a prediction that the vote would be negative.

The issue involved in the strike is a ten per cent wage cut put into effect April 16. There are 28,000 operatives on strike involving 26 corporations.

William E. G. Batty, member of the council, stated at the conclusion of the meeting that in deference to the wishes of the state board the decision would not be made known tonight. A reply from the New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers' association on the same question was also to be before the state board tomorrow and the tenor of both replies made known at that time.

SUIT FOR $544,000 BROUGHT AGAINST HARRY SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, is being sued for $544,000 by Mrs. Janie Clay Zeveley, widow of Colonel James W. Zeveley, one of Sinclair's attorneys, over an alleged transaction in stock of the Mammouth Oil company. The suit was disclosed today when Sinclair's attorneys asked for a bill of particulars.

Mrs. Zeveley says that in July, 1922 her husband turned over to Sinclair, 32,000 shares of the company's stock valued at the amount sought in the suit, on Sinclair's promise to purchase it or return it within a reasonable time. Sinclair failed to keep his promise, the widow says, despite repeated requests that he do so.

Sinclair's answer is a general denial of Mrs. Zeveley's charges, and his request for a bill of particulars asserts the Zeveleys never asked him for the stock.

In his answer Sinclair said he once agreed to give Zeveley a block of Mammouth stock but the gift was conditional upon the success of the oil enterprise.

"Certain senatorial investigations," the answer read, "affected the value of the company's stock and court litigation which turned out unsatisfactorily to Sinclair made the stock of no value at all."

POLAR BEARS TIMID; RAN AWAY FROM DOG

ROME, Aug. 2—(AP)—Polar bears are far from being the fierce beasts that tradition has painted them according to Giuseppi Biag, radio operator of the ill-fated dirigible Italia. He sufficiently disregarded the policy of survivors of the Nobile expedition not to grant interviews to tell the newspaper Tribuna this impression.

"The bears were so timid," he is quoted as saying, "that they ran away whenever General Nobile's little mascot dog Titina barked at them."

HOOVER HELD CONFERENCE WITH REPUBLICAN LEADERS

After the Conference the Republican Presidential Nominee Locked Himself in His Study to Complete Revision of His Speech of Acceptance—The Hoover Countrywide Organization is to Be Patterned Along the Lines of That Formed During the War to Carry Forward the Liberty Loan Drives.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Aug. 2—(AP)—Back from his five days tour in the northern mountains, Herbert Hoover today conferred on organization and other matters with the party leaders and then locked himself in his study overlooking the rolling university campus to complete the revision of his speech accepting the republican nomination.

The nominee looked unusually fit after his days and nights in the open, fishing and motoring and he attacked the problems before him with renewed vigor and an alert mind. He gave his approval to certain details of organization in the west and the reading of his speech with a view to shortening it and having it ready for distribution next Saturday.

Those with whom he conferred were Dante Pierce, Des Moines, Iowa, publisher of weekly farm publications and then William McChesney of Chicago, who personally managed the campaign of the late Major General Leonard Wood in 1920 and who has been placed in charge of state and county organization work west of Pittsburgh under the direction of James W. Good, of Iowa, western manager.

The Hoover countrywide organization is to be patterned along the lines of that formed during the war to carry forward the liberty loan drives. In this plan is again seen the directing hand of Hoover and his ability at creating organizations under the management of local leaders.

Besides welding city, state, county and precinct units into a cohesive unit, it is proposed to have the local leaders carry on an extensive speaking campaign with short talks before Rotary, Kiwanis and other civic organizations and on the radio by the leaders in the various units.

General McChesney said that most of the leaders already had been picked and that the units would be working at full speed in a short time.

Pierce predicted that Iowa, Nebraska and Wisconsin would give the Hoover-Curtis ticket substantial majorities in November.

Commenting on the conference held by George N. Peek, chairman of the corn belt committee of 22, with Governor Alfred E. Smith, the democratic presidential nominee, and John Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, Pierce said Peek did not represent the sentiment of the main body of farmers of the middle west.

"The farmers of the middle west are not going to trust their destiny to Tammany hall," he said. He called attention that Peek is and always has been a democrat.

MORE PADLOCKS FOR NEW YORK NIGHT CLUBS

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—(AP)—Prohibition law padlocks today threatened 36 more night clubs, passed by in the indictments returned against 26 clubs and 131 individuals earlier in the week.

The new proceedings against White Way resorts, it was learned, will be in the form of summons and complaints to be served upon the owners and managers.

No temporary padlocks or injunctions have been issued against these places, whose names will be kept secret until after service of papers. Failure to answer the summons will result in a padlock order being issued by default.

This new action by federal authorities is a campaign to mop up New York followed a day of denials and counter charges and revelations from both camps—the night club hostesses and the prohibition authorities.

Commissioner Doran in Washington denied the picked squad of dry sleuths from the capital spent $65,000 to hoodwink Broadway's night clubs. Their expenses amounted to about $9,000, he said, adding that the agents spent their own money and were reimbursed through government vouchers.

Affidavits of the raiders list expenses for one night's entertainment from $25 to nearly $100. But the liquor they bought, they said, was all "phoney." The champagne, they said, was nothing but grape juice soda water fortified with alcohol.

Helen Morgan and Texas Guinan, two of the hostesses indicted, entered strong denials to the dry raiders' stories. Miss Guinan asserted there was no bar in her place to padlock.

One agent—Lon H. Tyson—who quoted Miss Morgan as telling him confidentially she had "an understanding with Campbell," misquoted her, the Summer Home hostess said. "I never had such a conversation with Tyson or anyone else," she said.

SEES SENATOR HEFLIN AS GREAT AID TO SMITH

BEACON, N. Y., Aug. 2—(AP)—United States Senator J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama was credited today with doing more for the nomination and support of Gov. Smith as democratic presidential candidate than any other man in the country by Franklin D. Roosevelt, former assistant secretary of the navy, who placed Gov. Smith in nomination at the Houston convention. Mr. Roosevelt's statement was made in a feature article published in the Beacon Standard, a weekly newspaper of Dutchess county. Mr. Roosevelt's home.

Discussing the recent visit of Senator Heflin to Dutchess county, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"The senator had a legal right to speak, and probably a large majority of his audience went to hear him out of curiosity. Probably no man in the United States has done more to help the nomination and increase support for Gov. Smith than Senator Heflin.

"He has made the nation realize that old fashioned bigotry does exist, a little of it in every section and a lot of it in some places, and that the time has come to prove definitely that it must not and cannot be a controlling factor in our national life."

WAGE RAISE FOR CIVILIAN EMPLOYES OF NAVY YARDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—(AP)—Fifty four hundred civilian employes in the navy yards and stations in the United States and Hawaii today were granted an increase in wages commensurate with those received by the civilian employes of the navy department.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Robinson announced that the increase, effective August 1, was provided for under the Welch bill, which passed the last session. He said it was decided upon during a recent conference between President Coolidge and Secretary Wilbur at the summer white house upon the recommendation of the director of the budget.

The minimum increase is $60 and the maximum is $400 annually.

It was explained that the increase does not apply to draftsmen who have otherwise provided for.

SEES WORK OF COMMUNISTS IN THE NEW BEDFORD STRIKE

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 2—(AP)—Declaring that communists were attempting to undermine labor organizations in the United States and Mexico, William L. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor today rallied upon the members of the executive council to devise plans to thwart such attempts.

Citing the calls by communists to members of railroad and mine unions to convene at specified dates within the next two months to consider new labor organization, Mr. Green stated that information had been received that fifteen Russian communists had been sent into Mexico since the assassination of President-elect Obregon and the subsequent disappearance of Luis N. Morones formerly secretary of labor and commerce.

Mr. Green also declared that the communistic element is obvious in the New Bedford textile strike and declared that the "red workers are playing directly into the hands of the textile owner."

"The New Bedford strikers have a just cause," he said, "and no one can blame them for fighting against a reduction in wages which would lower their standard of living."

The council refused to adopt a suggestion from Ben Tibbet, representing the transport workers of Great Britain, that the federation participate in a survey of economic conditions in Europe. Tibbet declared that the widespread use of manufacturing machinery had done much harm to the laboring classes.

The International Federation of Trade Unions, the European labor organization sent a proposal of affiliation with the American federation, but no action was taken.

OPPRESSIVE HEAT HAS AFFECTED POPE PIUS

ROME, Aug. 2—(AP)—The oppressive heat afflicting Rome this summer has so affected Pope Pius that for the last ten days he has given up his daily walks in the vatican gardens. Coupled with the African temperature of as high as 100 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade, has been the inconvenience suffered when his holiness twisted a foot in descending from his automobile.

The heat has been the chief handicap of the 71 year old pontiff. Today, without any medical advice, he decided not to descend from his apartment to the Pauline chapel, two floors below, although this was the date for obtaining the "pardon of Assisi," in that chapel. Instead of going to the chapel he celebrated mass and offered special prayers in his private chapel.

Despite the handicap of the heat and his troublesome foot, the pope has continued to grant audiences. He received several persons today.

The fines were $100 for manufacture of liquor and $50 for sale. Braun pleaded guilty to both counts. The man operates a farm off the highway in North Coventry, near the Bolton town line. There have been several complaints that the place was a bootleg joint and acting on this information State Policemen F. W. Stevens and Walter Wood of the Stafford Springs barracks spent all Tuesday night in the vicinity of the place. Early in the morning they invaded the house and found a ten-gallon still in full swing. Five barrels of mash were also in the building. While Braun was getting ready to be taken before Justice of the Peace A. M. Gilman to post a bond an automobile drove into the yard and in it the officers found four empty quart bottles. The driver, Paul Russell of South Manchester, admitted that he was in quest of liquor but attempted to defend Braun. Braun was given notice from the bench that a future violation will entail a jail sentence.

OBITUARY

Mrs. John Rajechel

Mrs. Balwina Rajechel, aged about 70, widow of John Rajechel, died at the home of Isadore Rajechel on Bricktop road Wednesday night after a brief illness. The deceased leaves one sister, Miss Catherine Rygiel, of Poland.

The Storrs family, which figures prominently in the history of the town of Mansfield, will hold its 38th annual reunion at the Baptist church, Spring Hill, Thursday, Aug. 29, with a basket lunch and afternoon of recreation. Stedman W. Storrs is president of the organization and Abbie Storrs Olds, treasurer.

Police Chief Thomas F. Grady has received notice that the operator's license of John Juras of 224 High street has been suspended by the state department.

Large trucks have been in use the past two days removing old machinery from the old cotton mills, formerly of the Quidnick-Windham Manufacturing company plant, on Bridge street. The buildings are to be quickly renovated and generally brightened with a new coat of interior gloss white paint. The general preparations are for the reception of the machinery of the new silk concern and all work is being done at high speed so as not to delay the installation of the new machinery and motors. It is hoped that within a few weeks looms will be in operation in the manufacture of dress silks.

Robert T. Newton, chairman of the retail merchants' division of the chamber of commerce, has called a meeting of the members of the division for Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock to take action on a proposed special sales event to be conducted in cooperative manner later in the summer. Several committee chairmen are to report on preliminary preparations that have been underway for some time and material to be used, including price cards, posters and pennants, are to be displayed. While the exact nature of the event has not been made known at this time while awaiting the completion of plans, it is indicated that it will be one of the outstanding co-operative sales propositions ever attempted here.

Alva Loiselle, a graduate of Windham high school in the class of 1918 and son of Mr. and Mrs. Heliodore Loiselle, is receiving training on the use of the altimeter at Fort Adams, Newport, R. I., where he is stationed as a member of Battery D, Citizens' Military Training camp. The altimeter is a contrivance for ascertaining the range of aircraft, to bring into use the anti-aircraft guns.

JEWETT CITY

TWO STORY FARM HOUSE DESTROYED BY FLAMES

(Special to The Bulletin.)

JEWETT CITY, Aug. 2—The large two story house on the farm owned by Edward Sogan, situated about four miles above the borough on the Stone Hill road, was entirely burned about eleven o'clock Wednesday night. Miss Bessie McClurrane was acting as night operator at the telephone exchange and called for help from Jewett City and neighboring farms. Warden Jodoin was notified by J. H. McCarthy who had arrived at the fire that if the new engine went up, the barns and outbuildings might be saved, as there was a pond nearby.

Warden Jodoin drove the new truck, himself, to the scene, and two lines of hose were laid. By this means, all the other buildings were saved, the pumper working perfectly. Mr. Sogan lives on the farm alone, his parents being in New Jersey. He was overcome with grief at the loss of his home and was very grateful to the firemen for taking up the engine. He had built a fire in a stove that day and it is thought the fire came from the chimney, as it started upstairs. The house was built over fifty years ago by William Weeks, and was owned for several years by S. Frank Palmer. There was no insurance.

A Providence paper speaks highly of the exhibition of the Ashland Diving troupe at the 21st annual outing of the Pawtuxet Valley Textile association held at Frank Stenders Oakland Beach Yacht club. Under the direction of P. W. Chase, Mary Laframboise, Mildred Mondor and Roland Gillett demonstrated the swan, front jack knife and numerous other difficult dives, and Eugene Sharey gave an exhibition of eccentric diving. Mr. Chase explained methods of breaking death grips of drowning persons demonstrating with Miss Mondor. Mary Laframboise was his assistant in the demonstration of resuscitation. Mr. Chase is a Red Cross life saver, and holds the world's record for having resuscitated a person who had been in the water 12 minutes.

Miss Cynthia Crary and Bella Rude of Preston and Ruth Burton of Griswold are guests of Miss M. A. Burdick this week.

Miss Alice Brennan, R. N., the district nurse gives her report for July showing Metropolitan adult visits to 125, baby 24, total 147. John Hancock adult visits 17, other adults 85, baby 5, 2 deliveries, total number of visits 296. Bill sent to Metropolitan $98.25, to John Hancock $12.75, amount collected 32.70. Total $143.70.

The Chautauqua programme on Wednesday was one of the best. In the afternoon four young women gave a delightful program of music, costumed for the songs. In the evening their selections were equally attractive. The lecture by Dr. David D. Vaughan a Boston university instructor on The Right to Life, was a talk full of common sense, full of convincing facts, told as only a man thoroughly conversant with his subject could do.

Thursday afternoon the Junior Town gave a demonstration. They first had a parade in the tent. Arthur Tripp, Jr., the mayor of Junior Town announced the program. The girls gave folk dances, there was a health play, and a minstrel show. The officers of Junior Town are Mayor Arthur Tripp, Jr., town clerk, Adeline Jaskiewicz; news reporter, Carter Ford; first law and order commissioner, Margaret Mort; second, Raymond Cathcart; third, Rollin Tripp; first health commissioner, Janet Wilcox; second, David Wechsler; first service commissioner, Marian Wilbur; second, Thomas Ford; cheer leader, Stanley Nichols.

The boys did a number of stunts at the afternoon performance. Noale Bishara, impersonator presented an entertaining programme.

Chautauqua closed Thursday evening with the comedy-drama, Tommy.

"OVER THE COUNTER"

DEAR DOT:

Are you one of those troubled mothers who have labored under the illusion that boys cannot be dressed as attractively as girls? If you are then I am going to tell you how you can very speedily overcome this false idea. We have in Willimantic a store that is STRICTLY a BOYS' STORE and caters to boys between the ages of two and eighteen, in other words it takes care of your boy's wants from the time he first steps out to the time he receives his high school diploma.

Right now I must tell you the name of this store. It is called HURLEY'S BOYS' STORE and is the first store of it's kind in or around this city. It was established four years ago and has proved to be just the thing that Willimantic parents have been looking for and has a similar appeal to parents all over this section. They like this store because there they can find a large assortment of boys' clothing that could never be found in anything but a Boys' Store. They make outfitting boys a real study and understand it from beginning to end. They sell nothing for men but "EVERYTHING FOR BOYS."

There is going to be a sale there starting August 3 and ending August eleventh. While this big sale is on every piece of merchandise, wash suits, blazers, cowboy and Indian suits, wash pants in both knickers and shorts are among the items that will be greatly reduced for the event. The store is right next to Fullerton's. Now is the time to rig up the boys for school so let's go. Phone me the day that will be convenient

Yours, JANE.

THE PROBABLE POSTAL DEFICIT

According to Postmaster General New, the decision of the interstate commerce commission is going to be the straw that will break the back of that department. He doesn't say that the amount awarded to the railroads is unjustified but he calls attention to the helplessness of his department when he predicts that it faces a deficit this year that may reach $100,000,000.

What the postmaster general says cannot go without notice. He is dealing with facts and he is putting them forth at this time in order that there may be a fair appraisal of the department's responsibility when the end of the year comes. In pointing to the probable deficit he directs attention to the fact that congress has said what the postal rates must be. That has its bearing upon the revenue of the postoffice department, while the award of the interstate commerce commission fixes the price that the department must pay for the transportation of the mail. It isn't thus within the power of the department to deal with this matter in a business-like manner. However much the head of the department may strive and desire to make ends meet and avoid a deficit he finds that his hands are tied. He must accept the inevitable. If the rates prove displeasing to the public and business drops off the department has to suffer though it may not be the department's fault. If the transportation costs, as in the present instance involving a retroactive award that will impose a burden of $40,000,000 this year, are placed before the department and it is told to pay them it is again a situation which leaves little to the business judgment of the department.

Deficits in the postoffice department are not unusual. They are expected as a matter of course, but it is not customary for them to run as high as $100,000,000. Possibly this will not be the amount. The department may show better results than estimated and it is within the power of the postmaster general to make certain adjustments in rates. But the head of the department has unquestionably chosen the right time to indicate what may be expected in his department and the reasons for it.

A HIGHLY VALUABLE SERVICE

There exists in Boston the better business bureau which has been established for the purpose of giving advice to those who are confronted with investment problems. It is intended as an agency that will place obstacles in the way of the various schemes which are developed for the purpose of separating the gullible from their cash.

In the period of two months ending with June this bureau received 1863 inquiries in response to the urge of the bureau that there should be no investigation before people invested. Such, of course, applied to those who were not in a position to pass judgment upon such matters themselves and the resort to its service indicated the appreciation of the public.

Its work is in addition to what the financial institutions of the city are doing in a similar line, but even banks have found it desirable to employ its services. Reports which have been sent out following its investigations have unquestionably been of much value to the applicants, but what is of still greater importance is that when investigations have revealed conditions which should get the attention of the postal authorities or the police they have received prompt information. It is thus a doubly valuable service that is being provided and one that might well be extended to other cities.

STOCKING THE STREAMS

Conservationists and sportsmen alike in New Jersey are pointing to the fact that more than 80,000,000 fish have been placed in the inland waters of that state in a month. Perhaps as fish go that doesn't represent an unheard of increase in the finny population, but it cannot fail to be recognized as the proper thing to do if fish are to be had and sportsmen are to be appeased.

It isn't to be expected that there can be a constant and heavy drain on the resources of the streams without resorting to some such method of providing the fish. There will be the normal addition to the supply by the fish themselves, but with the large inroads made into the normal supply there must be replacements and it is through the product of the hatcheries that this situation can be and is being met. It is with the fish as it is with woodland. When the toll taken is greater than the normal increase efforts must be made to make up the difference in anticipation of future demands.

What New Jersey is doing in this respect is what has been going on in the state of Connecticut for years. Through the hatcheries operated by state and government, individuals and organizations secure many thousand of small fish which are placed in the ponds and streams for the purpose of providing fish that may be caught under legal restrictions later on. With more and more anxious to enjoy fishing each year it is a case of planning for something to catch.

Patience is one of the virtues of a real fisherman and yet he is more than willing to plant fish in the streams in advance in the expectation of having good fishing some day than to spend all his time waiting for a nibble, a bite or a single fish that might reward a day's efforts if nothing was done to stock the streams. It also means that instead of having the fish gradually wiped out there will be assurance that fishing will be not only better now but in future years. It is simply good business on the part of those who like to fish.

MEETING HIGHWAY CONDITIONS

The alarming increase in the number of automobile fatalities this year raises the question as to what is going to be done about it. There are officials who point to several things which have evidently contributed to the increase in the number of persons killed, and it is always possible to point to auto accidents and show how they might have been avoided and what the use of needed care would have prevented. Still the deaths increase.

In addition to the exercise of greater care by all users of the highways, it is evident that the condition in which the machines are kept plays no insignificant part in the fatality record. In some states the inspection of all cars for a certain period has resulted in interesting revelations concerning the poor equipment, bad brakes, improper lights and as a side issue the number of drivers who are operating without licenses.

There can be no escaping the fact that bad brakes figure conspicuously in the list of accidents. The car that is not in condition to be stopped within a reasonable distance, such distance varying according to the speed at which it is being driven, is a distinct menace to the highways. The car that is equipped with lights which are inadequate or not properly focused, mean trouble for other drivers, and inspections have shown that the percentage is large where improper lights exist.

Thus the test which may be held annually in a state must be looked upon as beneficial and yet if such a test maintained for a week or a fortnight really accomplishes something it would seem as if it ought to be held much more often. There are always those who escape such inspection. We have no doubt that those who know their cars will not pass muster take good care to avoid the inspectors, and yet until such dangers of the highway are eliminated accidents are being invited. Remove the cars which are not right mechanically, eliminate the incompetent drivers and deal less leniently with the reckless and the chance takers and it is firmly believed there will be an improvement in the safety on the highways.

LONG TERMED COURT CLERKS

Retirement and death removed two officials Thursday who have for long periods of years rendered valuable and painstaking service as clerks of the superior court in the eastern end of this state.

It was with much surprise that it was learned that Judge George E. Parsons, formerly judge of the Norwich probate court, had petitioned for retirement as clerk of the superior court for New London county. His record and his length of service were such as to entitle him to a rest from his duties which have piled up and grown much more arduous in the past decade, but it will nevertheless be with the sincere regret of lawyers and all others having business with that important office that his decision is learned. He has been a conscientious, diplomatic administrator of that office and has met the responsibility of the many duties in a most efficient manner. His 11 years as clerk and the previous 13 years as assistant clerk gave him a touch with court affairs in this county which was of the greatest value to the court and those having business with it.

By the death of Judge E. M. Warner at Putnam, Windham county has suffered a distinct loss. For a period of 27 years he had filled the clerkship in the superior court of Windham county and it was only the advancement of age and the approach of infirmities that brought about his retirement from that office two years ago. Highly capable and ever considerate of his responsibilities the superior court of the neighboring county had placed the utmost dependence upon his services until he had become a veritable fixture.

In both of these instances it has been the long and close attachment by each to these important offices and their successful direction of them which made the thoughts of changed conditions two years ago in the case of Judge Warner and now in the case of Judge Parsons so much regretted.

THE WORLD AT FOURTEEN

"We always have beans," Ernestine mentioned with sadness as she sat down carefully in her new pleated skirt. "When we formed the high school club and found there were so many of us we decided that we'd always have baked beans and gingerbread and caramels for our eats and then nobody would have to bother over thinking up nicer food each time than we had the time before, the way mother's bridge club does! Really, whenever it is time for her to entertain it she does not sleep for six nights planning a salad that nobody will be able to identify!

"It was my turn to have the high school club this week and the family acted as though I had done it on purpose, because you see it came the night before mother was giving a large bridge-luncheon and she said the mere idea of baking beans at that special moment was enough to make her want to end everything forever! Women do get so fussed over nothing at all! But I've found when she gets nervous that way the best thing I can do is to slide out from under until she gets over it.

"It was just as well that she and dad were invited out to a dinner party that night and so didn't have to take the responsibility for my crowd. We just have plates on our laps anyway and I could manage just as well as not by myself.

"When the girls came out to help me serve the food and we had got the beans from the oven and went to take the gingerbread out of the cake box we found that mother had left a surprise for us!—three dozen of the most luscious and gooey cake pastries, all filigree icing and nuts, and when we went to get ice we found molded salads, the kind I've always been crazy to serve the girls, only mother said they were too elaborate and fussy to give schoolgirls. But she had relented, I guess, for there they were all ready to be turned out on the lettuce leaves, and some perfectly spiffy heads of lettuce on the ice.

"I might have had a perfectly good night's sleep and been in better trim to stand trouble the next day—but no, mother had to go out to that icebox when she got home to be certain, she said, that her molded salads were setting properly. You see, all that stuff we ate was for her luncheon party the next day and she had worked hours over it. I simply never dreamed she'd be getting ready so far ahead of the time!

"Well, I guess there's not much use trying to tell of the excitement there was in our house when she realized what had happened and dashed in and woke me up. That's one thing I cannot understand about grown people—they can't seem to realize that when a thing has happened it's happened and that's all there is to it, and what's the use of having fits about it? As though it did a particle of good! Mother said she didn't dream there had been any need of taking me by the hand and pointing out the items of food I might touch because she understood we always had gingerbread and beans, and there were the gingerbread and beans in plain sight and cocoa in the big double boiler on the stove and our candy on the table in the usual bags—oh, yes, we had also found some luscious chocolates with little dewdads on top and we ate those, too, of course, and the salted nuts right beside them. Of course I did wonder what had got into mother to fix things for us so generously, but people do act that way sometimes and I concluded this was one of the times.

"Every time I'd think mother was all through and I'd begin to sink back on my pillows she'd walk some more and shake out her handkerchief and begin all over again and dad just stood there with his hands in his pockets looking sort of solemn and worried and undecided. I thought once he was about to laugh, but I guess I was wrong, because he frowned so afterward. Every time mother made a fresh start she ended with, 'But what on earth shall I do about tomorrow! What can I possibly do?' She seemed actually to want to know, so finally I said, why, the best thing to do would be just to explain to her company how it happened and that it was a mistake and I was terribly sorry.

"And then she did have hysterics! Father must have got an inspiration, because he put his arm around her and led her away, and so I did get a little sleep, and the next day a big delivery truck from town came out early with some perfectly gorgeous eats—only I heard mother say there went her new satin dress, whatever she might have meant by that!"—Chicago News.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Old Swimming Holes

Mr. Editor: I wonder how many of your older readers have at some time read, James Whitcomb Riley's poem about the Old "Swimmin'" Hole. As I read this real human recital of the happy days of childhood I can but think these Hoosier kids had nothing on the kid's of the eastern section of the Nutmeg state. For they too had the old "swimmin'" hole up at the "gates", the "burnt mill" and that one other place to which they all can turn back and recall the one spot where they learned to swim in a natural pool in the Shetucket river called the "warm water."

This was just below the "waste away" which was an outlet for the canal. Here many years ago happened a very pathetic tragedy when a young man named Ossian Hill, a brother of Jahliel Hill, was carried over the edge by the water and dashed to death on the jagged rocks below and it was said some of the big boys stood by and made no effort to render any assistance. This happened if you refer to the files of The Bulletin say some 62 years ago for The Bulletin had a very complete account of it at the time.

There were many other swimming places, notably the "little gates", so called, which is the pond that supplies the Norwich Belt. Co., with water. Of course this was close to the road but in the days of long ago there were no gas wagons and there was very little traffic. Directly opposite the tannery there was a dense woods that reached as far as 16th street and in the center of this was a small lake and here we would go on Sundays when we were chased from the other places by the constable, John Wilbur. Say you young old fellows, do you remember him. He was a blacksmith and his shop was right next to Jake Metzger's who was a wagon builder, between 8th and 9th street. Yes, he broke up many a good game of ball on Sunday and we had to beat it many times and leave our shoes and coats. Gee those were the times that tried boys' souls. And today they can play any old place, with no interference. The world surely does move and the people with it. And how uncertain every thing is, for we are here today and tomorrow we may be in New York.

These letters may not be interesting to the boys of today, but to the boys of yesterday they will serve to recall some of the scenes and incidents of long ago. And perhaps they will create a feeling of happiness for they bring back memories of boyhood days.

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grownups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless. Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

LOCKJAW AND ITS PREVENTION

By Frank K. Boland, M. D., Atlanta, Ga., Member Gorgas Memorial

To use an Irishism, the best way to cure lockjaw, or tetanus, is not to have it. After the disease is once established very few patients ever recover. Its prevention, however, can be almost guaranteed, provided antitetanic serum is administered within a few hours after receipt of an injury. Lockjaw is usually preceded by a wound, whether the wound is evident or not. Ordinarily the damage is decidedly apparent, as when a boy steps on a nail in the yard.

The idea prevails that rusty nails are an indispensable cause of lockjaw. It is not the nail which is responsible for the disease, but the germs which the nail carries into the flesh with it; therefore this germ, the tetanus bacillus, may be carried into the body by any object, wether it is rusty or not. Penetrating wounds are more likely to result in the disease than superficial ones, because the tetanus germ does not thrive and propagate in the presence of air.

One of the favorite haunts of this dangerous organism is the intestinal canal of animals, including man. For this reason the soil of stable yards and or manured ground is especially apt to produce tetanus when introduced into a wound. Until antitetanic serum became a routine prophylactic measure among thesoldiers of the World war, wounded on Flanders' richly fertilized fields, the mortality from tetanus was appalling.

The malady manifests itself within one or two weeks after an injury, or even earlier. One of the first symptoms is soreness of the jaw muscles, soon followed by inability to open the jaws. Violent convulsions ensue, with delirium and high fever, and death may rapidly relieve the victim of his suffering. Tetanus toxin is one of the most powerful poisons known to medical science.

Treatment of lockjaw is notoriously unsuccessful, even with antitetanic serum. Prevention is all-important. The first thing done for an American soldier wounded on the French battlefield was to give him an injection of tetanus antitoxin: seven days later he received a second dose, and seven days later a third dose. The result was that lockjaw rarely developed. One dose generally is all that is necessary to present the disease in civilian wounds.

Several years ago, before the use of the antitoxin became so prevalent, on the Fourth of July hundreds of people died from tetanus caused by penetrating wounds from missilels and gunpowder burns. Today antitoxin given promptly saves these lives.

Every wound of any kind should receive antisepctic treatment to forestall ordinary infection, but this is not alway enough. If it is a deep or lacerated wound, or is likely to have been contaminated by soil of any kind, a physician should be consulted immediately as to the advisability of administering tetanus antitoxin. The universal observance of such a rule would place lockjaw along with typhoid fever as a rapidly disappearing disease.

A Modern Occupation

He was the "gentleman" of a family of hard working people. He spent the greater part of his time going from place to place, looking for work and hoping he wouldn't find it. When the census was taken he was asked his occupation. He studied a moment then answered "Tourist."

For Efficiency

Mary, age three and a half, was very much interested in watching an adult remove his artificial teeth and clean them. All at once a bright idea popped into her head.

"Mother," she exclaimed, "I wish we would have my teeth cut off so that I could take them out to clean them. There is not room enough for the brush in my mouth."

A check of the books for a single day in the "accident ward" of Charity Hospital, New Orleans, recently revealed the following diversification of injuries treated by the prysicians assigned to that part of the spacious hospital: One patient with a bug in his ear, one with a rose bud in his nostril, one bitten by a crab, one with a cinder in his eye, a dozen or more with nails in their feet, three with splinters in their hands or feet, one with a piece of gravel in his foot and one bitten by a dog. Asked if the day's record of injuries was not an unusual one, the doctors said "it was only a normal day."

Nurse Saved This Baby
From Chafing, Scalding, Rashes by Use of Sykes Comfort Powder
West Chester, Ct.—"Sykes Comfort Powder has been used on this little boy with great success in keeping his skin free from chafing, scalding, rashes and soreness which is the cause of so much misery among children. In my eleven years work as a nurse I have never found anything to equal Sykes Comfort Powder."—Lottie E. Sloper, West Chester, Ct.
The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is so successful in healing and preventing chafing, scalding, rashes and skin irritations is because it contains healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums. Nurses call it "A Healing Wonder."

After an illness of about two months, the death of George A. Ashbey, assistant treasurer of the J. B. Martin company, occurred Thursday evening at his home, No. 111 Broad street.

Mr. Ashbey was born in Mystic, June 1, 1869, his parents being George B. Ashbey and Catherine Holdredge Ashbey. He attended the Mystic schools and later studied in New London. Coming to Norwich when a young man, he was employed for a number of years in the office of the Norwich and New York Transportation company which operated the boat line between this city and New York. Later he was transferred to Boston, where he lived for a short time, but then returned to Norwich. When the J. B. Martin company was located here Mr. Ashbey went with them in the financial department of their office and has continued with the concern for 28 years, being assistant treasurer at the time of his death.

Mr. Ashbey has been a member of the Central Baptist church for many years and his long association with the church has been marked by unswerving adherence to its faith with conscientious and valuable service in the church activities in which he participated. He was the Sunday school treasurer for ten years, the church clerk for nearly ten years and also a trustee of the church. For many years also he has been a member of the Arcanum club.

STATE EDITORS TO SEE HYDRO-ELECTRIC DEVELOPMENT

Members of the Connecticut Editorial association, and other representatives of newspapers in the state are to be the guests Saturday of the Connecticut Light and Power company for the annual summer outing of the editorial association which will be held at Lake Candlewood, in New Milford, the new hydro-electric plant of the power company.

This program begins at 11 o'clock. From 11:30 to 12:30 there will be inspection of the power house and dam. Dinner will be from 12:30 to 2. From 2 to 4, trips on the lake or along its shores. For the former launches and for the latter cars will be provided by the company, so that guests will not have to use their own.

Through the operation of this Rocky river development, electrical power which once was lost because science had discovered no method by which to store it, may now be converted into potential energy and stored until required for use. This is accomplished by using the excess electrical energy, formerly wasted, to pump water from the Housatonic river into a huge reservoir 230 feet feet above the plant and later allowing the water to rush down again through a penstock to operate a turbogenerator to reconvert the energy of the stored water into electrical power. This develops more than 24,000 kilowatts or 33,300 horsepower.

FEWER EGGS IN 39TH WEEK OF STORRS CONTEST

Production in the Storrs laying contest during the thirty-ninth week showed an expected decline as the contest flock of 1,400 pullets shelled out 5,474 eggs for a lay of 55.9 per cent. This is 173 eggs less than the score for the preceding week but a gain of 37 eggs over the production for the corresponding week a year ago. Up to Monday night the contest flock had produced a grand total of 214,145 eggs. This is an average of 1,529 eggs for each of the 140 competing entries or approximately 153 eggs per bird. In thirty-nine weeks the present competition has gained 11,226 over last year's competition.

George Lowry's leading pen of White Leghorns from West Willington, Conn., laid 65 eggs during the thirty-ninth week to head the honor roll again. Lowry's birds have now placed first, or tied for first, on the honor roll in twelve of the past thirteen weeks.

George B. Ferris's White Leghorn entry from Grand Rapid's, Mich., took second place on the honor roll with a lay of 63 eggs. The Rhode Island Red entry of Clarence E. Lee from Auburn, N. Y., and the White Leghorn pen entered by Hollywood Poultry Farm from Woodinville, Wash., each laid 62 eggs to tie for third position. Another White Leghorn team owned by George Lowry placed fourth with a score of 61 eggs to its credit.

First and Second For Lowry

Two changes took place among the leaders in the principal varieties during the past week. In the Rhode Island Red division the pen owned by the Globus Poultry farm from Attleboro, Mass., passed the West Neck farm entry from Huntington, N. Y., to take third position. In the White Leghorn division George Lowry's pen No. 65 passed the entry of Broadview farm from Winsted, Conn., to take second place.

Lowry's leading entry, which is No. 66, has in thirty-nine weeks established a score that by only one egg is lacking a 2,300-egg total. This pen continues to produce at a rate of almost 93 per cent. and the birds are in excellent condition. And to make things all the more interesting, now Lowry's other Leghorn entry climbs up into second place in the Leghorn class and third among all contestants. These birds are laying better than 85 per cent at the present time, and they, too, give every indication for holding up well for some time to come. The record that George Lowry is making in the seventeenth contest is one of the most remarkable ever made at Storrs. He has two pens entered, one of which leads the entire field with a score of 2,299 eggs, and the other stands third with a count of 2,055 eggs to its credit.

Selecting Contest Pullets

Professor Roy H. Waite, supervisor of the Maryland egg laying contests conducted at College Park, Maryland, was one of the guest speakers on the Farmers' week program which closed at Storrs today. "What the Egg Laying Contest Has Taught Us" was the subject of Professor Waite's talk, and during the course of his remarks the poultrymen received some valuable pointers on the selection of contest pullets. He advised the selection of pullets that will lay their first egg near the date the contest begins. The best of feed should be given the birds during the growing period, he said, and never enter a bird that has in any way been stunted. At the same time the prospective contest pullets should not be "pampered," and medicines and "dope" of any kind, Professor Waite believed, were of no value. Selection of the contest birds can best be made on the basis of performance by near relatives. Concluding, Professor Waite said especial care should be taken in the crating and shipping of the contest pullets.

TOOK ADVICE OF HER MOTHER

Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wetmore, Colo.—"When I was married 14 years ago I was in bad health for a couple of years and when I tried to do anything I would get tired and worn-out. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound off and on all these years and have recommended it to hundreds of women. I have given birth to six children and have taken the Vegetable Compound as a tonic before child birth. It has done me worlds of good. My mother had taken it several times and she recommended it to me."—Mrs. Joseph Brabeck, Wetmore, Colorado.

N. B. A. ENDORSES MULDOON'S PLAN FOR CHOOSING SUCCESSOR TO TUNNEY

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, August 2—That the National Boxing association would approve the plan of William Muldoon and Gene Tunney for a series of elimination tournaments to select a successor to Tunney for the heavyweight crown was announced here tonight by President Thomas E. Donohue at a dinner given to Connecticut newspapermen. The dinner was given by Ernest J. Fakourey, owner of the new New London A. C. arena which was officially opened by State Commissioner Donohue.

The guest of honor at the dinner was Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, light heavyweight champion of the world who through his manager Joseph Smith announced that he would file a claim for Tunney's vacated title. Loughran was in New London to confer with Donohue relative to his filing a claim with the N. B. A. for the title. Loughran in speaking of his title aspirations said he realized that he would have to meet some fast boys on the road to the crown but was confident that he could give them a good rub for the title.

Mr. Donohue's statement follows:

"The National Boxing association hereby announce its hearty endorsement and approval of the plan proposed by and accredited to William Muldoon and Gene Tunney. This plan recommends the award of a trophy to the survivor of an elimination tournament, said tournament to determine a worthy successor to the title left vacant by the retirement of Gene Tunney.

"While there is great consternation at the present moment regarding Tunney's likely successor, and a frenzied rush by boxers and their managers to lay claim to the vacated title, the association feels the necessity of weighing the situation with careful deliberation and thought.

"The association believes that there is, somewhere in the realm of the association, and its affiliated bodies, such as the International Boxing union, a man, or men, as yet unknown and unheralded who may come to the front within the next few months.

"Such a man, or men, the association feels, should be deserving of consideration as a successor to the throne, providing, naturally, he is able to survive matches with the victors in whatever tournament or tournament are staged anywhere in the world, and by any promoter.

"No one survivor of a single elimination tornament, the association believes, will be a worthy successor to Gene Tunney unless he has defeated the finalists in any other tournament that may be staged.

"The association, therefore, is most willing and ready to extend to promoters, matchmakers, managers and boxers, whatever cooperation possible in the elimination selection of the man able to wear, and defend, the heavyweight championship crown as worthily as Gene Tunney."

BROWNS GIVE YANKEES ANOTHER BAD SETBACK

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 2—(AP)—The roar of the Athletics became louder in the ears of the Yankees this evening as the Browns nosed out the champions by 4 to 3 in fifteen innings after the rushing Mackmen had taken Cleveland into camp, 6 to 0, earlier in the day for the tenth straight Philadelphia victory. The St. Louis game was broken up by Wally Stewart who won his own decision by combing a single from Herb Pennock with the bases filled and none out in the fifteenth and early evening shadows creeping upon Sportsman's park.

Stewart relieved Johnny Ogden in the ninth after the starting hurler had stepped aside for a pinch batsman while the Browns were pushing home two runs in the eighth to tie the score. Wally gave the Yankees only six safeties in seven innings.

Pennock went the route for the champions on top of having pitched two relief innings at Cleveland two days ago. He weakened toward the end yielding seven hits in the last four rounds out of a total of fifteen. Blue's single, O'Rourke's double and an intentional pass to Schang set the stage for Stewart in the fifteenth.

Babe Ruth walked twice, and fell a victim to strikes before Stewart, the third one being called in each instance.

The defeat dropped the Yankees to within four and one-half games of the flying Athletics, who have taken ten straight and seventeen out of their last eighteen.

CARLSON WINS CLOSE GAME FROM THE ROBINS

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 2—(AP)—Harold Carlson, making his first start of the season, defeated Brooklyn here today, 3 to 2, in the opening game of the series. Although outhit by 9 to 5, the Cubs won by bunching Maguire's single with two errors by Flowers, an infield out and a sacrifice in the sixth. Riggs Stephenson's homer in the second accounted for the other Chicago run.

Doug McWeeny and Rube Ehrhardt held the enemy reasonably well in check at all times, but could not withstand the failure of their supporting cast. The Robins bunched three singles for a run in the fourth, and added another in the seventh on Flowers' single and a triple by Joe Harris, pinch batsman for McWeeney. Score:

FINLAND HAS ANOTHER CHAMPION

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Amsterdam, Aug. 2—(AP)—Finland trotted out a successor to Nurmi in the Olympic 1,500 meters this afternoon and the slim 20-year-old star, Henry Larva, responded by outrunning the French threat "Chesty Jules" Ladoumegue and smashing Paavo's Olympic record.

This latest addition to the Flying Finns demonstrated why Nurmi now is confining his efforts to the longer distances by galloping around the field and past all rivals to break the tape in 3 minutes, 53 1-5 seconds, just 2-5 seconds better than Nurmi's 1924 record.

Larva's victory in this Olympic classic in which the lone American, Ray Conger finished tenth, featured the fifth day of the Olympic track and field competition. One world's and two more Olympic records went by the boards as the United States obtained the slimmest results yet. Finland, Sweden, Germany and Japan divided the day's principal sports.

The United States had a second place in the hop, step and jump by Levi Casey and a sixth and the women's 800 meter final by Florence MacDonald so far for the entire day's scoring, being shut out completely in the javelin throw as well as the 1,500 meter final. Preliminary trials produced an even break in the 400 meters flat in which Ray Barbuti and Herman Phillips easily qualified, but Joe Tierney and Emil Snider were eliminated.

Javelin honors returned to Sweden for the first time since 1912 as a young sign painter, E. H. Lundquist, smashed the Olympic record with a throw the equivalent of 219 feet, 6 1-8 inches and beat a field in which all six finalists surpassed 207 feet. Mikio Oda, won the hop, step and jump for Japan's first Olympic championship with 49 feet 10 13-16 inches as the 1924 champion, A. W. Winter, of Australia failed even to qualify.

The only women's final, the 800, produced one of the day's most sensational races and was won by a sturdy German frau, Lina Radke, in world's record time as all six point winners, including the American girl bettered the former mark. Frau Radke's time was 2 minutes, 16 4-5 seconds, more than seven seconds faster than her own former world's record.

The United States, adding only five points to its men's team score, still holds a commanding lead with 128 1-2, but Sweden served notice it is ready to make a strong finish by moving up to second place with 48, displacing Great Britain whose total after 15 events is now 37.

GIANTS GO INTO SECOND PLACE BY BEATING REDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—(AP)—The Giants took second place from the Reds by one point here today, winning the opener of a four-game series by 7 to 5. Cincinnati remains half a game ahead of New York in games, but lags in percentage through having lost three more than McGraw's club while winning only four more.

The turning point came in the fifth when, after Terry had been purposely passed to fill the bases, Jackson doubled, scoring two runs. That broke a 2 to 2 tie, giving the Giants an advantage which they never thereafter lost. Red Lucas, one of four Cincinnati pitchers, was in the box at the time.

Joe Genewich was hit hard in spots but weathered every storm, and won with something to spare. In addition to Lucas, Jack Hendricks called on Kolp, Jablonowski and Carl Mays. Jim Welsh and Bill Zitzmann hit home runs. Score:

THREE AMERICAN CREWS COME SAFELY THROUGH ROWING TRIALS

By FRANK H. KING
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

SLOTAN, Holland, Aug. 2—(AP)—Only one of four boatloads of American oarsmen met defeat as the Olympic rowing regatta opened today on the Slotan canal and that was the Harvard four which has a good chance to get back into the running for an Olympic title as the new draw among the losers sends the Americans against the Japanese who made an unimpressive showing against the Poles, losing by ten lengths.

Harvard's huskies were beaten by only 4-5 second by the strong German crew which is one of the favorites in the four with coxswain class, while the big University of California Eight, came through its first test in sensational style crushing Belgium by eight lengths over the 2000 meter distance—just 13 yards short of a mile and a quarter—at which all the Olympic races are rowed.

America's other two victories were gained by oarsmen from Philadelphia. Ken Myers, the Bachelor's Barge club sculler, who stokes a locomotive on a Philadelphia-Jersey City run when not rowing for Uncle Sam, won under wraps from Henry De Kok, South American champion, by a length and John Schmidt and Paul McDowell of the Penn Barge club trimmed the Belgians, E. Van Wolokson and Van Den Driesche, by two lengths in the pair-oared shell without coxswain class.

In addition to the Harvard quartet which meets Japan at 4:30 p. m., three other American boatloads will see action tomorrow as today's winners rest. The American double scullers, Charles McIlvaine and the veteran Paul Costello, both of the Penn A. C., Philadelphia, make their bow against the Swiss at 2:40 p. m. The American pair oared shell with coxswain, consisting of Augustus E. Goetz and Joseph Dougherty at the oars and 14-year-old Tom Mack, Jr., at the helm, all of the Penn A. C., takes on Italy and the American four without coxswain from the Penn Barge club meets Germany.

Favorites generally emerged victorious today and indications are that Americans, British, Canadians and Germans will be fighting it out for titles in the finals on August 10.

California was easily the most impressive crew on the picturesque Sloten canal course which is elevated 20 feet above the surrounding countryside. Most of the scullers and crews were satisfied with victories by narrow margins, making close races out of events which could have been runaways, but Ky Ebright, coach of the Golden Bears, sent them in to row the course in the best time possible and they did it in 6 minutes 21 1-5 seconds as compared with 6:47 for the Belgians.

The Thames Rowing club eight, representing England, rated as one of the favorites, covered the distance in just 4-5 second slower time than the Americans in defeating Italy by half a length, but the British outfit was far from fresh at the finish. Two of its members—Beresford and Nickalls—appeared exhausted.

California rowed smoothly at 36 strokes to the minute over most of the course and led at the halfway mark by four lengths. With the aid of a 40 stroke to the minute spurt at the finish the gap was increased to twice as much as they crossed the line. The victory left the Californians still unbeaten in a season which has seen them triumph over the best crews of their own country and extend their conquests abroad.

It took a stalwart crew of young German business men, who hold the championship of their own country, to lead Harvard home. The American collegians seemed somewhat nervous, their coxswain included, although they were giving stroke for stroke all the way. In the stretch drive they could not quite match the Germans' spurt which brought victory by less than a yard. Most of the German oarsmen showed up well today as they have in previous Olympic events.

The one German reverse came in the single sculls when Bob Pearce, sensational young Australian, outclassed the Teuton champion, Flinsch. The Germans scored two victories over France, first in the coxwainless pair-oared shells and then in the eight by two lengths. Japan had a disastrous day, her sculler, Ishii, quitting at the half way point against Straka of Czechoslovakia.

Neshier Myers, Joe Wright of Canada, and Pearce were extended in their sculling heats.

The American crews, the California eight and Harvard four, were boated the same as they were in the try-out races in the United States.

Judge Rutherford's address, "Ruler for the People," as well as a select musical program preceding and following, will be heard through more than a hundred station.

Breed Theatre

The long-distance flights, headed, of course, by Lindbergh's feat, has caused intense interest in aviation. Now comes the aviation comedy, showing the lighter side of the air game. At the Breed theatre today and Saturday is "Flying Romeos," a fast-moving comedy from the First National Studios featuring George Sidney and Charlie Murray.

Always popular as a comedy team, Sidney and Murray surpass even their former efforts in this laugh opus, for they keep the audience in convulsions during most of the picture.

It is the story of a pair of barbers who decide to become aviators. They find they must take instruction from the man who is in love with the girl they both admire. Then they are mistaken for expert airmen and before they know it they are off for a trans-Atlantic flight.

The happenings when they leave the mainland and are on their way give rise to many situations, and the tempo and laughter are maintained to the final fade-out.

"Flying Romeos" is an ace of comedies, and a good hearty laugh for fliers and non-fliers alike. It is a timely film and another credit to the comedy team of Sidney and Murray.

EXPOSES NATION-WIDE RUBBER TIRE SWINDLE

The arraignment recently of Joseph Remerre, 24 years old, of 341 East 72d street, New York, before Magistrate McAndrews in West Side Court, after his arrest for misrepresenting merchandise, has brought to light a nation-wide swindle in the sale of tires which is operating in a number of states.

How the tire swindlers carry out their deception on motorists by representing their wares as the products of nationally known rubber companies, which were merely the discarded tires re-vulcanized and encased in paper wrappers, was described before the court as follows:

A truck occupied by two men, draws up alongside another motor car halted in traffic. One of the men would ask the driver of the car if he wanted to buy a tire or two cheap. U. S. Royal Cord being the make usually offered. They would offer to sell for $25, two tires priced at $25.00 each and sometimes would reduce the price to $18.00 the pair. When the prospective purchaser showed disbelief of the statement they would tear aside some of the wrapper and show the U. S. stamp on the tire. If the motorist bought the tires he would find upon examining them that they were battered used tires and the U. S. was part of the stamp "Made in U S."

The nation-wide ramifications of this form of tire swindle have prompted representatives of the United States Rubber company to make a country-wide drive for the benefit of the rubber industry and the public, in order to halt it.

In this work the National Better Business bureau and the Better Business Bureau of New York are giving the fullest cooperation.

Palace Theatre

When Esther Ralston gives herself to interpreting a part, the audience is assured of a faithful and absorbing interpretation. The large audience at the Palace theatre last night remained bound by her spell as she depicted the life, the mannerisms and emotions of the pleasure-mad girl, the heroine of her latest starring picture for Paramount, "Half a Bride."

The picture is a timely discussion of companionate marriage and the irresponsible flights of wealthy American youth. It is filled with interest of characterization and locale, splendidly acted and well throught out.

The story deals with a girl who, at 21, has tasted all the thrills which life can hold. As a final gasp she enters into a marriage with the companion of an evening, inspired by a mad impulse and a lecture on companionate marriage. Her father breaks up the ill-advised union by kidnapping her and taking her on a long sea voyage aboard his yacht.

She escapes from the yacht in a launch, but the young captain of the yacht jumps overboard after her. A storm arises and they are cast ashore on a deserted island where the girl learns to work and love.

Paramount has seized upon a timely subject in this theme of companionate marriage and has produced an excellently made, well directed, superbly acted moving picture which is one hundred per cent. entertaining. It presents a favorite star in a new and advantageous light.

Five excellent acts of vaudeville consisting of DeSylvia's Night Club revue, Davis & Meyers in comedy bits, Jimmy Ryan & Co., in "Gal O' Mine", Mammy Jenny the Dixie Songstress and The Freeborns very clever equilibrists make a very enjoyable program.

DEALING WITH PRESENT DAY CONDITIONS

(Written Specially for The Bulletin.)

Sugar is a great deal pleasanter to swallow than quinine.

Flattery is much sweeter to the ear than scoldings.

Optimism is both easier and cheaper than pessimism.

These and kindred reasons explain the liking of the crowd for "Pollyanna" mush. They also explain the habit too general among those who would rather be popular than be right, of excusing present tendencies of flappers and floppers, of bootleggers and hi-jackers, of yeggmen and gunmen, as being really no worse than they used to be.

If a speaker or writer wants to be "in demand" from the big-eared and not over-intelligent public, he knows that the surest recipe is to slobber that public over with soft soap about its good looks or its soaring intelligence or its noble character.

That's the sort of stuff that "takes big" and calls for encores from sentimentalists and similar saneheads.

But it is NOT the sort of stuff with which real men want to be fed. The truth may be more often is less palatable than a sugar-coated lie. But it is more nutritious, for all that. It is better food.

Even if it were not, real men would choose it because it is the truth, a fragment of the eternal verities, and not a camouflage of deception woven by the Father of Lies.

In the course of my rather desultory reading, of late, I've happened on three statements which seem to me to be much better worth public attention than any of the optimistic stuff of smooth-speaking flatterers from either press or platform or pulpit.

One is an interview, given almost two years ago, by Judge McIntyre of the New York court of general sessions and rather widely discussed at the time, but now almost foreign. The interviewer said to him 'There are many today who declare that criminal tendencies are not alarmingly apparent in the youth of the country; that our young people today are not noticeably different from those of 20 years ago. Are you of that opinion?" Judge McIntyre's answer was instant and stern.

"I am not! Moreover, I object to the term 'crime wave.' It suggests a temporary outburst! In my opinion the criminal tendencies acutely apparent among our young today are not an outburst. They are, rather, the logical climax of the slow steady increase in crime which commenced 12 or 15 years ago and is still mounting rapidly.

Most of the serious crime today is being carried on by young people. . . Our forgers, burglars, hold-up men, murderers are mostly young people between the ages of 16 and 23." He added that these criminals came from all classes of society, including "well-educated girls, with cultivated speech, from good residential districts. Some of our young men criminals are college graduates."

Pressed to explain the reasons for this degeneracy Judge McIntyre finally wrote out the following list of what he considers eight of the more outstanding causes:

"1. Lack of religious training in childhood.

"2. Absence of parental authority and discipline.

"3. Failure to instill ideals of modesty and chastity in female children.

"4. The age-old problem of liquor.

5. The production, by dissipated parents, of paranoiac children.

"6 Unsupervised amusements: including especially "joy riding," cheap movies and indecent modern dances.

"7. Lack of proper recreational facilities in most neighborhoods.

"8. Unwillingness of young people today to work hard, and indulgence of this laziness by foolish parents."

When you've considered these eight springs of infection, further glance at a ninth, set forth by Judge Kavanagh of Chicago in a recent formal address before the Maryland Bar association. Judge McIntyre didn't include legal mal-administration and court inefficiency in his list; Judge Kavanagh put it practically alone in his diagnosis. He said:

"Police are underpaid and subject to bribery. Judgments of courts are easily reversible because of mere technicalities. Judges are not permitted, as in England, to assist in discovering the truth, but sit as mere automatons. The entire legal procedure is too complicated and uncertain.

"Unless this country handles the crime situation properly our republican form of government must fail. The traditional reasons given for the situation are poverty, drunkenness and illiteracy. None of these suffice. This is the richest nation in the world; it is the most sober country in the world, and we stand fourth in the list of the most educated.

"Nevertheless, there were 12,000 murders in the United States last year. There were 274 in Chicago. On the other hand, in London last year there were only twenty-seven murders. There is no mystery about this. A man who contemplates murder in London realizes that within six or seven weeks at the most he will climb the gallows and die.

"In the United States such a man realizes that, if he is careful, the chances are six or seven to one that he will never be arrested, even. If arrested they are fifteen to one that he will never be convicted, and, if convicted 110 to 1 that he will never die for his crime."

In the above quotations you get the views of two eminent judges, whose work brings them into daily overlook of criminals and crime. Now for a third view of the situation from a layman.

John R. Voorhis, president of the New York city board of elections, observed his 39th birthday last Friday. He is still "on the job" every day, rain or shine, and everything has to go through his hands before it leaves the office. His mind is admittedly not only perfectly clear but unusually active. Asked on his birthday what his impressions were of the people who inhabited New York 80 years ago as compared with those who dwell in it now, he answered in emphatic tones, with a smart blow of his fist on his desk:

"They weren't as bad then as now. There wasn't half the crime then that there is now. There was less drinking then. There were drinking saloons or porter houses, as they called them in those days, but you seldom saw any drunken people on the streets. In those days people had more regard for the opinions of their neighbors than they seem to have today. They were more self-respecting, more concerned about their reputations and their conduct.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the New Yorkers of that day were a better class of people than they are today. The people then were more intent on their work and on making their way through life and acquiring a competency so that they might in their later days be able to live comfortably and take care of those dependent on them."

To any one who is engaged in any sort of productive work, there is tremendous significance in that last sentence of Mr. Voorhis. It is now extremely difficult, often impossible, to find assistants in any such enterprise who care a straw for accomplishment; or whose ambition extends a hair's breadth beyond the attainment of shorter hours and bigger wages. They all want to be rich, but they want to get rich quickly and easily. They don't propose to strain their backs working for anything or anybody.

There were drones and shirks in the old days; always have been and always will be. But even I, who am still more than 20 years short of Mr. Voorhis' 39, can remember when such impedimenta were relegated to their proper places in the rear. They were recognized for what they were and kept back, not sent to the van to set the pace. The men who led in those days, whether in one form of industry or another, were men who looked upon work as a means to an end, and stinted neither hours nor strength to attain that end. It was they who made the America we inherited. It is only men like them who can transmit it, unimpaired, to oncoming generations.

It isn't the pursuit of the "easy snap", which forms national character and builds nations to endure.

Yet it is that very thing—the chase of the "easy snap"—which seems to characterize the modern tendency.

It is not confined to the lower classes; it is as rife on the avenue as in the slums; as evident among the so-called elite as among the so-called common herd.

Of course, the ballyhooers of self-satisfaction come back at any such talk with the remark that there have always been pessimists in every generation who were sure the country was going to the dogs. It hasn't gone yet, they snicker. Well, when you read the facts set forth by Judges McIntyre and Kavanaugh you'll have duller ears than even my old ones if you don't hear "the demnition bow-wows" uncomfortably close on your track.

There are two ways of creating such a state of things. One is to ignore it; deny it; laugh sneeringly at those who try to call your attention to the baying of the hell-hounds. The other is to recognize the danger and seek means to avoid it or repel it.

One thing is appallingly clear. In our zeal for material success and our greed for material results and our craving for material luxury, we have minimized the demand for character. As Mr. Voorhis reports, the national character has degenerated in his day. It is not what it was.

How to restore it?

Ah, that's another question! It can't be done by adding fresh edicts to already superfluous enactments. It can't be done by any governmental agency whatever. It can't be done over night. It is a process which must begin at the cradle, persist in the home, the school, the church, in social life.

"Not what we have but what we are Makes up the sum of living."

This isn't mere poetic fervor, nor out-of-date morals. It is the terse statement of an eternal truth which we can't alter either by poon-poohing it or denying it, any more than we can stop the sun shining by shutting our eyes. All we can do by that latter action is to deprive ourselves of the light which is set for our guidance, which is simply to demonstrate our own damphoolishness.

We are already snubbed and hogtied by laws and ordinances governing our every activity. We mustn't do this and we're forbidden to do that and we're arrested for doing 'tother. There are so many unenforcible or inherently bad laws on the statute-books that we're all balled up by their complexities uncertainties and manifest injustices. There's room for more. One can't sweeten a stinking omelet by breaking more rotten eggs into the skillet.

It all comes back to the fact that we must rely upon the slow processes of education in the home, the school and in life, to change the course and set up character as the ultimate goal. It may be pessimistic to dwell on our blunders. But isn't it simple common sense to recognize them and use them as "awful examples" of what not to do, next time?

THE FARMER

No aching, burning feet for him now

Local bell-hop tells how Coolene gave him "new feet for old"

A bell-hop with crippled feet is about as useful as an iceman at the North Pole.

At least that's what Mr. Samuel Silverman, popular bell-hop at the Wauregan Hotel, right here in Norwich, discovered when his feet started to ache and grow callouseds.

It got so bad he could hardly walk upstairs. He knew he just had to get rid of that awful burning and tired sensation; so he went about it in a sensible way. Here, in his own words, he tells just what happened:

"The best tip I ever got as a bell-hop was 'try Coolene!' That's what my druggist told me when I complained about my feet being sore and tired. How they used to burn! I thought they'd start to smoke! But Coolene ended all that for good. I put some on in the evening and it stopped that awful burning that used to torture me so. I use it in the mornings now, too—and my feet feel just great. Never a corn or a callous these days. It's like walking on balloon tires all right!"

Coolene soothes and heals sore, aching feet—instantly! It contains rare, penetrating oils—and two world-old, soothing unguents—frankincense and myrrh, used by the ancients for centuries.

Get Coolene today. This wonderful healing cream takes all the burning and soreness out of corns, callouses, bunions and blisters. Coolene is ivory-white, greaseless, stainless. Easy to use. Vanishes instantly.

Relief guaranteed from burning, aching, tired feet—or its small cost refunded. Sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere, such as: Lee & Osgood, J. A. Morgan, Andrew McLaughlin, G. G. Engler.

DANIELSON

NOT TO PROSECUTE BOYS WHO BROKE INTO SCHOOL

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, Aug. 2—A conference this morning between Supt. W. E. Parker and Chairman F. E. Bitgood of the town school committee and Chief John McFarland seemed to bring to a close consideration of just how to handle the cases of boys who made their way into the School street school last Sunday and upset several rooms as well as taking away some school supplies. Because of the tender years of the culprits there will be no prosecution. The guilty boys have not escaped, however, without being given a sufficiently mild degree to impress with the seriousness of their wanton activities.

Tonight, varying their regular plans, Rotarians of the Danielson club assembled at the Mortlake house in Brooklyn for their weekly gathering. There was, of course, the usual dinner, followed by discussion of the program and general plans for the next twelve months. Among other things the Danielson Rotary club hopes to do this year is to raise a fund, through entertainments and by other means, to be used for some community purpose. At this evening's meeting each member was given an opportunity to express his ideas about plans for the year's work.

Out of Foster comes the information that there will be no action taken against the three men held by state troopers after the finding of the body of Mrs. Rose Blair beside the highway last Sunday afternoon. One of those held was John Edgerly of this town. An autopsy having established that the dead woman was a victim of alcoholism, officials were interested in merely checking up relative to an orgy of drinking that went on last Saturday night and into the early hours of Sunday morning at the old stone house where the Blair woman had lived for a number of years.

The order of the public utilities commission for the elimination of the Main street crossing at Jewett City started speculation here today as to whether similar action ever will be taken for being rid of Danielson's Main street crossing. The local crossing happens to be across the route of two of the most important trunk line highways in eastern Connecticut—the Norwich-Worcester route, and the Providence Hartford route and without doubt daily carries as much traffic as any grade crossing in the eastern corner of the state. Eliminating it will not be an easy matter, it is held, if such a work ever is attempted. An underpass seems to be out of the question and an overhead bridge would so change the heart of Danielson's business section as to utterly upset it. It so happens that little ever has been said about eliminating the local crossing. This crossing is protected 24 hours each day by gate service and there has not been an accident of any consequence there for years and years.

From the countryside come reports of herds of deer roaming about these summer days and nights and feasting on the wealth of food stuffs now available for them. Not many reports of damaged crops or trees have come in from land owners, but there have been some. Of special interest is the report that the deer appear to be increasing in numbers. When the state legislature assembles next January measures are to be introduced looking to a renewal of the effort to obtain an open season for hunting the animals if the season for taking them legally be no longer than a week. A similar bill was not successful at the 1927 session of the legislature.

After an aftermath today of the entering of a school building here by boys bent on doing mischief aplenty was a warning to children to keep away from school building during the vacation season. This warning came from Chife McFarland of the borough police department. That this warning came from Chief McFarland of the borough police department. That this warning may be especial yeffective the chief feels that parents can cooperate by admonishing their children to keep away from the schools until such time as sessions are resumed in early September.

Recent visitors in New Bedford from Danielson have been interested in watching the strike pickets and in listening to the various versions of recent exciting happenings in that city and the events leading up to them. Outside the strike zone, local people say, New Bedford seems as peaceful and as concerned with its daily activities as before the strike.

Schedules for borough tax payment to be made in September will be compiled this year for the first time from lists filed with the town of Killingly by borough property owners. This arrangement is brought about through a provision of the new charter. This year, probably for the first time, town and borough assessments on any given borough property will be identical. There arises the question, however, about assessing automobiles and other motor vehicles; it is held that the assessment rate fixed on a motor vehicle by the town as of October 1 of last year would not be a fair assessment on the same vehicle for the borough to make nearly a year late. The value shrinkage over such a period is very considerable when considered by car dealers and can be no less, it is held, when assessment values are being considered.

The warning against bathing in Alexander's lake appears to have had the desired effect. Since it was made clear during the past week that arrests would surely follow disobedience of the order of the state department stantly keeping the lake under supervision have not observed one violation. Patrol of the lake will be regularly maintained throughout the bathing season. Notices posted about the lake warn against bathing in its waters, so there can be little excuse for anyone not knowing what the regulations are.

Pasquale Valentino, 22, of Providence, was seriously burned with live steam yesterday when some device on the steam roller he was operating on the state highway construction job at Attawaugan let go. The injured man was treated by Dr. Cecil R. Garcin of Dayville. Valentine's chest was scalded from his throat to his abdomen and the burns also covered his arms. He was said this afternoon to be resting as comfortably as was to be expected at the home in Attawaugan where he has been staying.

At about 5 o'clock this afternoon Moses LeFevre, 16, and his younger brother, Joseph, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LaFavre, who lives near the town farm at Dayville were spilled out of a Ford car when the wishbone of the machine broke as they were driving along Main street opposite Davis park and turned over. The boys got out from beneath the machine uninjured. The car is owned by Albert Gendreau of Franklin street. State Officers Elton Nolan and Emil Castagne checked up the accident which quickly drew a crowd.

Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Aldei Lamothe and Mrs. Francis Ducharme are to leave for a motor trip to Canada. They are to go first to Quebec visiting at Ste. Anne de Beaupre, and thence to Montreal and various smaller communities in that section. They are to be away for two weeks.

Intense heat this half-holiday afternoon was the special incentive for many Danielson people to go bathing at Old Killingly pond and at Moosup pond.

F. E. Bitgood motored to New Bedford today to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Herman M. Coulter.

Manager William Sangster of the Danielson district of the Eastern Connecticut Power company will be at Rocky river, Milford, Saturday when the Connecticut Editorial association will gather there to inspect a new and unique plant of the Connecticut Electric Service company.

Henry W. Babson of Danielson is president of the 18th Regiment association of Civil war veterans, the organization to hold its annual reunion at Buckingham Memorial in Norwich on August 15.

So heavy has traffic become that there is renewed agitation for a regulation under which parking would be allowed on only one side of Main street between Academy and Reynolds streets.

Speculation as to what has become of Eugene Gobielle missing road contractor, is not nearly so interesting to Danielson as is the matter of the state highway department arranging for resumption of work on the abandoned contract. Getting out of Danielson on the Providence highway just now is a plain nuisance, and a daily irritant.

Members of the Windham county bar here expressed regret today over the death in Putnam of Judge Edgar M. Warner, for years clerk of the superior court for the county.

James A. Hamblin of Pawtucket arrived here thi safternoon to spend a few days visiting with friends.

Blueberries are not so cheap as yet hereabouts, though the berry fields are only ten minutes automobile ride away. Baskets of the berries holding less than a quart were being offered here today for 25 cents.

Selectmen are to engage in compiling statistics that will enter into the making of the annual town report covering the year ending July 31. The reports, with those of the town school committee and other officials of the town, will be ready for distribution at the annual town meeting.

The cost of constructing the sewer extensions asked for and to be passed upon at a special town meeting next week will run from $1.50 to $2.00 per foot, depending on the depth of excavations and the character of the areas to be excavated.

Rev. F. X. Richards, M. S., will leave Danielson this Friday en route for Montreal and from that city will return to his parish at Estevan, Sask.

Miss Blanche C. Robillard of Fall River is in Danielson to spend a week with relatives.

PUTNAM

JUDGE WARNER DIES AFTER FIGHT AGAINST PARALYSIS

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, Aug. 2—Putnam suffered one of its greatest loses today when Judge Edgar M. Warner, died at his home on South Main street at 10:35 this morning, in his seventy-ninth year, after waging a losing battle with paralysis.

Mr. Warner was born in Worcester, Mass., June 16, 1850, the son of Earl and Adeline (Lester) Warner. Shortly after his birth the family removed to New London, where he was educated in the public and private schools. After graduation from the Bartlett high school of that city he entered the field of education, teaching in New London county schools for a period of two years.

Leaving this vocation, he entered the law office of Hiram W. Willey of New London, then a prominent man in legal circles and furthered his studies with George Pratt of Norwich, one of Connecticut's leading attorneys at that time.

Deciding upon law as a career Mr. Warner then went to Harvard Law school, graduating in 1872, at the age of 22 years. In the following year he was admitted to the New London county bar, practicing in New London and subsequently in Norwich for a number of years.

In 1876, he removed to Central Village and in a brief time to Putnam, where he spent the remainder of his life. On August 3, 1877 he was married to Jane E. Canerpter, the youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs. John A. Carpenter of thi scity, three children were born to them, Frances Lester, Gertrude Chandler and Major John A. Warner, all of whom, together with the widow survive Mr. Warner.

Entering politics at an early age, he allied himself with the republican party. He was elected clerk of the Connecticut general assembly during 1877, 1879 and 1890.

In the year 1896, he represented Putnam in the legislature, serving on the committee on incorporations. About this time he ran for speaker of the house, but was narrowly defeated for the office.

His admission to the Connecticut supreme court of errors followed and in 1891 through the Hon. Jeremiah Halsey of Norwich he gained entry to the United States supreme court of errors.

In June 1901, his long and honorable career as a practicing attorney came to an end, when, at a meeting of the judges of the supreme and superior courts of Connecticut, he was appointed to the clerkship of the superior courts of Windham county. This he held until his voluntary resignation in June of this year.

Another noteworthy distinction in the career of Mr. Warner, is the fact that he was the first city court judge of Putnam, holding that chair since the incorporation of the city in 1896.

Fraternally, he was associated with the Royal Arcanum and with the local branches of the Masonic and Odd Fellows organizations.

While suffering from the ailment for many years, he was stricken with the seizure that caused his death on July 1st. He was confined to his bed since then with no hope held for his recovery.

In the death of Judge Edgar M. Warner, Putnam witnesses the passing of a leading and respected citizen. His long list of brilliant successes adds lustre to a personality marked by the true worthiness and culture of a gentleman. Universally and affectionately admired by all with whom he came in contact, he has left a heritage of citizenship and accomplishments that unite him with the history and progress of Putnam. He has given a lifetime of service for the city, county, state and his fellow citizens.

Before Judge M. H. Geissler in police court this morning, Morris Harrison and Nathan Kurtzman, two local junk dealers were reprimanded for their purchase of stolen railroad property. They were both found guilty and were fined $25 each and costs of the court being imposed.

Both were represented by Attorney Ernest C. Morse of Putnam. Through their attorney they entered a plea of not guilty but in the course of argument presented by Prosecuting Attorney Eric H. Johnson the evidence bore so heavily against them that Judge Geissler overruled the plea and found them guilty.

The first annual outing of the employes of the Winterburn Electrical company of this city was held Wednesday. The men left Putnam at midnight, Wednesday, for Cape Cod where they rented a large fishing smack and set out for the open sea to spend a day at marine water angling. The deep seas fishermen returned home in the evening with one of the largest catches of fish ever seen in Putnam. The fruits of their labors consisted of 155 pounds of halibut, cod and pollock. Rainsford Sherman a member of the firm succeeded in landing the trophy of the day, which proved to be a 15 pound halibut. Mr. Winterburn was also a high scorer having caught the largest cod it tipped the scales at 8 pounds.

August 15 will mark the passing of telegraphy on the New London division of the New Haven railroad, officials stated today. During the winter months, linemen invaded the Western Union field in the section, and supplanted the sounder and key wires for the more modern form of communication, the telephone. On what is known as the main line, telegraphy has been completely abolished and by slow steps, the final one to come on August 15, this method of transmitting messages will also pass into history. Since the idea of telephony began to intrude upon railroad train dispatching the New Haven road has endeavored to be the first road in the nation to be one hundred percent telephone equipped, which after August 15 will be a reality, much to the disappointment of the old time operators.

Miss Phoebe Merrell a student at Storrs college, of Storrs, Conn., a girl camp instructor at the Windham county Y. M. C. A. camp at Black Pond who of late has provde to be quite efficient in aquatic arts, while demonstrating a water feat at the camp Wednesday evening, slipped on the diving board and sustained a compound fracture of the left leg as the result of her fall. She was rushed to the Day-Kimball hospital where the joints were replaced in position by Dr. Edward F. Perry of this city. It was stated today by officials at the hospital that Miss Merrell was resting comfortably and that the bones would knit speedily.

Henry T. Child, a native and a resident of Woodstock and one of the town's outstanding citizens, received merited honor and distinction during Farmer's week at Conn. Agricultural college by being chosen as one of the three men to receive awards made by the college as a tribute to the donnee's leadership among men devoting their attention in the country districts to make Connecticut a prosperous farming district. Two others to gain the distinction were J. Arthur Sherwood of Easton and Charles A. Treat of Orange.

UNION

Old Home Days for Union are Saturday, August 18 and Sunday August 19, to be celebrated Saturday in the grove near the town hall and in any other part of the Center where one likes to renew old associations. "Old Home" Sunday the church is usually well filled. There is always a welcome here for everybody on "Old Home Day" Sunday, and on all other Sundays.

Last Monday and Tuesday mornings July 30 and 31, the mercury was 47 degrees at sunrise.

The entertainment held at the town hall on Friday evening July 27, by the Community club of Eastford was much enjoyed. The play, "Good Gracious! Grandma!" not only gave many chances for good laughs but it carried some practical lessons on problems of the present day. The music by different people was especially enjoyable. The veteran violinist John Whitford, played his violin and also showed what he could do with the 'bones,' much to the delight of some who had never heard the latter before.

The male voices in duets and a trio with piano accompaniment, the solos by Mrs. Archa Walker with Mrs Mara Lewis at the piano and the community songs led by the club were all heartily appreciated. There was a monologue and there were other numbers on the program. The L. B. A. of Union served ice cream and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace of Woodstock were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Heck on Monday.

NOANK

Trainer McDonald of the village new lightweight, Flash McDonald, and Kid Sherman, the featherweight boxer, and his manager, Duncan McDonald, left by auto early Wednesday morning for Webster, Mass., where they are to take part in a smoker at the Saturday Night club of that city. The boxers are fighting for nothing. It is to get new members for the club and that is the only way to get them and bring everyone around.

In the evening at the club rooms where a crowd of 300 was on hand everything was free. Quick Step McDonald was first to go on with Jumping Joe Cann, a fast city boy with a bad left hand. It was for six rounds. Flash had on red tights. Mike Morin was the third man in the ring, and jumping from the ropes, Cann sent two hard lefts to the chin of the Noank lightweight that sent him down for the count of six. Then coming back with a Pearl street haymaker that sent the Massachusetts fighter to dream land for the full count. The bout lasted for four rounds. Whistling Fighter Gus McDonald, an expert trainer from the west, went on for four rounds with Sharp Shooter Al Dunbar, a heavy hitter, and it was a fast bout for three rounds, about even. Then came the final one. An over-hand right to the head put the whistling boxer down for the count of nine and then, getting up and coming back strong like a boxer that never gives up, and gave a western rib breaker that fixed the Sharp Shooter from Webster and it took smelling salts to bring him to. The last fight of the evening was the pride of Riverside avenue, Kid Sherman, a quick man with a big right hand, and Shorty Scotty MacLane, a tough boy from the west side of the city. Kid Sherman was using a long right punch but Shorty Scotty was dancing away. His foot work was good and standing toe to toe, both fighters went at it and at the end of the fifth round it was a draw.

The ladies of the club gave a New England supper, with cake and tea and then a dance was enjoyed to a late hour with a five-piece orchestra from Worcester, Mass. President Sam Carr thanked the fighters for coming a long way to help them out.

Capt. George Rathbun, a well known fisherman who has in his fishing days hauled many fish over the deck of his boat in 25 years, was telling some young people that go out in some row boats near Quick Island, about fishing and how to bait the hook and pull easy when a fish is on the hook. Don't get mad and lose the fish. On Wednesday morning early, with his boat, a party of ten fishing men from out of town went with the old sea captain for a trip and had plenty of bait on board. Getting out at the grounds around 9 o'clock, they started to fish and the young fellows were catching them right and left and Capt. Rathbun had only two fish. "Come on, what is the matter, captain? Have you a rabbit foot in your pocket or have you lost your luck?" Time will tell. Getting near noon, Capt. Rathbun landed four big flounders that weighed 65 pounds, the largest that ever were brought in the fishing village with a hook and line. Turning to the city fellows, he said, "Laugh that one off, for you cannot fool a 67-year-old fisherman." Getting about a bushel of fish is not so bad for one day's fishing.

The summer people that came to Groton Long Point for the month of July have gone back home after having a poor month at the seashore, rain and foggy weather around the week-ends, also a cool wind that made them break out the fur coats and top coats. Now that the month of August has come in, a long line of autos come from Hartford and Springfield, also Boston, to Groton Long Point, to spend their vacation. Heavy traffic during Wednesday night and it seems that it will be a good month, making the best one in the history of the Point, proven all over the country as the coolest spot in Connecticut and New England. Several cottages are not rented. Before many days things will look bright for the banner season of 1928.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

King Eagle Tries Fishing.
By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Experience this truth doth teach:
The greedy often over-reach.

—Plunger the Osprey.

Hunting was not proving very profitable. There were two hungry babies in the nest of King Eagle and it was amazing how much they could eat. They kept their mother and father looking for food for them most of the time during the hours of daylight. On one or two days King Eagle had had very good success. He had brought home a duck. He had brought home a rabbit. But to keep two young eagles growing, more than an occasional duck and rabbit is needed. So both King Eagle and Mrs. Eagle went looking for fish. They were not particular whether the fish were alive or dead, and not awfully fussy as to how long the dead ones had been dead. Fish were fish.

King Eagle had been up and down the Great River. He had been around the shores of the Lake. There were no dead fish. If he was to have a fish he must catch one.

Now, while King Eagle is not as good a fisherman as Plunger the Osprey, he is not so bad as he might be. He is a little clumsy, but he does catch fish. He sailed out over the lake. His sharp eyes looked down into the water. From up in the blue, blue sky, he could see a long distance into the water, and he saw many fish. Also, he saw that most of them were too deep in the water for him to catch. A fish must be at the surface. It was very tantalizing to see those fish down below and know that he couldn't catch one.

But at last King Eagle saw a good-sized fish close to the surface. The water was smooth. King Eagle swung over the fish. And then, just as he was ready to make the plunge, an astonishing thing happened. Another fisherman shot down and seized that fish! It was Plunger the Osprey. Yes, sir, it was Plunger the Osprey. At first, King Eagle completely lost his temper. Such impudence! It was not to be borne! And then, King Eagle was glad it had happened. He might have missed that fish, but Plunger hadn't. Plunger had driven his great claws into it and was now flapping heavily to lift it. King Eagle chuckled to himself. He intended to have that fish. He intended to make Plunger drop it and himself seize it before it could escape. But he wanted Plunger to get well up in the air.

"Why doesn't he come up?" said King Eagle to himself. "What is the matter with him anyway? What is he staying down there on the water for? Does he think he can fool me by doing that?"

It did seem as if Plunger was staying down on the water. As a matter of fact, he had struck a fish too heavy for him to lift. He could get it just clear of the water and then down it would go again and Plunger with it. The trouble was he couldn't let go. His claws were so caught in it that he couldn't let go. He was doing his best, flapping, flapping, flapping with those big wings of his, and all the time that King Eagle was wondering what was happening, Plunger the Osprey was growing more and more tired and was wondering, too. He was wondering if that fish would succeed in pulling him into the water and drowning him. He was terribly frightened, was Plunger the Osprey. He was so frightened that he wasn't even aware that King Eagle was watching him from above.

All the time King Eagle was losing patience. He wanted that fish and he intended to have it. He dropped down near and nearer to Plunger and all the time he grew more and more puzzled.

The Sun Comes Smiling Through

Oh, the little birds sing in the old pear tree,
When the day is fair and fine;
But they chatter and complain when it looks like rain,
And scold 'cause the sun doesn't shine:
If, instead of pining on the cold, damp earth,
They would look up where the sky is blue,
They would always find a place where the dark clouds break
And the sun comes smiling through.

Oh, the hen and her chickens, how they scratch and run
When the sky is bright and clear!
But each cuddles down her head, and hides in the shed,
Dripping misery when the day is drear:
Old Hen, she ought to teach them that the clouds will pass,
And the thing for wise chickens to do,
Is to keep looking up for a break in the clouds
'Till the sun comes smiling through.

Now the birds and the chickens are like you and me:
We are happy when the world is bright;
But we grumble and we pout when the light goes out,
Like it all was done for spite!
But a little bit of courage—and a song in your heart
Will turn raindrops into dew
If you keep looking up for the break in the clouds
'Till the sun comes smiling through.

SHIFTS OF SPECULATIVE SENTIMENT FEATURED STOCK MARKET YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—(AP)—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market, but the major price tendency was downward in reflection of growing uneasiness over the credit situation, with a special meeting of the New York Clearing House association called today to discuss the brokers' loan situation and the weekly meeting of the New York Federal Reserve bank after the close, the market was in a "jumpy" state all day as a result of the many rumors in circulation.

While the official decision of the New York clearing house was withheld until tomorrow, Wall street learned that bankers had agreed to raise the commission charged for placing call loans for others and to fix $100,000 as a minimum loan for that account, but that slightly higher interest rates would be allowed on time deposits.

In the absence of any of the figures showing to what extent loans of less than $100,000 "for the account of others" figure in the weekly totals of all loans, Wall street was somewhat at a loss to interpret the significance of this action.

Contrary to reports in some quarters, the New York Federal Reserve bank made no change in its rediscount rate of 5 per cent. The weekly report on brokers' loans showed an increase of $75,477,000, bringing the total to $4,259,396,000. The New York Stock Exchange at the same time reported a decrease of $61,003,098 in member loans during July, the total outstanding on the last day of the month being $4,837,347,579.

Call money renewed at 7 per cent and was in plentiful supply at that figure all day. Time money rates were unchanged but prime commercial paper was quoted at 5 1-4 to 5 1-2 instead of 5 to 5 1-4.

The day's business news was largely favorable.

The excess of new orders above shipments in the closing days of July led to predictions that the United States Steel corporation would show an increase of nearly 100,000 tons in unfilled orders in the monthly tonnage statement next week. U. S. Steel common closed fractionally lower at 140 1-4 after having been down to 139 1-4.

Oil shares were again under accumulation in reflection of the improved statistical position of the industry, expanding earnings and extension of recent gasoline price cuts. Atlantic Refining was again the feature, soaring 7 1-2 points to a new high record at 168 1-4. Houston Oil advanced 3 1-4 points, Pan-American -B, and most of the others fractionally.

Pool operations were again apparent in several specialties, current earnings or prospects of which are regarded as unusually favorable. Frank G. Shattuck ran up 5 points to a new high record at 124 1-4. Excellent buying also was noted in Johns-Manville, Victor Talking Machine, American Ice, General Gas & Electric A, and the packing issues.

National Tea broke 9 1-2 points, Midland Steel Products 7 1-4, Radio 5 5-8 and Indian Motorcycle 5 1-2, the last named touching a new low level for the year. Montgomery Ward ran into heavy selling after setting new high records for several days, but closed only 1 1-2 points lower at 186 1-2.

Trading in the rails was colorless with price changes irregular and generally unimportant.

Commodity markets were mixed. Wheat rallied fractionally on indications of an over-sold position, but cotton fell back $1 a bale. Coffee quotations were slightly lower and sugar prices held steady.

Establishment of new low records for the year by the British, Dutch and Japanese currencies featured the mixed foreign exchange market. Sterling cables were quoted around $4.85 1-2 and Japanese yen were down to 45 cents. Dutch guilders were only slightly lower at 40.13 cents.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Interviewer—And to what do you owe your ninety-seven years?
Old Boy—Long life, miss, long life.—New York Mercury.

Pickled One—Shay, waiter, find my hat.
Waiter—It's on your head, sir.
Pickled One—Zatso? Don't bother; I'll find it myself.—London Opinion.

The London Bystander offers: "Congratulations to the English Ladies' Lawn Tennis team who last week at Wimbledon so ably took up the Wightman's burden.

She—Isn't the moon lovely tonight? Do you know it always fills me with hunger for something.
He hastily—Let's dance.— Sydney Bulletin.

Doctor—You are in bad shape and must take a vacation.
Patient—But, doctor, I am in the midst of my vacation now.
Doctor—Then you must take a vacation from your vacation.—Life

The Boss—I can only say, Miss Potter, that I find your punctuation and spelling appalling.
Miss Potter—Yes, but don't you feel—what I mean to say—as long as the gist is there, don't you know?—London Opinion.

"So Blanche is going to marry the young man who saved her from drowning."
"So I understand."
"But is she sure he is able to support her in good style?"
"Oh, yes. She looked him up in Brad street before she fell in."—Boston Transcript.

"What are your ideas about farm relief?"
"It would be all right," answered Farmer Corntossel, "if the statesmen could compel the weather bureau to issue the right kind of reports and then compel the weather to live up to them."—Washington Star.

KALEIDOSCOPE

There are some high mountains in the Sahara desert.

The earth's rainfall amounts to 16,000,000 tons a second.

While Jake Erion of Bloomfield, Neb., was burning a pile of thistles, a rabbit jumped through the flames, caught fire and ran through a hay meadow, spreading the flames.

Beards, traditional in France, are gradually disappearing and Frenchmen are becoming as smooth-shaven as Americans. Only at the chamber of deputies is the beard still seen at its best.

A. T. Bibberstaff, of Willows, Cal., who has been deaf for years, recently awoke in a world of strange noises to realize his hearing had been restored over night. Bibberstaff said when he realized that he could hear again the wind in the trees and the fowls in the barnyard sounded almost boisterous.

When Elfrida Shryrock, two-year-old daughter of Leonard Shryrock, of Compton, Cal., opened the door of her father's car while it was traveling forty-nine miles an hour, she was thrown to the pavement and rolled sixty feet. Brought to a hospital, the child proved to have suffered no injury other than numerous bruises and cuts.

Fourteen Swiss cantons have now formally adopted the system of apprenticing girls to housewives in order to become qualified housekeepers. In most of the cantons a period of one year's service for the apprentice is required. Ten of the cantons have introduced apprenticeship contracts and examinations at the end of the apprenticeship with certificates showing that the young girl has become a qualified housekeeper. Assistance is then given her, if she desires, in finding a place to work as such. To date the system has given such excellent results, both in the training of the girls and in the finding of employment for them after their years apprenticeship, that it is expected the system will soon be adopted in all of the Swiss Cantons.

NORWICH ONCE AGAIN TO GO OVER THE TOP FOR 75 FRESH AIR CHILDREN

Three weeks ago Miss Leola Wheeler of the New York Herald-Tribune fresh air fund appeared before the Norwich Lions club at their Thursday noon luncheon and made a plea for the acceptance of 75 fresh air children for a two week stay in Norwich homes. Miss Wheeler vividly described the hard lot of the little children in the great metropolis of America during the hot summer months. The Lions enthusiastically promised to enlist in helping the children, but thought that it being a cause in which people of all denominations were to participate, it ought to be placed in the hands of the Norwich chamber of commerce which is best equipped to handle communal matters. Miss Wheeler addressed herself to H. D. Larrabee, president of the chamber of commerce, who promptly called into conference the various woman's clubs of Norwich, who promised wholehearted cooperation. From the small beginning three weeks ago the kind people of Norwich have promised to accept into their homes, or provide for boarding the children out in adjoining country districts, 70 fresh air children. There is still needed, homes for a handful, five children, to complete the entire quota for which the chamber became responsible for housing with the people of Norwich. Today is the final day in which the list to be sent to the New York Herald-Tribune fresh air fund must be tabulated, and Secretary Walter H. Pilcher of the Norwich Chamber of Commerce feels confident that the five children will be placed during the day.

The following are the people who volunteered to take one child or more into their homes for two weeks or to provide for their board in adjoining country places, since the last announcement in the Norwich Bulletin: Mrs. Frederick Peiper, Mrs. Richard Berkoff, Mrs. G. Russell, A friend L. G. B., Mrs. Richard J. Carter, Mrs. G. McDonald, Mrs. C. H. Foster, Mrs. E. C. Carpenter, Bozrah Council of Jewish Women, Mrs. Nathan Gilman, Mrs. Dora Dember, Mrs. Jeanette Manes, Miss Clara Gillette, Miss R. Lathrop, Miss Caroline Gilman, Mrs. Zebulon Robbins, Miss Mary Aiken, Mrs. Frank Palmer, Miss Faith R. Leavens, Miss Audrey [illegible]non, Mrs. J. P. Huntington, and Miss Elizabeth Huntington, C. H. Frisbie, Mrs. Archibald F. Mitchell.

Lovers of children desiring to help them for a two weeks rest and recuperation in Norwich, may call the Norwich Chamber of Commerce, telephone 1747, for any information they may desire. Secretary Pilcher, fresh from his trip to the Northwestern university in Chicago, will be glad to meet today the five kind hearted people who will have the honor in helping Norwich go over the top in a very worthy cause. Mr. Pilcher is sure of the five and their names will be announced in the Norwich Bulletin. The exact day of the arrival of the children in Norwich will be announced next week. The tentative date was set for August 15 or 16 and their return to New York on August 31.

TREATED NORWICH LIONS TO MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT

The Lions club of Norwich with President Kopland K. Markoff held its Thursday noon luncheon at the Norwich Golf club Thursday, the usual large attendance of members and guests being present. Charles King, Felix Morrow and Charles King, Jr., of Worcester provided the entertainment at the luncheon, including banjo, harmonica and ukelele solos, vocal selections and humorous Irish stories. The entertainers were enthusiastically received by the audience.

At the business session a report on the Lions stag outing to be held at Ye Castle Inn on Thursday, Aug. 9, was given by William Frisbie, who is in charge of the matter. Lion Frisbie announced that all the arrangements were completed for the event. Max Hanover, who has been zealously engaged in the Children's Fresh Air fund, reported that through the Lions club 20 children from New York will enjoy a two weeks vacation in this city. Mr. Hanover stated that by Thursday night the 75 children will be provided for through the generosity and kindness of the citizens of this city.

A 6-foot shark put the damper on bathing at Pleasure Beach, Waterford, Thursday evening about 7 o'clock, according to a Norwich man, who had gone to the sea resort to escape the intense heat of the day. The shark made its appearance while many persons were enjoying the cooling waters and remained within sight for some time. It was seen to swim close to the shore by bathers, who by this time had made their exit from the water and others on the beach. The shark was not captured. Its appearance at the resort is expected to put a crimp in the business there.

SUES ON CLAIM OF $12,500 NOTE FRAUD

Claiming fraudulent conspiracy on the part of Joseph Sigal of Ocean beach, Maria Corsino of Springfield has brought a $17,000 damage suit against Sigal and the Commodore Realty Co., in the superior court.

The plaintiff claims that on Feb. 7, 1928, Sigal for value received, gave her his promissory note for $12,500 and about the same time transferred his personal property and real property to the Commodore Realty Co. She claims that this was "fraudulent conspiracy" and that the realty concern received no consideration for the holdings that Sigal turned over to it.

The plaintiff claims that Sigal owns 175 shares out of the 200 and that she believed that an attempt to conceal his holdings in the concern was being made.

She asks for an order to have the realty company produce its books and show all the transactions it has entered into with Sigal. She also asks for an order for the company to re-transfer the property back to Sigal.

In addition the plaintiff asks that the body of Sigal be attached under section 6142 of the general statutes, and $17,000 damages.

WILL ATTEMPT BREAK DEM. BULWARK IN THE SOUTH

Republican Leaders Have Been Organizing in the Southern States Almost Since the National Convention—Horace A. Mann, Former Tennessee Leader, is in Charge—Attention Has Been Centered on Bolting Democrats and Old Line Republicans—Signs of the Work Already Are Appearing on the Surface.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3— (AP) — Quietly but vigorously, representatives of Herbert Hoover's national political managers are building up an organization in the south with attention centered on lining up a group acceptable both to bolting democrats and to old-line republicans, of that region.

Chairman Work of the national committee, who left today for conferences with middle west and far west republican leaders, has been giving the south much consideration and as the first step in a possible campaign below the Mason and Dixon line he has decided to build up new organizations where needed.

The work has been going on almost since the national convention, with Horace A. Mann, former Tennessee leader, in charge, but it has been proceeding and will continue to proceed without the blare of publicity so far as Mann and his cohorts are concerned.

Already signs of the work are appearing on the surface. Reports have reached Washington of the set-up of a new republican organization in Georgia where the party factions have been engulfed in dispute for some time. So it is going in other states, although the regular republican leaders in North Carolina seem to be acceptable to party leaders without the remoulding process.

The leaders believe that success in the south must be predicated first on the establishment of responsible leaders in charge of the organization and to this end Mann is bending his efforts.

But to what extent the republicans will set aside precedent and actively campaign in the hitherto neglected democratic stronghold awits a conference of party leaders here in September upon the return of Herbert Hoover and Chairman Work from the Pacific coast.

Meanwhile, Mann is working steadily on his office in a building here far away from national headquarters being filled during working hours with callers from the southland, his stenographers busy answering many letters from the same section.

There is no open talk here about the work and apparently there will be none.

HOOVER HAS COMPLETED DRAFT OF HIS SPEECH

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Aug. 3—(AP)—Herbert Hoover had unburdened himself tonight of the long and arduous task of preparing the address which he is to deliver here a week from tomorrow formally accepting the republican nomination for president.

The completed draft of the speech, which makes about 6,000 words, was sent back to the printer late in the day after the nominee had labored all day with it, assisted at times by William J. Donovan, assistant to the U. S. attorney-general, and foremost in Hoover's council of advisers.

The republican nominee will leave here about noon tomorrow for the grove far beyond San Francisco bay to the north where the Bohemian club of the Golden Gate city will stage its annual play "High Jinx" tomorrow night in a Sylvan theatre. Hoover long has been a member of this club.

The commerce secretary had no engagements for tomorrow, but his time next week will be taken up with a series of meetings with party leaders who will begin arriving here for the notification ceremonies in the Stanford stadium. These will include Chairman Work and other members of the national committee; members of then otification committee, of which Senator Moses of New Hampshire is chairman, and Secretary of War Dwight Davis and Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, members.

Arrangements for the notification ceremonies here virtually have been completed and plans have been laid for handling a crowd which will tax the 100,000 capacity of the huge concrete bowl.

SUIT TO RESTRAIN N. Y. FEDERAL RESERVE BANK

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(AP)—Suit to restrain the Federal Reserve Bank of New York from enforcing its rediscount rates was filed in United States district court today by Frank G. Raichle, Buffalo, N. Y., a law partner of William J. Donovan, assistant to United States Attorney General Sargent.

Raichle charged that the bank has spread propaganda of a "money shortage" which he says does not exist except as far as it has been created for selfish purposes and that the rates were deliberately fixed to restrict the credit available for investment.

Papers in the action also charged that the re-discount rate has been "arbitrarily and unreasonably raised" until that of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York now is 5 per cent. On information and belief, Raichle alleged that the bank has "threatened a further raise" of the rate.

Raichle charged that the object of the increases made by the Federal Reserve bank was to raise interest rates generally and to raise the "call money rates of the New York Stock Exchange," thus "reducing the volume of security loans." In this connection he claimed that the Federal Reserve bank has "no right to exercise any control over the use of independent resources of member banks."

In addition to asking an injunction restraining the bank from enforcing its re-discount rates, Raichle also asked for a mandatory injunction directing the bank to fix a "reasonable rate" and to act within the purpose and intent of the federal reserve act.

COOLIDGE HOLDS CONGRESS RESPONSIBLE FOR DEFICIT

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 3—(AP)—President Coolidge feels that congress, by having overridden his vetoes on bills increasing postal expenditures, is largely responsible not only for the estimated $100,000,000 deficit in the postoffice department for the fiscal year 1929 but also for any increase in postal rates which may have to be imposed to balance the departmental budget.

Mr. Coolidge understands that some postal rates may have to be raised since the law makes it mandatory upon the postmaster general to alter the rates of certain services so as to assure sufficient income to balance the expenditures they involve.

At the last session, congress passed over Mr. Coolidge's veto a bill to allow a ten per cent increase in salary for postal night workers and another measure granting allowances for rent, fuel, light, and equipment to fourth class postmasters. In June, 1924, President Coolidge vetoed a general postal pay increase bill which also was raised over his objections.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(AP)—Steaming toward New York with the crew of Captain Courtney's flying boat Whale aboard, Capt. Frank H. Claret of the liner Minnewaska tonight radioed to his company's headquarters here the story of his rescue of Courtney and his companions.

In the laconic language of the seaman's log, the message told how the Minnewaska steamed 341 miles out of her course, searched for hours in a position from which the plane had drifted, after its forced landing, then received from Courtney's radio an amended position, finally discovering the wreck and taking off its crew.

"Courtney, companions, myself and ship's company deeply appreciate your kind message," the radio read. "Our small part briefly as follows:

GOV. HORTON LEADING IN TENNESSEE PRIMARY

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 3—(AP)—Governor Henry H. Horton entered the stretch in the democratic gubernatorial race today with an unofficial advantage of approximately 2500 votes over Hill McAlister, but the latter's headquarters declined to concede his nomination.

With all but 205 of the state's 2,232 precincts reported unofficially the count stood: Horton 91,022; McAlister 88,494. Only a plurality is necessary for the nomination.

The 20,000 plurality that McAlister received in Shelby county, was augmented by a plurality of close to 7,000 in his home county of Davidson, but the governor was strongly supported in many rural districts.

Should the lead shown in the unofficial tabulations prove to be approximately correct when the final count is made, the margin would be about that which Marshall county Horton's home, gave him.

Returns had been received from every county but one, and the missing precincts were widely scattered.

Senator Kenneth D. McKellar won handily in his contest for renomination in the democratic primary from Representative Finis J. Garrett.

25 YEARS AND $10,000 FINE FOR MAIL TRAIN ROBBER

CHICAGO, Aug. 3—(AP)—Charles "Limpy" Cleaver, leader of the band that held up and robbed a Grand Trunk mail itrain at Evergreen park last February, escaping with $133,000, today was sentenced by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson to serve 25 years in the Atlantic penitentiary and pay a fine of $10,000.

"Limpy" convicted yesterday with Charles E. Wharton, former congressman, accepted the sentence philosophically, remarking that perhaps he got a "break" after all because the total sentence on seven charges was 32 years but the judge specified that the sentences run concurrently.

Wharton, convicted of conspiracy and facing a maximum sentence of two years in prison, and a fine of $10,000, has made a motion for a new trial which will be argued in September.

Judge Wilkerson refused a new trial for Cleaver but agreed to entertain a motion for the return to him of $9,500 above the $17,000 seized in Cleaver's home and claimed to be part of the loot.

As a precaution against possible attempts to rescue Cleaver, he will be taken to Atlanta under heavy guard and all his movements will be kept secret.

THINK POLISH AVIATORS MAY CHANGE THEIR COURSE

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(AP)—Dr. James R. Kimball of the weather bureau reported atmospheric conditions of fog tonight which he believed might cause the Polish trans-Atlantic fliers to abandon their intended course to New York via Newfoundland and come straight into the metropolis from a point 1,000 miles at sea.

"By doing that," he said, "they would fly all the way from there in directly over the steamer lanes and might well be sighted. This course also would be a few miles shorter than the one they planned."

Dr. Kimball said that reports from ships indicated that the fliers would meet no adverse weather conditions except a light head wind from the Azores to the steamer lane.

STORM LEFT WATERBURY DARK FOR HALF HOUR

WATERBURY, Aug. 3—(AP)—Waterbury was without electrical power for more than a half hour tonight as the result of one of the worst storms of the season. Lightning also struck the gas house of the Waterbury Gas and Light company and partially wrecked two houses located within a few yards of each other.

Heat Wave Along Atlantic Seaboard

Two Deaths in Rhode Island Were Directly Attributed to the Heat.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(AP)—Eastern states, sweltering in the second day of a torrid wave, were promised no relief before tomorrow night.

Today from Boston south along the entire Atlantic seaboard cities reported temperatures in the 90's and high 80's, with a high humidity.

Rhode Island in a 24-hour period had two deaths directly attributed to the heat and several prostrations.

Boston, Mass., with 94, equalled the highest mark of the season, which was reached on July 8.

New York sweltered under a high humidity with the thermometer reading 88 late in the afternoon. This same day in 1926 holds the record with a 9. There were several prostrations today. A gentle southwest wind, general in the east, furnished some relief.

A thunder storm, developing in the northwest, will arrive late tomorrow, according to the weather bureau, bringing cool and fair weather for Sunday.

The death of Morris Holdefer, Columbia graduate student, today brought weather fatalities in New York to seven since the heat wave began two days ago.

Holdefer was catching in a baseball game at the university yesterday when he collapsed. He was majoring in physical education and came here with a star athletic record from Knox college, Illinois. His home was in Donnellson, Iowa.

DEATHS AND PROSTRATIONS FROM HEAT REPORTED

BOSTON, Aug. 3—(AP)—With official temperatures running as high as 95 and unofficial readings at 102, Boston and vicinity weakened under the heat wave which overwhelmed the east today. Deaths and prostrations attributed directly or indirectly to the heat were reported from several cities.

The highest official reading here was 95 degrees at 2:30 o'clock, a new high mark for the year surpassing that of 94 on July 8. The city hall was closed at 3 o'clock releasing the employes who sought relief at the beaches.

The humidity was four points above normal.

BROKER WATKINS WAS FUGITIVE FROM PENN.

HARTFORD, Aug. 3—(AP)—The state of Pennsylvania made demands upon the state of Connecticut tonight for the arrest of Roger W. Watkins to that state to serve an aggregate sentence of 10 to 16 months in the Allegheny county jail for a stock swindle in 1925, after the authorities here have disposed of his case in which he is charged with embezzling $167,000 from stockholders and investors in his two Hartford companies. The demand will be honored.

This development was almost overshadowed by the disclosure that Watkins, with two warrants fluttering in his wake, was preparing to start in another brokerage business in Watertown, N. Y., with the assistance of Charles H. Barber, of Seattle, Wash., when he was suddenly arrested by Constable E. Harrison Hotchkiss, of Granby in Lorain, Ohio, last Tuesday.

Equalization Fee Not Acceptable To Smith

Democratic Presidential Nominee Says It Can Stay in the Scrap Heap For Good.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(AP)—The equalization fee provision of the vetoed McNary-Haugen farm relief bill is unacceptable to Governor Smith, and so far as he is concerned, it can stay in the scrap heap for good.

The democratic presidential nominee recognizes and feels that his party by its platform is committed to control of the sale of agricultural surpluses with the cost borne by the group benefited, but his thumbs are turned down on the McNary-Haugen method.

Facing a dozen or more inquiring newspapermen today in his suite at the Biltmore, Smith went farther on the farm question than he did yesterday after talking things over with George N. Peek, Illinois farm leader who has cast his lot with the democrats.

Someone recalled this sentence in his statement of yesterday—"Control of the sale of agricultural surplus is recognized by our platform as an essential need, its cost to be imposed on the unit to be benefited"—and asked whether that was to be construed as an endorsement of the equalization fee principle.

Smith quickly turned to an editorial in the New York World, declaring that it summed up his views "concisely." It said that the plan for assessing the cost of controlling surpluses contained in the legislation which President Coolidge branded as unconstitutional was "unacceptable" to him; that Smith had no plan of his own as yet for carrying out the principle of having the unit aided stand the expense and that if elected he had promised to get down to work on evolving a satisfactory method.

TO INVESTIGATE TEXTILE STRIKE IN NEW BEDFORD

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 3—(AP)—Determination of the state board of conciliation and arbitration to investigate the textile strike here, a decision made when a proposal to submit the issue involved to arbitration was rejected today by both manufacturers and strikers, met with approval on both sides tonight.

Although the breach between the manufacturers and the 28,000 striking operatives was widened by the dual rejection of the conciliatory measure, their replies to queries concerning the investigation were the same in essence.

The New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers' association, which acted for the manufacturers represents 26 corporations. The New Bedford Textile council includes seven local unions claiming the majority of the unionized operatives. A ten per cent wage reduction caused the strike which is now completing the 16th week.

William E. G. Batty secretary of the textile council, declare dthat his organization would be glad to have the state board come here and place the responsibility for the strike and its continuance.

"The council welomes an investigation," said Batty. "We have no fears of the result. In fact we expected that such a step would be taken when we polled our vote."

Andrew Raeburn, secretary, speaking for the manufacturers' association, said, "the manufacturers' association has no objection to the investigation."

PROSECUTOR SAYS MURDER CONFESSION WAS A "HOAX"

CHATSWORTH, Ga., Aug. 3—(AP)—J. C. Mitchell, solicitor general who prosecuted Clifford Thompson, his wife, and James Hugh Moss, said today that Mrs. Thompson's "confession" was a "pure hoax, carefully calculated for the right moment to save her husband from electrocution."

"The man she names in this confession is one of the well-to-do, prominent and respected men of Chatsworth," he said. "There is absolutely nothing to substantiate her story. She and Cliff Thompson endeavored to extort money from him through blackmail previous to the killing."

"I have communicated my findings to Governor Hardman."

SUCCEEDED IN FLOATING GROUNDED SCHOONER

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 3—(AP)—The five-masted American schooner Mary H Diebold, which went aground last Monday night five miles east of Great Isaac Light and which coast guard officials delayed in assisting because of the craft being in British territorial waters, is afloat and preceding slowly to Miami. This was announced in a message from Captain W. H. Wheeler, of the Nassau-Miami motor vessel Isle of June who reached the schooner early today.

The Mary H. Diebold is consigned to a Miami dredging company and carries a cargo of granite for use in building harbor breakwaters. The boat sailed from a New England port. Her skipper said the hull was not damaged.

NO WORD FROM TWO POLISH AIRMEN ON OCEAN FLIGHT

It Had Been Calculated That the Plane Would Pass Over the Azores Between 4 and 6 P. M. (E. S. T.) Friday—Failure to Sight the Plane Has Caused No Apprehension, as It Was Understood That Unless Fuel Was Running Low the Fliers Would Lay Their Course to the Northward—They Hoped to Sight New York at Dusk Saturday.

HORTA, Island of Fayal, Azores, Aug. 3—(AP)—At 10 o'clock tonight the "Marshal Pilsudski," Polish fliers' trans-Atlantic plane, had not been sighted here. It had been calculated that should it pass over the Azores on its trip from Paris to New York it would arrive here between 4 and 6 p. m., Azores time (4 to 6 p. m., E. S. T.).

Failure to sight the plane, however, caused no apprehension here because it was understood that unless fuel was running low the fliers intended keeping a course to the north of this archipelago.

A forced landing in the Azores would be safe only on the Island of Terceira, although it would be possible in some of the agricultural fields of Fayal.

At nightfall tonight the sky was overcast and there was no wind.

TRYING TO BE FIRST TO MAKE WESTWARD FLIGHT

PARIS, Aug. 3—(AP)—Trying to be the first to reverse the route of Lindbergh's New York-Paris flight, two majors of the Polish army air service, Idzikowski and Kubala, were tonight believed to be winging their way westward somewhere over the Atlantic.

They staked their high hopes against a low barometer in the first stages of their big adventure but made excellent progress through heavy, foggy weather until they disappeared off the French coast.

Their big creamy white and blue machine was sighted 60 miles off the French coast three hours after a startling hop-off from Le Bourget field. The Azores in mid-Atlantic probably will be the next point to signal their passage unless some stray ship spies them. The aviators hope to reach the Azores after 16 to 18 hours flying, bringing them there between 10 p. m. and midnight, Paris time (between 4 and 6 p. m. eastern standard time).

There is no radio aboard the plane, which means that the Polish officers must continue their gruelling struggle with air and water and perhaps fire until dusk of Saturday, when they hoped to sight New York.

Despite the element of risk involved, the two took off as simply as if they were going downtown to business. They slipped dungarees over their street clothes and did not even take a clean shirt with them. Razors were discarded from their equipment.

The French weather bureau announced tonight that fogs and storms in the west of France gave no reason for disquiet regarding the safety of the plane. The fliers hoped to run into Letter weather as they made their way westward, reports from the United States having given them assurance of good conditions there.

Major Idzikowski intended to pilot the plane without relief as far as the Azores, leaving his companion free to scan the broad red line marking their course on the big folding map which was the last thing that the navigator took from their hotel in Paris.

The hop-off came at 5:46 a. m., Paris daylight time (11:46 p. m. Thursday eastern standard). Idzikowski, who faced the task of getting the heavily loaded plane off the ground, with a single 650-horsepower motor, was pale but determined as he pulled down his goggles. "Nitchevo," he said to friends, this being the Russian equivalent of "Well, what of it."

Then he gave the motor plenty of gas and after the shortest run ever seen at the field for a plane of that class, hopped the big machine into the air. He cleared the military hangars and in two minutes was out of sight of the field.

The plane is fitted with a system which will permit emptying gas tanks in a little more than a minute. This will add materially to the floating capacity of the machine in case it is forced down on the ocean.

DRANK VIAL OF ACID AFTER SLAYING WOMAN

WACO, Tex., Aug. 3—(AP)—Calmly almost casually, 24-year-old Mrs. B. O. Ashworth entered the joint offices of the News-Tribune and Times-Herald today, engaged Miss Charlie Lawson, of the same age, in a brief, low-voiced conversation, and a moment later shot her to death as she ran screaming for security behind a pillar.

Menacing other clerks in the newspaper offices with a tiny automatic pistol, Mrs. Ashworth sought to force acid down the throat of her 18 months old daughter whom she carried in her arms and then drained the fatal contents of the bottle just as her husband, cashier for the two newspapers, rushed upon the scene.

Mrs. Ashworth died at a hospital. Physicians said the baby was not affected seriously, although its throat and mouth were seared by the acid.

Ashworth declined to make a statement. Police reported they believed Mrs. Ashworth had slain Miss Lawson while temporarily deranged.

Nobody heard the conversation which preceded the shooting. Ashworth said he had not known of his wife's presence until he heard three shots. Two of the bullets struck Miss Lawson near the heart.

Ashworth, horror-stricken by the tragedy, accompanied his wife and child to the hospital and was at Mrs. Ashworth's side when she died.

Ashworth, who is 30 years old, married Mrs. Ashworth five years ago. Both had lived in Waco nearly all their lives.

Newspaper employes said that Mrs. Ashworth appeared to be perfectly composed as she entered the business office of the newspapers.

HELD IN CONNECTION WITH MURDER OF GIRL

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3—(AP)—Russell St. Blair Barholme, 27, believed to be a member of a prominent Philadelphia family, was held for investigation by police today following the finding of the nude body of a girl in the mountains north of Hollywood. She had been dead several months. Police said Barholme lived unwed with the girl here after bringing her from Philadelphia.

Police took Barholme to the spot where the body, badly torn by wild animals, was found last night. He denied knowledge of the girl's death, which was caused apparently by a bullet wound in the head, but said he had reported three months ago that she was missing. Officers said Barholme, under the name of Russell Barber had lived with the girl, who was known as Norma Barber in Hollywood. Police said they had information that the girl had been well known in Philadelphia social circles.

CHICAGO OFFICIALS ARE HELD FOR PRIMARY FRAUDS

CHICAGO, Aug. 3—(AP)—The special grand jury investigating irregularities in connection with the April primaries today hit at the "higher ups" onward which it has been directing its big guns since the inquiry started two months ago.

Returning a blanket indictment charging conspiracy to violate the election laws the July special grand jury included in its list of twenty persons the names of Morris Eller, city collector and republican nominee for sanitary district trustee; his son, Judge Emanuel Eller, until recently acting chief justice of the criminal court; State Senator James B. Leonardo, Abe Klass, related to the Ellers, and others prominent in republican politics in the "bloody twentieth ward" of which Morris Eller is the self styled "boss."

The July grand jury returned fourteen indictments in all, naming more than a score of persons on charges of election day kidnapings and assaults and recommended that an August special grand jury be called to carry on the investigation. The call was petitioned for today, the August grand jury being the third to be called to investigate violence, fraud and at least one slaying in connection with the primary.

One count in the blanket indictment against the Ellers and the others accused the defendants of conspiring in the killing of Octavius Gennady, Negro politician and opponent of Morris Eller for ward committeeman. He was shot on primary day.

SERIOUS INTERNAL CRISIS PREVAILS IN JUGOSLAVIA

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Aug. 2—(AP)—Jugoslavia faced the most serious internal crisis of its ten years of existence today when two parliaments met simultaneously in Belgrade and Zagreb.

The Crotian peasants' parliament convened in Zagreb and adopted a strongly-worded proclamation against the policies of the Belgrade government. It was declared that the peasants were determined to get what they considered their rightful share of governmental benefits or they would persevere in their present tactics of obstruction.

The Croatians repudiated all financial obligations assumed by the central government. The proclamation does not specify the financial obligation objected to by the peasants. They are generally taken to mean the big loan which the government is now negotiating in London.

HOOVER ONLY SALVATION OF TALL CORN FARMER

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Representative L. J. Dickinson of Algona, Ia., leader of the McNary-Haugen farm bloc in the house of representatives, today told James W. Good, western manager for the republican national committee, that support of Herbert Hoover was the "only salvation for the tall corn farmer," of Iowa, the nominee's home state.

Mr. Dickinson said the hog, cattle, corn and wheat raisers in the middle west had everything to lose in a democratic victory "which would place the congressional farm relief program in the hands of southern planters instead of Gilbert Haugen, author of the McNary-Haugen bill."

DEATH OF FORMER MAYOR OF ROCKVILLE

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, August 3—William V. McNerney, 81, former mayor of Rockville, died shortly after 4 o'clock this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John O'Neill, No. 48 Summit street. He had been in failing health for several months. The deceased leaves two daughters, Mrs. John O'Neill and Miss Nellie F. McNerney of this city and a brother, William B. McNerney of Monclova, Ohio. He was widely known throughout Tolland county and in this part of Windham county, having been active for many years in politics. Years ago he held many offices of importance in the city of Rockville and town of Vernon.

William V. McNerney was born in Worcester, Mass., February 1, 1847. The family moved to Stafford Springs in 1858 and there he received his grammar school education. He attended Williston seminary at Easthampton, Mass. He moved to Rockville in July, 1869 after spending some time in Willimantic. His life achievements follow an interesting and unique sequence. He was the first night school teacher in the town of Windham. During the winter of 1867-1868 he conducted classes in the old Natchaug grammar school. He was a voter in the town at that time. In Rockville he served the city as the second mayor in 1892-94. He represented the town of Vernon in the general assembly at three sessions.

He was Tolland county auditor for three years, member of the Vernon town board of registrars for many years, for many years a member of the board of fire commissioners of Rockville and he was affiliated with school matters in the town for about a quarter of a century. He was one of the active workers in behalf of a law prohibiting the employment of children under 14 years of age. Other offices which he held included two terms as an alderman of the city of Rockville, chairman of the Vernon democratic town committee for many years and member of the board of relief of Vernon in 1910-11-12.

Fraternally he was associated with the Rockville Division, O. M., Court Belpelo, Foresters of America and the Carpenters' union. He was a carpenter by occupation and as a young man had learned his trade in the employment of the firm of Ticknor and Post in this city. He retired in the fall of 1918 and with his wife came to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill, their son-in-law and daughter. On October 2, 1920 he had his name restored to the voting list of the town of Windham after a lapse of 52 years. His wife, who was Miss Ellen M. Sullivan of South Coventry, died a short time ago at the O'Neill home. They were married February 13, 1871.

Through his many offices Mr. McNerney found a wide field for fine altruistic qualities, tempered with integrity and progressiveness that endeared him to hundreds. His career goes on record as useful and honorable. Working up from the carpenter's bench he made his life one of great service to his fellowmen by sheer endeavor and unfailing willingness to take the interests of others at heart. A profuse reader of higher subjects and current events he was an entertaining conversationalist and untold numbers sought him out for advise. Many of these people who benefited in many ways from contact with him now survive to mourn his loss.

SILK MILL CAMPAIGN RETURNS STILL COMING

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, Aug. 3—While the final figure on the $30,000 drive that was put over the top here after a three-day campaign, was not ascertained up to late today, returns that continued to come in showed an oversubscription of about $2,000. It is expected that this amount will be substantially swelled when reports come in from out of town property owners and local people away on vacations are made. The Rockville-Willimantic Lighting company which made an initial subscription of $5,000 announced the additional amount of $5,000 through General Manager John F. Aberk. The full amount of $10,000 pledged by this company and its associated interests has been divided equally, $1,000 to each of the ten teams.

President Frank P. Fenton of the chamber of commerce expressed appreciation on behalf of the chamber this morning to the 50 workers who devoted time and effort to making the campaign a success. He also expressed thanks to the press for the liberal donation of space and thanks to the press for the liberal donation of space and thanked all who in any way made possible the registering of another success for Willimantic. A representative of the local subscribers to the fund went to New York today to meet an official of the proposed new silk concern who is returning from a trip to Europe. It is planned to begin the work of installing the new machinery here at once. The chamber of commerce office was a busy place today as telephoned or written congratulations poured in from various sections of this part of the state on the successful culmination of the campaign. Much of the incoming mail was from people who signified that they would like employment in the new plant.

The board of aldermen met at a special session Thursday night to approve the four appropriations totalling $17,800 for sewer construction that were voted by the special city meeting. The sewer committee was authorized to proceed with the work. While this was the only business scheduled for the meeting another item that was brought up was a petition from Herbert T. Clark and 36 others, mostly business people on Church street asking that action be taken to relieve the traffic congestion on that street from Main to Valley streets. The complaint was aimed mostly at the parking conditions, one letter stating that unlimited parking proved a detriment to business as cars were known to be left directly in front of business places for as long as eight to ten hours in a stretch. The petition asked that parking be limited to two hours between the hours of 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., and that no automobiles be allowed to park at any time in front of driveways and that all parking be at least three feet from the corners of driveways. The petition was referred to the street committee for investigation and report at the regular meeting Monday, August 13.

Another attempt to evade responsibility of an accident is believed to have been foiled by the police who have requested the authorities in Suffield to notify Sarah Street of 265 Main street, Suffield, to appear in court here next Monday morning on charges of evasion of responsibility and reckless driving. The woman, who is described as slightly passed middle age came down Main street here at noon Thursday in a new Chrysler sedan. In front of the Willimantic Grain store her car struck the left rear wheel of a two-horse team owned by Joseph Schachenger of Village Hill which had just pulled out from the grain store and was turning to go in a westerly direction on the street. The impact was accompanied by quite a racket as one or two empty milk cans fell from the wagon and rolled down the street. The woman driver either gave a good display of irresponsibility or deliberately attempted to get out of complications for she drove right along with a smile on her face. Bystanders, however, caught the numbers of the machine and turned them over to Schachenger who in turn reported at police headquarters. The force of the collision was sufficient to bend the heavy rear axle on the wagon and the driver had considerable difficulty in getting fixed up before he could return home.

Another accident was recorded at the east underpass of the New Haven railroad in Andover early Thursday morning when a hose and chemical wagon that was being driven from Providence to Glastonbury for demonstration purposes climbed the embankment just south of the stone abutment, stopped and then rolled back onto the highway where it overturned. It is understood that the driver, unaware of the danger of the underpass applied his brakes just in time to avoid colliding with the abutment. Several men assisted in righting the truck and it continued on its way.

In line with a change effected in the selling of tickets at the New Haven railroad passenger station Ticket Agent Frederick S. Moulton will be assisted in that capacity in the future by the various telegraph operators. This is made possible by combining the offices of the railroad department of the Western Union Telegraph company and the ticket office in one room following renovations made at the station since the fire last winter. GIANT BANANA ATTRACTS CONSIDERABLE ATTENTION

NOANK, Aug. 3—Frank O'Brien owns a large banana farm in South America and is a friend of J. P. Shandeor. Thursday morning there was a large box in the post office to Peter Shandeor's grocery store and, opening the box, he found a huge banana and, calling his clerks over to see it, he said, "How much does it weigh?" Biff Steward said, "About three-quarters of a pound," and it was put on the scales and weighed one and one-fourth pounds and it was three inches wide and it was named the Giant Banana. Clerk Murphy said it will make four banana cakes and Miss Josephine Shandeor, the bookkeeper, told the people that were looking over the giant fruit, "I have seen truck loads come into this store for the last 14 years with fruit but never saw anything like this monster banana. It is the largest one the town has seen. It will go down in the history book." A crowd of 75 came to see the banana, that was on exhibition during the day. Mr. Shandeor said he has a cousin in New Hampshire and will send it to him, for he is a great farmer and claims that he cannot be beaten raising things on the farm and he will have to take his cap off to the giant banana.

Providence Junk Co. has a large force of men taking down the feed line and cable from the poles of the Groton & Stonington Street Railway Co., starting from New London and ending at Westerly, for the last two days. They have been working through the village and the rails will soon take a sleigh ride. The job has given many local young men work. When the buses get running in first-class shape, it will be like riding in an arto on a Sunday.

Miss E Faith of Southington, Mass., is spending a few days with friends in the village.

Mrs. Marion Kenyon left California by auto, bound for Noank, several days ago, as a post card came to Mrs. C. Smith telling her she left the Golden state with plenty of gas and oil. Thursday night, at the hour of 7 o'clock, she made the fishing village and saw her cousin, Mrs. Smith, and told her the story of the trip. It rained on the way and she could not see to drive; the water was up to the wheel hubs and she had to stop for the night until the storm was over. Getting near Chicago she saw a big fire with five fire engines at work. It was a lumber yard going up in flames, and was held in line for four hours. The heat was bad in New York, like going into a hot oven. It is her first visit here in ten years and things have changed, making Main street like Broadway of New York. Mrs. C. Smith received a small lemon tree.

Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth of Orange, Mass., Mr. Fuller and Miss Gladys Wheeler of New Hampshire are visiting Mrs. Martha Smith of Pearl street.

SMALL CHILD DROWNED IN PAWCATUCK RIVER

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WESTERLY, Aug. 3—Hippolite Madec, 3-year-old son of Hippolite Madec, residing at No. 3 Craft's court, Westerly, a baker employed by Henry A. Stahle of Pawcatuck, lost his life in a sad drowning shortly after 4 p. m. Friday in the Pawcatuck river.

The father and three children were near the river docks at the rear of the Richmond Furniture store on Mechanic street, Pawcatuck, where he was engaged in breaking up some old autos purchased by him for junk. The small boy strayed away and his disappearance was not discovered until after 4 p. m. when a search was begun.

John Sisson, one of the searchers, found the boy's body in the river shortly before 6 p. m.

Medical Examiner Dr. A. H. Myers was called from Mystic and coming to Westerly viewed the remains and gave permission for removal of the body to a Westerly undertaking establishment. After hearing the facts he reported death due to accidental drowning.

The father stated that while he was at work the boy strayed, he thought, toward the street where search was first made. Later the father, Henry A. Stahle, Officer Archie H. Sheldon and others fruitlessly searched the river edge along the dock. When the tide had fallen the body was observed near the dock in about 4 feet of water where it is thought that the boy fell in.

The boy was one of seven children and was born in New Bedford, Mass., coming to Westerly about two years ago. Surviving brothers and sisters are Julien, 12 years, Albertine, 11, Beatrice, 10, Ernest, 9, Leo, 2 and Lillian, 10 months.

WESTERLY, Aug. 3—Judge Oliver H. Williams held but short session of regular Third District court on Friday morning when the cases of three violators of automobile traffic laws came before the court, a judgment rendered in a deferred civil case and a few other civil matters were disposed of by the court.

Duncan L. Wright of Peace Dale, R. I., was arraigned on a charge of reckless driving of an automobile on the Boston Post road, near Quonochontaug road on August 2nd, complaint being made by State Trooper Florence J. Harvey, Jr. The defendant was represented by Judge James O. Watts, who waived reading of the complaint. The charge followed injuries sustained by Antone Jabbenly, 20, of Providence a patient at the Westerly hospital and being treated for a ruptured artery. Bond was fixed at $500 with Ethelynde L. Wright of Peace Dale as surety and the case continued two weeks.

John Brimberry was arraigned on complaint of Chief of Police Thomas E. Brown charging the defendant on July 28th with passing a red semaphore light at the junction of Broad and Main streets. The accused said "being in a hurry is why I passed it." His attorney M. Walter Flynn, Jr., entered a plea of guilty, saying dozens pass such lights and I saw one deliberately do it, while an officer stood right there. Prosecutor Ferguson told the court that Brimberry claimed that the light was a blue one at the time and added that the accuse dhad allowed a truck to be driven without lights or brakes by a man who worked for him. Judge Williams imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

James Baskins of Providence, represented by Attorney Roche pleaded nolo to operation of a three and a half ton truck on Canal street not properly equipped with brakes. At the annual meeting of the Westerly fire district to be held in the Westerly town hall on Wednesday evening August 29th, the annual reports of the fire district officers will be read. At this meeting it is customary to lay a fire district tax although the tax of a year ago was not ordered until December when some idea of the district expenditures for new central fire station headquarters building and replacement of apparatus lost in the fire of two years ago could be obtained. This meeting will also be called to act upon the sale of some of its land on Union street, a proposition having been made by Rhode Island state authorities for the acquisition of land for a driveway or possibly a street at the rear of the Rhode Island state end of the Westerly town hall building. In 1911 the Westerly fire district deeded a plot of land in this vicinity to the town of Westerly which transferred the same to the state of Rhode Island.

A part of the highway borders on the property purchased by the town of Westerly for a new school house. An agreement was made between the town of Westerly and Thorp & Trainer, Inc., and Joseph Coduri, whereby, if the town grades its portion of the new highway, the owners of the two Vose properties will sub-grade their section within a period of two years and make it usable for travel.

The highway department of the town plans to commence excavation work on their section within a short time to remove the top soil.

Ward avenue was named for the late Governor Samuel Ward of Westerly, who was governor of the state of Rhode Island in 1762 and 1763. This street will be 60 feet wide and will be the longest straight highway of a residential section in town. It will extend from near the Granite street garage on Granite street to Narragansett avenue. At the intersection of Park avenue and Ward avenue there will be a square much larger than Dixon square.

DANIELSON

CENTRAL VILLAGE MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, Aug. 3—William J. Gelinas, 40, of Central Village was instantly hurled into eternity just at 11 o'clock this morning when the Ford delivery truck he was driving was struck broadside by a south-bound Bar Harbor express at a little used grade crossing just south of Central Village. The train was running as an extra and was made up of a dozen Pullman cars being dead-headed back to New York.

Running at high speed, the big locomotive demolished the truck and hurled Gelinas' body nearly 100 feet down the track. The badly mangled body was viewed by Dr. W. W. Adams the medical examiner of the town of Plainfield, who held the train there for a considerable period before allowing it to proceed. The body was taken in charge by F. W. Tillinghast and Sons.

Gelinas was associated in business with his brother, who operates a bakery in Moosup and was covering his daily route when the accident occurred Gelinas had crossed over what is known as the Texas or Richmond crossing, at the southerly section of Central Village, to serve some customers and was returning when the accident occurred. The opinion was expressed in Central Village this afternoon that Gelinas might have been under the impression that the crossing was safe by reason of the fact that no regular train was due at that time, and of course, had no knowledge that the extra Pullman train was rushing along toward the crossing at express speed.

The truck was utterly ruined in the accident and its contents of food stuffs scattered along the tracks.

The dead man was a resident of Central Village, where he owned a home. He leaves his wife, but had no children. State officers from the Danielson barracks took statements relative to the accident.

For the first time this season, the town court was concerned this afternoon with prosecution of a case having to do with violation of the fish and game laws. Donald McMahon, a resident of New York city who is understood to be spending a vacation in this vicinity, was presented charged with illegally fishing in Alexander's lake. He was apprehended by County Game Warden John Ash of Pomfret McMahon was fined $7 and costs for fishing without having a license.

In connection with this particular case it also may be pointed out that fishing in Alexander's lake is restricted to certain days each week, and Friday is not one of them.

TERRIFIC HEAT CAUSES SHUT DOWN OF PLANTS

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, Aug. 3—Fainting operatives, stricken down by the terrific heat, forced a shut-down of the two Danielson plants of Powdrell and Alexander this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Heat conditions within the mills became so trying as the afternoon wore on and the thermometers showed readings of about 100 degrees that operatives begin to wilt under the strain and it was finally deemed advisable to close the plants for the day. Men engaged in some outdoor occupations also were forced to quit work here this afternoon under stress of one of the worst heat waves this territory has experienced in years.

As indicating the intensity of the heat at the Main street plant of Powdrell and Alexander just before the plant was closed this afternoon an observer stated that the temperature reading was 122.

Night crews at the Powdrell and Alexander mills here did not go on duty tonight because of the heat.

Major E. L. Darbie, commanding the special troops of the 43rd division, will leave here Saturday for the annual tour of field duty at Camp Trumbull, Niantic, and will be away the next two weeks. With him will go Supply Sergeant Lucien Lambert.

Announcements of transfers and promotions in these units made today include that of Staff Sergeant Arthur Dupre, senior non-commissioned officer, transferred from the headquarters to the medical detachment. Robert L. Morin, to be supply sergeant of the medical detachment, Lawrence Phaneuf, of Putnam, to be a sergeant in the medical department. Sergeant G. Rene Caron of the headquarters detachment is promoted to sergeant major. Sidney P. Marland, first class private, has been promoted to personnel sergeant, and J. Leo Bodo also of the headquarters detachment is promoted from first class private to corporal It is said that other promotions will be made during the encampment period in the headquarters detachment. Elmer Major, Clarence Boyd and Arthur W. J. Beeney, who have been in the medical department detachment are transferred to the headquarters detachment.

At Niantic Private Beeney will be in charge of the distribution of mail for the headquarters troops. Leo H. Viens and Elmer Major are assigned as headquarters clerks and Clarence Boyd as assistant to Supply Sergeant Lambert.

A parked car, headed north, a south-bound passenger bus and a car following a motorcycle with sidecar were all elements figuring in an accident that happened at Mechanicsville last night. Mrs. Hermaine Scott riding in the sidecar of the motorcycle suffered a fractured right arm and collarbone when an automobile following the motorcycle crashed into it. Peter Maheu was operating the motorcycle and slowed down when he saw the parked car in front of him and the bus approaching. Adelard Maheu, driving the car that struck the motorcycle and injured Mrs. Scott, told afterwards that he was blinded by the headlights of the bus. The parties who figured in the accident are residents at North Grosvenordale. State Officer James Carmody of the Danielson barracks checked up the accident.

WESTMINISTER

The drowning last Thursday of Ernest Veit, the 16 year old Plainfield boy in the Quinenebaug river makes the fourth victim to meet a tragic death in the same spot within a few months and the eighth in 15 years. Tragedy lurks about one-half mile below the Canterbury-Plainfield bridge, known as Babcock's grove. It is a beautiful location and popular for outing parties. The river bends just there and it is said there is a deep whirlpool a short distance from the bank, seemingly unnoticed from the the river's edge, and a strong under current which seems to grip its victims. There is a strong public feeling that something should be done to prevent further loss of lives at the treacherous place.

PUTNAM

MARBLEHEAD MAN NOT LAST SURVIVOR OF MONITOR

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, Aug. 3—A news item printed in a Boston newspaper on Aug. 1 carried a picture and a story relative to the death of Charles Snelling of Marblehead, Mass., 91 years of age and known to be the last surviving member of the crew of the famous Yankee battle boat of Civil war fame, "The Monitor." The statement that the grand old sea dog of Marblehead was a member of this famous semi-underseas craft may be justly true and authentic, yet he was not the last surviving member, as this honor belongs to Thomas Taylor of Grand View, Putnam. Mr. Taylor, an ex-slave, took an active part in the famous contest between the Monitor and the Merrimac over 66 years ago. He is over 80 years of age and takes an active part in public affairs of the city.

In recent years, since the ranks of the blue veterans of the northern forces began to dwindle, the press of other cities several times has claimed to have the last surviving member of the crew of this famous ship among its citizens.

Mr. Taylor has related several times how he was taken aboard the ship by the captain after he had escaped from a plantation in South Carolina and on the day of the battle was pressed into service when the Merrimac steamed into Hampton Roads to meet the "Yankee cheesebox on a raft." In an interview, Mr. Taylor stated that he does not recall the presence of Mr. Snelling on board ship, but feels he was a member in service with him.

The first motorcycle accident of the summer season occurred Thursday evening in the village of Mechanicsville, a few miles from Putnam, shortly after 11 o'clock. A motorcycle, operated by Peter Mayo of Grosvenordale, was following a motor coach and was about to pass when a car flashed into sight and caused the operator of the two-wheeled vehicle to apply his brakes. His sudden stop caused another car which was following the motorcycle to slam on brakes, this movement threw the car out of control and caused it to smash into the motorcycle, and resulted in Miss Hermeen Scott of Hartford, a passenger in the sidecar, being thrown several feet to the side of the road. Her fall resulted in her sustaining a compound fracture of the right arm and shoulder, in addition to several body bruises. She was rushed to the Day-Kimball hospital in Putnam where medical attention was rendered. She was reported today by the officials of the hospital to be resting comfortbaly, but would be confined there for a undetermined length of time.

The accident was investigated by Officer James Carmody and Officer Strand of the state police of Danielson barracks. Conditions at the time of the accident were favorable to clear vision. Other technicalities were determined by the officers and they soon ordered the wrecked vehicles removed from the highway. None of the other passengers figuring in the collision were injured, the investigation indicated.

A death in Thompson Thursday was that of Frank M. Moore, for many years a resident of that village. Mr. Moore had been in failing health for over a year and for the past few weeks had been confined to his bed in a critical condition. He was born in Winchendon, Mass., was educated in the town of his birth. He came to Thompson several years ago and worked in factories of Putnam and Webster as a machinist. He is survived by his wife and son, Gardner W. Moore, of Thompson.

A distinguished visitor in Putnam Thursday was Prof. Clarence Ward, an archaeologist and a professor of this pre-historic subject in Oberlin college, Ohio. Professor Ward is a former resident of Thompson and a graduate of Putnam high school. Mr. Ward graduated from Putnam high school about 1900 and shortly after left this part of the country to continue his education. He has traveled extensively and has devoted much of his time to Egypt, in the interests of gaining a collection of specimens and facts relative to the early stages of civilization, recently uncovered.

Old acquaintances of Andrew B. Hyde, a native of Woodstock and a frequent visitor in Putnam, have learned of his death in Montclair, N. J., on June 11. Mr. Hyde, it is stated, amassed a considerably large fortune through an invention of his that has been added to the modern fountain pen. While in Putnam he was easily distinguished, because of his quaint old-fashioned manner of dress. The news of his death received in Putnam Thursday morning also carried with it the information that many Putnam and Woodstock residents have been made beneficiaries through his will.

Gerard L. Chagnon, of Arctic, R. I., while fishing in a lake near his home, received a severe gash in the head today, as the result of a large fish hook being lodged in his skull when he was about to cast his line into the water. He made his way to the Day-Kimball hospital, where the hooks were removed and a number of stitches were taken to close the wound. Late this afternoon he was discharged from the hospital.

Members of the Norwich Country club will be in Putnam Saturday morning to match their skill with the local duffers in a tournament to be played on the links of the local club. This is the first time the members of the Norwich and Putnam golf clubs have ever met in tournament and the Putnam players are asked to be in the best of shape and should notify L. H. Mellor of Grove street at once if they desire to play. The tee-off will be promptly at 2 o'clock.

The entertainment committee of the Putnam Country club are to hold a private dance and gathering at the club house on Friday evening, Aug. 10. This dance is to be strictly confined to the membership of the club, and those planning to attend should communicate at once with Miss Elizabeth Rafferty or William Rafferty. These dances are part of the summer programme of the members of the club and since the first they have proved a social success.

The numerous Bar Harbor summer specials now entrailing over the rails of the Norwich branch road through Putnam to their destinations as the summer resorts in Maine, have attracted volumes of local attention. The lengthy specials consist of as many as 17 coaches of Pullman type and are being hauled by gigantic engines in the service of the New Haven road.

Don't forget to make your deposit in the Cargill Trust company's savings department on or before Aug. 6, so as to draw interest from Aug. 1.—Adv.

Today members of the Putnam fire department inspected a large modern combination pumper and hook and ladder fire engine, that was being driven about the city by the employes of the American-LaFrance Fire Engine company of Boston. Perhaps the manufacturers have read of the recent controversies conducted at the common council meetings relative to the inadequate fire apparatus in use in Putnam and came here purposely to interest city officials in the purchase of a new piece of apparatus It is safe to state that they were not wholly successful in their venture, since the fire department's appropriation for the year is nearly exhausted, due to unforeseen expenses, the mayor and fire committee state.

The convoy of soldiers of the head-quarters company of the 43rd division of special troops of this city will leave Putnam Sunday morning via motor coach for the National guard camp at Niantic, to participate in their fourth annual encampment of 15 days. The company will leave under the command of Lieutenants Woodward and Murphy. At Danielson they will be joined by the medical detachment, under the command of Capt. Edward F. Perry, M. D. The peace-time soldiers will return to their Putnam base on Sunday, July 15, as will the Danielson medical detachment.

Members of the independent troop of Boy Scouts, Troop 1, will leave Putnam for their camp at Webster Lake on Saturday morning, Aug. 4, and will remain until Sunday, Aug. 12.

The Boy Scouts have named the camp Norman L. Kennedy, after their war-time scoutmaster, who died of influenza while in the service in a southern camp. The boys will be in charge of Scoutmaster Edward DeCarlo, and Assistant Scoutmaster Herbert Keach. It is expected that about 25 members of the troop will go to camp.

Sidney Hayward of Hartford, formerly of Putnam, was a visitor in this city today. Mr. Hayward is a clerk in the dean's office at Dartmouth college in Hanover, N. H.

STREET SIGNS

If there is any time of the year when street signs are needed and used it is during the period when automobile travel is the greatest. Street signs as well as direction signs are depended upon to a large extent in getting about cities and in locating routes and persons sought.

The city which has a system of clear lettered, conspicuous signs renders a most valuable service to all within its midst. It is of particular advantage to residents, but it has long since come to be relied upon by visitors and strangers.

Invariably when information is sought as to the way to reach a certain point, the person who knows the locality will direct the stranger to go to a certain street, turn one direction or the other until another street is reached and then on by a direct or circuituous route. Such direction may be enlightening or not according to whether the streets are marked. If they are not the information is almost useless. Also it is quite often the case that main thoroughfares are not marked. Evidently it is figured that everyone knows the chief streets, which is probably the case with residents but main streets and side streets are all alike as far as names to the stranger.

Sizeable and clear street signs help greatly, but there is also a big advantage derived from having them uniformly as well as conspicuously placed. If they are on a pole at one corner, on a building at another and have special standards occasionally there is about the same confusion as that which exists where there are three or four different methods of displaying traffic signs. Those who are trying to find their way about by signs are put to endless bother in trying to find the signs. They are willing to make the most of the street signs but they have a hard time finding them.

However much it might be desired street signs do not last forever. They are invariably good when first erected but they gradually deteriorate until they become broken, dilapidated and in some cases an eyesore. In many communities they deserve much more attention than they get both as to the manner of erection and maintenance.

NOBILE'S RETURN HOME

Only in the event that the Nobile invasion of the north had been a success in every respect could it have been expected that General Nobile and his party would have received a greater reception than they did on their return to Italy. It was a homecoming of an unexpected type but Italy received them with open arms and made it evident that faith had not been lost in them and that they would continue to get the moral support of their countrymen.

Their return to Italy was quite different from the reception accorded them in Norway and Germany. This was because of the feeling that had arisen over the stories which have been told concerning the handling of the Italia and the subsequent treatment of members of the crew.

The confidence manifested in the commander of the Italia through the many demonstrations indicates that he is sure of a chance to tell his story of what happened when the Italia was lost. There has never been any doubt as to Italy giving them the opportunity to explain conditions before and after the disaster. What has disturbed other countries has been the willingness to permit any explanation to be made on other than Italian soil. This has given the impression that Italy will not probe the matter to the bottom, that it will gloss over the tales which have been told and that there will not be the careful sifting of the facts that there should be.

Whether there is any justification for such a feeling will be disclosed after the report has been made by General Nobile and it has been given to the world. Italy wants to know about it all but so does the rest of the world. Naturally Italy would have sought an official statement of the whole affair even if there had been no disturbing stories, but in view of the criticisms, whether justified or not, it has been surrounded by such uncertainty that others are much concerned. It is the whole story under careful cross examination that is wanted.

SEEING AMERICA

For just the same reasons that New England is urging more to come into this part of the country for their vacations, others are still listening to the appeal to "See America First."

New England bids because it believes it has something fine to offer considerable variety, and there is question but what the same exists parts of the country. We have great beauty spots about which the rank and file of the people know little through actual contact. Some idea is gained through reading about them but the number of visitors is comparatively small in comparison with the total population.

And yet that number is growing every year if we note the statement from the national park service of the department of the interior. With 19 national parks and 22 national monuments maintained by the federal government there is much variety offered in different sections of the country. How that is being recognized by the public is indicated when figures kept last year show that there were 2,300,000 persons who visited them. In some instances this year monthly reports show an increase of 100 per cent over last year while the increase in visitors already indicated promises to bring the number of tourists to approximately 3,000,000 before the season ends.

With better roads, improved accommodations at the parks and the greater use of motor vehicles, this increase is only what ought to be expected. These national parks have been set aside for the purpose of preserving some of the real natural treasures. They are kept and made available for the benefit of the American public and it is natural that the ever increasing army of tourists should include them in their itineraries. The average person has slight conception of the attractions which exist right here at home. There is a constant flow of Americans to Europe to see the beauty spots of the old world. It is a fine ambition for those who can satisfy it but it doesn't surprise when those who see Europe before or after seeing America declare that America has attractions which cannot be duplicated elsewhere.

BRINGING CONTINENTS CLOSER

The idea of connecting North, South and Central America by a railroad line has long since been advocated. It gets attention occasionally but little progress is made. It serves as a matter to talk about. Such a move has gotten the approval of presidents but that is about the limit. It is a subject which naturally inspires the Pan-American conferences but it is a project which moves so slowly that it can hardly be said to be making any headway.

In connection with the closer relations of the nations of the western hemisphere it can be appreciated that a railroad system that would touch all of the continents would be of much value. As it is at the present time the trade relations depend entirely upon water transportation. There are steamship lines which touch practically all of the countries, and there are rail lines within the respective republics of varying mileage, but there is no intercontinental line.

Whether there will ever be such a means of transportation is a question. The circuit made by Colonel Lindbergh undoubtedly demonstrated what could and should be done in the way of establishing air transportation and it seems highly probable that such a service will be in operation long before there is a serious move made for rail transportation.

However much it has been felt in the past that such a rail line would be advantageous to all the countries, there can be no question but what the improved trade relationship and the closer contact between the continents in all directions are at a stage to give the strongest backing ever to such an undertaking.

ADDITIONAL POSSIBILITIES

Time will tell whether the new naval agreement which has just been signed by Great Britain and France will result in the elimination of the differences which developed at the Geneva conference for the further limitation of armament. It is felt in certain circles that this is the case, that the British in this agreement have come much closer to the position that was taken at Geneva by the United States, and if that is the case there stands out the possibility that when the nations get together again it will be possible to bring about an understanding on the part of the leading powers.

With these two nations agreeing to reveal their programmes for five years and stick to them it is evident that they are basing their hopes upon peace rather than war, and yet at the some time they are not disregarding the importance of preparedness. But if the two countries can come to such an understanding it seems probable that they can be interested along with others in such an extension of the Washington agreement as would accomplish the further limitation of armament such as has been sought.

It will not be long before it will be time to discuss the extension of the Washington agreement. Its advantages have been such as to believe that its extension is desirable, and yet if that is the case and the evidences of the additional desire for international peace manifested since that pact was signed are taken into consideration it is bound to be asked if it isn't time to include therein certain additional disarmament provisions. The British-French agreement lends color to the possibilities of such a development.

THE MAN WHO TALKS

Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate, is reported to have said recently at a meeting of business men in New York city, the following to which some may be inclined to take exceptions. These are his words: "After all, there is nothing so scarce in the world as competent men in the management of business. There is nothing we are so constantly looking for as that." This statement entirely coincides with what another great leader of industry said on a similar occasion: "We have been searching this country from one end to the other for a man big enough to superintend our work, and after two years of diligent search the man is not forthcoming. The salary we offer is $25,000, but we cannot find a $25,000 man to fit it." That evidently is a snag against which big business is often running up against. But business is not alone in this perplexity, every profession is looking for a still greater man.

There is some humor in the statement of a writer in one of our popular magazines about critics, and probably no calling exposes itself to more satire and ridicule than the professional business of finding fault. To be a respected critic one must have, at least, the ability to do respectable work. Some one has said that "any fool can throw a bombshell into a beautiful temple and destroy it, but only men of the calibre of a Michael Angelo" can build one. "The funny part about the magazine article above referred to is, that the writer himself poses as a critic. Now this fellow has the gall to write as follows: "The trouble with most critics is that they are as mean and narrow-minded as the people they criticise." Of course the writer looks upon himself as a notable exception. Such a statement from such a man would be provoking if it was not so funny.

The influence of association upon character can hardly be overestimated. One type of personality grows out of its badness by frequent contact with those of opposite trends. On the other hand it has been most painfully true that those who have come out of religious homes where the influence was in the right direction, when coming under associations that were positively bad, have become tainted especially if they had feeble resistive power. In a certain sense, and to a certain extent, it is perfectly true that what a man is comes from development of what lies within. Evolution largely explains how we arrive to what we are. But association with the external modifies this inward trend." Some one has made this statement: "Up to thirty-five, it is well to associate with older men, and after thirty-five with younger men." This may be generally true, but it depends on the character or the men whether old or young.

One sees a lot of strange people outside of a lunatic asylum. It is perfectly evident that our state institutions do not have a monopoly of all the deranged in human society. It is almost like "bringing coals to Newcastle" to illustrate this point. According to science insanity admits of all possible degrees. In other words, there is no such thing as absolute sanity, because that would involve absolute perfection which of course no human being has wholly attained. Some of these "offs" are funny, some are pathetic, but still more are a combination of both. The following illustration is a fair sample of the latter. A certain country newspaper recently had an editorial suggesting to one of our political parties just how their finances should be used in order to secure the desired results with the least expenditure of money. But you may ask where does the funny part come in? Right here, that paper has been in the hands of a receiver for a year.

In the long run history triumphs over mere romance, even if it doesn't thrill us to the same extent. How we long to have the startling thing coincide with absolute truth, but, alas, it does not. This is true in face of the fact that "truth is stranger than fiction." Let us remember that no young man ever has, or ever will, step from a potato patch right into an airship and land thirty hours later in Paris. It would tickle our love of the marvelous if this were only so, but as a cold matter of fact it is not so, and never will be. If Lindbergh or any other aviator wins the plaudits of the world for his brilliant accomplishments, let us not for a single moment think that it is all luck or merely haphazard. Let us keep in mind the long period of apprenticeship, of hard diligent work, and doubtless many periods of discouragements. Let us remember that men pay the full price for their immortality.

Many years ago when some of us were little, there was a current expression that you could make some people believe that "the moon was made of green cheese." Perhaps the expression is still in vogue but the writer has not heard it for the last seven decades. It simply shows how credulous some people are. But the most gullible man who ever lived hailed from a small town in Massachusetts who once expressed his utmost belief in a certain matter which the rank and file of people turned down as the rankest nonsense. When asked for his reasons for so believing, he actually made this statement with a straight face: "Why, I read it in a newspaper!" To this man the newspaper was as much of an ultimatum for truth as the Bible itself. Possibly this man was a reader of a certain newspaper at the time when Horace Greeley was alive. It has been said on doubtful evidence that some intelligent women believe all that the beauty doctors tell them.

Is there not a popular misconception that speed in anything naturally implies hasty, imperfect and shallow work? Of course in a great many instances it does, but on that account it does not logically follow that all rapid work is such. The implication is that the slow plodder is the finished workman. Beyond all question many slow plodders are thorough in their workmanship. But to make slowness of action a symbol of accuracy and perfection is a very leaky statement. It is the personality of the workman that is going to determine the quality of his work and not the rapidity or the slowness of his actions. A man with a slow, dumb intellect speaks slowly but what he says is not necessarily weighty. Because a man needs a week to come to some definite conclusion is no evidence that his conclusion is masterful. By nature some are slow; others quick. It is ability, whether slow or quick that counts.

Beyond all question whatever, tragedy will sooner or later come to any man or woman who fails or refuses to recognize his limitations. What every human being ought to do is to drive his chariot very carefully midway between those awful twin pillars, Scylla and Charibdis, or, in the language of today, between egotism and abasement. If he gets too near to either he will knock off one of his chariot wheels. The man who attempts to settle the problems of the universe in a country grocery store, as is often done, shows that his proper place is where he is, weeding onions or feeding pigs. The man also who is everlastingly afraid to take the next step never gets anywhere. It may be that he is afraid that he will get into the quicksand, or that he will sprain his ankle on a cobblestone, or that some old woman in the community may think he is too young to push forward. Just run that chariot with faith, coolness and courage!

DEPARTED

It never would have happened if Aunt Martha wasn't so sentimental. She's the kind that has to call clear soup consomme and a spade an implement of agriculture. It fairly takes your breath the way she jumps at conclusions. So when she got that telegram from her sister she let out one scream.

"Frank!" she shrieked, though he was only in the next room, "Jane's gone!"

"Gone where?" asked Uncle, calm as anything. It takes a lot to ruffle him—he's lived with Aunt Martha so long.

"De-parted—passed away!" Aunt Martha sank down and covered her face with her handkerchief.

"Jane dead!" Uncle thinks a lot of Jane. We all do. She's just about the smartest, prettiest girl alive.

"Yes," sobbed Aunt Martha, "and they are bringing her here." She still clutched the telegram, but she didn't look at it again. She seemed to know everything that was in it by heart. "She—it—happened Wednesday night and they are arriving Friday—" She jump up. "Frank, that's this morning, the 11.32! We'll have to have the—the—"

"Hearse."

"—at the train to carry the—the—" "Casket." You see, Aunt Martha just can't say words like that.

We were all so busy for the next hour that we just didn't have time to think. Poor Aunt Martha didn't have any head at all. She's always flighty, but the shock and hurry had made her much worse than usual. Uncle reminded her three times to call the minister and finally did it himself.

We had a discussion over whether we should tell Ray North now or wait till after the train came. He and Jane had been sweethearts for years, but they had a quarrel about a year ago and it was then that Jane had gone to Oregon to visit Aunt Martha's sister. Aunt Martha insisted that he must be told right away.

So I had to run over to his house and tell him. I didn't know how to say it, but I remembered Aunt Martha.

"Jane's left—gone," I mumbled as soon as I was near enough.

"Gone!" he roared at me. His face was like gray stone and I was afraid.

We all found ourselves at the station waiting for the 11.32. Nobody dared look at that awful black hearse, and no one dared speak to Ray North. He paced up and down the platform with his head down.

The train was on time. We heard the engine up the track give that new low whistle. It sounded like a moan and I say Ray shudder. Then the train rolled in and we didn't know which way to look. So we stood there like mummies until Jane—a trick gray suit and little red hat, came tripping gayly toward us—very much alive!

Before we had collected our wits she disappeared—completely surrounded by blue serge. It was Ray!

Then for a while I don't know what happened. Every one laughed and cried and kissed and asked questions at once. We all got home somehow, but things weren't yet straightened out, when Uncle saw the minister coming up the walk, slow and grave, the way he goes to funerals.

We didn't know what to do for a minute. We all felt so foolish. But Ray knew. He opened the door and said something low to the minister and in about two hours there was a wedding in Aunt Martha's parlor instead of a funeral.

Well—after it was over and we were all sitting around, the minister spoke up and asked to have a look at the telegram. We remembered then that no one had read it but Aunt Martha. She went upstairs, found it in her wastebasket and read:

"Jane left us Wednesday night. Will arrive Springfield 11.32 a. m. Friday! You see!" she was triumphant.

"Left us!" every one shouted. "Where does it say 'died'?"

"Why, that's what it means!"

"Aunt Martha!" announced Jane emphatically, "When I die, I'll be dead, not 'passed away' or 'gone,' or 'departed' or 'left'!"

"But you aren't any of them," said Ray, kissing her. And Aunt Martha—sitting up very straight—with the air of one who is born to rule, said: "by you!"—Chicago News.

Sunday Morning Talk

STEWARDS

We are God's stewards. He has put great interests into our hands. They do not belong to us. We are only stewards. For the time, we control them but the time will come when we must give an account of our stewardship. Paul declares in writing to the Corinthians, that one great thing about a steward is that he shall be found faithful.

Paul says that it does not matter so much how men shall judge us, because they are easily mistaken, but the judgment of God is what counts.

Time is one of the things over which we are the King's stewards. God has given us the lives we are living, time does not belong to us. We could not hold on to one hour of it. It is only loaned to us or, rather, committed to us, moment by moment. We have all power over it while it lasts. We are free to do what we will in it while we have it, but we shall have to give an account for it for the way we have used it.

Sometimes we hear people talk of "killing time." Oh, if one only could realize how precious time is and how short it may be for us. We are not sure of another day, so let us so live whether the call comes to us today or in the future days, we may, like faithful stewards, hear the "Well done."

Stories That Recall Others

Waiting

Mary's aunt was visiting at the Browns' house and, on hearing that Mary had a dog, said: "Mary, does your dog bite?"

"I don't know," replied Mary. "I'm waiting to see because I just got him yesterday."

Catching a Bird

Little Margaret was found playing in the back yard with her grandmother's best salt shaker. Margaret's mother asked what she was doing.

"I'm going to catch a bird," she replied.

"Surely you don't think you can sprinkle salt on a bird's tail and catch it," the mother said.

"But Mr. B. told us kids that we could sprinkle salt on a bird's tail and catch it and he wouldn't tell a lie for no bird," Margaret insisted.

"Why, Margaret, that's impossible." "Well, hasn't Aunt Carolyn a bird in a cage, and how did she get it?"

Little Talks on Thrift

Rare Are Valid Excuses for Not Getting Ahead

Great changes have taken place within the last few years as the result of which a higher standard of living is being maintained by people everywhere. The automobile and the motion picture have revolutionized conditions within the last quarter of a century while the radio of more recent development has been equally as powerful in changing the lives of the people.

Aviation has not yet reached the stage where it greatly effects the personal lives of the public generally but as time goes on and distance more and more is annihilated, the aeroplane will exert a tremendous influence on the personal lives of all of us.

While these are the more spectacular forms of progress there are countless other innovations that have united to change completely standards of living as compared with those that prevailed at the beginning of the present century.

Today persons in the most humble circumstance have comforts and conveniences which a few decades ago wold have bueen considered luxuries. Life in every way, so far as it is influenced by the inventive genius of man, is more pleasant than ever before. We are indeed living in a golden age.

Similar progress has been made in the science of personal economics. The service extended to the average family today by savings banks and investment houses makes it easier for them to save scientifically than ever before. Budget systems have been worked out and children are not only being taught to save through the school savings banks but they are being taught in the classroom the deeper meanings of thrift. There are opportunities for investment today which did not exist 25 or 50 years ago and those who are doubtful as to proposed investments have every facility for investigation.

In the days of our forefathers when every comfort was dearly bought and when life held few luxuries, saving called for a vast amount of pluck and stamina. Today, life's conveniences and comforts are so easily obtained and there are so many helpful facilities for those who want to save that valid excuses for anyone not getting ahead are indeed rare to.

WOULD LIMIT CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES TO $3,000,000

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 3.—(AP)—An appeal to both major political parties to limit their campaign expenditures to $3,000,000 each was made here today by Senator William E. Borah. The senator said that greater expenditure would constitute "an attempt to debauch the American electorate."

Asked if he was aware that Chairman Work of the republican national committee had announced a campaign budget of $4,000,000, Senator Borah replied in the affirmative.

"I have made my statement," he said, when asked to comment on the republican budget.

Speech Disturbances in Children

By Sanger Brown, II, M. D., New Y.
Assistant Commissioner
State Department of Mental Hygiene

Parents often worry if their child's speech is slow in developing or if he speaks indistinctly. Are their fears well grounded? Let us see how speech develops in the child.

Speech develops gradually, and the child's mistakes in talking are like his unsteadiness when he is learning to walk. Speech, walking, and other coordinated movements depend upon the functioning of the nervous system in its control over muscles. In the development of this control, variations are common and parents should not worry unduly when there is either some delay or indistinctness of speech in little children.

Stammering is fairly common in chilren. What is the cause of this condition? Ideas tend to come to young children faster than speech develops to express them. Stammering results. The condition is more marked with fatigue and improves with rest. It may be part of an overwrought nervous state, the same as blinking of the eyes, restless sleep, and quick temper. If this state is treated by rest, possibly removal from school, and other measures, these symptoms, together with the stammering, will generally disappear. Do not scold the child; do not make him conscious of the trouble; at most encourage him to talk a little more slowly.

With older children who stammer, the situation may be different. Here, aside from other reasons, mental conflicts and worries may be the cause. These children require a careful mental and physical survey, preferably in a child guidance clinic. The causes of the difficulty may be physical, but more often they consist of long standing maladjustments either at home or in school or with playmates. A remedy of these disturbing underlying causes is necessary for successful treatment. At the same time may be instituted such breathing exercises and other special measures in speech training as are indicated.

At times, one sees a child in the lower grades in school, who uses very few words and these imperfectly pronounced. Generally such a child has lived in a poor environment and has had few opportunities of hearing proper speech. Association with people who speak properly corrects these conditions.

Indeed, many imperfections of speech including baby talk, improper enunciation with a harsh, unmodulated voice hearing this type of speech in the so commonly heard develop through home, school or neighborhood. These conditions are overcome by hearing language properly spoken. Very rarely does one see a child with actual defect of the speech organs; hence the outlook for the correction of speech disorders in children is favorable if the cause is determined and proper remedial measures are instituted.

RAIN BRINGS JUNIOR GAME TO A HALT

Rain interrupted the Elks-Jewett City game in the Junior Twilight league, Friday evening, in the fourth inning. At the time the game was called, the Jewett City boys had just scored four runs making the score 4 to 0, but according to the league rules which state that a game shall consist of four complete innings, last night's game is evidently no contest and will have to be played over at a later date.

Previous to the fourth inning, neither team had been able to score, both pitchers twirling in great style. Reardon had allowed but one hit up to this frame, while Bernal on the mound for Jewett City handed out but two. In the fourth, however, Jewett City found their batting eyes and singles by Gaska, Bush and Salinski, a double by Beaulieau and a triple by Pizzo put the Jewett City team to the fore. There was only one out and Jewett City was in the midst of their rally when the rain interfered.

HIGH AND LOW MARKS IN CITY COURT FINANCES

Eight men who were assessed a total of $134.20 in fines and costs went to jail to work out their individual amounts which in most of the cases was $16.86.

The pendulum swung to the lower point on Tuesday and Wednesday when two or three violations of traffic regulations, calling for fines of $2 each, were the only cases to come to court.

LIGHTNING STROKE FATAL TO ONE OF FOUR YOUTHS AT MOHEGAN PARK

One person was killed, two others were seriously injured and a fourth was slightly burned at Mohegan park Friday evening in an electrical storm, which swept over the city about 8 o'clock. The four were struck by a bolt of lightning, while taking refuge from the storm in the band stand at the park, where they had been bathing in the cooling waters of the lake previous to the storm. Three of them were taken to the W. W. Backus hospital, while the fourth was taken to his home.

The dead man is Clarence E. Jackson, about 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Jackson of 46 Baltic street. His injuries comprised burns to the arm, from shoulder to the wrist. The seriously injured are: Ralph Sabertino, 15, son of Rocco Sabertino of 25 East Baltic street, burns to the entire chest and lower parts of the legs, and Herman L'Hereux, 19, of Baltic street, burned about the face and legs. The slightly injured is Marty Tringo, 16, son of Luigi Tringo of 137 Baltic street, burns to both ankles. They were all first degree burns.

When the storm broke out about 8 o'clock eight or nine of the party of bathers went to the band stand for shelter. Five of the young men were sitting on a table in the band stand, while the others remained nearby. The bolt of lightning, which killed the Jackson boy, struck among the five seated on the table, knocking them off onto the floor and upsetting the table. All of them were unconscious for a time.

Philip Plante, who was among the group on the band stand, rushed to the superintendent's office at the park and broke into the building, notifying the police department and Park Supt. F. R. Krohn. Capt. Thomas P. Murphy of the police department immediately dispatched Officers Patrick Shahan and Peter Driscoll to the scene in the police patrol, and they arrived at the park in record time. He also informed Medical Examiner Dr. C. C. Gildersleeve of the catastrophe, the doctor arriving shortly after the officers. The W. W. Backus hospital was also notified by someone.

On the arrival of the officers the young men were stretched out on the floor of the band stand, a number of bystanders working over them. Jackson was rushed to the hospital in the police patrol, while L'Hereux and Sabertino were taken there in the hospital ambulance. The fourth, Marty Tringo was taken to his home and was attended by Dr. Louis T. Cassidy. The name of the fifth person in the group could not be learned Friday night.

At the hospital, Medical Examiner Gildersleeve and the hospital staff worked feverishly over Jackson in an effort to revive him. Once or twice it was thought that a spark of life was noticed, but after an hour's fight against death the struggle was given up. Jackson's death, according to the medical examiner, was caused from shock of the burns. Sabertino and L'Hereux, the latter only recently married, regained consciousness and are expected to recover, as is the case with Tringo.

Besides his parents, Jackson is survived by two brothers, Frederick and Joseph Jackson, the former being employed by the Norwich Evening Record as a pressman and the latter in the job department of The Norwich Bulletin. The dead boy had been working for the Troy Steam laundry, but previously was employed by the Norwich Evening Record, before it was taken over by The Bulletin. Jackson was very well known in the city, making a great many friends through his connection with the Record, with whom he worked for several years, and was regarded as an efficient and likeable employe. He made friends easily through his pleasing and likeable personality and went about his duties and daily routine with an ever-present smile. He will be greatly missed by his numerous friends, who extend their sympathy to the family in their time of bereavement.

COW KILLED BY BOLT AND BARN BURNED

Six persons miraculously escaped death Friday evening when the barn in which they were at the time was struck by lightning about 8 o'clock during the severe electrical storm. They were stunned by the bolt, but recovered in time to escape from the barn, which was burned to the ground along with 40 tons of hay, a cow and farming implements. The barn is located on the Old Trimball place on Wauwecus Hill and is owned by John Adamsky.

Mr. Adamsky had just completed milking the cows, six in number, while his wife, his two children and two children from a neighboring farm looked on. They were all gathered near the cow which was struck and killed by the bolt, and they were knocked to the floor unconscious. They regained consciousness, however, and fled from the burning barn. After freeing the other five cows from their stalls and getting them out of the building amid a mass of flames, Mr. Adamsky rushed to a nearby neighbor and telephoned to the Yantic fire department, which responded.

Due to the scarcity of water, the fire department was unable to lay a hose in an attempt to save the burning barn, but enough water was obtained from a nearby spring to wet down the outbuildings and house, which were saved. The loss was estimated at $4,000, part of which was covered by insurance.

The reflection from the fire was seen all over the city and in other towns in the vicinity and this was the signal for motorists to race to the scene in their machines. So many were the automobiles parked on the road leading to the farm that it took the Yantic fire department two hours to get back to the station. The treacherous condition of the road caused by the rain accounted in part for their slow progress.

ENTERING SPEEDY HORSES FOR COUNTY FAIR RACING

The line-up for this year's racing at the fair grounds in September shows excellent promise of being up to a high standard. Arthur Small, who is assisting speed secretary Thoss. F. Burns, in the makeup of entries, stated Friday that a feature drawing would be the entry of the horse, Cub Ortolon, owned by W. S. Sonickson. This horse driven by Walter Garrison at Windsor, Conn., on July 5th in the 2:11 trot won the $10,000 purse.

Another fine entry is Oscawana, owned by John P. Cunilo and driven by Townsend Ackerman. The entry of Hollywood Leonard owned and driven by Edwin Butter of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will create much interest. This horse sold for high money a short time ago and his work will be watched by horse lovers who knew his former records.

Summed up, Mr. Small feels certain that the showing at the coming fair will equal or better the best racing at any of the meets in New England this fall.

Work towards the erection of the new horse and cattle barns will soon be under ay. Trees which were killed by the fire last spring have been cut down and removed from the grounds. A number of interesting attractions for the midway have already reserved space, and new inquiries are coming in daily. Every indication points for a banner year, which should prove conclusively that with interest kept alive there is room for a real live institution to represent the entire county.

RECOGNIZES COURTESY OF NORWICH POLICE OFFICERS

The following letter has been received by Chief of Police George Linton of the local police department from H. B. Moulton, treasurer of the Woronoco Savings bank of Westfield, Mass., in which he commends the pleasing politeness sand courtesy of the local officers. Mr. Moulton recently returned to Westfield from a visit in this city. The letter follows:

Chief of Police,
Norwich, Conn.

Dear sir: I wish to speak of the unfailing courtesy of your traffic officers. Saturday during a busy part of the day, I drove around the business part of your city and like many strangers, was obliged to often ask directions. Each time I was treated with pleasing courtesy. Thoughtlessly driving the wrong direction on a one-way street, I was called back, politely asked where I wished to go and carefully directed. How much better a visitor feels to receive such treatment than when he is bawled out for some infraction of traffic rules.

Yours very truly,
H. B. MOULTON

DEADLOCK HOLDS IN NORWICH WATER BOARD

The deadlock in the Norwich water board over the election of officers still continues.

At the regular August meeting of the board which was held Friday night, John A. Mitchell, one of the republican members, whose previous election to the presidency had failed of ratification by the common council, was again nominated for president by one of his republican colleagues, Charles A. Hagberg, and seconded by the other republican, John M. Swahn. A motion to lay on the table was sustained by a vote of 3 to 2.

For supervisor George G. Engler was nominated by Mr. Hagberg and seconded by Mr. Swahn. William H. Callahan, who is holding over as supervisor, was supported by the two democratic members of the board, Jeremiah Fitzgerald and John P. Corcoran, and when the vote was taken there were two ballots for Engler, two for Callahan and one blank, resulting in no election.

Nominations for cashier were also made, John R. Boman, Jr., being named by two of the republican members and Thaddeus Leahy by the two democratic members. Here the vote was again two for each with one blank ballot so that there was no election.

Mr. Mitchell presided at the meeting.

FOUR CARS IN CRASH ON WESTERLY STREET

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, Aug. 3—During the rainstorm about 9 o'clock tonight four automobiles were involved in a crash on Liberty street at Berry hill, following which Perry Underwood, 22, of 143 Main street and Charles H. Clark of 223 High street were arrested, charged with operating under the influence. They were in a Templar roadster which was without registration and neither had operator's licenses with them. Dr. R. O. B. Shea who examined the two men pronounced them under the influence of liquor.

The roadster was coming down the hill when it turned out to pass a car ahead and came into collision with a Studebaker machine driven by James A. Clifford, 304 Asylum street, Norwich, a member of the fire department of that city. Clifford's three-year-old daughter, Mary, sustained abrasions of the forehead when she was thrown against the windshield, but others in the car were not hurt. These included Mrs. Clifford, Jane Clifford, 9, Mrs. William Lyndon of Worcester, and Miss Elizabeth Moriarty of 304 Asylum street.

Two other machines involved in the crash were a Ford driven by Edwin Fenner of Carolina, R. I., who was coming down the hill and had his brother Milton with him, and a Nash machine which was parked. This was operated by Floyd L. Carter of Burnside, Conn., with whom were John Tilden of East Hartford and Fred Van Allen of Hartford. None of these were injured.

The Norwich man's machine was so badly damaged that they had to secure another car to get home. Fenner's machine had two tires blown and a tire was ripped off the roadster and rolled away down the hill for a considerable distance.

HEALTH DEPT. ADVICE ON CAMP GROUND SANITATION

Every summer Connecticut is dotted with pleasure camps for children and adults. With its varied scenery of hillside, lake and shore, the state lends itself ideally to such summer activities.

While "roughing it" is often times a pleasure for a few it is not feasible for large groups and so present day summer camps, many of which house large numbers, conform to rigid rules of sanitation in order to protect the health of their summer residents.

As a guide for such camp organizations, the state department of health has set aside regulation 109 of its sanitary code which includes the following requirements.

Reg. 109.—No city, town borough, institution, person, firm or corporation shall operate, maintain, or offer for use, or permit to be used, within the state of Connecticut any tract of land on which persons may camp except after full and literal compliance with the following regulations.

(a) A water supply of sanitary quality shall be provided in ample quantity to meet all requirements of the maximum number of persons using such a tract at any time. Said water supply shall be easily obtainable from its source or from a distributing system within a distance of not more than 300 feet of any camping spot within such tract.

(b) Any water found unsafe for human consumption on such tract of land shall be either eliminated or purified, or shall be kept posted with placards definitely warning persons against its use.

(c) Fly-tight privies or water-flushed toilets with a system of sewage disposal approved by the state department of health shall be provided and shall be maintained in a clean and sanitary condition. Separate toilets for men and women shall be provided, one toilet seat for each 25 men, and one for each 25 women, or fraction thereof, of the maximum number of persons occupying such tract at any time. No camp within such tract shall be at a greater distance than 400 feet from both men's and women's toilet. The location of all toilets shall be plainly indicated by signs.

(d) Supervision and equipment sufficient to prevent littering of the grounds with rubbish, garbage or other refuse shall be provided and maintained. Fly-tight depositories for such material shall be provided and conspicuously located. Every camp on said tract shall be within a distance of not over 200 feet of such depository. These depositories shall not be permitted to become foul smelling or unsightly or breeding places for flies.

(e) The method of final sewage or refuse disposal utilized in connection with the operation of a camp shall be such as to create no nuisance.

(f) The management of every public camp shall assume responsibility for maintaining in good repair all sanitary appliances on said ground and shall promptly prosecute or eject from such grounds any person who will fully or maliciously damages such appliances, or any persons who in any way fails to comply with these regulations.

(g) Failure to comply with the foregoing regulations shall be deemed sufficient cause for declaring the premises a nuisance under the provisions of the law.

(h) These regulations shall be printed and kept posted in a conspicuous place in any such camp by the management of such ground.

ANCIENT BURYING GROUND IN MONTVILLE RESTORED

Many of the older residents of Montville will be interested to know that the last resting place of some of their forefathers which has been for many years sadly neglected, has been repaired and is now an honor to the memory of those noble men and women who were buried there, some of them before 1800. This burying ground is situated in the northern part of the town, on the farm owned by Wil Glassbrenner and has been called the Chester cemetery although Chesters, Otis and Forsyths are buried there. The Otis family came from Glastonbury, England and bought large tracts of land in the north parish as Montville was then called and had a hard struggle to make a living. The family that lived near the cemetery was Deacon Joseph Chester who married Elizabeth Otis. They raised a family of seventeen children. One of the daughters married William Haughton, who bought land in Uncasville that still goes by the name of the Haughton farm. One of the girls married a Forsyth and another doctor Ephraim Fellowes. They were a godly race going three or four miles to church. Those who were not able to walk went on horseback. So many difficulties presented themselves and there were so many stories to contend with that later they sold out going west, the Otis family buying land in Chicago, not then a city and the Chester's going to New York state. One of them, a noted educator, Lemuel Chester, is buried in Westminster abbey, London. One of the Otis family invented the first elevator, another was the founder of the Otis library in Norwich.

The cemetery has been rebuilt, the loose stones removed, all the grave stones cleaned, many of them reset, the ground spaded, lawn grass sowed and an iron gate placed at the entrance. The sum of several hundred dollars was raised and the contractor has been successful in completing the work in a most satisfactory manner.

RUBIEN CHARGES HULBERT CAUSED HIS DISBARMENT

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Aug. 3—(AP)—A wide open split has developed in the ranks of Amateur Athletic Union officials connected with the American Olympic organization. Developments which have been brewing ever since the President Roosevelt sailed from New York with the American team reached the height of fury tonight when Frederick W. Rubien, following his virtual removal as a field official at the Olympic stadium, openly charged his disbarment was due to the efforts of Murray Hulbert, National A. A. president.

This open break between Rubien and Hulbert, who for years have been two of the staunchest A. A. U. old guard, was precipitated apparently by the former's failure to pursue certain recommendations of the A. A. U. convention before the rules committee of the International Amateur Athletic Federation or to report thereon to Hulbert.

Rubien's counter-charge that Hulbert had been neglecting the interests of the American athletes specially during the progress of the Olympic track and field competition added fuel to to the flames.

There have been extensive ramifications of the A. A. U. squabble in which the Hulbert-Rubien tiff is only one outstanding item. They have been largely precipitated by the relatively poor showing of the Americans on the Olympic track prior to today's great victory by Barbuti.

In the gloomy atmosphere caused by successive American setbacks some discord, disagreement and second guessing are regarded as natural results. The Paddock case at the start and until well after the arrival of the team here provoked dissension but it has been in the background since Charley "took it on the chin."

The coaches have been at odds over tactics and training. The now generally admitted fact that many of the American athletes have "eaten themselves" out of Olympic honors has been debated and has resulted in a concentrated, if belated, effort on the part of most of the coaches to regulate the diets of their charges.

In such an atmosphere of unrest, Major General Douglas MacArthur, president of the Olympic committee, standing on the middle ground and aloof from factional differences, has made a strong effort to keep the organization on an even keel.

TUNNEY TO ATTEND WEDDING AT POMFRET

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, August 3—It was stated here today that world heavyweight champion Gene Tunney would be present at the reception at the Leonard Swain country estate in Pomfret in honor of Miss Lila Stewart Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Holt of Winter park, Fla. and Woodstock Hill, who is to marry Morris Maurice Roldal of Paris tomorrow. The champion's presence in Pomfret could not be confirmed but it was learned late this evening that he will attend the church ceremony to be held at the Congregational church at Woodstock Hill tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. The wedding will be one of the most brilliant affairs seen in Pomfret and Woodstock society this season. Mr. Roldal is the son of the late M. Paul Roldal, a well-known French railroad financier. During the war the groom was a captain in the French air service. He is an engineer of high repute and has many American interests.

BARBUTI IS ONLY AMERICAN TO WIN OLYMPIC RUNNING RACE

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Amsterdam, Aug. 3—(AP)—Ray Barbuti, stout-hearted of little New York and Syracuse, saved America from rout on the Olympic track this afternoon by winning the 400 meters final. It was only by a margin of eight inches that Barbuti staved off the spectacular closing rush of the Canadian, Jimmy Ball, but it was sufficient to send the Stars and Stripes up the victory staff the first time for a foot race and to give the wildly yelling American contingent the biggest thrill of the entire games.

In a fighting finish such flashes have seldom been seen anywhere, the rugged Syracuse halfback, with the flying Canadian gaining at every stride, broke the tape first by an eyelash margin, then collapsed a full length forward into the red cinders.

That falling finish, which left the American with a badly skinned arm, side and leg, perhaps won for him. Had the race been a yard or two longer Ball undoubtedly would have won.

Barbuti, who took and held the lead on the final turn, after his teammate, Herman Phillips, had set the pace to the half way mark, ran the race in 47 4-5 seconds, only one fifth of a second slower than the Olympic record.

Not even the day when Paavo Nurmi suffered his first Olympic defeat since 1920, making a virtual gift of the 5,000 meters final to his countryman, Willie Ritola, could deprive Americans of the glory they have been looking for in vain during five previous days of track and field championships. Yankee backs were to the wall as far as foot racing was concerned. They had seen their sprinters and middle distance men beaten badly. This 400 meter race was the sole remaining chance to pull an individual flat race victory out of the fire.

With Barbuti in the pole position and Phillips in the outside lane, the Yankee pair lined up with the Canadian, Ball, the Briton, Rinkel, and the German pair, Harry Stolz and Joachim Buchner. Buchner was the man most feared by the Americans but he ran himself out chasing Phillips, who ran the first 200 meters in 22 7-10 seconds. Barbuti stayed up close until the far turn, started a bid that left the German pair, then Phillips, and swept into the stretch 100 meters from the tape with a good five yard lead.

Yankee jubilation was unbounded in the team's dressing room after the race. The most dramatic moment occurred when the winner's veteran coach, Tom Keane, who developed the last Yankee 400 meter Olympic winner, Charley Reidpath in 1912, entered.

"Well, boy, you did pretty well," Tom said slapping the runner on the back. Barbuti's victory adds another feather to Keane's cap, the Syracuse coach being noted for the development of great quarter-milers.

Barbuti was congratulated by Douglas Lowe, the 800 meter champion, and the German, Dr. Otto Peltzer, who were among dozens of foreign athletes who crowded the dressing room.

Barbuti declared he ran the race without a definite plan except to get in front and stay there.

In the 5,000 meters race, which was the day's only other final event, Nurmi's calm acceptance of defeat and his refusal to battle it out with Ritola in the stretch or extend himself other than sufficiently to beat Edvin Wide of Sweden for second place, stunned the crowd. Spectators as well as experts expected a repetition of their 10,000 meter duel, but Paavo removed the prospective thrill by jogging in second, letting Willie sprint to the tape, first by 40 yards.

Leo Lermond and Macauley Smith, the two American youths in the final, were outclassed, but Lermond hung on gamely after Smith dropped out and finished fourth. For the first half of the race, the youthful Yankees kept pace with the flying Finns but they faded rapidly when the latter decided to step out.

The first half of the decathlon battle ended with the young Californian, Jim Stewart, third, showing surprisingly brilliant form and keeping within striking distance of the leaders. The all-around stars set a record-breaking pace as Jansson, of Sweden finished first for the five events with a total of 4178 points; Jarvinen, Finland, second, with 4136; and Stewart, third, with 4,127. Yrjola, the Finnish favorite, was fourth with 4106 points and another American, Ken Doherty, of Detroit, was fifth with 3,845.

AMERICAN SWIMMERS WILL GET INTO ACTION TODAY

AMSTERDAM, Aug 3—(AP)—America's swimmers launch their bid to retain their Olympic aquatic honors tomorrow when championship competition gets under way with elimination trials in the women's 400-meter free style event and the men's 1500-meters.

Upon the slender but powerful shoulders of Martha Norelius and Ethel McGary of New York and Josephine McKim of Homestead, Pa., will rest the burden of upholding American supremacy in the former event in which Miss Norelius is the defending champion. Clarence Crabbe of Honolulu, Ray Ruddy of New York and Austin Clapp of Hollywood, Calif., are to take care of American interests in the other freestyle feature, with Crabbe the chief hope.

RICKARD NOT TO STOP BROADCASTING HIS FIGHTS

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 3—(AP)—That Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, does not intend to place the ban on broadcasting championship battles as has been intimated in statements credited to him, is revealed in a letter which he has sent to Paul Mack Hale of this city. Mr. Mack Hale sent Rickard $5 to pay for his "Orient seat" the night of the Tunney-Heeney fight. Rickard returned the money thanking Mr. Mack Hale for his thoughtfulness and adding ("I hope that we may continue to broadcast our boxing contests."

Tut Beats Miller

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(AP)—King Tut, of Minneapolis, defeated Ray Miller, Chicago, in a ten round decision over Harry Goldstein, of Boston, in the semi-final. Atherton scaled 112 pounds; Goldstein 113 1-2.

Leonard Cook, of Bridgeport, Conn., and Law Currebates, of Tampico Mexican lightweight, fought a six round draw.

LINDSTROM'S HOMER TURNS BACK REDS IN NINTH

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The Giants pulled another game out of the fire with late rallies here today, a home run by Fred Lindstrom with two out in the ninth and Ott on base giving them their second straight victory over the Reds, 7 to 5, the same score as the one by which the visitors were defeated yesterday.

The Giants trailed by four runs when they went to bat against Adolpho Luque in the eighth, but Frank Hogan's homer canned a four-run rally, giving them an edge. The Reds tied in the ninth on doubles by Picinich and Ford, setting the stage for Lindstrom's homer.

Hughey Critz, Cincinnati infielder, extended his consecutive-game hitting streak to 21, a new season's record. Cincinnati added one double play to run its total for the season to 129.

Larry Benton was removed from the box for only the fourth time in 25 games. Bill Walker and Fred Fitzsimmons finished. The score:

INDIANS HOLD BACK ATHLETICS IN CHASE

CIEVELAND, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Cleveland put a temporary stop to Philadelphia's chase after the league-leading Yankees today by taking the third and final game of the series 9 to 5. The Mackmen hopped on Joe Shaute for a three run lead in the first but Rube Walberg was unable to hold it, the Indians pounding him for two in the first and six in the third.

Connie Mack used 13 players, including five pinch hitters an dthree pitchers in a vain effort to stop the tribe. Hudlin relieved Shaute when the A's threatened in the sixth and he held them to two hits the remainder of the route. Score:

SHERDEL WINS 15TH GAME BEATING TH BRAVES

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Sherdel held Boston to five hits today and registered his 14th victory in 18 starts this season. The score was 5 to 1. The Cardinal batters hit hard and opportune and gave Sherdel tight support. Barnes, pitching for Boston, left the game after five innings in a state of semi-collapse because of the extreme heat. The official temperature was 95 degrees. Earl Clark, Frank Frisch and George Harper turned in remarkable fielding performances. Score:

GRAY HOLDS YANKEES SCORELESS AS BROWNS WIN

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3—(AP)—With the eyes fastened upon a scoreboard which heralded the defeat of the Athletics in Cleveland, the Yankees tried desperately to nick up a game on their pursuers, but failed even to score in the third and rubber game of the series here this afternoon, the Browns winning by 8 to 0. The fourth Yankee shutout of the season ran the champions' string of consecutive scoreless innings to 21, and left them with a lead of four and one-half games over the Mackmen.

Sammy Gray held the Yanks to six scattered singles and prevented Babe Ruth from getting any sort of hit as the home team pounded Waite Hoyt, Stanley Coveleskie and Myles Thomas. The Browns got 11 safeties, including three twinles. Score:

AMERICAN OLYMPIC CREWS SUFFER BUT ONE DEFEAT IN TRIALS

(By Frank H. King, Associated Press Sports Writer)

SLOTEN, Holland, Aug. 3—(AP)—American oarsmen suffered only one defeat in four races today in the Olympic rowing regatta but the solitary reverse fell heavily on 14 year old Tommy Mack who coxed the pair-oared shell which the brothers Vestrini from Italy barely beat out by a length.

The American boy's face was a study in chagrin, disappointment and dismay as he saw the Italian boat slip past the finish line ahead. He bore up until the American shell was hauled ashore and stowed away and then in the dressing room he wept.

Gus Goetz and Joe Dougherty, the Penn A. C., Philadelphia, oarsmen who propelled the shell, tried hard to console their little club mate and Henry Penn Burke, manager of the American Olympic crews, assured him there would be another chance but it was difficult for Tommy to forget his first Olympic race had ended in defeat.

It wasn't Tommy's fault his boat finished second. The Americans led by a length at 1500 meters but simply failed to increase the stroke for the final spurt while the Italians raised theirs to 40 beats to the minute and jhen to 42, snatching victory while the American pair plugged along powerfully but slowly at 32.

American coaches consider this entry the weakest of the seven American boats but nevertheless expect it to stay in competition as the Harvard four did today by the "repechage" system, which necessitates a crew losing two races before it is finally eliminated.

After losing to the Germans yesterday, Harvard came back against Japan today, took the lead from the start, eased up after gaining a two length advantage and finished in that position. The Japanese proved a plucky race but it was evident the Americans were more powerful.

Two other American boats, one manned by the double scullers, Charles McIlvaine and Paul Costelo of the Penn A. C., and the other the Penn Barge club four without coxswain gained impressive victories.

The Philadelphia four rowed a heady race against the Desden Ruder Verein four from Germany. With a cross wind blowing the Americans drew a bad position in an exposed part of the canal and their disadvantage was estimated at full 2 lengths. In the first 700 meters the Americans saw the Germans gradually pull to a two length lead before they could begin to creep up. With Charles G. Karle stroking a masterful race the Americans overhauled their adversaries, took the lead at the 1500 meter mark and won by a length and a half.

McIlvaine and Costello won by five lengths over the same 2,000 meter distance when pitted against a Swiss combination and their time was the best of the day in their class—7 minutes, 45 4-5 seconds.

The big University of California crew representing the United States in the eight oared class, did not compete today as it defeated the Belgians yesterday.

Tomorrow's draw sends the California eight against Denmark at 5:45 p. m. The Danish eight was beaten by Canada Thursday and is not expected to give the Americans much of a battle.

The American single sculler, Ken Myers of Philadelphia, meets a strong opponent in Collet of England at 4 o'clock, and the Canadian, Joe Wright, takes on Straka of Czeco-Slovakia. Harvard's four-oared crew opposes Switzerland at 2 o'clock and Tommy Mack and his mates in the pair-oared shell, row France at 10:40 a. m. Argentine, which had a row-over the first day, faces one of the strongest crews at Sloten and one of the favorites for the Olympic title when it meets the German eight at 6 p. m.

The system whereby entries are eliminated from the regatta after losing two races, sent the following into the discard: The Scullers, Flinsch of Germany, Mottard of Belgium, Dekok of South Africa, who lost to Candeveau of Switzerland following his defeat by the American, Myers, yesterday; Monaco's four with coxswain, and the Japanese entry in the same class; and the French and Belgian eights.

All seven of the American boatloads still are in the running for the championships.

DUSTY LEAGUE GAME IS WASHED OUT IN RAIN

The Industrial league game between the Y. M. C. A. and the Polish Citizens club was called in the first half of the fourth inning with the Y leading, 7 to 0. Dark clouds of the approaching storm forced Umpire Morin to stop hostilities. This was a tough break for the Yers, who seemed to be emerging from their late slump and starting once more back toward the top.

The league race is now considerably tightened with the Richmond Radiators holding a one game lead over the fast-traveling United States Finishers while the Thermos and Y have not been counted out as pennant contenders as yet, by any means.

The league standing:

	W	L	Pct.
Richmonds	7	3	.700
U. S. F.	4	2	.666
Thermos	4	3	.571
Y. M. C. A.	3	4	.428

CUBS PUT DODGERS TO ROUT FOR SECOND TIME

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 3—(AP)—The Cubs made it two straight over the Robins here today when they drove Jim Elliott and Koupal out of the box under a seven-run barrage in the third to win finally by 8 to 5. Hartnett started the assault in the third with a home run, while Beck collected four hits in four trips to the plate.

Eight pitchers were used, five by Brooklyn. Nehf wavered in the fifth, and gave way to Bush, who in turn departed in favor of Percy Jones. Neaf was the winning pitcher.

POETRY

Down the Hill

Sunlight and shadow like a lace coverlet
Spread o'er the hill where maple trees grow,
Over the cars there swiftly descending
As into the Valley of Newness they go—
Down the hill, down the hill.

Onward, yet onward, a swift moving pageant
Puppets of man-made pleasures and schemes,
All day they hurry on life's feverish business,
While the years' Keeper changes the scenes—
On the hill, down the hill.

Painting the leaves with the blood of dead summer
Heralding the night of the autumn's quick birth,
Freeing the leaves and arranging white burial
Coaching the dirge of winter's sad mirth—
Around the hill, down the hill.

Sunlight and shadow, a constant procession,
Maple trees budding, or tapestried snow,
Pass automobiles, ceaseless, untiring
As into the Valley of Discard they go—
Down the hill down the hill

—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Little Child

A simple-hearted child was He,
And He was nothing more;
In summer days, like you and me,
He played about the door,
Or gathered, where the father toiled,
The shavings from the floor.

Sometimes He lay upon the grass,
The same as you and I,
And saw the hawks above Him pass
Like specks against the sky;
Or, clinging to the gate, He watched
The stranger passing by.

A simple child, and yet, I think,
The bird-folk must have known.
The sparrow and the bobolink,
And claimed Him for their own.
And gathered round Him fearlessly
Who, He was all alone.

The lark, the linnet, and the dove,
The chaffinch and the wren,
They must have known His watchful love
And given their worship then;
They must have known and glorified
The child who died for men.

And when the sun at break of day
Crept in upon His hair,
I think it must have left a ray
Of unseen glory there.
A kiss of love on that little brow
For the thorns that it must wear.

—Albert Bigelow Paine.

IN NORWICH FIFTY YEARS AGO

An interesting bit of news was inserted in the columns of The Norwich Morning Bulletin of 50 years ago in the finding of a turtle upon whose back was the inscription "J. C., 1807." The turtle was found by Amos Corning of Preston and the inscription is believed to have been marked upon the turtle's back by his brother, Jedediah Corning. Other interesting items taken from the files of that week are in part as follows:

Monday, July 29, 1878—An old and respected business man and resident of this city, William Story, died suddenly of apoplexy in his residence Saturday morning. He was about 63 years old, was born at Brewster's Neck an, for many years was engaged in the fishing industry along the bank of the Thames and Shetucket rivers. Afterwards and during the later years of his life he carried on a fish and oyster market at different localities in this city. Mr. Story was a member of the Central Baptist church.

Rev. E. B. Webb, D. D., of Boston preached in the Broadway church yesterday

The Norwich Caledonian society commence their summer evening entertainments with a grand concert and promenade in Greeneville grove this evening.

The union Sunday schools of the Greeneville Congregational, Baptist and the Taftville Sunday school go to Block Island on Friday next.

Wednesday, July 31, 1878—Charles Bard of this city, senior bank commissioner, tendered his resignation to Governor Hubbard some time since, to take effect July 1st, but at the governor's solicitation consented to remain until the governor could select his successor. The names of the Hon. Jeremiah Olney of Thompson and Henry Mygatt of New Milford, son of National Bank Commissioner A. B. Mygatt, have been mentioned in connection with this office.

Amos Corning of Preston, while mowing the other day, found a turtle on whose back was the inscription "J. C., 1807." It is supposed that the letters and date were carved on the turtle's back by Jedediah Corning, a brother of Amos, who died six years ago at the age of 80. Within the past few year, this turtle has been caught at various times by different persons who have allowed it to resume its pilgrimage.

A TREMENDOUS increase in Power

Not only does the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipse all previous ideals of motor car beauty, but it provides a thrilling increase of that vibrationless power which makes Buick's Valve-in-Head engine supreme among power-plants.

Vital engineering improvements—including increased bore and stroke, greater piston displacement, improved carburetion and a general development and refinement of the entire operating assembly—produce the highest degree of efficient, economical power ever developed by any automobile engine.

Moreover, drivers of the Silver Anniversary Buick reap the full benefits of this mighty new power with any grade of fuel. And these benefits extend to all phases of car performance.

Dazzling new acceleration—unrivaled flexibility—matchless hill climbing—and new top speeds far in excess of any driving need—all await you in the Silver Anniversary Buick.

The famous Buick Valve-in-Head six-cylinder engine was already the most powerful automobile engine of its size in the world. Now that leadership is greatly increased. Now the Buick power-plant reveals even greater superiority, as you will quickly discover when you take the wheel and drive.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

King Eagle Gets His Fish

By Thornton W. Burgess

A loss may sometimes prove a gain
I hope I make my meaning plain.
—Plunger the Osprey.

Plunger the Osprey, whom people call the Fish Hawk, was in trouble. He had been in similar trouble before and hadn't learned his lesson. Temptation had been too much for him. He had struck a fish too big for him to carry away and he had driven his claws in so far that now he couldn't get them out. There he was, trying to lift that big fish out of water, and there was the big fish trying to pull him into the water, and up above looking on, was King Eagle, wondering what it was all about.

King Eagle was not in a good temper. He had seen that fish close to the surface before Plunger had struck it. He had intended to catch it himself and then Plunger had shot in and seized the fish. This in itself was enough to make King Eagle angry. "That fish belongs to me," said King Eagle to himself. "Yes, sir, that fish belongs to me, and I'm going to have it. What under the sun is the matter with Plunger?"

There was plenty the matter with Plunger. He was getting tired and he was very, very frightened. For a second or two he rested, with his wings outstretched on the water. Then once more he tried to beat his way up.

By this time King Eagle had lost all patience. More than once he had made Plunger drop a fish by threatening him. He tried it now. He shot down, screaming "Drop it! Drop it!"

Poor Plunger wanted to drop it. Never had he wanted anything more than he did to drop that fish. He half turned to look up at King Eagle and the latter saw his chance. He struck and struck hard with those great claws of his. He sang them in that fish. And then King Eagle had the surprise of his life. Despite the flapping of his great wings, he could lift that fish only a little way. How he did flap and beat his way. You see, he was lifting not only the fish, but he was lifting Plunger, too. Plunger was beating his great wings, also and King Eagle's temper was terrible to see. You see, he didn't yet understand what had happened. He thought that Plunger the Osprey was clinging to that fish purposely and trying to take it away from him. King Eagle screamed at him. Plunger then screamed back. But Plunger's scream was of fright and not of anger.

It was big enough to tire even his strong wings

Meanwhile, Mrs. Eagle had come over to see what the trouble was all about, and was flying about just overhead, also screaming and watching for a chance to strike. She, too, thought that Plunger was clinging to that fish purposely, and when she saw a good chance, she struck him hard.

Now it happened that she struck Plunger in just the right place, not to injure him, yet to tear his grasp of the fish loose. He fell into the water, flapped his wings frantically, found himself free, and beat his way up into the air. Straight over to his favorite perch he flew, and there he sat for a long, long time, resting, for he was thoroughly tired out. And for once he felt no anger toward King Eagle and Mrs. Eagle. They had saved him, although they didn't know it. But Plunger knew it and was happy.

Meanwhile King Eagle was beating his way heavily toward the nest on the Mountain, carrying the great fish. It was big enough to tire even his strong wings. But what a feast it would be! Mrs. Eagle had flown ahead. They would tear that fish to pieces to feed the babies. When he reached home King Eagle was glad enough to leave this work to Mrs. Eagle. He felt that he had earned a rest.

ANNUAL COMMUNITY PICNIC DRAWS LARGE ATTENDANCE

(Special to The Bulletin)

GALES FERRY, Aug. 3—The annual community picnic in which the summer residents unite with the residents of the place for the benefit of the local Methodist Episcopal church, was held Tuesday on the grounds of Carl W. Brown, at Brown's Crossing, where it had been held in some former years. The day was an ideal one in July and there was a large attendance. Courtland E. Colver was general chairman of the several committees. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock at long tables under the shade of the many apple trees. Rev. W. D. Woodward of Manchester, Conn., said grace. Rev. Mr. Woodward was a former pastor some years ago of this church. The menu was round clam chowder, ham sandwiches, lettuce sandwiches, pickles, lemon meringue pie, cake and coffee. The Rev. Jerome Greer was chairman of the after-dinner program and gave the address of welcome. Rev. Mr. Greer then presented Rev. Mr. Woodward, who gave words of greeting. George T. Meech of Middletown was the next speaker. Mr. Meech, who is always interested in this annual affair and is present if possible on these occasions, and in his early life resided on this particular farm, spoke in his usual facetious manner. Miss Gladys Russell of Jersey City, the talented young reader who has been heard here on these occasions for some years, gave The Story of the Pancakes, with an encore, Turning the Tables. Miss Russell, in her readings, is a favorite here where she has passed her summers at Brown's Crossing for some years. Recitation, A Pillow Fight, was given by Marjorie Bulcock, and Mischief, by Master Gordon Bulcock, who stood on a table that he might be seen. They were also summer residents at Brown's Crossing. Rev. Mr. Greer then presented the district superintendent, Rev. M. E. Genter of Norwich, who spoke of the good-will and pleasure such occasions afforded, held in the open.

Rev. Mr. Greer called on C. E. Colver, general manager, and Mr. Colver announced that sports were then in order under the direction of Walter T. Clark. The names follow of the winners: 50-yard dash for girls, Christine Maynard, 1st; 75-yard dash, boys, Leslie Mahler, 1st; three-legged race, girls, Christine Maynard, Mabel Bulcock, 1st; three-legged race, boys, William McNaught and Kenneth Melcher, 1st; sack race, girls, Christine Maynard, 1st; sack race, boys, William McNaught, 1st; wheel barrow race, Kenneth McAleer, 1st; potato race, girls, Christine Maynard, 1st; relay race, boys, Kenneth McAleer, 1st; relay race, girls, Mable Bulcock, 1st. The prizes for the winners were boxes of candy. The chairman of tables for dinner was Mrs. R. Irving Hurlbutt and the hostesses of the different tables included Mrs. Nelson Parker, Mrs. C. E. Colver, Mrs. Amos Main, Mrs. Avery Main and Dudley C. Perkins. Attention was called to the box for the offering for the Noyes B. Allyn permanent fund for this church. Ice cream and lemonade were on sale.

The cottage of the Boston Globe on the Bluff, occupied by the Boston newspaper men during the practice of the Yale and Harvard crews here in June, has been leased to a party from Hanover, N. H., for the month of August.

Among the dinner guests at the Community picnic Tuesday at Brown's Crossing was noted Charitable circle, King's Daughters, of Norwich. They had a table reserved for them and 27 were present. There were other people from that city. Among those from New London were Mrs. Herbert H. Crandall, Mrs. John B. Lathrop, Mrs. Arthur C. Fuller, Mrs. Nellie Geer, Miss Fanny J. Heeley, Mrs. Jennie Wadams, Mrs. Edna Moses from Groton.

Mrs. George W. Brown and daughters, Virginia and Barbara, of West Haven were guests of Mrs. Brown's brother, Nelson Parker, and Mrs. Parker, over Monday and Tuesday for the community picnic.

Judge Alfred E. Steers of Brooklyn, N. Y., has arrived to spend the month of August with his family at their cottage on the Bluff.

George T. Meech of Middletown, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hubbard and son, Arthur Hubbard, of Detroit, Mich., motored here for the community picnic. Mrs. Hubbard, the daughter of Mr. Meech, and Mr. Hubbard and son are the guests of Mr. Meech in Middletown.

Cards have been received this week from Mr. and Mrs. John Harold and family of the Submarine base, who are motoring over the Mohawk Trail and other places of interest.

Mrs. Harmon L. Perkins entertained at dinner Wednesday, Mrs. Charles H. Winchester, to meet Mrs. Perkins' sister, Mrs. Stephen Perkins, of Brier Hill, Groton, who is her guest.

Disgusted with her repeatedly futile attempts to find a parking space in East St. Louis, Miss Josephine Hard, after circling a block three or four times, drive upon the sidewalk and left her machine in front of a drug store while she went inside. She was arrested, and having taken her to the station, the police were unable to find a satisfactory charge on which to book her as it was discovered that East St. Louis had no ordinance forbidding parking on sidewalks. Finally she was charged with blocking traffic.

LOWERING OF CALL MONEY RATES HELPED PRICES IN STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(AP)—Lowering of call money rates from 7 to 6 per cent. tended to allay speculative uneasiness over the credit situation today, and prices moved irregularly higher under the stimulus of good operations. Extreme gains of 1 to nearly 7 points in the active issues were cut down in some cases by heavy week end profit-taking, but a number of active issues closed at or near the day's high levels. Trading showed a marked expansion in volume.

The market ran into some selling at the opening as a result of the increase of $75,000,000 in federal reserve brokers' loans and nearly $29,500,000 in rediscounts at the New York federal reserve bank. These offerings were fairly well absorbed, and the market soon headed upward in response to a brisk demand for the oil shares. The rally gained momentum as trading progressed. The action of the New York Clearing House association in adopting regulations designed to restrict the unbridled use of corporation funds in the call loan market apparently was ignored.

Weekly mercantile reviews were cheerful in character stressing the marked improvement in crops and the stiffening in commodity price. Another batch of favorable semi-annual earnings statements made their appearance during the day, and the Atlantic Refining corporation announced a proposed change in capitalization which involves the reduction from $100 to $25 in the par value of the stock. Directors of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, one of the largest in the country, voted a 4 to 1 stock split-up, subject to the approval of the stockholders.

Atlantic Refining assumed the leadership of the oil group by running up more than 6 points to a new high record at 169 1-2, but the traditional selling on the good news, forced the stock to back to 163 for a small fractional loss. Houston Oil also forfeited most of an early gain of 4 1-2 points but Mexican Seaboard and Sun Oil each advanced 2 points and Sinclair, Marland, Skelly and several others moved up a point or so.

Independent Motors came to the fore in late trading under the leadership of Chrysler, which soared 6 1-2 on buying influenced by the recent ratification of the Dodge Brothers merger and reports that the Dodge estate was acquiring the stock. Wall street also heard that William C. Durant was buying Chrysler and selling General Motors, which closed a point lower at 186 7-8. Recent heaviness of General Motors has been based on unconfirmed reports that the extra cash dividend might be deferred until later in the year.

New peak prices for the year, or longer, were registered by American Ice, Price Products, Frank G. Shattuck, Warner Brothers A, and several others. On the other hand, Case Threshing Machine broke 6 points and R. H. Macy, Conde Nast, Victor Talking Machine and Porto Rican American Tobacco yielded 2 to 3 points.

Rails were quiet and irregular, strength of "Soo" common contrasting with the heaviness of Chesapeake & Ohio, St. Louis Southwestern and Atchison. President Loomis of the Lehigh Valley predicted better earnings for the anthracite carriers in the last half of the year.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Commodity markets were mixed. Wheat dropped 1 1-2 to 2 cents a bushel and September Corn nearly 4 cents a bushel, on reports of continued favorable crop weather. Cotton rallied 75 cents to $1.50 a bale. Sugar quotations were easier and coffee dropped 12 to 22 points.

Establishment of new low levels for the year by the British, Dutch and Japanese currencies featured the reactionary foreign exchange market.

SOCIAL CORNER POETRY

ODE TO LISBON

You can boast about yer cities and their stiddy growth and size,
And brag about yer county seats and business enterprise,
And railroads and factories and all such foolery—
But the little Town o'Lisbon is big enough fer me.

You can harp about yer churches with their steenles in the clouds,
And gas about yer graded streets, and blow about yer crowds:
You kin talk about yer theaters and all you've got to see:
But the little Town o'Lisbon is show enough fer me.

They haint no style in our town—hit's little like and small—
They haint no churches nuther—just the meetin'-house is all:
They's no sidewalks to speak of—but the highway's allus free—
And the little Town o'Lisbon's good enough fer me.

Some finds it's discommodin'-like I'm willin' to admit,
To have nary post-office—just Jamie fetchin' hit—
And no drug-store, nor shoe-shop, nor grocery, all three;
But the little Town o'Lisbon is handy 'nough fer me.

You can smile, and turn yer nose up, and joke and have yer fun
And laugh, and holler "Lisbon is better town'n none;"
Et the city suits you better, w'y hit's where you'd orto be—
But the little Town o'Lisbon's good enough fer me.

Old Wheel

An old wooden wheel
Battered and worn,
Stood in the shed
One August morn;
Rim-ripped carry-all
Of all spokes shorn.

Miles upon miles
It must have run,
From early dawn
To setting sun;
Lumbering heavy
Till day was done.
"Wheel," I whispered
Stooping low,
"How many miles
Had you to go,
Leaping ruts
Through rain and snow;
Creaking down a cinder path,
Rumbling to the mart,
Dragging sheaves of ripened grain
From a filled-up cart?"

The old wheel solemnly swayed
As though
It would say, "You know
I've carried children
To Aunt Melinda's door,
Bobbing on apples
From tree to cellar floor;
Many miles,
And miles more!"

GREETINGS FROM MAJESTIC

Dear Social Corner Editor and Sisters: How are you all these hot days? We have had some awful hot sultry days this month. Hope you all found a nice cool place when it was so hot.

Daisy Dean: Thank you for the poem, "Old Ironsides." I have wished a good many times that I could have the poem. I am interested in old ships.

Could any of the sisters tell me about the Miller place in Hampton, Conn.? I heard once that it was a nice place. Seems to me it was in Howard Valley. I think there was a man murdered there a few years ago.

Kitty Lou: What do you think of these hot days? Rhody Louise reads your letters and often speaks about you. She is pretty well for her.

Berries will soon be ripe and ready to pick. I will be glad when I can go into the woods and pick some.

Best wishes to the Social Corner Editor and Sisters.

WAYS TO USE PEAS

Dear Cornerites: These ways to use peas are worth remembering in order to vary the dish:

Peas a la Flamande: Boil six eggs and when they are cool, chop. Melt two tablespoons of butter and add the eggs to the butter. Serve this sauce on four quarts of cooked peas. Serve very hot.

Peas with Crumbs: Place slices of hot toast on a plate and place cooked peas on it. Fry one cup of bread crumbs light brown (not golden) in plenty of butter about two tablespoons) and put over the top of all.

Peas with Bacon: Fry five slices of bacon (put in the pan before it gets hot). Fry slowly for about five minutes, then add pepper, salt, pimento and about two cups of cooked peas. Pour over about three cups of stock, beef, chicken or veal. Let all simmer till done; thicken the same with a little flour or arrowroot. Serve hot.

GUESS WHO?

KEEP GARDEN SOIL CULTIVATED

Dear Social Corner Editor and Sisters: In my letter last week I should have said bulbs in place of seeds for hyacinths, tulips and daffodils and I take this my first opportunity to correct my error.

Closely allied to weed eradication is the matter of cultivation. The whole end of hoeing is not to get rid of the weeds and grass, although many amateurs, in their ignorance of garden cultivation, seem to believe that to be so. The use of a hoe, rake, or some other tool would be required at frequent intervals, even though not a single weed could be found in all the garden. The reason is that it is necessary to keep the surface of the soil free from crusts such as are formed after a hard rain and when the sun has been beating down fiercely for a day or two.

The roots of the plant need ventilation strange as that statement may seem. In order to have good crops, it is necessary that the soil be aerated, and that can be accomplished only by loosening up the surface with some kind of a sharp tool.

There is another purpose in cultivation, too, and it is even more important. When the surface of the soil is packed firmly, the moisture below rises just as oil rises in a lamp wick by means of what the scientists call capillary action. When it reaches the top of the ground the moisture is evaporated and lost.

BEING A GRANDMOTHER.

Dear Social Sisters: Was pleased to see some of the old writers restored to life. I think it about time to show a little life myself. Have not been able to attend a meeting for so long, hope soon some one will have a picnic, as I am sure we all enjoy the outdoor meetings. It seems good to be at home again. Seems as though I had been on a great journey.

Some of you know I have a new grandson. He came the 10th of June so of course "grandma" had to be Johnny on the spot. He is a dear little fellow and I was very sorry to have to come away and leave him. He has a very pretty name, Dwight Edward. I only wish I might be near to see him grow—they only stay babies such a short time. I am very fond of small children.

It seems nice to see the sun shine once more, we have had such poor weather.

Maple Leaf: Congratulations to you and yours. You also know what it is to be grandmother. Hope you will not be like so many and be called by some other name. I think it grand to be called grandmother. It means a whole lot to me. It does not make us one day older. I had my oldest grandson with me this summer and we do have nice times together.

True Blue: Glad to see you among the writers.

Scottie: Expected to get to see you. I am a very busy person, as you know. Being away so long everything was out of sorts and had to get it into shape. You know I have a large place to care for and that takes time.

Chocolate: What's the matter you never write? I will send you some paper and a pencil. It is a long time since I have seen your name in the letters.

White Dawn: Why so silent?

Had a call from Betsy Bray and Marigold and had a little chat. Nice to see old friends.

Catnip: I wish you many happy returns. Glad you had a nice birthday. I also had a nice one, also a lovely May basket filled with nice things.

Bumble Bee: Have passed your house several times this summer, but never happened to see you out in the yard. Little Bumble Bee is growing so fast I hardly know her now.

Had a call from Viva. Come again, we will have some more old fashion Johnny cakes.

Best wishes for the Corner.

NECIA.

LIKE A VACATION.

Dear Editor and Social Corner Sisters: I think I will add my mite. Have been quite busy, but I have enjoyed the summer very much. Have had a chance to see a lovely garden grow and to have some of its lovely fresh vegetables to eat. It has been a great pleasure to me. Being with Aunty No. 1 this summer has been almost like a vacation. I have had the pleasure of meeting with some very nice people and have made quite a number of friends. We have to add new friends to our list or else we would have none, for old friends are like flowers, they die and fade away. We have to have new ones to take their places.

I want to thank those who remembered me on my birthday.

Catnip: You will hear from me later.

Patches: Congratulations.

Crimson Rambler: No offense. I was only celebrating the event.

Olga: Thank you. Come again and see what you will see.

Scottie: I am fine. Hope you are the same.

Strawberry: Was glad to meet with you that day.

Sweet Lavender: I was glad to read a letter from your pen.

SISTER READY.

IN HISTORIC LEBANON

Dear Social Corner Editor and Friends: This time I am writing in the good old historic town of Lebanon, the place of my birth and where I lived for over 30 years.

There are many changes since that time, many moved to other places and others passed away.

A friend and I visited the Lebanon war office since I came here and registered in a book kept for that purpose. Many ancient relics are there, many of which were used by my dear grandmother in her home, as she always cooked by a fireplace. There is one thing I have never seen since I left home and that is a tramel which was used in the fire place.

Since I came to Lebanon I am staying with a dear friend who was my schoolmate and later my school teacher, Mrs. Mary Sweet. Only two more of my teachers are left, Frederick Abell of Columbia and David Smith of California. Those school days were happy ones but how few realize it till they have gone forever.

Do any of the Social Corner sisters know the names of the disciples mentioned in the Bible in rhyme. It commences:

"These are the twelve disciples names
Peter, Andrew, John and James"

If any one has the rest of the poem will they kindly send it to the Corner?

Best wishes to one and all. I remain the same.

TATTING AT HOSPITAL

Dear Social Corner Members: Tatting (my daughter) and I wish to express our gratitude for all the lovely thoughts and kind words sent us through your letters. We both appreciate them all and once again we thank you. May I tell you dear friends, that "Tatting" was obliged to enter the Lawrence-Memorial hospital at New London to undergo a serious operation. Everything is being done for her life and comfort that can be done. She had one of our greatest surgeons to operate, Dr. Daniel Sullivan and private nurses and she has one of the best rooms in the hospital. She will be glad to hear from you if she is spared and we hope for the best. Tatting had no choice, but had to go. It was her only chance, and like a "good Scout" she went. Smiling through it all. I send these few lines to let you know how much those kind words cheered her; for she read them all. With dearest affection for all our friends,

CUTIE.

SUSANNA TELLS OF HOLLAND

Dear Social Corner: I want to tell you about England, but just now Holland, through which we have just passed, is fresh in my mind, so will write about it. It is very different from England, Scotland or Wales. We left London in the evening, spent the night on the steamer, reached Hook of Holland at early morning, train to The Hague and went sightseeing at "Peace Palace" and "House in the Woods." Andrew Carnegie gave $1,000,000 to the Dutch government to build the "Peace Palace." The government gave the six acres and every country has contributed a part of the palace. Italy, the marble columns for the great vestibule; France, painting, gobelins and tapestries; England, stained glass windows; Belgium, iron and brass doors; Sweden, granite for front and sides of palace; Norway, granite and marble; Japan, silk tapestry; Austria, crystal candelabra; Russia, jasper vases; America, a statue called "Peace." It is at the front of the grand staircase and is very beautiful. The gardens are wonderfully laid out with water running through and around them. This is now the permanent court of peace arbitration. I cannot give you any idea of its grandeur. In Holland canals lead everywhere along the streets; a row of elm trees is all that separates you from the water. It is beautiful where the trees are cut in the shape of cats and dogs. Every little way there is a windmill and boats such as are never seen elsewhere. At Amsterdam, to which we came next by train, is a mixture of old and new. We went to the flower mart. For half a mile beside the highway they sell them, and the air is loaded with perfume; through the streets they sell everything on sidewalks, lined up in rows three deep, from antiques to dress goods. While there we visited the diamond cutting shop, where the biggest diamond was cut. They use wheels like a buzz-saw. The diamond is held in some sort of wax and dipped into its own dust to help cut it. Went through a museum where so many of Rembrandt's paintings are. Says his home where his best work was done, his "Night Watch" with its lovely yellow lights, and "Lesson in Anatomy." The first one was destroyed by fire. There is "Himself," painted by himself. He has not made it handsome. Also pictures of Van Meer, with their light coming from a back room always. Then we spent one day at Island of Morken, where the quaint and bright colored old Dutch costumes are still worn, the men with blue woolen pants, pleated at waist line, red shirts and short jacket, the women in blue skirts, gathered full and long, bright waists and white lace caps, turned back each side, and all with wooden shoes that they drop off outside of their doors. The houses are so small. One woman with eight children lived in one room and a sort of shed. Two of the little people were asleep in bunks, and there was room for two more, just sort of cubbyholes. But the house was clean, pictures on the walls, places for things you'd never think of, lace curtains as white as snow. The women all work like men, pulling the boats through the canals that go all through the island. They have long poles. The children lined up to have their picture taken and they were all so fat and round and loved to do it. Some ran ahead and posed when no one wanted them to. They wear little white lace caps and a lot of them were knitting wool stockings. We visited a model cheese factory, where the Edam and pineapple cheeses are made by hand. We ate cheese and drank milk sweetened with junket or rennet they call it. It was very interesting.

We then sailed back to Amsterdam.

I want to tell you that "Hook of Holland" received its name from iron hooks that are at all the old houses at the top or roof of the building, and everything goes up that way. We saw a baby carriage go and into its place on the third floor.

Hope my letter is not too long. I want to tell you later about England, Wales and Scotland. Have had a wonderful trip, which is half over now. Shall be home the first of September.

Greetings to you all.

SUSANNA.

TRIPLE E. HELPS OUT CORNER

Editor and Corner Members: It is a long time since I have written to the corner and now that the page is not always full it seems a good time to hein out.

Several weeks ago when the new school building and community hall in Lisbon was dedicated a local reader gave as one of his numbers on the program the "Ode to Lisbon" by Deacon E. C. Strong for many years a resident of the town. Two people have since asked if I had a copy of the poem and thinking there may be others who would like to have it, I am sending it to the corner. I think it is nearly 20 years since the poem was written and naturally there have been many changes. There are now several small stores, a trunk line road and another state road through the town but "Jamie" is still "fetchin'" the mail.

I was interested in the inquiry about the term "Little Red School House". My first two years of school were in a little red school house built of brick that were made in a kiln less than a half mile away. That school house was replaced by a fine large wooden building, though a one room school but it was not red. I have known of one or two other old school houses in country towns built of brick that were their natural color, red, so it had always seemed to me that was where the name originated, though I may be mistaken.

I am going to pass along a cooking hint that I learned a short time ago. One of our new Americans who is a very good cook and makes especially fine doughnuts told me she always keeps a slice of raw potato in the fat while frying them. I was rather skeptical as to what possible use that could be but tried it in my next doughnut making and found the raw potato keeps the fat bubbling over the doughnuts and they do not soak the fat as much. Put in a fresh slice of potato each time you put in cakes.

With best wishes

SUGGESTS ROCKY POINT PARTY

Dear Social Corner Sisters: What lovely weather. Will Theoda, or some one, get up a bus load to go to Rocky Point? I for one would like to go there. I am still on the camp ground piecing red school blocks.

Sea Bird is the happy mother of a little daughter named Elizabeth. One month old.

ANSWERS AND INQUIRIES

PISCES: Perfectly agreeable

SHOULD LOOK WELL AT THE CANS.

Dear Editor and Social Corner Members: I began to think if I didn't write pretty soon I would be in the slacker's row. Have been reading of this malady which has been prevailing in the different cities. I don't think it is from the cows so much as it is having unclean cans.

If the inspectors would look around a little more and see what the cans and covers are used for, have them sent out from the city dairies clean, and note the way the milk it cooled we would avoid more of these diseases that spread so much in the country.

When I lived with my folks, when young, we moved on a place which they said was haunted. The story was that a child had been murdered there and at such a time every night the door would open into the room the child was killed in. The door would open at about 11 o'clock every night. But we soon found out the cause. A train would pass over a bridge at the time which caused a jar and the door would open. My mother tied the door and that ended the trouble.

Sorry I could not have been to the Corner picnic July 25, but thought of you all that day.

The Katydids have been singing near my door for three nights now. I suppose according to the old saying there'll be a frost in six weeks.

Greetings to all shut-ins and members.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS.

WHEN PACKING YOUR BAG

Dear Social Cornerites: Will send a letter to the Corner before the "roll is called." I do enjoy the letters so much and know it is my duty to write more often, but I have so much writing to do that I just neglect to write to the Social Corner. I am glad and thankful that others do their duty, even if I don't. Some weeks ago Lady Slipper wrote asking about tatting patterns. Now I have two books which she will like if she hasn't got some like them. One is by Anna Valeire, book No. 3. The other is by Mary E. Fitch, book No. 6. The books have some nice patterns, but I do not care to keep them, as I do not have time for such work nowadays.

I want to tell you of two little tricks which I learned from my great-aunt, who has always been a great traveler. When packing a trunk or bag, roll all clothes which are not worn outside, instead of folding them. You will be surprised to find how much more you can pack in when clothes are rolled, and I can't see that things look any worse from being rolled then when folded. I use this method in packing bureau drawers. My aunt has another trick which I have never seen anyone else do. All paper money is folded so that the denomination of the bill is on outside. Then in a pocket on side of her bag (inside of bag) she places the bills with just the numbers showing. If there are a number of one dollar bills, these are in one "pack," and so on. It's very convenient, as I find, for since I learned the trick I always fold the money that way—if I can get any to fold.

Some weeks ago one of the sisters wrote about visiting Roger Williams park. I was there, for the first time, July 1. The roses were beautiful at that time but not at their best, as they had been some days before. I went to see the monkeys but did not care to watch them very long, as I do not care much for monkeys, though I did laugh over one "old chap." He had a mirror and was admiring his own face, and he did some comical things, but he seemed to care more about the mirror than the food people were tossing over the fence to him. Someone told me there are 70 monkeys there in that inclosure, and I can believe it. The peacock was a beautiful sight and I just enjoyed watching him. There were such crowds of people everywhere it was hard to see anything and hard to get around through the crowd. I hope I can go to the park again, only go on a week day, when there are not so many people there. Then I can see more and get about in comfort. We old folks can't skip around like the younger ones can and I guess we all dread getting into a crowd. I know I do.

Best wishes to all.

AUNT SUSIE.

EGGS FOR THE BREAKFAST DISH

Dear Sisters of the Social Corner: Some of these hot days make us feel that cooking is a drudgery more than ever and we resort to all of the easy and quick methods for our meals. We may be glad of the cool days to restore our ambitions and to improve somewhat the bill of fare.

I have just learned a very good way to serve eggs for the breakfast dish. Take two crackers and roll them fine and put into a well beaten egg and add a little milk enough for the mixture to be quite thin, then fry as a pancake on a well greased griddle. Enlarge the quantity according to the number of persons to be served by the proportion, one egg to two crackers. It is very tasty and makes the eggs go a little farther. With friend potatoes it is very hearty, or just plain, according to one's appetite.

French toast is a good way of using up a little stale bread (but not too stale). Beat up two eggs in a bowl or wide-surface dish and add equal part sweet milk. Take slices of bread and if very dry dip them quickly in and out of cold water first, then into the egg mixture and fry in a well greased frying pan, both sides, till a nice brown.

Black-Eyed Susie: That is a fine idea you have suggested about threading a machine needle. I shall surely try that the first opportunity that I may need. This is one of the many ideas that are helpful which we find on the Corner page and for which the Social Corner stands. I think it a good way, when we hear of or experience something new and helpful, to take note of it, and then when writing to the Corner it is something ready to send in.

To reopen a sealed envelope, lay a wet cloth or paper over the flap and press with a warm iron.

Add a little salt to potted plants. It serves as a good fertilizer, also kills the worms.

Rub squeaking rockers with sandpaper, then polish with a bit of wax. The chair will then move more easily over the carpet and leave no mark.

Hope all sisters and families are enjoying these summer days, for they will not last much longer. Time flies quickly and waits for no one. Today is here, and tomorrow is beyond. Glad to read about the Social Corner picnics and would like to attend more of them, if more convenient.

Best wishes to all.

THE PICNIC AT EKONK

Dear Social Corner Friends: Thought I would write and tell you about the nice time we had at the Club 4 picnic at Ekonk.

Thought we were never going to find the place but after getting there found it an unusually nice place to have a picnic. We were a little late to sit down with the rest at dinner, but we didn't lack for eats as they came forward with salad, cake and other nice things, and with a half tubful of lemonade at hand. What more could we ask of any hostess. Enjoyed the music and recitations, also the two addresses. All were fine. Think L. H. was glad to meet me for I am thinking she had a letter right away from her friend on Woodstock avenue J. M. was very much pleased to hear from her.

Hoping there will be more picnics nearer home so I can go to them all.

Try this recipe, somebody.

Peach Cream Pie: Make a custard pie crust and bake in very hot oven till brown. When cool add this cream. Beat 2 eggs, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cup flour and little salt, mixed together and put in 2 cups of scalded milk and cook 15 minutes in double boiler, stirring constantly, cool and add lemon extract. After adding to pie crust, cover with whipped cream.

ENJOYED MOHEGAN PARK

Dear Social Corner Editor and Sisters: What a lovely wash day! Clothes dry so quickly.

Haven't the roses been lovely this year? While visiting in Norwich three weeks ago we spent one day at Mohegan park. The roses were beautiful. The children enjoyed watching the animals, especially the peacock. They also enjoyed the swings and seesaw, but not the chutes, as it was too fast for Junior.

I intended to call on the Social Corner editor but didn't seem to get the time. It rained two days while I was there, so I didn't venture to the city those days.

When we had been home a few days Junior was poisoned with poison ivy, and of course his sister had it, too.

I tried baking soda and water, but that didn't seem to help, so Mr. Ravenx went into the drug store and got a bottle of Higgins' poison ivy and mosquito bite lotion and with only rubbing it on twice it cured him. Both legs and arms and one side of his face were covered.

Perhaps this will help someone when they should happen to get poisoned.

I wonder if the sisters know Ina has a baby boy, born July 21st? Both are progressing nicely.

E. L. M.: Did you know Hazel has a son, too, born July 26th?

O. D. and Beth C.: Saw you out riding with Mr. and Mrs. LaB— of your village one night.

H. P. of M. Street, Norwich: Have a letter all written, but haven't posted it yet. Box arrived O. K. How is O. G. and the sore neck?

I wonder how many sisters have had sweet corn yet? I am cooking some for dinner which a neighbor kindly gave us.

Would like to attend the picnic at Bay State's, but don't suppose I can, as haying time is here and it must be finished while the weather is good.

Good luck to all.

RAVENA (Club No. 6).

HALF DOZEN WAYS TO MAKE FRITTERS

Dear Social Corner Editor and Members: When your menu needs an additional entree, fritters may be the thing you can make most easily.

Left-over meat, fish or vegetables may be used; or, if sweet fritters are preferred, fruit may be used and the fritters served with a sweet sauce or powdered sugar with or without cream.

Success depends much upon the quantity, quality and temperature of the fat used for frying them. Be sure that it is not the least bit rancid. Have it deep in the pan and test it by dropping in a teaspoon of batter. If hot enough, this will brown quickly and rise to the top like a puffball.

Sardine Fritters: To one cup of milk add two well-beaten eggs, add one cup of flour, one tablespoon yellow meal which has been sifted with two teaspoons of baking powder and 1-2 teaspoon salt and two teaspoons of finely chopped peppers. Use one broken sardine to each spoonful of batter. This serves four people.

Mushroom Fritters: Make a batter as for other fritters, scrape and chop the mushrooms, add to the batter, fry in hot fat.

Nut Fritters: One cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, one level teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon sugar. To this add 1-2 cup milk, one egg well beaten, 1-2 cup choppednuts. Fry in deep fat.

Clam Fritters: Make a batter of two well-beaten eggs, 3-4 cup milk, one tablespoon melted butter, a cup of flour three teaspoons yellow meal. Sift flour, salt meal, a teaspoon baking powder and a little pepper. Add 16 clams, chopped and seasoned with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Fry in hot fat.

Rice Fritters: Add one well-beaten egg and a tablespoon of sugar to two cups boiled rice. Mix well; fry in butter. Have pan decidedly hot. Serve with maple syrup or hard sauce.

Potato Fritters: Make a batter as for clam fritters. To this add a cup of chopped raw potato, one tablespoon chopped Parmesan cheese and a sprinkle of grated nutmeg.

ANNUAL CORNER PICNIC AUGUST 29 AT AUNTY NO. 1'S

Dear Editor and Social Corner members: As the season is fast drawing to a close and I am asked by so many if I am going to have the picnic this year I will answer all by announcing that I will try to have it on Wednesday, the 29th of August. It will be the annual picnic as usual. Every member with their hubbies, wives and friends are invited. May all six clubs be represented. Let this be the banner year. Let us trust for a pleasant day. Please bring food for the lunch and the principal thing to remember is to bring your own dishes, plate, cup, fork and spoon, for when 200 or more meet it's impossible to furnish dishes for the crowd.

I thank all who have been interested in my health this summer and will say I am very much better, more like my old self. Ready and I seem to work together in the harness very well. I shall miss her when she goes from here.

Sweet Lavendar: I was pleased to read a letter from you again. Yes, we used to exchange letters on flowers and wish we might again. I haven't as many flowers this summer as usual. I wasn't able to do anything about them and hubby too busy with his vegetable gardens to take much time for flowers. My astors and zinnias are blighted some. I wish you might attend my picnic this summer. I hope I haven't taken the date some other sister had planned for. Remember the date, Wednesday, Aug. 29. You may hear from me again for a reminder before then.

My sympathy to all bereaved members and hope the sick are on the gain. Congratulations to Patches. I hope you can attend the picnic and bring the little one.

Best wishes to all from

SPICED BLACKBERRIES

Dear Social Corner Members and Editor: Today we must bid July goodbye for another year. In this month a good part of the New England housewives have been famed for the excellence of their preserves.

Quantities of blackberries will soon be ripe. Perhaps some of the members (and others who read our Social Corner page) would like to try my recipe for spiced blackberries. It is most excellent to serve with meat and a good recipe for your scrap book.

Spiced Blackberries: Five quarts of blackberries, three cups sugar, one cup vinegar, one teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon cloves; cook all together and put into jars while hot.

PRACTICAL HINTS ON HOUSEHOLD MARKETING

Dear Editor and Social Corner Members: Do you remember the story concerning mother Hubbard who went to her cupboard and found it bare? In this particular case she was filled with consternation, as she was desirous to find a morsel for her pet. The situation was one to be viewed with alarm.

But today we were not in the class with mother Hubbard. We went to our Social Corner and found a recipe for the bread and butter pickle, how to get rid of rats, first aid to bites and stings, useful ideas from Mother Preston and to find out what one sister's snapping trouble came from. Take it all in all our corner was filled and we feel sorry for mother Hubbard's hard luck.

They tell me the art of marketing is the art of intelligent selection. In common with every other art it means study and attention before proficiency can be obtained. So if mother Hubbard had studied that art, her cupboard would not have been bare. But mother Hubbard isn't the only one who orders a roast, a steak, a chop or whatever may be, and absolutely has no comprehensions of the fact that there is a wide difference between the carefully prepared meat from a well-fed animal and that which has been hurried to market while tough and stringy.

To learn to distinguish between the two is not difficult; it only requires attention. But proficiency can never be obtained by ordering over the telephone. To become a judge of good meat and to learn to buy well and economically one must be willing to market in person, to give as much time and consideration as is often bestowed on the studies of silks and satins, flowers and feathers. One of the foremost authorities in America asserts that to get the best for the least expenditure we must return to earlier methods. "Go to market" he says with a basket on your arm, learn to know good meat, and when you see select and have it cut under your own eyes. Then carry it home and you will not have to pay the extra price to support the telephone or to go towards the salary of additional clerks and boys.

It is no disgrace and you will reap a big reward. No matter how honest the dealer, you will get better service by supervising it yourself.

Of course I don't expect you will carry out all these suggestions but they provide food for thought. No careful mother of a family would think of ordering Mary's spring coat or John's new shoes by telephone, yet numberless housekeepers use no other method of obtaining table supplies, and the ignorance on the subject of how to select and how to buy is truly appalling.

To learn how to select good meat and to use every particle of the purchase should make one of the first lessons in economy. Yet it is not uncommon to see French rib chops ordered and the butcher allowed to retain all the trimmings. Almost any hour given over to the study of ways and means will witness roasts weighed in the whole and charged at present high prices, while the trimmings find their way to the receptacle under the meat benches. We do not buy cloth and leave a remnant of the material for the merchant to resell. Why should we pay a high price for meat, and yet fail to receive all that we buy? Bones belong to the soup pot, trimmings should either accompany them or be converted into tasty stews or similar side dishes. It is little less than criminal for the responsible head of the family to be ignorant of these facts.

The best steaks are known as the porter-house and sirloin. Both are good, but from the standpoint of nutriment the sirloin of the first cut, without tenderloin is the best, for it is rich in flavor and in quality. The tenderloin is to be classed among luxuries and to be bought occasionally.

For a small family the very first cut of the sirloin makes an ideal steak, for it can be cut thick without being over-large and only the thick steak is really toothsome. For the larger family the flat bone sirloin is the best, for it means the least waste.

Tomato Meat Loaf: (prize) 1 1-2 pounds chopped meat, salt and pepper to taste, 2 teaspoons chopped onion, 1-2 cup olives chopped, 2 eggs, 6 tablespoons milk, 2 of flour, 2 hard cooked eggs. Place half the mixture in loaf pan, set the hard cooked eggs in mixture on top. Place pan in another half full of water, bake in moderate oven, 40 minutes. Take one can stewed and strained tomatoes, season to taste, 2 tablespoons gelatine, 1-4 cup cold water, 1-2 teaspoon allspice, 1 bay leaf, pepper. To tomatoes, add salt and seasoning, heat to boiling point, add the gelatine, which has been soaked in cold water. Pour over sliced meat loaf and place in refrigerator until firm.

TELLIN GTHE TRUTH

Dear Social Corner Sisters: I would like to have others write on the subject of telling the truth at all times. I was brought up to tell the truth, and there is one person who I had a great deal of respect for and I never knowingly told her a lie in all my associations with her. I told her the truth on a certain subject but along came one of the family and told what was not true about the same thing and of course ha was believed; my word was doubted. Now what encouragement does a person in such a case have for telling the truth when an untruth answers just as well? Is a person justified to tell an untruth or keep to their teaching. Telling the truth lots of times makes trouble and by avoiding telling it we could save lots of trouble. Would others pass their opinion on the subject as I would like it.

Milksham: No I did not go to Bay State's picnic as I had planned to spend the day at Storrs. The lions were turned around by someone to be smart and should be re-turned. Was glad to hear from you.

E. L. M.: Was sorry not to see you as I did not go far.

COSMOS

HELPS AND SUGGESTIONS

Dear Sisters: Have you ever made handkerchiefs of old shades? Put your old white shades into boiling water where you have poured about one-half cup of kerosene to two gallons of water and give them a vigorous boiling. Repeat for three or four different times; just rinse out each time and dry, but the final one follow with a good soaping and rubbing, which leaves them soft and very nice for making into men's workday handkerchiefs.

To remove tarvia spots from light-colored stockings, use equal parts of household ammonia and turpentine. Keep away from fire. Place light blotter under the spot to absorb the tar while being removed.

When tea is spilled on tablecloth, cover stain immediately with salt, leave for a time, and when washed the stain will have disappeared.

Place a pad made of cheesecloth and cotton under a spot which is being removed by gasoline. This will absorb gasoline and prevent leaving a ring.

PICNIC AUGUST 8 AT TUNY ANN'S

Dear Social Corner Editor and Sisters: There will be a Social Corner picnic at my home in North Windham the 8th of August. I would like to have all the sisters come that can. There will be plenty of room for a good big crowd, under a big tent, so you may come rain or shine. Take the bus from Willimantic to North Windham and get off at the yellow bow by the store, and it is just a little walk from there. Please bring plate, cup and silverware and something good to eat, as usual.

GREETINGS AND THANKS FROM NANCY PECK

Dear Social Corner Sisters: After all these months I am with you again. Have enjoyed the letters much even if I could not write. After reading the wonderful letters from the sisters one feels deficient, but I am glad to do my bit be it ever so humble.

Interested Reader: You are a wonder to teach one to do tatting. I've tried all these years to learn but could not. I thank you for your patience and kindness.

Through the kindness of Mila and Cosmos I attended the Social Corner picnic at Quonochontaug; a fine time and such a dinner. Mrs. P. can sure make chowder.

Milky Way and Sumac: Was certainly glad to see you once more. Thank you for cards during my illness, also thanks to Lady Lou and Skipper for remembrances.

I want to thank through the Social Corner all who sent me cards, they were most welcome.

Bay State: Am wondering if you had your picnic today. How I would love to have attended. I am a genuine parasite, but my friends have been most kind. Mila always thinks for my pleasure and I do certainly appreciate it.

When I get old enough to run a car and can have a license, how I'll visit every Social Corner picnic I hear about, if health permits. If one has that they have a great deal to be thankful for.

Calamity Jane: I am looking forward to attending the 26th reunion at Buckingham Memorial Aux. 15th. My father was in Co. H, Conn. Vol. 26th Regiment. I've always wanted to go but each year I was disappointed. Hope to go this time. Will look you up. Until then think of

Who Passed Away Aug. 4, 1925

Three years have passed since that sad day
When our dear son and brother passed away.
We miss him when we need a friend,

For the one we loved so well,
No one knows the silent heartaches
Only we, who lost, can tell.

INTOXICATION AND AUTO CASES IN NEW LONDON POLICE COURT

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, Aug. 3—Another batch of drunks were presented in the police court today, indicating that it is not a difficult task to obtain liquor here despite the fact that numerous prosecutions have taken place recently of proprietors of places where liquor is sold. Today Judge Victor Prince in every instance, excepting one, imposed a fine or a jail sentence. That exception was given suspension of judgment. He was arrested on North Bank street last night and is not an old offender. One of the victims of the law, who has been arrested six times, was sentenced to jail for 10 days and fined $10 and costs, but the execution of the sentence was suspended. Another, who has been arrested five times, was sent to jail for 15 days. Still another who has been arrested six times, was given a sentence of 15 days in jail and a companion, who has been arrested four times, was sent to the workhouse for 30 days. A man, who was begging on North Bank street while intoxicated, was fined $5 and costs. An old offender, who was arrested on North Bank street last night, was sent to the workhouse for 30 days. All of the victims, upon whom fines were imposed, were unable to pay and went to jail where they will remain from three weeks to six weeks.

Mrs. Howard Smith, Waterford, was charged with reckless driving, but the case was nolled, because of insufficient evidence to warrant the trying of the case. Mrs. Smith was driving her automobile on Bank street extension and in front of the residence at No. 973, a machine, owned by Mrs. Julia S. Smith, was parked. The Waterford automobile collided with the parked auto and caused much damage. The owner of the motionless car requested the New London police to arrest Mrs. Smith on the reckless driving charge.

Max Dreher, was presented on a charge of intoxication. Dreher had been drinking freely last night and on Colt street, he started after Edmund Stevens, 12 and Joseph Lewis, 13, both of 48 Hempstead street. The boys succeeded in escaping and made complaint to Patrolman Henry Sylvia, who arrested Dreher. In the police court today Dreher was fined $10 and costs.

Charles West, 270 West Thames street, Norwich, driving an automobile will be presented in the police court tomorrow charged with violation of the state motor vehicle laws in driving while under the influence of liquor. West was in this city this afternoon and his driving attracted the attention of State Police Officer Arthur Whitmarsh. The officer signalled West to stop and the driver was taken to police headquarters and locked up.

Albert Havens, Niantic; Mrs. Joseph Harrington and infant son, 17 Mahan street; Albert Caron, Camp Trumbull, Niantic; Mrs. James Shea, and infant daughter, 52 Raymond street; John Lee, Camp Trumbull, Niantic; George Wilton, New Haven and Owen Rhoad, North Stonington, patients at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, were discharged today.

A. D. Hickley, Pleasure Beach, Niantic, reported to the New London police at 12:30 o'clock this morning that his son, aged 14, was missing, the youth having disappeared during the day. When the youth did not return at midnight the father decided to request the police to institute a search for him at the same time providing a description of the missing youth. Two hours later the boy returned to his home.

Another leaky water main was discovered by the police early this morning when the big main on Water street, between John and Douglass streets, was discovered to be emitting a large quantity of water. City Engineer George Watters was notified of the break and caused a repair gang to be sent to the scene of the trouble. It was several hours after the laborers had caused the water to be shut off that the repairs were perfected, and not until after tons of water had flooded Water street.

James Delaney, Hartford, was presented in the justice court at Salem last night charged with reckless driving and was fined $25 and costs. Delaney was driving his car near the Four Corners when it collided with another machine and damaged it. He was arrested by State Police Officer W. S. Visokay, Groton barracks.

FRED STONE INJURED IN PLANE CRASH

(Special to The Bulletin).

NEW LONDON, Aug. 3—Fred Stone, one of the best known actors on the American stage and who is spending the summer with his family at the Stone estate, Plant Hill, East Lyme, was injured this morning when an airplane in which he was riding crashed to the ground. As it was Stone sustained a compound fracture of the right leg, a fracture of the left leg and numerous contusions and abrasions of the head, face and body. He is a patient at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, where his condition this afternoon was stated to be comfortable. It is probable that the patient will be under treatment there indefinitely.

Stone, his daughter, Miss Paula and the mechanician, left the Stone home in a dual control plane shortly after 9 o'clock and started for the aviation field, Camp Trumbull. The trip was made successfully and without incident. Arriving at the field, Miss Stone climbed to the machine and made a brief, but successful flight. After the plane descended, Stone entered the plane, and started a flight. The plane soared over the field and to the eastward, when suddenly it was observed to take a spin. The plane descended a few feet, but then was about 50 feet in the air. After descending a short distance the plane apparently was brought under control and in another instant it crashed to the ground, the nose of the plane being buried deep in the farm yard of Max Winkler, on the south road, Poquonoc. The impact of the plane hitting the ground, caused Stone to be forced through the back of the front seat and when rescuers reached the plane, the actor was entangled in the wreckage. He was extricated and it was then observed that he was seriously injured for a bone protruded through the flesh of the right leg at the knee and another bone pierced the flesh at the ankle, while the left leg was useless from a fracture. An automobile was commandeered and Stone was rushed to the hospital. What caused the plane to crash is not known. The plane was wrecked.

The city contemplates widening and extending this place to Montauk avenue and as a result of questions brought by Attorney Nathan Belcher, counsel for Mrs. Ammerman, the meeting was adjourned until Aug. 17 at 10 o'clock. FIREMEN AND POLICE DRAG RIVER FOR BODY

WILLIMANTIC, Aug. 3—Firemen and police dragged Willimantic river between the bridge on Bridge street and the upper dam of the former Quidneck-Windham mills for several hours tonight, following a report made by Adolph Parsno, an ice cream peddler of 33 Mountain street, who said that he had seen what he believed to be the head of a person in the water about 6 o'clock. Upon receiving this report, the police ordered the river lowered and the lower dams were opened, bringing the river down about four feet.

Grappling irons and a row boat were used by the searchers but after darkness the work was given up and the police had failed up to late tonight to be notified of any missing persons. The searching work attracted a large crowd there being special interest inasmuch as a boy who was drowned in that section of the river a number of years ago was never recovered. A pulmotor from the fire department was taken to the scene by Fireman Amos Barber in event of a possible rescue.

Breed Theatre

Riotous comedy, colorful drama, beautiful gowns and lavish sets are all incorporated into Fox Films "Soft Living," with Madge Bellamy in the stellar role, supported by an excellent cast, including Johnny Mack Brown, Mary Duncan and other well-known names. This ace of entertaining pictures comes to the Breed theatre starting tomorrow night for a three day run.

The story is a new treatment of the question of marriage for love or money by a girl who finds that marrying a rich man does not always make "Soft Living," especially when she loves him.

Miss Bellamy plays the girl in question, a typical secretary who is competent and has a fine position, but is finally influenced by the finery of many married women much less attractive than herself. Miss Bellamy gives a splendid portrayal, shaded with subtle comedy and fine drama when she awakens to the realization of love at last.

Johnny Mack Brown, who plays the romantic lead with Miss Bellamy, gives a fine portrayal, as the country boy who outwits the wise little girl from the city. Brown, who has been in pictures less than a year, won his first recognition as the star half-back of the Alabama university football team two years ago.

James Tinling directed the picture, this being his second picture in the capacity of director with Miss Bellamy. This team proved its worth in "Very Confidential."

"Soft Living" is an original story by Grace Mack and was produced under the supervision of Philip Klein.

Strand Theatre

Starting tomorrow the Strand theatre is showing "Dangerous Virtue" one of the finest productions of the year.

In addition there is also shown Buddy Roosevelt in the type of pictures he is liked in, The Painted Trail, a story of the west. Last times today to see Adolphe Menjou in Social Celibrity assisted by Chester Conklin and Louise Brooks.

Marmon Motor Car company has prospects of doubling its business in the next twelve months, England particularly offering an excellent market, said H. L. He believed the heavy tax on motor cars in England would be lowered in a few years and as Russia could produce gasoline as cheaply as in the United States, two factors hindering the development of the European motor market would be eliminated

BOY DIES FROM INJURIES IN FALL FROM MILK WAGON IN CITY STREET

A 15 year old boy was fatally injured about 7 o'clock Friday morning on Perkins avenue, when he slipped from the rear end of the milk truck on which he was riding and was crushed beneath the wheels of the vehicle. The boy, Burton Beckwith Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Smith of Franklin, was rushed to the W. W. Backus hospital by the driver, Charles H. Mansir, 21, and within a few minutes of his entrance to the institution he died from the injuries, which included punctures to the lungs and severe bruises about the head. The truck is owned by the boy's father and Ernest E. Smith.

There were no eye witnesses to the accident, but according to the driver, the Smith boy, who helps distribute the milk to the houses, was riding on the rear of the truck, which was progressing at a slow rate. The driver claims that the young lad was reaching for a bottle of milk and in some fashion slipped and fell under the rear wheels, which passed over his body, puncturing his lungs. A second boy also engaged in distributing milk had left the truck a short time previously, but did not see how the accident occurred as his vision was hindered by a pole. It is said that the lad was in the habit of jumping off and on the truck while it was moving.

The fatality was investigated by Dr. C. C. Glidersleeve, medical examiner, who pronounced death as accidental. Mansir reported the accident to police headquarters at the suggestion of the medical examiner and on Saturday morning will also report the accident to Coroner Edward G. McKay.

Investigation into the death of the boy resulted in the finding that he was struck a glancing blow on the side of the face by the machine, which passed over his upper right shoulder and chest. Hemorrhage of the lungs was given as the cause of death by Medical Examiner Glidersleeve.

Pearson of New York, Mrs. Harry Fishbone of Yantic, Kim Nadelson and Joseph Berkman. NORWICH TOWN

Out-of-town contractors have completed laying a long stretch of conduit for the Southern New England Telephone company, from School House lane through upper Washington street as far as Peck's corner. Everything is now in readiness for pulling the wires through the sections in the conduit, one section already having been completed by the telephone company. There are two or three large manholes along this section. The work of excavating and laying a foundation of cement for the conduit to rest upon being in process for the past several weeks by a large force of men. Because of the long line of road-bed being dug up, it not only was necessary to have a man in charge days, but a watchman guarded the excavation at night.

COOPERATIVE CREAMERIES AND CHEESE FACTORIES EXPANDING

From the few figures available for the years preceding 1926 it is evident that both the cooperative creamery and the cooperative cheese factory are larger enterprises than formerly.

The most common size for cooperative creameries in the United States in 1926 was a plant making from 100,000 to 200,000 pounds of butter annually. Twenty-seven per cent of the active creameries listed by the United States Department of Agriculture fell in that group. The number of creameries making from 200,000 to 300,000 pounds of butter each annually constituted 21 per cent of all the cooperative creameries and the creameries making less than 100,000 pounds each annually were approximately 11 per cent of the total number. Seventy-four per cent of all the cooperative creameries made less than 400,000 pounds of butter each during the year. The number of creameries making more than half a million pounds each was but 17.5 per cent of the total number; the creameries in this large-scale group, however, made 46 per cent of all the cooperative creameries butter produced in that year.

Data collected for 1926 indicate that the cooperatively operated cheese factory is a much smaller enterprise than the cooperative creamery. Ninety per cent of all the cooperative cheese factories made less than 300,000 pounds of cheese each during 1926. The total quanity of cheese made by the 90 per cent was 74 per cent of all the cooperative cheese for that year. Less than 3 per cent of all the cooperative cheese factories made more than half a million pounds of cheese each. The total cheese made by this small percentage of factories was nearly 12 per cent of the total output of cooperative cheese for the year.

POLISH AVIATORS PICKED UP OFF COAST OF PORTUGAL

Trouble With Their Gasoline Feed Pipe Forced an Abrupt Descent Into the Sea—The Plane Struck the Waves With Such Force That the Wings Were Smashed—The Fliers Had Been in the Air 35 Hours and Had Made a Great Circle Out Over the Atlantic Toward the Azores—The Rescue Was Made by the German Steamer Samoa.

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 5—(AP)—The Polish aviators, Majofi, Hiasnowski and Rulski, after being rescued at sea off Portugal yesterday when their attempt to span the Atlantic came to an abrupt end, were landed today at Leixoes, near Oporto, Portugal.

The German steamer Samoa, which took them from their smashed airplane, the Marszalek Pilsudski, also brought the seaplane into port.

One of the two aviators injured his arm in a fall aboard the steamship so seriously that he was sent to the military hospital at Oporto when the ship docked this morning. It was said late, however, that both airmen expected to be able to leave tomorrow for Paris, which was their starting point.

The aviators had been in the air about 35 hours, Greenwich mean time, Friday and in hope of flying that made a great circle out over the Atlantic toward the Azores during which they had been sighted by two steamships. It was radio reports from these vessels which first gave the world information that the Poles had abandoned their attempt to cross the Atlantic and were headed back toward Europe.

They had reached a point only 40 miles off Cape Finisterre when trouble with their gasoline feed pipe forced an abrupt descent into the sea. The big plane struck the waves with such force that the wings were smashed. The crew of the Samoa with difficulty extricated the aviators and towed their vessel to the nearest port.

For the second time in a week trouble with the fuel supply system had forced a plane into the sea while in an attempt to make the westward crossing which has only once been accomplished in an airplane. For the second time, too, it is not a case where lives have been jeopardized by steamships from the waters in which many of their daring predecessors had met death.

On Wednesday Captain Frank T. Courtney with three companions had set out in a flying boat from the Azores to fly to Newfoundland but was across a broken gas line had spread fuel against the hot motors so that the plane caught fire and forced a rapid descent. The flying boat made a safe landing and floated ten hours until a steamship reached the spot. That plane was abandoned.

Previous rescues at sea had been made in the cases of Hawker, De Pinedo and Ruth Elder, all on eastbound flights, but the sea had swallowed up without trace other expeditions which had attempted to cross it in the air.

The Marszalek Pilsudski had apparently been in great circles over the ocean after leaving the coast of France. No report of its being signaled came from the Azores which had been named as their first objective in their flight to New York.

Instead the Norwegian tanker Asta reported that she had sighted a biplane (which resembles a seaplane) at a point 40 miles north of the Azores early yesterday morning when the Polish plane should have been beyond that point had it held to its course and normal speed.

Further unsatisfaction to those who waited on both shores of the Atlantic came when the British steamship Anubis reported sighting the plane several hundred miles northeast of the position given by the Asta. It then appeared that the Poles had abandoned their attempt to return to some point in Europe or had become lost. As more than sufficient time passed for them to have reached the land by a direct flight the fear arose that in latter was the fact.

HEALTHY WOMAN PROBABLY VICTIM OF A DEGENERATE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5—(AP)—Victim apparently of a degenerate slayer, Mrs. Myrtle L. Mellus, 41, wealthy and society woman, was found dead in her home here late this afternoon. A suspect, who gave his name as Pat Valier, 38, was found hidden in a closet in the house and was captured by the police.

The nude and battered body of Mrs. Mellus was found by her husband, Frank Mellus, chairman and vice president of a wholesale canvas goods company, when he returned from an all-day fishing trip.

Officers from three police stations were rushed to the scene and a cordon of men was thrown about the entire neighborhood.

While the premises and house swarmed with police, detectives and newspaper men, a shrill voice was heard in a down stairs closet in a corner of the closet. Valier was found crouched. He made a futile attempt to escape through a window but was immediately overpowered by two detectives.

Mrs. Mellus' body was found in a bathroom on the second floor of the house, which is located in an exclusive residence district. The room showed evidence of a terrific struggle and the body was stretched across a bed. Both of Mrs. Mellus' eyes were bruised and her body mutilated.

A towel box contained items valued at $1,000 remained unbroken on a dresser in the room.

The towel case ordinarily is kept in a secret drawer, Mellus said. Police officers said Mrs. Mellus apparently had been dead about an hour when her husband returned home at 3:30 o'clock. The bedroom was the only part on the house that showed signs of any disturbance.

Mrs. Mellus' clothes apparently had been torn from the body during the struggle by her assailant.

HEAT DIDN'T KEEP THE COOLIDGES FROM CHURCH

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 5—(AP)—Under a blazing sun that kept most of the regular congregation home, President and Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, attended church as usual today at the little chapel in Brule.

Dressed in light summer clothes, the presidential group created the usual excitement among the large crowd of tourists and visitors, who, despite the heat, the dust and their numbers, which prevented all but a few from obtaining a view of the Coolidges, massed in thousands about the little church.

In the chapel itself the heat became so intense that in the course of the service two women had to leave.

John Tatton, the blind preacher of Brule, recited by memory the verses, for which he chose the first 31 verses of the third chapter of the Gospel according to St. Paul. For his sermon he chose as texts the second verse of the ninth chapter of St. Matthew, the 10th verse of the sixth chapter of St. Mark and the 23rd verse of the 14th chapter of St. John.

At the end of the service, President Coolidge shook hands with John Taylor, then recognized Senator and Mrs. Dale of Vermont sitting in a pew on the opposite side of the church. He stopped on his way out and after greeting them, invited them to lunch at Cedar Island Lodge.

President Coolidge expects Gen. H. M. Lord, director of the budget, to arrive here tomorrow for a one-day visit to discuss preliminary budget estimates for the next fiscal year.

HEAT CAUSED TWO DEATHS IN PHILADELPHIA SUNDAY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5—(AP)—The intense heat today caused two deaths, many prostrations and wide-spread suffering. High temperatures for the year were broken, when the mercury reached 9, late in the afternoon.

The weather bureau predicted there would be little, if any, change in temperature tomorrow.

HOOVER TO CAMPAIGN ON DIGNIFIED PLANE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Aug. 5—(AP)—Unless the party managers are able to dissuade him from his purpose, Herbert Hoover will make only three or four more trips during his campaign for the presidency.

There will be no swings around the circle, it was stated officially here today, and the trips will be brief with only a few speeches. This is in line with the determination of the republican nominee to refrain from any attempt at a balkyhoo and to keep his campaign on a dignified plane.

The future surveys will be made with Washington as the base of operations, the nominee remaining there most of his time so as to be in close touch with national headquarters. It was reiterated that only one speech will be made on the return to Washington from here — that at Hoover's birthplace at West Branch, in that address the nominee will give particular attention to the agricultural questions, dealing largely with what he regards as the indirect rather than the direct means of aiding the farmers. He feels that not enough stress has been laid upon this side of the problem, and which he regards as of high importance.

The republican nominee spent a quiet Sabbath, attending services at Stanford university chapel in the forenoon with Mrs. Hoover, their son, Allan, and William J. Donovan, assistant to the attorney general of the United States.

The sermon, as customary, was preached by a visiting minister, the Rev. Charles W. Gilkey, a Baptist preacher of Chicago, who took his text from the fourth chapter, seventh verse of Paul's second letter to the Corinthians:

"But we have this treasure in earthen vessels."

Returning directly to his home, the nominee conferred with the newspaper correspondents for the first time since his return from the western mountains, but he had no political comment to make for publication, maintaining the silence which has made his campaign unique thus far.

1,000 COMMUNISTS ARRESTED OUTSIDE WALLS OF PARIS

PARIS, Aug. 5—(AP)—More than 1,000 communists were arrested last night outside of the southern walls of Paris this afternoon in the suburb of Ivry, where they had advertised a meeting which authorities had forbidden them to hold.

Most of the arrests were made when the participants, streaming into the suburb, refused to obey police orders to "keep moving." There were only a few sporadic outbreaks of roughness with no serious casualties.

There were 3,500 police, mounted and afoot, assembled in the suburb along with large contingents of firemen with their hose all set ready for trouble, and republican guards. Numerous "Black Marias" made trip after trip carrying those arrested to police stations.

EXCURSION LAUNCH SANK, WOMAN WAS DROWNED

HINGHAM, Mass., Aug. 5—(AP)—When an excursion motor launch carrying seven passengers filled with water during a gale today, Mrs. Bertha Stetson of Dorchester was drowned and the other six were rescued. The launch left here with 30 passengers but dropped most of them at points in the harbor.

The boat started to return when a storm blew up. It filled with water off Crow Point and sank a few minutes after the passengers were taken off. Mrs. Stetson was in the cabin of the launch at the time and was unconscious when removed. She died a short time afterwards.

Flight Instructor And Student Killed

Airplane Crashed in Raritan Township, Near Plainfield, N. J.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Aug. 5—(AP)—Quintus Shagon, 28, of New York, and Collingwood Harris, 23, of Orange, were killed late today when a plane in which they had set out from Linden airfield a short while before crashed in Raritan township, near here.

Shagon, who is said to have been connected with the Germania air service, was instructing young Harris in the art of flying.

There was about 1,000 feet in the air when going through a fair spin, a wing apparently loosened, witnesses said, and the machine went into a nose dive.

The wives of both victims watched their husbands as they took off on the tragic flight. Harris in addition to his widow leaves two children.

GOV. SMITH REVIEWED TWO REGIMENTS, N. Y. G.

CAMP SMITH, N. Y., Aug. 5—(AP)—To the strains of "East Side, West Side," "Tramalay," "How Do I Am" and Irish ballads and jigs, Governor Smith today reviewed two regiments of the New York national guard encamped along the Hudson near Peekskill, both units—the famous 69th, which sailed overseas in the Rainbow Division, and the 14th—are from New York city, and many of the officers and 800 men were personally acquainted with their commander-in-chief.

Smith reviewed the troops in his capacity of governor.

Accompanied by Mrs. Smith and a party of friends, he stopped off here en route from New York to Albany. The trip up the Hudson from New York was made on a yacht of William M. Todd, the shipbuilder. From camp here, the democratic presidential nominee, and his party continued up the river by automobile.

Several thousand camp visitors, most of them from New York, lined the parade ground, and frequently burst into applause as the governor passed by.

The entire ceremony on the parade ground, perched above the river, took a little more than half an hour. From the quarters of Maj. Gen. William N. Haskell, commander of the New York national guard division which fought overseas as the 27th, Mrs. Smith and women members of the governor's party watched the review.

Despite the heat, the governor seemed to enjoy the privilege of reviewing the guardsmen. At his side, as they passed, was General Haskell, widely known for his relief activities in Russia and the Balkans after the war.

MAN WAS DROWNED IN POND IN OAKVILLE

WATERBURY, Aug. 5—(AP)—John Keane, 44, of 707 Washington street, New York, was drowned in Slade's pond, Oakville, at 6:45 o'clock tonight. Miss Mildred Bradshaw, 14, of Hills avenue, Oakville, who was swimming near Keane, first observed the man struggling and called the attention of three men who dived and recovered the body in about five or ten minutes.

First aid was given and signs of life were observed by Keane when Lithuanian friends of the man are said to have interfered, voicing strenuous objections to what they believed was the ill treatment he was receiving. The friends seized the body, it was stated, placed it on a blanket and tossed it around in an effort to revive Keane. Medical Examiner Edwin J. Reade, of Waterbury, announced Keane died when he closed the body shortly afterward.

Keane was visiting John Subas of Oakville. He leaves a widow and 17-months baby, both of whom were present when he drowned.

TEMPERATURE DROPPED 20 DEGREES IN AN HOUR

BOSTON, Aug. 5—(AP)—The fourth day heat wave during which the mercury rose to 90 degrees was broken by a storm this afternoon which left Boston and vicinity cool tonight. The temperature dropped 15 to 20 degrees within an hour. Before the storm broke the thermometer registered 93 degrees.

The heat caused the death of an unidentified man in South Boston today.

Two persons were drowned during the day. Harold Elska, 23, drowned in a pond in Dorchester, while Carl Holburg, 21, who was swimming at Wellston disappeared and a search for his body was unsuccessful.

The storm caused considerable property damage.

REVERSED HER ENGINES TO AVOID A COLLISION

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—(AP)—Nearing this port on her fastest voyage of the year, the Hamburg-American liner New York was stopped and her engines reversed to avoid a collision with an unidentified ship, passengers said today when the liner docked from Cuxhaven. The incident occurred last Thursday night.

The New York's passengers list of 748 included 25 German professors, ladders and business men who have come to study American commercial progress. They plan to visit Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit, Boston and Buffalo.

BOMBING IN CHICAGO TO INTIMIDATE WITNESS

CHICAGO, Aug. 5—(AP)—A bomb was exploded before the home of William Wood, jailed Negro political leader, early today in what was believed to be the first violent attempt to intimidate a special grand jury witness. Wood, known as the "Blind Wizard" in South Side politics, testified before the special grand jury investigating April primary disorders. Howard Roddy, defeated candidate for 11th ward commissioner in the primary, was named by Wood but denied all knowledge of the affair.

Violent Storm In Connecticut Valley

Power and Transportation Facilities Were Heavily Damaged—Houses Unroofed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 5—(AP)—A violent thunder storm, accompanied by both sharp gusts of wind and a lightning display that kept the skies illuminated almost continuously for a half hour, broke over the Connecticut valley shortly after noon today, leaving in its wake uprooted trees, a number of unroofed houses and heavy damage to power and transportation facilities.

At Chicopee, where the greatest damage occurred, two houses were unroofed and traffic was interrupted on a number of streets when the wind toppled over large trees and telephone and electric light poles. Lightning struck the power plant in Chicopee, crippling the service to such an extent that Chicopee was without power and trolley service for a number of hours and a large force of workmen were busy late tonight repairing the damage.

Over Holyoke, two electrical storms met head-on and trolley tracks were impassable as the heavy rains washed mud and sand across the right of way. Roland Anderson of Holyoke, camping with two other youths, was knocked unconscious by a lightning bolt but was revived.

Tragedy struck at Hingham, Mass., where Mrs. Bertha Stetson, of Dorchester, was drowned when a pleasure launch capsized in the gale.

AN ARAB, FRENCH ENTRANT WON OLYMPIC MARATHON

Crowning Prize of the 1928 Olympic Track and Field Championship Was Captured by El Ouafi, an Undersized Algerian—Covered the 26 Miles 385 Yards in 2 Hours, 32 Minutes, 57 Seconds—Joie Ray, the American, Was Out in Front Until Almost in Sight of the Finish—Ray, Near the Point of Exhaustion, Finished Fifth—The Americans Swept the Men's Relays.

By ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Amsterdam, Aug. 5—(AP)—With Olympic marathon victory apparently within his grasp, Joie Ray, tired and muscle sore, the American favorite, faltered almost in sight of the finish line this morning while the under-sized Algerian Arab, El Ouafi, running under the colors of France, galloped off with the crowning prize, of the 1928 Olympic track and field championship.

El Ouafi, 24 year old former Spanish native in the French Moroccan army, was in the more peaceful pursuits of an automobile factory worker in Paris. Came from nowhere in the last few miles of the long grind to capture a sensational upset. The dark skinned little runner dashed into the stadium to the cheers of 40,000 and had enough left in the tank to beat his nearest rival, Manuel Plata, 24 year old Chilean, another dark horse, by 150 meters.

Gray looking slowly around the oval and over the zone of exhaustion, finished, trailed M. S. Martensen of Finland and Kanenatsu Yamada of Japan, who had alternated with Ray in setting the pace for fully two-thirds of the grind ever dutch gods and cobblestones.

El Ouafi, in one of the fastest marathons recorded in history, but only two seconds off the world's mark, disclosed the fact of the world's war disclosed the fact that the crowd, but not the second hottest Olympic marathon to send the French first the 1924 race for the first time since Paris in 1900.

Over a flat but nevertheless tough course, El Ouafi covered the 26 miles 385 yards in 2 hours, 32 minutes, 57 seconds, less than 30 seconds short of the record Olympic time set in 1924 at Antwerp by Hannes Kolehmainen of Finland.

Having his stuff for the finish after passing most of the way well back in the big field of some 15 runners, representing 34 nations, El Ouafi dashed the crowd and his chase with a burst that left behind the Chilean hard chase with him. Then two, given no consideration in the experts in advance calculations that forecast the winner would come from the United States, Finland or Canada, went most hard and faltering makers with a muscle-bound Italian Sola appeared to have unbounded energy in reserve at the finish. Ray, for the fact that El Ouafi had decided to shoot, calculated Sola's chance, a bit, stalked the Arab to catch and hold the lead over the Chilean.

Place came through the metre to the marathon tower before El Ouafi had finished and the thunderous applause for the winner turned to the second place man whose friends waved from the stands to wave him in a Chilean flag and hoist him in their shoulders. American hopes, which soared high the moment Ray, the Olympic champion, was seen the lead, were dashed when the Yankee finished a sixth place, a bitter pill for the American fans, who had hoped that Ray would be the first American to win a marathon since Albin Stenroos of Finland won it in 1924.

Joie started the race in fine condition. He led the colorful parade out of the stadium and ran that way for a mile, passing slowly up with the cocky little Arab, who was trailing the leader, and the Finn, who was a little Canadian. Yamada and Martensen, who finished with the winner, moved out Ray as the race got hot but they stuck with the American virtually the whole way. Yamada, a stowaway of the two Japanese boats, had slept over Ray with pace this time in order to do so at the time when he tired and Ray quitted. Even could have the Arab shot out in front to and Joie remembered he was having French Deniskin dropped out in Krimo's relay lines as he did two years ago. There was no stopping El Ouafi once he got going.

Ray, with the muscles in his legs tightening on him and so sore that he was tired and Martensen, the Finnish favorite, came home to be both in the final mile.

The marathon opened the meet on the 27th of Lock and Bolt events for men and women. There would be a marathon and another relay contest on the last day.

The Americans scored the meet's relays, beating about Germany, Italy, Italy as the Yankee 400 metre relay team cut the world's mark of 41 seconds flat and the 1600 metre quartet lowered the record from three minutes 18 seconds to 3:14 1-5. The 400 metre team consisted of Frank Wykoff, Jimmy Quinn, Charley Borah and Henry Russell. American women also lived in the 400 meter relay with George Baird, Fred Alderman, Ben Spencer and Ray Barnett.

Canada stabbed the remaining marathon, Canadian girls beating the United States and breaking the world's 400 meter mark for women in a 47.2 second performance where Ethel Catherwood of Toronto also lowered the new mark of 1:34 meters to 1:33 and inched Mildred Willey of the United States and Fraulein G. A. Gaede of Germany also broke the old record when they covered 1:34 meters in a total 1:32 inches. In the home of the Dutch girl won the second place over Fourth place went to Jean Salter of the United States.

Both American men's relay teams won in record-breaking fashion. The 400 metre victory was gained by a quartet made up of Helmut Kwanis, Frank Wykoff, Jimmy Quinn and Henry Russell, who finished in a handicap and to record, the 1600 metre sensational 3:14 1-5 record was achieved by Russell, Quinn, Borah and Spencer in 47.4 seconds and a mile finish by Barnett with all the contestants in the last two Olympic Games, Sto and Hoaing Kaze, and in the last meters.

KENTUCKY CONGRESSMEN HAVE WON NENOMINATIONS

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 5—(AP)—All Kentucky congressmen seeking re-election appeared on the face of incomplete returns today, to have won party nominations in yesterday's primary elections with the possible exception of John W. Moore, third district democrat. Moore, opposed by Thomas Rhea, state party leader, had a comfortable margin, however, with returns almost complete and appeared back to win his fight.

In the 6th district, where Representative O. E. Ware, democrat, did not re-enter, Brent Spence, of Fort Thomas was leading his nearest opponent, Rudolf A. O'Donovan Covington, by more than 3,000 votes in the democratic race.

Only two women were among the 44 candidates who sought the 22 city nominations, one of them, Mrs. Katherine W. Langley, Kentucky's first congresswoman, who succeeded her husband, John W. Langley, as representative of the tenth district, had an overwhelming lead over her three republican opponents. The other, Miss Martie Faruter of Central City, was hopelessly beaten in the three-cornered democratic race in the third district, trailing far behind Congressman Moore and Thomas Rhea.

POLISH AVIATORS PICKED UP OFF COAST OF PORTUGAL

Trouble With Their Gasoline Feed Pipe Forced an Abrupt Descent Into the Sea—The Plane Struck the Waves With Such Force That the Wings Were Smashed—The Fliers Had Been in the Air 35 Hours and Had Made a Great Circle Out Over the Atlantic Toward the Azores—The Rescue Was Made by the German Steamer Samos.

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 5—(AP)—The Polish aviators, Majors Idzikowski and Kubala, after being rescued at sea off Portugal yesterday when their attempt to span the Atlantic came to an abrupt end, were landed today at Leixoes, near Oporto, Portugal.

The German steamer Samos which took them from their smashed airplane(the Marszalek Pilsudski, also brought the sesquiplane into port.

One of the two aviators injured his arm in a fall aboard the steamship so seriously that he was sent to the military hospital at Oporto when the ship docked this morning. It was said late, however, that both airmen expected to be able to leave tomorrow for Paris, which was their starting point.

The aviators had been in the air since 4.46 a. m., Greenwich mean time, Friday and in 35 hours of flying had made a great circle out over the Atlantic toward the Azores during which they had been sighted by two steamships. It was radio reports from these vessels which first gave the world intimation that the Poles had abandoned their attempt to span the Atlantic and were headed back toward Europe.

They had reached a point only 60 miles off Cape Finisterre when trouble with their gasoline feed pipe forced an abrupt descent into the sea. The big plane struck the waves with such force that the wings were smashed. The crew of the Samos with difficulty extricated the aviators and turned their vessel for the nearest port.

For the second time in a week trouble with the fuel supply system had forced a plane into the sea while on an attempt to make the westward crossing which has only once been accomplished in an airplane. For the second time, too, in so brief a space, aviators have been plucked by steamships from the waters in which many of their daring predecessors had met death.

On Wednesday Captain Frank T. Courtney with three companions had set out in a flying boat from the Azores to fly to Newfoundland. Half way across a broken gas line had sprayed fuel against the hot motors so that the plane caught fire and forced a rapid descend. The flying boat made a safe landing and floated ten hours until a steamship reached the spot. That plane was abandoned.

Previous rescues at sea had been made in the cases of Hawker, De Pinedo and Ruth Elder, all on eastbound flights, but the sea had swallowed up without trace other expeditions which had attempted to cross it in the air.

Thre Marszalek Pilsudski had apparently flown in great circles over the ocean after leaving the coast of France. No report of its being sighted came from the Azores which had been named as their first objective in their flight to New York.

Instead the Norwegian tanker Aztec reported that she had sighted a biplane (which resembles a sesquiplane) at a point 200 miles north of the Azores early yesterday morning when the Polish plane should have been far beyond that point had it held to its course and normal speed.

Further mystification to those who waited on both shores of the Atlantic came when the British steamship Amakura reported sighting the plane several hundred miles northeast of the position given by the Aztec. It then appeared that the Poles had either determined to return to some point in Europe or had become lost. As more than sufficient time passed for them to have reached the land by a direct flight the fear arose that the latter was the fact.

WEALTHY WOMAN PROBABLY VICTIM OF A DEGERATE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5—(AP)—Victim apparently of a degenerate slayer, Mrs. Myrtle L. Mellus, 41, wealthy and socially prominent, was found slain in her home here late this afternoon. A suspect, who gave his name as Pat Kelley, 38, was found hiding in a closet in the house and was captured by the police.

The nude and battered body of Mrs. Mellus was found by her husband, Frank Mellus, clubman and vice president of a wholesale canvas goods company, when he returned from an all-day fishing trip.

Officers from three police stations were rushed to the scene and a cordon of men was thrown about the entire neighborhood.

While the premises and house swarmed with police, newspapermen, and neighbors, a slight noise was heard in a down stairs closet. In a corner of the closet Kelly was found crouched. He made a futile attempt to escape through a window but was immediately overpowered by two detectives.

Mrs. Mellus' body was found in a bedroom on the second floor of the house, which is located in an exclusive residence district. The room showed evidence of a terrific struggle and the body was sprawled across a bed. Both of Mrs. Mellus' eyes were bruised and her body mutilated.

A jewel box containing gems valued at $10,000 remained untouched on a dresser in the room.

The jewel case ordinarily is kept in a secret drawer, Mellus said. Police surgeons said Mrs. Mellus apparently had been dead about an hour when her husband returned home at 5:30 o'clock. The bedroom was the only part on the house that showed signs of any disturbance.

Mrs. Mellus' clothes apparently had been torn from the body during the struggle by her assailant.

HEAT DIDN'T KEEP THE COOLIDGES FROM CHURCH

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 5—(AP)—Under a blazing sun that kept most of the regular congregation home, President and Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, attended church as usual today at the little chapel in Brule.

Dressed in light summer clothes, the presidential group created the usual excitement among the large crowd of tourists and visitors, who, despite the heat, the dust, and their numbers, which prevented all but a few fron obtaining a view of the Coolidges, massed in thousands about the little church.

In the chapel itself, the heat became so intense that in the course of the service two women had to leave.

John Taylor, the blind preacher of Brule, recited by memory the lesson, for which he chose the first 21 verses of the third chapter of the Gospel according to St. Paul. For his sermon he chose as texts the second verse of the ninth chapter of St. Matthew, the 50th verse of the sixth chapter of St. Mark and the 33rd verse of the 16th chapter of St. John.

At the end of the service, President Coolidge shook hands with John Taylor, then recognized Senator and Mrs. Dale of Vermont sitting in a pew on the opposite side of the church. He stopped on his way out and, after greeting them, invited them to lunch at Cedar Island lodge.

President Coolidge expects Gen. H. M. Lord, director of the budget, to arrive here tomorrow for a one-day visit to discuss preliminary budget estimates for the next fiscal year.

HOOVER TO CAMPAIGN ON DIGNIFIED PLANE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Aug. 5—(AP)—Unless the party managers are able to dissuade him from his purpose, Herbert Hoover will make only three or four more trips during his campaign for the presidency.

There will be no "swings around the circle," it was stated officially here today, and the trips will be brief with only a few speeches. This is in line with the determination of the republican nominee to refrain from any attempt at a ballyhoo and to keep his campaign on a dignified plane.

The future journeys will be made with Washington as the base of operations, the nominee remaining there most of his time so as to be in close touch with national headquarters. It was reiterated that only one set speech will be made on the return to Washington from here — that at Hoover's birthplace at West Branch. In that address the nominee will give particular attention to the agricultural questions, dealing largely with what he regards as the indirect, rather than the direct means of aiding the farmers. He feels that not enough stress has been laid upon this side of the problem, a side which he regards as of high importance.

The republican nominee spent a quiet Sabbath, attending services at Stanford university chapel in the forenoon with Mrs. Hoover, their son, Allan, and William J. Donovan, assistant to the attorney general of the United States.

The sermon, as customary, was preached by a visiting minister, the Rev. Charles W. Gilkey, a Baptist preacher of Chicago, who took his text from the fourth chapter, seventh verse of Paul's second letter to the Corinthians:

"But we have this treasure in eastern vessels."

Returning directly to his home, the nominee conferred with the newspaper correspondents for the first time since his return from the northern mountains, but he had no political comment to make for publication, maintaining the silence which has made his campaign unique thus far.

1,000 COMMUNISTS ARRESTED OUTSIDE WALLS OF PARIS

PARIS, Aug. 5—(AP)—More than 1,000 communists were arrested just outside of the southern walls of Paris this afternoon in the suburb of Ivry, where they had advertised a meeting which authorities had forbidden them to hold.

Most of the arrests were made when the participants, streaming into the suburb, refused to obey police orders to "keep moving." There were only a few sporadic outbreaks of roughness with no serious casualties.

There were 3,500 police, mounted and afoot, assembled in the suburb along with large contingents of firemen with their hose all set ready for trouble, and republican guards. Numerous "Black Marias" made trip after trip, carrying those arrested to police stations.

Flight Instructor And Student Killed

Airplane Crashed in Raritan Township, Near Plainfield, N. J.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Aug. 5—(AP)—Gustave Staiger, 30, of New York, and Colingswood Harris, 27, of Cranford, were killed late today when a plane in which they had set out from Hadley air field a short while before crashed in Raritan township, near here.

Staiger, who was said to have been connected with the German air service during the war, was giving flying instruction to Harris.

The plane was about 1,000 feet in the air when going through a tail spin, a wing apparently loosened, witnesses said, and the machine went into a nose dive.

The wives of both victims watched their husbands as they took off on the tragic flight. Harris in addition to his widow leaves two children.

GOV. SMITH REVIEWED TWO REGIMENTS, N. Y. G.

CAMP SMITH, N. Y., Aug. 5—(AP)—To the strains of "East Side, West Side," "Tammany," "How Dry I Am" and Irish ballads and jigs, Governor Smith today reviewed two regiments of the New York national guard encamped along the Hudson near Peekskill. Both units—the famous 69th, which sailed overseas in the Rainbow Division, and the 14th—are from New York city, and many of the officers and 2,300 men were personally acquainted with their commander-in-chief.

Smith reviewed the troops in his capacity of governor.

Accompanied by Mrs. Smith and a party of friends, he stopped off here en route from New York to Albany. The trip up the Hudson from New York was made on a yacht of William H. Todd, the shipbuilder. From camp here, the democratic presidential nominee, and his party continued up the river by automobile.

Several thousand camp visitors, most of them from New York, fringed the parade ground, and frequently burst into applause as the governor passed near.

The entire ceremony on the parade ground, perched above the river, took a little more than half an hour. From the quarters of Maj. Gen. William N. Haskell, commander of the New York national guard division which fought overseas as the 27th, Mrs. Smith and women members of the governor's party watched the review.

Despite the heat, the governor seemed to enjoy the privilege of reviewing the guardsmen. At his side, as they passed, was General Haskell, widely known for his relief activities in Russia and the Balkans after the war.

MAN WAS DROWNED IN POND IN OAKVILLE

WATERBURY, Aug. 5—(AP)—John Keane, 44, of 707 Washington street, New York, was drowned in Slade's pond, Oakville, at 6:45 o'clock tonight. Miss Mildred Bradshaw, 16, of Falls avenue, Oakville, who was swimming near Keane, first observed the man struggling and called the attention of three men who dove and recovered the body in about five or ten minutes.

First aid was given and signs of life were observed in Keane when Lithuanian friends of the man are said to have interfered, voicing strenuous objections to what they believed was the ill treatment he was receiving. The friends seized the body, it was stated, placed it in a blanket and tossed it around in an effort to revive Keane. Medical Examiner Dr. Edwin G. Reade, of Watertown, pronounced Keane dead when he viewed the body shortly afterward.

Keane was visiting John Rubas of this city. He leaves a widow and 17-months baby, both of whom were present when he drowned.

The heat caused the death of an unidentified man in South Boston today.

Two persons were drowned during the day. Harold Liska, 23, drowned in a pond in Dorchester while Carl Hillburg, 31, who was swimming at Winthrop disappeared and a search for his body was unsuccessful.

The storm caused considerable property damage.

Violent Storm In Connecticut Valley

Power and Transportation Facilities Were Heavily Damaged—Houses Unroofed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 5—(AP)—A violent thunder storm, accompanied by hail, sharp gusts of wind and a lightning display that kept the skies illuminated almost continuously for a half hour, broke over the Connecticut valley shortly after noon today, leaving in its wake uprooted trees, a number of unroofed houses and heavy damage to power and transportation facilities.

At Chicopee, where the greatest damage occurred, two houses were unroofed and traffic was paralyzed on a number of streets when the wind toppled over large trees and telephone and electric light poles. Lightning struck the power lines in several places, crippling the service to such an extent that Chicopee was without power and trolley service for a number of hours and a large force of workmen were busy late tonight repairing the damage.

AN ARAB, FRENCH ENTRANT WON OLYMPIC MARATHON

Crowning Prize of the 1928 Olympic Track and Field Championship Was Captured by El Quafi, an Undersized Algerian—Covered the 26 Miles 385 Yards in 2 Hours, 32 Minutes, 57 Seconds—Joie Ray, the American, Was Out in Front Until Almost in Sight of the Finish—Ray, Near the Point of Exhaustion, Finished Fifth—The Americans Swept the Men's Relays.

By ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Amsterdam, Aug. 5—(AP)—With classic marathon victory apparently within his grasp, Joie Ray, tired and muscle sore little American favorite, faltered almost in sight of the finish this afternoon while the under-sized Algerian Arab, El Ouafi, running under the colors of France, galloped off with the crowning prize of the 1928 Olympic track and field championship.

El Ouafi, 29 year old former despatch bearer in the French Moroccan army, now in the more peaceful pursuit of an automobile factory worker in Paris, came from "nowhere" in the last few miles of the long grind to spring a sensational upset. The dark-skinned little runner dashed into fire stadium to the cheers of 40,000 and half circled the track to beat his nearest rival Miguel Plaza, 26 year old Chilean, another dark horse, by 150 meters.

Ray jogging slowly around the oval and near the point of exhaustion, finished fifth, behind M. B. Maitelinen of Finland and Kanematsu Yamada of Japan, who had alternated with Ray in setting the pace for fully two-thirds of the grind over dutch roads and cobblestones.

El Ouafi, in one of the biggest marathon surprises in history, not only raced the pick of the world's long distance runners into the ground, but ran the second fastest Olympic marathon to send the French flag up the victory pole for the first time since Teato won at Paris in 1900.

Over a flat but nevertheless tough course El Ouafi covered the 26 miles 385 yards in 2 hours, 32 minutes, 57 seconds, less than 22 seconds short of the record Olympic time set in 1920 at Antwerp by Hannes Kolehmainen of Finland.

Saving his stuff for the finish after running most of the way well back in the big field of some 75 runners representing 24 nations, El Ouafi dazzled the crowd and his rivals with a closing spurt that carried the Chilean Plaza along with him. These two, given no consideration by the experts in advance calculations that figured the winner would come from the United States, Finland or Canada, swept past tired and faltering leaders with a magnificent finish. Both appeared to have unbounded energy in reserve at the close, and only the fact that El Ouafi first decided to spurt, catching Plaza napping a bit, enabled the Arab to gain and hold the lead over the Chilean.

Plaza came through the portal beside the marathon tower before El Ouafi had finished and the thunderous applause for the winner turned to the second place man whose friends leaped from the stands to wrap him in a Chilean flag and hoist him to their shoulders. American hopes which burned high throughout most of the race as Ray always was within the first five and appeared likely to fulfill his greatest ambition, faded along with Joie in the last three miles. Except at the start when the veterans Whitey Michelson of Stamford, Conn., and Clarence De Mar of Melrose, Mass., stayed briefly with the leaders, Ray was the only American contender in the group of six that set out so confidently on the long chase.

Michelson finished ninth and De Mar, finding the flat route unsuited to his jogging pace, 27th. The three other Americans all finished but Jimmy Henigan of Dorchester, Mass., was 39th; Harvey Black, Millrose A. A. of New York, 41st, and Bill Agee of Baltimore 44th.

Ray lost because his running machinery, despite the sensational promise shown at home, isn't yet strong enough to withstand the gruelling marathon grind, consistently. Ray had run only two previous marathons in competitions, finishing third in the Boston grind and breaking the American record in the Long Beach race.

Joie started the race in perfect condition. He led the colorful pack out of the stadium and ran just as he had planned staying up with th eleaders or occasionally jumping out ahead to give his rivals a taste of his speed. Two little Japanese, Yamada and Seichiro Tsuda who finished sixth, evidently picked out Ray as the man to beat for they stuck with the American virtually the whole way. Yamada, the stronger of the two Japanese, held the lead over Ray with less than three miles to go at the time when El Ouafi and Plaza spurted. From eighth place the Arab shot out as though he suddenly remembered he was bearing a French despatch through Abd El Krim's rebel lines as he did two years ago. There was no stopping El Ouafi once he got going.

Ray, with the muscles in his legs tightening up, had no spurt left. Yamada, too, was tired and Maitelinen, the Finnish favorite, came along to beat both in the final mile.

The marathon crowned the final day of track and field events for men and women. Three world's records were shattered and another equalled on the last day.

The Americans swept the men's relays, beating strong German rivals twice as the Yankee 400 meter relay runners tied the world's mark of 41 seconds flat and the 1600 meter quartet lowered the record from three minutes 16 seconds to 3:14 1-5. The 400 meter team consisted of Frank Wykoff, Jimmy Quinn, Charley Borah and Henry Russell. American representatives in the 3400 meter relay were George Baird, Fred Alderman, Bud Spencer and Ray Barbuti.

Canada grabbed the remaining laurels, Dominion girls beating the United States and breaking the world's 400 meter mark for women in a 48 2-5 second performance while Ethel Catherwood, of Toronto, high jumped to a new mark of 1.59 meters (5 feet 2 inches). Mildred Wiley of the United States and Fraulein C. A. Gisolf of Holland also broke the old record when they cleared 1.56 meters or 5 feet 1 2-10 inches. In the jump-off the Dutch girl won the second place medal. Fourth place went to Jean Shiley of the United States.

Both American men's relay teams won in clean-cut fashion. The 400 meter victory was gained by a two yard margin as Helmut Koernig, Teuton anchorman, failed in a desperate bid to overtake the flying Russell. A sensational third four hundred by Spencer in 47 4-5 seconds and a fine finish by Barbuti withstood the closing threats of the last two Germans, Harry Sto and Herman Engelhard in the 1600 meters.

KENTUCKY CONGRESSMEN HAVE WON RENOMINATIONS

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 5—(AP)—All Kentucky congressmen seeking reelection appeared, on the face of incomplete returns today, to have won party nominations in yesterday's primary elections with the possible exception of John W. Moore, third district democrat. Moore, opposed by Thomas Rhea, state party leader, had a comfortable margin, however, with returns almost complete and appeared likely to win his race.

In the sixth district, where Representative O. S. Ware, democrat, did not re-offer, Brant Spence, of Fort Thomas, was leading his nearest opponent, Daniel A. O'Donovan, Covington, by more than 2,000 votes in the democratic race.

Only two women were among the 48 candidates who sought the 32 party nominations. One of them, Mrs. Katherine W. Langley, Kentucky's first congresswoman, who succeeded her husband, John W. Langley, as representative of the tenth district, had an overwhelming lead over her three republican opponents. The other, Miss Myrtle Paynter of Central City, was hopelessly beaten in the three-cornered democratic race in the third district, trailing far behind Congressman Moore and Thomas Rhea.

The last available figures Saturday afternoon showed that a total of 226 persons have become identified with the $30,000 drive, now $2,850 "over the top" to insure the coming to Willimantic of a new silk industry. Additional pledges are expected before Monday night when the final report of the campaign and the list of subscribers will be made known. It was stated Saturday that all in excess of the quota of $30,000 can be used to advantage by applying it to an enlargement of the proposed plant through the installation of whatever number of additional looms the excess amount will purchase. Nearly all of the old cotton-manufacturing machinery has been removed from the quarters to be occupied at the former Quidnick-Windham Manufacturing company plant, now owned by association interests of the Rockville-Willimantic Lighting company. Early this coming week painters will invade the plant and put on a brightening coat of white paint.

President Frank P. Fenton Saturday called for a meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce to be held Monday noon to hear the report of a sub-committee on the matter of a second industry. This second proposed industry will not require as large an amount of financing as the silk concern. The product is an article of metal for which patents are now pending. Those who are familiar with the nature of the article felt assured that there is a wide and steady market for the product which appears to be far superior to anything of its kind ever seen. The concern has been engaged in manufacturing a similar, but apparently inferior product, for several years and has been successful although engaging but a limited sales force. The report will be made in writing.

ANNUAL WINDHAM COUNTY FIELD DAY THURSDAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, Aug. 5—Thursday of this week brings the annual field day of the Windham County Farmers' association, and the affair is of interest to members throughout the fifteen towns of the county. This year the events scheduled for the day are to take place within the town of Windham.

The assembly is to be at the green at Windham Center at 9.30 a. m. standard time, and there field day banners will be distributed for use on each car. The first stop is to be at the Kindsley Brown farm at Windham Center. This is a splendid poultry farm with 3,000 birds, business being conducted on a commercial basis. There are to be two exhibits at this farm, the first showing the cleaning of laying houses before pullet are brought in, the second having to do with mixing feed and feeding. Roy E Jones, poultry specialist at Storrs, is to give a short talk.

From the Brown farm the several hundred people who are expected to take part in the field day will proceed to L. P. Oehrig's farm at Windham Center. This is another interesting poultry farm. Buildings of interest include a barn remodeled into a laying house, a long, continuous type of laying house and also brooder houses.

The third call will be at the Donald Kramer farm at Windham. Here will be shown a system and methods employed in market gardening. Mr. Kramer will make a trip about the farm with the visitors and will explain his practices in growing vegetables and in marketing them. There is also a herd of Jersey cows on this farm that will deserve the attention of all interested in dairying.

At noon there is to be a basket lunch period at Windham Center.

The speaking program of the day provides for addresses by L. G. Davis, professor of agricultural economics at Storrs, Frank L. Davis, former county agent and now director of the New England Dairy and Food council at Boston; A. H. Amidon, president of the County Farmers' association; Alexander Maitland, Thompson, vice president and treasurer of the association; Whitman Danielson, Putnam secretary of the association; Raymond E. Wing, county agent, Putnam; Marion S. Watson, county agent, Putnam; Benjamin W. Ellis, director of extension service at Storrs.

I. G. Davis' subject is to be Some Economic Needs of the Windham County Farmer. F. L. Davis is to talk on the subject Meeting Farm Business Competition with Extension Methods. The speaking program is to start at 1.15 p. m., standard time.

The county field day committee is made up of C. B. Jewett chairman, Hampton; S. H. Peckham, Woodstock C. E. Salmon, Brooklyn, G. A. Cook, Windham, Thomas Mara, Windham, and John Z. LaBelle Killingly.

Subsequent to lengthy consideration of the subject at a meeting the town school committee has given out a statement setting forth its position relative to children playing about school properties when schools are not in session and what its plans are when such children cause any further damage. Boys have been running a bit wild about school properties here during the present vacation. How the committee views these activities and what it purposes to do in case of any further damage is set forth in the following statement issued by the committee.

Clouding skies and a cooling breeze out of the northwest followed by rain brought some relief to wilted humanity this afternoon following four days of blistering heat as this section rarely experiences. Today started to match the heat records of the preceding three days by running the mercury above 90 before the noon hour, but changing conditions at mid-afternoon came as a great boon.

A check of records today shows that the present summer promises to rate the hottest in several years. Four different severe heat spells are already on the books. Numbers of people, under the strain of the past few days, were complaining of illness or exhaustion today. However, no serious cases of illness due to the blistering weather were reported.

Recently compiled reports show that there have been 40 arrests in Windham county this year for violations of the fish and game laws, this being the second largest number reported from the various counties of the state. The county game warden, John Ash of Pomfret and his staff of deputy wardens have kept busy right through the year, and have picked up violators in various county towns. The arrests and prosecutions have evoked no great amount of publicity, but the record of arrests speaks for itself. At the present time Warden Ash and his force of deputies are engaged in checking up on fishermen frequenting the various bodies of water in the county. These officials are out almost daily and visit the remotely located lakes and ponds as well as those near the larger centers of population. Their policy is not to harry sportsmen who are keeping within the law, but to seek out violators—those who fish without licenses, take fish illegally or fish where fishing is forbidden.

Up to late this afternoon the week had been practically free from accidents or other untoward events in Danielson and surrounding territory. One contributing reason for this good record was believed to be the intense heat, which cut down traffic surprisingly. Along state highways all through this territory picnic parties were to be seen, seeking relief in the shady places from the blazing sun. In scores of instances car owners allowed their machines to remain standing in garages today, rather than brave trips under the trying conditions prevailing.

At a meeting of the school committee, long and careful consideration was given to the break into the grammar school building on Sunday afternoon last, and to the constant trespassing on and damage to the grounds and buildings of the grammar school and the high school. The damage in the grammar school building Sunday afternoon caused by two small boys, seven and eight years of age, was much greater than at first thought. The desks of the teachers were opened and the contents scattered through the whole building and likewise the supplies in the classrooms were scattered promiscuously throughout the rooms as were pictures, post cards, stereoscopes, stereoscopic photographs, crayon, etc. Because of the age of the culprits it has been decided not to prosecute either them or their parents, but the parents have received warning through Chief McFarland that any similar trouble in the future will be severely dealt with.

The boys gained entrance to the grammar school by mounting the fire escape to the third story and climbing from the fire escape to the gutter. The boys then walked in the gutter, a little over a foot in width and between 36 and 40 feet from the ground, around two sides of the building until they came to a window which they were able to open by which they gained entrance to the school.

Over twenty windows have been broken about the grammar school this summer by boys playing baseball, "peggy" and other games about the school building. Boys are frequently seen climbing the fire escape and walking around the gutter referred to above in the grammar school building as well as climbing on the roof of the small building in the rear. Likewise this same group of boys, more or less frequently have been seen around the roofs of the high school building and climbing on and playing about the fire escape there and windows have been broken there during this summer. The school committee wish, therefore, to make it plain that parents of pupils causing damage to the school buildings will be held strictly liable for same and are requested to warn the children not to play on or about the buildings or grounds at any time when school is not in session. The school committee likewise wish to make it plain that they will not be responsible for any damage to life or limb caused by falling or by otherwise getting hurt about the school grounds and buildings.

Judge W Fenner Woodward and Judge Sabin S. Russell were at Putnam this afternoon to attend the funeral of Judge Edgar M. Warner.

Mrs. Arthur Tillinghast has returned home last week after spending a few weeks at her cottage at Pleasant View.

Services are held in St. Paul's church every Sunday at 11 o'clock daylight saving time. Holy communion will be celebrated at 8 o'clock, Sunday, August 19, and at 11 o'clock, Sunday, September 9. Sunday school reopens September 9.

The public utilities commission following a hearing at the capitol granted permission to the Connecticut company to discontinue trolley service over approximately 900 feet of track on Truman street in New London.

PUTNAM

ROTIVAL-HOLT WEDDING IS BRILLIANT SOCIETY AFFAIR

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, August 5—Many from America and abroad gathered Saturday afternoon at the First Congregational church in Woodstock Hill at 5.30 o'clock to attend the wedding of Miss Leila Stewart Holt and Captain Maurice Rotival of Paris. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton Holt, of Winter Park, Florida. Dr. Holt is president of Rollins college.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles A Campbell, D. D assisted by Rev. Thomas B. Powell, pastor of the church The altar was covered with branches of white pine and clusters of rose colored gladioli Each pew was decorated with the same flowers arranged in a novel bell effect.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father wore a gown of ivory and satin trimmed with old Duchess lace augmented by a long three-paneled train Her bouquet consisted of gardenias and orchids The matrons of honor were Mrs. Beatrice Symonds and Madame Philippe Davey the former a sister of the bride and the latter a sister of the bridegroom Their gowns were of yellow taffeta and they carried bouquets of orchids and larkspur

The best man was William V. C Ruxton of New York and Greenwich, Conn. The ushers were John E. Holt brother of the bride, Colonel T. W Milling of Washington Henry S. Sturgis and Chandler Cudlipp of New York, William Perry of Boston and Raymond Vivier of Paris. The ushers and best man are close associates of Mr. Rotival when he was in charge of instructing young American aviators of the first American army in France, during the late war.

Captain Rotival is the son of M Paul Rotival of Paris, an official of a great French railway company. He was educated at the Condorcet university and also studied in England and Germany At the outbreak of the war in 1914. Rotival was promoted to a lieutenant and later made a captain in the French flying corps. Rotival ranks among other great French heros of the air. He was wounded several times and was cited for bravery while in action. For this he was decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor and also received the Croix de Guerre.

Mrs. Rotival comes of one of the oldest American families. She is a direct descendant of John Eliot, the apostle of the Indians, and of the sister of Benjamin Franklin on her father's side and also has a considerable historical lineage on her mother's side. She is a graduate of Velton school, New York and of Smith college, at Northampton, Mass

A reception was held at "Sunset hill" the summer home of the Holt family on Woodstock hill, in a setting of colonial life of New England. Mr. and Mrs. Rotival left after the ceremony for an automobile trip through New England. At the close of this tour they will sail for Paris, where they will reside.

Sporting fans from surrounding towns of Putnam gathered here Saturday afternoon with visions of seeing the world's heavyweight champion, James Joseph Tunney, whom it was rumored late Friday afternoon was to be present at the marriage of Miss Leila Stewart Holt to Maurice Rotival of Paris, in Woodstock on Saturday afternoon. The news traveled fast and many trains coming out of Hartford were watched by the champion's admirers who believed he was to arrive sometime before the ceremony was to have taken place.

Their hopes would have been realized and their eyes would have had a glance of Mr. Tunney, Saturday afternoon, had he not been delayed because of sudden illness of a friend who was to accompany him to Putnam, and he was forced to cancel his plans.

Gene Tunney became acquainted with Miss Holt and the members of her family last winter while he was training in Florida for his recent bout with Tom Heeney. Since the Heeney bout, Gene has established temporary training quarters in Greenwich, Conn His trip, it was said Saturday by a guest at the wedding, had been planned by him several weeks before his recent fight in New York, which he retained his crown.

The headquarters company of the 43rd division, C. N. G., Putnam's military unit left for Camp Trumbull at Niantic, this morning shortly after eight o'clock. The peace time soldiers under the command of Lieutenant Charles A. Woodward, boarded the motor coaches at the railroad station in Union Square, with the rations, equipment and other necessities. Early the guards donned their khaki colored uniforms, bade their parents a goodbye and were off to the company drill shed on Harris street, bage and baggage.

A few light sprints of close order drill about the armory, under the commands of Lieut. Francis Murphy and First Sergt. Fred H. McCollough, saw the boys in perfect shape and step and in a few minutes were off to Niantic for the annual 15 day period of active field duty at Niantic.

The company this year has a great number of new recruits, who will receive their first taste of soldier life this year. The boys belonging to this company, in for encampments have been nicknamed "the spare parts" because of the various branches of service they are adapted to.

In Danielson the Putnam company was joined by Captain Edward F. Perry, M. D., of this city who was in command of his newly recruited medical detachment, consisting of 15 men, with their supplies and individual luggage. Along with Captain Perry's company was the special detachment of Major Darbie, who with their commanding officer also left for camp.

The local company will return to Putnam on August 19.

Stanley Kokernack of Webster, was charged with transportation of intoxicating liquors and attempted assault upon State Officer Elton T. Nolan of Danielson barracks was granted a continuance of another week, by Judge Geissler in the city court Saturday morning. Kokernack, was arrested over a month ago by Officer Nolan at the point of a gun. The following morning he was granted two weeks to allow him to obtain legal counsel Due to other engagements, his attorney, who is Irving H. Miron of Putnam, was forced to ask for additional continuances. Kokernack, will be arraigned before the city court on next Saturday morning, August 11.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF JUDGE EDGAR M. WARNER

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, August 5—Funeral services were held this afternoon in the Congregational church for Judge Edgar M. Warner, who died Thursday forenoon at his home on Grove street Hundreds of friends and acquaintances of the former judge of city court and clerk of the Windham county superior court were at the church at 2.30 to attend the last tribute, paid by Rev James F. English, pastor of the First Congregational church.

The casket was placed in the forepart of the edifice and was heavily banked with the many and beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were: Attorneys A. S. Macdonald, Ernest C. Morse and State's Attorney Howard Bradford and Charles A. Ryan, Eugene Mieur and Guy Zito, the last three mentioned being taxi drivers, who had transported Judge Warner from his office to his home daily for the past few years.

Many attorneys, representing the Windham County Bar association were in attendance. The funeral cortege consisted of many cars occupied by members of the Warner family and relatives, members of the bar association and the numerous number of friends of Mr. Warner made during the several years of his life spent in Putnam.

Burial followed the services at the Warner lot in Grove street cemetery, with committal exercises at the grave, conducted by Rev English.

Attorney and Mrs. Irving H. Miron of Florence street, returned Sunday from a week's automobile trip to Moosehead lake, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bonin and members of their family of Marshall street left Saturday for a two week trip to Canada.

The terrific heat wave of the past three days was abated here late this afternoon by a sudden shower and northwest breezes. At noon Saturday the temperature reached a point of 95 degrees and brought about a general shut down of everything. Late Saturday afternoon, storm clouds gathered and it appeared as though relief from the heat would be obtained, but the storm lasted but a brief time and soon the city was sweltering again. Sunday began with the wave unbroken, and the mercury shot up to sky high points during the forenoon and remained so until early afternoon, when the sudden shower restored atmospheric conditions to normal.

Through recommendation of Captain Edward F. Perry, M. D., commanding officer of the newly organized medical detachment of the special troops of the 43rd division, Lawrence Phaneuf of this city has been made a sergeant in the outfit, his promotion to be made some time during the encampment at Niantic, which began today. Sergt. Phaneuf was a member of the headquarters company of this city. He served a three year term of enlistment and enlisted with the medical detachment when organized a few months ago.

In the rural districts today one was informed by a number of farmers that the season's supply of corn and other mid-summer vegetable crops are to be exceedingly late this year due to the excessive amount of rain and the late spring. This erport, agriculturists state is true of corn, which at present in most places is nearly a month behind in growth.

A man likes to be called a brick, but refer to him as a lump of common clay and he gets mad.

MYSTIC

ART EXHIBIT ATTENDANCE IS LARGER THIS YEAR

(Special to The Bulletin)

MYSTIC, Aug. 5—Attendance at the art exhibit is above the average of previous years. Several pictures were sold on the opening day. This all helps to bring the society so much nearer the goal of having their own quarters in which to hold the annual exhibits, etc.

Recent guests at the Dauntless house were the Misses Agnes and Alice Walsh of Liverpool, England, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Green, Chicago, Ill., Judge and Mrs. Olin B. Lewis, St. Paul, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Estes, Bronxville, N. Y., Misses Dorothy and Helen Smith, New Rochelle, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. James Baker, Chester, Penn., Mr. and Mrs. J. E. W. The Misses Martha Williams, Florence Craig, Florence Tobin, and Josephine Stevenson are camping at Lantern Hill for a short time.

Isadore Feidler, a Mystic merchant, and a young companion took a sharpie recently and went to Mystic island to try their luck fishing for flounders. The trip down the river was made without incident, but after an hour or two fishing, the wind came from the northwest and the anchor was dragged some distance before it was noticed. When discovered the boatmen were near Latimer Reef light. With one pair of oars the men tried to row back, but as at times there was lack of cooperation, they did not make much progress. Finally, Capt. George Lewis, local fisherman, came along, noticed their frantic waving took the two men on board and towed the sharpie home. The fisherman stated that hereafter he would stick to fresh water fishing, where land is always in sight.

A bad accident was barely averted last Thursday, at Willow and East Main streets, when two New York cars nearly collided. The car coming down Willow street did not slow down for the intersection and was not able to stop until nearly to the corner of Haley street. The car coming along East Main was fortunately going slow and the driver was able to stop when the other car came out directly in front of him. This shows once more how badly a traffic signal is needed at this intersection.

Mr. and Mrs. George Higbee, Mrs Inez Steadman of Old Mystic and Mrs Bertha Barr of Westerly, were recent guests of Mrs. Harriet Sherman of New London.

Edward Rider has returned to his home in Mystic, after assisting during the haying season on the farm of Mrs Clarence Davis in North Stonington

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy and three daughters, Mrs. Arthur Douglas, Mrs. Howard Simms, Miss Flora Kennedy and granddaughter, June Douglas, are on a motor trip to the White Mountains. OCEAN FLIGHTS

Two more instances have been recorded of the wrecking of transatlantic planes as if to emphasize the peril that faces those who undertake to make the crossing in a westerly direction.

What might have been the fate of Captain Frank T. Courtney and companions and Majors Idzikowski and Kubala, the latter flying the Polish sesquiplane, had they taken the northern course is problematical. In both instances the flight was being made to the Azores, from which point a second hop wa sto have been made to Newfoundland or some other point on the North Atlantic coast. In each case it was necessary to drop into the sea because of feed pipe trouble. The Courtney plane was the better prepared to meet this emergency inasmuch as it could remain afloat for days, but there was good fortune in that they were rescued without great delay.

Such trouble as was experienced in these flights might have occurred regardless of the direction in which they were flying. Their trouble, forced descent and rescue serve, however, to emphasize the importance of carrying a radio equipment and of using seaplanes when undertaking a long ocean flight.

Captain Courtney could float for a long time but he might still be bobbing about on the open ocean but for the fact that he had a radio aboard his seaplane and quickly informed the world as to where he could be located. It was even then some hours before he was reached but it can be safely said that he attaches greater value than ever to the protection of the wireless.

With the Polish fliers dependence was placed upon being observed in case trouble occurred. It worked, but even though they were rescued without wireless quicker than the British fliers were through the aid of their equipment, they can better appreciate the predicament they would have been in had the positions of the respective planes been reversed.

Claims are made that flying is becoming safer every day. Probably that can be supported by statistics but it is evident that there are yet plenty of opportunities for improvement.

ROAD AND STREET SIGNS

Recently, reference has been made to the value of having adequate street and direction signs placed for the guidance of those seeking certain residents or outlets from the city. The value of it is known by those who have visited other cities and found such accommodations or been obliged to stop at every other corner and ask for directions. Local residents can probably get about with poorly marked streets, or perhaps without any street markings at all, but the stranger is entitled to a reasonable amount of help in this direction.

The police of Brooklyn, N. Y., have claimed that the cause of the congestion of motor traffic there, especially in the section near Manhattan, might be overcome if the outsiders bound for Long Island resorts would study their maps before attempting to cross Brooklyn.

This prompts the New York Times to ask, "But of what use is a road map if the roads cannot be identified?" and then it goes on to say that "It is true that the principal highways leading out of Brooklyn and Queens are labeled with their respective names. But in the rest of Long Island and the signs pointing the way to distant towns are so few and so inadequate that motorists are continually taking wrong turns or stopping to discover the right road. Hundreds of thousands of motorists visit the Island each summer. They find that most of the main thoroughfares and nearly all of the secondary thoroughfares are so badly marked that drivers require a sixth sense to get about. * * * Plain marking along all the important roads would help all concerned."

The Times commends the highway system in California and says that "Connecticut also can teach New York a much needed lesson."

The well marked highways are a necessity and it is unfortunate that more of the secondary and even country roads are not marked for the convenience of the many who want to use them. In cities there should be no such thing as poorly marked or unmarked streets.

A HIGHWAY IMPEDIMENT

For the purposes of publicity a dancing marathon has been held on the public highway between Providence and Boston. That much traveled stretch of concrete roadway was more or less occupied by this event for a little more than 12 hours.

Just how much actual inconvenience or trouble it caused is not known, but anticipation therefrom is indicated by the efforts that were made to prevent it. It was even carried so far as to get the opinion of the attorney general's department in Massachusetts which reported that there was nothing in the law that made it illegal.

This plan of making use of the highway for other than transportation purposes comes after marathon runs have been held and walking contests have been completed over this same course. It took place, however, directly on the heel of the pleas which have been made in various states and endorsed by the American Automobile association for the speeding up of highway traffic.

The contention has been that congestion was relieved and the necessity for passing eliminated to a large degree if greater speed was maintained. In other words instead of the slow driver forcing those back of him to turn out into the path of oncoming traffic in order to get ahead this would be overcome if the slow driver speeded up. It is perfectly evident that the slow driver is not directly endangering himself or the other fellow. It is only because his slow progress makes it necessary for others who want to go faster to circle him and in so doing take all kinds of chances, that he becomes a menace.

But if the slow driver is a menace the dancing marathon must be even more so, for speed is slower and even greater care should be taken in passing them for there's no telling wha twists and turns they are going to make.

Even though the law doesn't forbid it, it doesn't seem to be the proper thing for much traveled roads in those days when highway safety is decreasing and transportation traffic is rapidly increasing. It adds another and needless impediment to traffic.

PEEK'S WASTED EFFORT

At the time of the democratic convention much stress was laid upon the democratic stand in behalf of farm relief. There was a mighty plea for the support of the McNary-Haugen act including the equalization fee. The plank that was adopted was said to meet the requirements. It didn't mention the fee but it was said to satisfy that it amounted to the same thing.

Mr. Peek, one of the farm leaders, was said to be pleased with the outcome at Houston. More recently he has had a conference with the chairman of the democratic national committee and as the result thereof he has declared that he will support the democratic nominee. The inference is that he was satisfied that he could sell his wishes to the democrats for the votes he could command. His bolt was thought to mean much, but it is now maintained that he is a democrat and not a republican.

Nevertheless on top of his announcement that he will support Mr. Smith, there comes the announcement from the democratic candidate that he does not approve the equalization fee. His position thereon seems to be emphatic. This leaves Mr. Peek in an amusing situation whether he is a democrat or a republican, for he has staked his whole fight on the equalization fee. He believed at Houston that the fee, or its equivalent, was upheld in the democratic platform. He learns from Chairman Raskob that the latter finds nothing uneconomic in the fee plan and immediately signs up to support the democratic standard.

Now all his work seems to have gone for nothing when the democratic candidate won't even recognize the equalization fee. It is a terrible blow. It's a shell game. The Peek movement is a wasted effort though there is very serious question as to whether it has been much more than a one man affair from the start.

FOREST FIRE INCENDIARIES

Aside from the putting out of the fires, the object of authorities in California should be to find the individual or individuals who set forest fires which have been raging in the national forest districts for nearly a week.

Fires were started in seven places by placing lighted candles in dry underbrush. This permitted the guilty to get to a considerable distance before the fire developed but the fire brand was practically certain to get in its work.

The impression is held that the motive back of the acts was the desire to create jobs for fire fighters. No consideration was given to the damage that was certain to follow. No thought was placed upon the possibility that it would mean the loss of someone's life. Selfishness of the worst character was displayed, if the authorities are correct.

Whether that was the correct motive or not, it is to be hoped that those responsible can be located and convicted. They deserve to receive the full penalty of the law and if such is possible be assigned to the fighting of forest fires in that state as at least part penalty for their crime.

It is bad enough when destructive fires are caused by the careless or thoughtless act of those who drop matches or toss aside lighted firebrands, but when fires are deliberately set in full knowledge of the damage they are certain to cause it represents a serious situation and one that cannot be too quickly corrected.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Smith refuses to discuss allegations says a headline. Probably he feels that the less said the better.

Isn't it about time that some politician put the demand for a good five cent cigar into his platform.

Faster mail service for less money ought to mean an interesting spurt in the air mail business and receipts.

The man on the corner says: Those looking for sunburn or tan cannot complain of the assistance August is giving.

The reception at Rome to General Nobile and party recalls the old song "When Johnny Comes Marching Home".

Tunney proved that it wasn't necessary to be a roughneck in looks or actions in order to carry off the highest pugilistic honors.

Even at this season there is no dearth of republican candidates for the November election, and none of them seems a bit hesitant because of the democratic claims on Connecticut.

WOMAN IN LIFE AND IN THE KITCHEN

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Curtain poles allow the hangings to slip easily if rubbed with hard soap.

Never put knives with ivory handles in water.

Individual meat pies are nice for the lunch box.

Dried peaches and raisins make a good pie filling.

Baked potatoes should be served as soon as done.

Cranberry sauce is good, served either hot or cold.

Apply kerosene to the enameled bathtub when it is rust stained.

A new metal clothes hamper opens with a foot pedal. Thus the top can be raised without trouble when the arms are full of soiled clothes.

Cream cheese flavored with chili sauce makes a good sandwich filling.

Silk stockings which are faded may be tinted by dipping in coffee or strong tea.

Clabber milk is wholesome and is often taken in cases of indigestion.

Rust can be removed from knives by rubbing with a cut onion.

Dip your knife into boiling water and fresh bread will cut much more easily.

When cooking cereal in a double boiler unpared potatoes or carrots can be cooked in the bottom boiler, one gas burner thus serving two purposes.

If you rub the screens of windows and doors with kerosene the flies will not come near as long as the odor lasts.

To clean milk bottles put two or three tablespoons of coarse salt into each, add enough vinegar to cover well and shake vigorously until the bottles are clean.

When you have a number of onions to peel, cover them with hot water, let stand a minute or two and that thin skin, so hard to get off, can be removed as if by magic.

In using the rind of a lemon for flavoring purposes, be careful not to use the white pith. It is only the yellow part that holds the oils. The white often imparts a bitter taste.

NOISELESS SCREEN DOORS.

The constant banging of a screen door in summer is unpleasant, and it is hard on the door. It can be prevented by fastening one-inch pieces of felt or very thin pieces of cork on the part of the door frame where the door strikes. A piece should be glued near the bottom. This remedy can be applied to any other door or to a cupboard or bookcase.

Most of the holes and pulled out places in the netting of a screen door come in the lower part. This is especially likely to be the case if there are small children in the family. For this reason, when having the lower netting renewed, have it put on double. It will then last twice as long. It is also a good plan to nail a strip of lath across the door on the inside about half way up. Paint it the color of the door. It will protect the netting from injury.

TRANSOM ABOVE KITCHEN DOOR

When building your own home, plan a transom above the kitchen door. It will prove a wonderful ventilator to carry away odors and steam from cooking.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

A cream is better for the skin than a plain oil because of the wax and rose water in the cream formula.

Facial massage by careful use of words, elimination of wrinkles by means of fewer elevations of the eyebrows and eye squintings, are possibilities in the modern wish for everlasting youth.

Castile soap makes a home manicure easy. Take a nail brush, rub it full of soap and scrub under the nails and around them and around the cuticle. You could not scrub nearly as hard with ordinary soap, but castile is not drying. Rinse the hands, push back the cuticle, clean under the nails and they will probably be free of stain and look as though they were freshly manicured.

THINGS TO MAKE OF BREAD DOUGH

As soon as bread is done, turn it out on a wire frame, raised on four little feet an inch from the table—on this frame it cools without becoming heavy and damp.

These rolls are delicious: Add a well beaten egg, two tablespoons of sugar and a tablespoon of melted butter to a quart of light bread sponge. Mix it well and let it rise again. Spread it in a sheet, cover it with butter, cut in strips, fold each, let them rise again and then bake quickly. The second and third rising can be hurried by placing the bowl containing the dough and then the pan containing the rolls, over hot water, and covering with a cloth.

Delicious bread rolls are made from bread sponge that has risen once. It is then kneaded down and dropped into muffin pans, allowed to rise until light, and then baked golden brown.

An easy breakfast bread is made from light bread sponge, rolled and patted into a flat sheet, which should be put in a dripping pan, spread with butter and sprinkled with cinnamon and sugar.

TREATMENT FOR SUNBURN.

In case sunburn does occur, it should receive prompt and careful treatment. The following treatment has been found effective: Take one-half a pint of hot water and stir into a level tablespoon of boric acid powder; then add 20 drops of carbolic acid and shake well. The solution should be dabbed on the inflamed skin with a small piece of cotton or sprayed on with an atomizer. It should not be rubbed into the skin. It can be applied every half hour if necessary. If no medicine is available, cold compresses will give relief to badly burned areas.

THE RADIATOR.

One way of making the radiator less conspicuous is to paint it the color of the wall. This reduces the radiator of heat, however, especially when light colors are used.

SQUARE SMARTEST NECKLINE.

The square camisole decolletage with cord shoulder straps is seen in many evening gowns of autumn styles already on display. The low U also is good and the low V neckline is still worn, but is not quite as smart as the square.

DICTATES OF FASHION.

New bathing suits come in washable moire, in the gayest of colors.

Crepe satin, featured almost half and half with crepe and satin sides displayed, takes the lead in fabrics.

Enamel bangle bracelets are again in style and cunning little finger rings come in sets to match them.

Vandyke points in heavy cream laces are used for collar and gauntlet cuffs on black velvet gowns.

Panels made of petals characterize a dinner frock of transparent velvet in pastel shades.

Suits with matching capes in full length style are designed for sports and morning wear.

The ensemble of the long coat variety is carried out by having the dress of the exact color as the coat.

Crepe de chine opera pumps are to be had in any one of the 99 different shades.

Modernistic luggage carries out its own distinctive ensemble theme and has considerable allure for the prospective traveler.

Shiny beaver or hatter's plush in an attractive beret is one version of the beaver hat that has already made its debut in military circles.

The black suede envelope, utilizing silver kid for edging, when accompanied by embroidered white kid gloves, is a stunning accessory.

Coral, in combination with gold, is often seen for evening wear, and the two colors also are used for trimming on the smart black satin afternoon gown.

Daytime colors now deemed smart for evening, includes more than just brown, navy and black, or gray and beige are being shown in these modes as well.

Pongee morning frocks in plain colors and prints and tailored linens in solid shades are excellent models that are offered at singularly low prices.

PRINTED JERSEY CARDIGAN SUITS.

Printed jersey, long promised, has made its appearance. Imported cardigan suits of this printed fabric are very smart, and American made garments are soon to be displayed.

PRINTED TAFFETA SHOWN.

Fares, the higher waistline and bustle fullness, indicative of the new mode, are embodied in a Premet frock of printed taffeta displayed. Printed taffeta evening dresses show small figures.

CIRE FABRIC THE MODE.

Cire python in black is used for shoes, handbags to match and also for hat trimmings. Cired fabrics are much the vogue, as for instance a flowered cire chiffon frock with a cire satin coat.

LAST YEAR'S WHITE STOCKINGS

If some of last year's white stockings have yellowed, tint them with a beige dye and wear them with patent leather shoes.

LAUNDRY HINTS.

Many a woman becomes her own laundress when she goes away on her summer vacation, and often she plans her wardrobe with a special eye to having most of her frocks, blouses and underthings such that they may be ironed with the electric iron she has taken into her trunk. Then skirts of pongee, canton crepe and wash satin are to be preferred to those of cotton and linen needing elaborate ironing.

There are things to remember. Silk burns more easily than cotton, hence you should take precaution that your iron is not very hot.

The best way to iron pongee is to let it become perfectly dry and then to iron it on the wrong side. If it is wet in any place this will look like a spot when it is ironed.

Unless you want silk to be very stiff never iron it wet. All silk is softer when ironed perfectly dry. If you wish you may press it with a damp cloth laid over the right side. This is a good plan when silk is badly wrinkled.

TO REMOVE STAINS.

Fresh fruit and berry stains can be removed from white or fast-colored wash fabrics if boiling water is used immediately, the bureau of home economics points out. The water should be poured from a teakettle held at a height of three or four feet from the garment, which should be stretched over the bowl or pan and held fast by a string or elastic so that the water will strike the stain with some force. Soap should be avoided. A little rubbing alternated with applications of boiling water is helpful, and sunshine will often complete the removal of the stain. Lemon juice and sunlight may be tried if the first method fails. Prompt treatment is important.

FALL BROWNS APPEAR.

The rusty reddish browns of autumn have already made their appearance. Smart crepe dresses are shown in acorn brown; a novel flounce and shirring at the inside of the sleeve, known as the calla-lily sleeve, are new notes. Both afternoon and evening frocks are seen in this color of brown.

WATERY CUSTARD.

Watery custard comes from too hot an oven. Bake custard with dishes set in hot water and be sure your oven is a slow one.

CLOTHES HANGERS.

Wind elastic bands around the ends of your clothes hangers and you will not be annoyed further with dresses slipping from them.

TO SOFTEN PAINT.

Should the paint become hardened and apparently useless, pour an inch of turpentine on top of it and let remain for a few days. Their stir with a stick and continue until soft and ready for use.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

Miss Beatrice Walton is a member of the state parole board in Oregon.

More than 60 percent of the workers in candy factories in New York are women.

Between 20 and 30 breweries in England have women as members of their board of directors.

Frau Welking, head of the women police in Berlin, has just completed her first year in that capacity.

The provisional code of the Chinese republic provides that the wife enjoys the same rights as the husband.

THE ELECTRICAL IRON.

Turn off the electric iron as soon as soon as you hear a bell to be answered.

POISONOUS MEDICINES.

Keep poisonous medicines labeled and well out of the reach of children.

RECIPES.

Potato Pancakes: Pare and grate four raw potatoes. Drain and add two tablespoons of cream, then two tablespoons of flour, one-eighth teaspoon of baking powder and three-fourths teaspoon of salt. Lastly add two eggs beaten well but not separated. Have a frying pan with plenty of hot fat. Drop a spoonful of the potato mixture into the pan and cook until brown on one side, then turn and cook th other side.

Caramel Pudding: Put one-fourth cup of granulated sugar into a pan to melt and turn brown, stirring constantly. Bring one pint of milk to the boiling point and pour it over the brown sugar. Wet with milk one tablespoon of cornstarch and stir it into the mixture. When it boils, add one-fourth cup of choped nuts, if preferred, raisins may be used instead. As soon as the pudding is taken from the stove, add a little vanilla flavoring.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Get Busy and Do Something

Mr. Editor: We take great pleasure in reading C. H. Shaw's letters. They are fine. And he has simply expressed the feeling that many people have on seeing the exterior condition of Buckingham Memorial. What many have thought, he has dared to pry, and he should be praised for doing so. We know the date of erection. We have stood in the room where Governor Buckingham passed away. And in honor of his memory there should be every possible means used to restore this beautiful home to its former grandeur.

Will it take money? Of course it will! and if an estimate were made, it would cost surely half again that amount to complete the job. I know. Now, why not get busy and do something!

We have drives for every possible thing, and I do not believe one person in Norwich would refuse to give readily to this cause. Don't knock! Get busy and don't drop this affair until we study what can be done. Work together, and on next Memorial day we will have a mighty fine sight to greet the New England 'bus.

A. G. A. R. ADMIRER.
Central Village, August 3, 1928.

Suggests Popular Subscription

Mr. Editor: Noting the flareback over the signature W. R. C., in your very esteemed paper of Aug. 2 in which exception is taken to my letter of recent date relative to the "Sad Condition" of the Buckingham Memorial I wish to say in extenuation of my statement that I am the son of a veteran of the Civil war, and although I have been away from the "Rose of New England" for a great many years I may say there is no place on God's green earth that holds my affection as does this old town of Norwich. In making the comment regarding the "Sad Condition" and if I in my comment have in any way hurt their feelings, I extend to them my most sincere apology.

So far as I am concerned in donating a few hundred I will say the spirit is willing, but if a nobular subscription could be started, I can be weighed in the balance and not found wanting. One other explanation I think W. R. C. is entitled to and it is this: I have been in the building many times and perhaps my first time was when I was just a boy and had a letter to deliver from Mr. Coit who was the postmaster in the Greeneville section at the time. And as I went up to the door of the governor's house and knocked the door was opened by none other than the governor himself. He asked me in and I waited for an answer which you will realize was written in long hand, for there were no typewriters in those days. Of course it was not necessary to mention this fact, but I just had to do it.

By the way it may interest W. R. C. to know that one of my ancestors was a close bosom friend of the Last of the Mohicans—Uncas—and was one of the founders of the town of Norwich, also that my honored father was during life a member of Sedgwick post. He was one of the boys in Blue who answered their country's call and was mustered out of the service in 1865, at Harpers Ferry. He was a member of Co. A, 18th Regiment, C. V. and was one of the first to sign on the dotted line to protect the good old Stars and Stripes, and make this a country which stands alone today and is second to none—the glorious old U. S. A., and may I here say: Oh Wad Some Power the Giftie Gie us, To see Ourselves as Others See Us.

I do not wish to enter into any controversy for life is too short, and the weather is too warm, and trust the explanation here given will suffice.

With every good wish that conditions may be bettered let us take down the book that is the guide for us all and turn to Proverbs—chapter XXV, verse 11.

And in conclusion I want to just say this to the few remaining Boys in Blue:

In life, you have been long together
Through pleasant and through cloudy weather,
'Tis hard to part from friends so dear,
Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, perhaps a tear.
Then steal away, give little warning,
Choose thine own time—say not good night—but in some brighter clime—
Bid them good morning.

YOUR HEALTH

Golf Versus Senility

By John William Shuman, M. D.
Los Angeles

The prescription "Golf" is good as a treatment of senility. The adjective senile, in its strict sense means "old man;" whilst senility, the noun, means "affective with the infirmities of old age." Golf will not only help avoid them, but will also help the individual to bear them more manfully.

Ponce de Leon is not the only man who has tried to find the eternal fountain of youth. Nor are Lydstron and Voronoff the only doctors of medicine who have tried to rejuvenate old men. The credulous aged infirm are all too easy prey for the charlatans who promise a second youth by a hocus-pocus easy method route.

Most of us are interested in how well we can live rather than in how long we linger and live. Golf can play an important role in the first case if taken in regular doses before it is too late; that is if senility has not advanced into the "sans every thing" state. But if taken then it might be a genteel suicide. Without being too technical, let us consider golf as a preventive medicine. This is the age of preventive medication.

Golf as played by most individuals is a hobby. Everyone knows that a decent hobby is a God-sent to a man if it is not ridden to death. The man without a hobby grows old before his time and is a nuisance to all concerned. Golf as a hobby can be taken the open air and sunshine. It will not only reduce a mid-girth but will keep it down. Sunshine will make the hair grow. The jolly foursome or even mob-some will dispel wrinkles and scowls for a fellow just has to laugh every ounce in a while during golf at the other fellow's antics.

Fresh air and sunshine, along with not too vigorous exercise, are a tonic which produces an appetite for healthy food. Healthy food demands good teeth for proper mastication, thereby avoiding indigestion and dyspepsia and constipation, the bugaboos of sedentary senile life.

A HANDFUL OF DIAMONDS

Couldn't Be Better, Says Mrs. Davis

To McCoy's Laboratories:

I have been taking your Tablets and I wish to tell you they are helping me more than any medicine I've ever taken. No doctor ever did me as much good.

I weighed 115 pounds when I started to take them and was not at all well. After taking two boxes I had gained 13 pounds, and was feeling like a new person. I am now half way through my third box and am sure on my way to perfect health. To me, your medicine is as fine as a handful of diamonds. I tell all my friends about them.

McCoy takes all the risk. Read this ironclad guarantee. If, after taking four 60-cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or two one dollar boxes, any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least five pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health, the purchase price will be refunded.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets. Lee & Osgood Co. or any drug store in America.

Stories That Recall Others

Stems from the Fourth

Having used all of the fireworks on the Fourth, Catherine, a quiet little girl of four years, was hunting around the yard for firecrackers that might not have been used. After much hunting and searching, holding a small firecracker in her hand, she said to her mother who was sitting on the porch: "Mother, here is a firecracker with a stem in it. Now when daddy comes home he can shoot it off."

Ability

A farmer called on the notary in the village and had a deed made authentic. The charges for this service which only took a very few minutes seemed exhorbitant and the farmer expressed himself.

"Well, it's like this," said the notary. "We professional men have to charge for our ability."

The average man would rather lose $5 on a horse race than 5 cents through a hole in his pocket.

EYES THAT NEVER SLEEP
HANDS THAT NEVER REST

THE word "Service" can mean a great many different things to different people. To a nurse sitting up all night with a patient, such faithfulness is not service, but a duty. But if a kind neighbor should come in to care for the patient—that would be service.

Many companies talk about their service when they are only fulfilling their duty. It is hard to define exactly the line between duty and service. It has been said that service is a state of mind. Doctors, lawyers, all professional men must have it to succeed.

When we receive your coal order we are immediately obligated to perform certain duties. Prompt deliveries, clean coal, low prices—these are duties.

If we are to render a service then we must go further.

Tirelessly, for years, the energies of this organization have gone into a study of how better to serve you. We have studied coal until we know it and how to buy it. We have put money into our yards and equipment until we have the most efficient and economical in the state. We know Norwich and what its people want. Our business has been geared to serve it as it wants to be served.

It is our business to perform the duties of selling coal. It is our heritage from Edward Chappell that impells us to serve where we can. It is our privilege to live with "eyes that never sleep—hands that never rest" to serve our neighbors of Norwich.

OBITUARY

William B. Young

William B. Young, 81, president of the Lee & Osgood Co., wholesale and retail druggists, with which concern he had been connected for over 66 years, and a well known and highly respected citizen of Norwich for the same length of time, died at 7.45 o'clock Sunday morning at his residence, No. 10 Huntington place. His death was attributed to infirmities of advanced age induced by hardening of the arteries. He had been in failing health for the past two years.

Mr. Young was born in Coventry, Tolland county, Nov. 21, 1846, the son of Edward Bowen and Lucretia M. Frink Young. He was but an infant when his parents removed to Windham, where he was educated in the public schools, later becoming a student at Windham academy. After completing his education he came in 1862 to this city and at the age of 15 he entered the drug store of Lee & Osgood, where he learned every part of the business, in which he afterwards achieved marked success.

He traveled through the New England states for the company for more than 30 years. Among other things that the firm sold at that time was kerosene oil. He was responsible for the distribution of thousands of barrels of oil in this section, traveling over the roads, when traveling meant anything but comfort. He held the record for being longer in business than any other New England merchant, on Satufday, Aug. 15, of this year, he would have celebrated the 66th anniversary of his entering the employment of the present Lee & Osgood Co. It was the only position he had ever held. Upon the death of H. H. Osgood he became president and general manager and served as president of the New England Wholesale Drug association from 1901 to 1903, a position he has since held in a manner that resounds to his very great credit.

In 1875 in Salem, Mass., Mr. Young was united in marriage with Mary Whitaker Bowdoin, who was born in Salem, a daughter of Dr. W. L. Bowdoin, a descendant of one of the old French families of Massachusetts. Surviving him are his widow, a daughter, Miss Edith E. Young of this city; two sons, William B. Young, Jr., of New London and E. Lewis Young of Norwich and three grand children of the late George W. Rathbone, whose death occurred in this city in 1910.

Politically Mr. Young was a staunch republican. Fraternally he was a Mason, belonging to Somerset lodge, No. 34, A. F. and A. M., and to Franklin chapter. He attended the United Congregational church. Besides his business connection with the Lee & Osgood company he was vice president of the Thames National bank, president of the Crescent Hosiery Co., vice president of the Dime Savings bank, trustee of the Young Men's Christian association, president of the Bulletin association and a past president of the Arcanum club.

Mr. Young possessed a genial disposition and a ready wit that made him an entertaining companion. As a man of business he was most methodical and he was possessed of excellent executive ability and commercial acumen. His dealings had always been characterized by the strictest integrity and his reputation for veracity had never been called into question. A large circle of friends and acquaintances were deeply grieved on learning of his death and many of them extended their heart-felt sympathy to the family in their time of bereavement.

Miss May A. Ryan

Miss May A. Ryan of 703 Main street, Hartford, passed away Friday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. James E. Hart, formerly of Norwich, and Mrs. Anna Bagley, a niece, Marion Bagley and a nephew, Master Henry Bagley.

Miss Ryan had been ill about eleven months.

Besides his wife he leaves a daughter, Mrs Austin, at present in Cleveland, a brother, Harry F. Merrick and two sisters, Mrs. E. C. Avery of Detroit and Mrs. Fred Sontius. FRANKLIN BOY, 12, WAS DROWNED IN ROCKWOOD POND SATURDAY

John Borscuk, the 12-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Borscuk of the Cooley hill section of Franklin, was drowned late Saturday afternoon in Rockwood pond some distance from his home. The body was recovered Sunday morning after attempts to locate it had been continued up to a late hour Saturday night.

The boy left his home about 7 o'clock Saturday night to go to the pond where there is a pier built out into the water. When he had not come home by 9 o'clock his father went looking for him and found his clothing on the pier, but could see nothing of the boy. With the help of neighbors, Mr. Borscuk dragged the pond until about one o'clock Sunday morning when he came to Norwich police headquarters and reported what had happened.

The state police barracks at Groton were notified and early Sunday morning State Policeman Bernard Kenerson went to the pond where he and Deputy Sheriff George Hoxie worked with grappling irons to try to find the body. It was finally located directly off the end of the pier at 9.45, standard time, by Clarence Fancher, of 40 Rector street, New York city, and after it had been brought ashore Dr. G. H. Glidersleeve, acting medical examiner, was summoned. He gave permission for a Willimantic undertaker to take charge of the body afer concluding his investigation.

The boy was unable to swim, but had gone to the pond for a cool dip at the end of the hot day. He had stripped off his clothes and gotten into water beyond his depth off the end of the pier.

MAN THREW AUTO ROBE OVER GIRL'S HEAD

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, Aug. 5—The police are conducting an investigation to an alleged attack at 10 o'clock Saturday night near the corner of Pleasant and West Park streets by an unknown man on Blanche Arton, 18, of 116 Crescent street. The girl complained that a mysterious man came out from the shadows and threw a heavy automobile robe over her head. She began to scream and managed to free herself from the man's clutches but suffered several scratches on the face. Almost overcome with fright the girl ran into the nearby home of Armand LaCouture of 10 Pleasant street. Mr. LaCouture notified the police and an immediate search was made for the man who was described as being about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds, wearing a blue shirt and soft hat. When the attack was frustrated by the girl's screams the man ran towards West Park street and disappeared, leaving behind the automobile robe, which is now in the possession of the police. The girl claimed that she was alone at the time of the attack.

PUTNAM CHILD HAS ARM AND COLLARBONE FRACTURED

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, Aug. 5.—Victoria Zahkhirziaz, 5-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zahkhirziaz, is a patient at the Day Kimball hospital, suffering from a fracture of the collarbone and of the arm in addition to internal injuries as the result of being struck by a Buick sedan, driven by Edwin Bennett of Holland, Mass., on Saturday evening. According to a statement from Bennett the child dashed in front of his machine as he was coming down Main street near the Providence street intersection, where his view was obstructed by a parked car on the highway. The accident was investigated by Officer Joseph Page of the Putnam police. At the Day Kimball hospital here this evening the child remains on the danger list with chances of recovery doubtful.

NEW AUTOMOBILE FOR DEPUTY FIRE CHIEF

A new automobile which will be for the use of Deputy Chief Henry R. Taft has just been delivered to the fire department by the Jordan Auto company. It is a Dodge Victory Six roadster model, fully equipped, carrying two extra wheels and a trunk attachment on the rear for carrying the tools used by the deputy.

There was no specific appropriation made in the annual city meeting for the purchase of any new apparatus for the fire department, but the commissioners have secured the new machine through arranging a trade for the old car that the deputy chief used.

PETITION TO HAVE CHURCH ST. TRAFFIC CHANGE

For some time past Church street has been a one-way street for automobile traffic, but a petition to make it a two-way street, with parking only on one side, is to be presented to the common council meeting this (Monday) evening. The petition has been signed by Joseph J. Fields and 30 others, mostly residents of Church street. Those signing the petition believe that the one-way traffic plan has not solved the situation in this street, which can just as well be a two-way street, if parking is allowed only on one side.

LIGHTNING RIPPED BARK FROM BROADWAY TREE

A large elm tree in the yard of William H. Murphy at No. 206 Broadway was struck by a bolt of lightning about 6 o'clock Sunday evening during the electrical storm. The bolt hit the top of the tree and tore off a strip of bark of about three inches wide on the trunk for about 30 feet. The tree is about 60 feet in height.

WEDDING

Lambert-Merwin

Sunday at high noon a wedding party assembled at the parsonage of the First Congregational church in Norwich Town where the pastor, Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey united in marriage Miss Pauline Spencer Merwin, of Westbrook and Albert E. Lambert of Windsor Locks. The bride's attendant was Mrs. Estelle Post Ingersoll of Westbrook and the groom was attended by Alfred A. Wassal of Hartford. Mrs. Wassal played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. The bride was gowned in pearl grey crepe and carried a bouquet of roses and ferns. The matron of honor wore peach satin and her flowers were asters. In addition to those mentioned the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Merwin, Judge Herbert M. Baldwin and Mrs. Elvira Spencer of Westbrook were in the party.

The Merwin family are prominent members and loyal workers in the Congregational church of Westbrook of which Mr. Bailey was pastor in the early 1900's.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Wauregan hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert are on an automobile trip in New York state and New Jersey. They will reside in Windsor Locks where Mr. Lambert has a position as assistant superintendent of the Medlicott Mills.

TORNADO OF WIND AND RAIN SWEEPS OCCUM

Occum was swept by a wind and rain storm of tornado force about 4:30 Sunday afternoon which exceeded anything of the kind the village has experienced for 20 years.

About 20 shade trees were blown over, poles went down under the force of the wind and garden crops were flattened out and destroyed. The bungalow of Gustave Czkowsky suffered the worst for one of the trees which the storm blew over landed on top of the bungalow, crushing in the roof.

YANTIC GIRL SUSTAINS BROKEN ARM IN ACCIDENT

Miss Madeline Plasket of 72 Sunnyside avenue, Yantic, is a patient at the Backus hospital with a broken left arm but her father, Frederick Plasket, was discharged from the hospital late Sunday afternoon after he had been treated for contusions and abrasions. Both were hurt in an automobile accident, the particulars of which were not learned.

Queer Lightning Pranks

Lightning plays its pranks. In the electrical storm Friday evening the transformer on the pole near the manual training building at the Norwich Free Academy was blown out. Two unique occurrences resulted therefrom. The lights in the Academy buildings were switched on and remained lighted until a fuse was taken out. At the home of Weston C. Pullen on Joseph Perkins road the lighting system became heebe geebe. When the switch for the hall light was turned on it lighted the lamp in the dining room. What caused these queer tricks to occur has not been determined.

LAST FIFTY YARDS TO DRESSING ROOM WERE HARDEST

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Amsterdam, Aug. 5—(AP)—El Ouafi, little, brown narrow chester, spindle-legged Arab from Algeria and Morocco who came to the rescue of his mother country and captured the marathon blue ribbon of the 1928 Olympic for France after all her other sons had failed, sauntered into the dressing room after his victory breathing normally and with no so much as a single bead of sweat showing on his face.

"The last fifty yards from the finish line to the dressing room were the hardest," he said in his broken French to officials who crowded around him, hugging him enthusiastically. A fatalistic Arab, El Ouafi never even smiled.

"I've seen worse weather in the Moroccan desert—it was rather cold today," said the Olympic winner accustomed to temperatures around 100 in the shade when carrying despatches for the French army in the war against Abd el Krim in 1926. Distances were not restricted to 26 miles 385 yards then.

Then they gave him his first drink since he started the grind that brought him victory—a little milk cut with one-third water. It is the strange irony of destiny that the only athlete who won for France shuns her wines, drinks nothing but milk and water and is a vegetarian.

"I had been told to watch the Finns, so I kept my eye on Maitelinen," the Arab observed. "I though the Japanese were going too fast and would drop back. I saw Maitelinen running slower I just kept on a little faster."

El Ouafi found the task of receiving congratulations from officials and brother athletes more strenuous than the marathon. Beads of perspiration began breaking under his eyes until he finally realized that he hadn't had a chance yet to sit down. So he stretched out for a rub down and asked for a cigarette.

"He deserves it," shouted Frantz Reichel, general secretary of the French Olympic committee, "Give him one."

El Ouafi was born at Ouled El-Cadan, near Biskra, Algeria. He spent his early years at Sidi del Abbes, home of the French foreign legion, where he ran errands for the soldiers. Later he moved to Oudja, Morocco, where the peace conference of Spain and France with Abd El Krim's Riffians was held in 1926. When war was decided upon he joined the motorcycle corps but after the campaign had reached the mountains of the Riff range, motor cycles were discarded. Most of the despatches then were carried from Division General Marty—to whose command El Ouafi belonged—to headquarters at Paza on foot.

El Ouafi now works in a large automobile factory in Paris. He is 29 years old and has been running in competition in Paris, Algeria and Morocco since the armistice. He never before won a big race and his victory today was as big a surprise to the French as to any other country entered in the marathon.

Other marathoners were coming into the dressing rooms, most of them staggering, some of them looking more dead than alive and collapsing upon their entrance. All of them were gasping for breath but nonetheless curious about their individual times.

El Ouafi, however did not appear to be interested in the slightest in his own time, not even when he was told he had run the second fastest marathon in history.

AMERICAN TRACK AND FIELD STARS WIN OLYMPIAD

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Amsterdam, Aug 5—(AP)—Despite the worst series of setbacks they have suffered on any Olympic track, United States athletes captured track and field team honors in the ninth Olympiad for the ninth successive time.

Americans, chiefly because of their tremendous strength in the field, totaled 178 points for 22 events, while Finland in second place amassed 102, these two outdistancing the rest of the field.

The first Olympic women's track and field championship goes to Candax whose girls captured the last two of five events in record-breaking fashion to beat out the United States. Their respective totals were 34 and 28 points, while Germany had 23.

In the men's events, America won the team crown any way it is figured. They collected eight first places—fewer than they won at any previous Olympiad—while Finland had five victories; Canada and Great Britain two each! Japan, South Africa, France, Ireland and Sweden one each. This represented the widest distribution of honors on record.

The final point reckoning follows:

United States 178, Finland 102, Great Britain 46, Sweden 44, Germany 44, Canada 28, France 27, Japan 19, South Africa 14, Ireland 10, Norway 7, Hungary, Haiti and Chile five each, Italy 4, Philippines and Switzerland 3 each, and Holland one.

The scoring in the women's events was as follows:

Canada 34, United States 28, Germany 23, Poland 10, Sweden 8, Holland 7, Japan 5, France 3, South Africa 2, Austria and Italy one each.

AMERICAN SWIMMERS DO WELL IN SEMI-FINALS

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The American swimming teams, both the men's and the women's fulfilled the optimistic expectations of their coaches in the semi-finals of the first two events today. Out of five places in each of the finals, two will be occupied by Americans.

In the women's 400 meter race Martha Norelius of the Women's Swimming association of New York, the winner in the 1924 Olympics and youthful Josephine McKim of Homestead, Pa., survived the semi-finals. The only disappointment of the day was the failure of the third American finalist, Ethel McGary, of New York, to come through. Miss McGary finished fourth in her heat and was eliminated.

In the men's 1500 meter semi-finals Clarence Crabbe of Honolulu repeated his battle of the first heat yesterday with Andrew Charlton of Australia, winning by a few inches to qualify for the final tomorrow. Ray Ruddy of New York, finishing third in the same heat also qualifies for the final. Austin Clapp of Hollywood, Ca., the third American who reached the semi-finals in the 1500 meter was scratched today because of bad physical condition.

Arne Borg, Swedish world's record holder, had little trouble in taking the first of the semi-finals in the 1500 meter event for men in the time of 20 minutes, 42 2-5 seconds. Albert Zorilla of Argentina and Garnet Ault of Canada took second and third places, all three qualified for the final.

The second heat brought forth another battle between the American star, Crabbe and Australia's "boy" Charlton, with the results of yesterday's meeting reversed. Fighting it out for first place in the heat instead of second behind Borg Crabbe got his finger tips to the end of the pool ahead of the powerful Australian after a sprint that lasted the entire five laps.

Neither the Americans nor the Australian are conceded much chance of defeating Borg who seems to be in the best form of his whole career.

Clapp who was forced to drop out today has not been in the best physical condition for some time.

Pekin's Monastery Taverns

"Favorite excursion resorts of foreign residents of China's capital are Buddhist temples scattered through the western hills outside Peking," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society. "Some are so small and deserted," continues the bulletin, "that they are rented out entirely as summer cottages to perspiring city dwellers who do not mind vacationing in a temple atmosphere. Others are large monasteries crowning mighty hilltops and furnishing shelter for innumerable monks. These dirty and apathetic inmates seem oddly out of tune with the decaying beauty of sacred wall and courtyards.

MILLER BREAKS COURSE RECORD IN PRO MATCH AT NEW LONDON

Youth turned back age and experience yesterday afternoon at the New London Country club course and in doing it Massie B. Miller, the diminutive but mighty pro at the Norwich golf club, hung up a new course record of 68 when he and Tommy Donahue, pro at Stonington Manor beat Dave Burt, pro at Shenecossett and Charlie Brooks, the New London

MASSIE B. MILLER

Country club pro, 2 and 1. Miller, playing the New London course for the first time, went out and took the record from Brooks on his own course. Brook's record was a 69, one under par. The youngster from the Norwich links shot a game that kept the gallery of close to 100 in breathless admiration. It was better than perfect golf but even at that Massie missed fairly easy putts that should have sent his score down to a 66.

Played in a torrid atmosphere that only became bearable toward the latter part of the match with the approach of an electrical storm Miller played the most consistent golf of the present season, only once did his card show that he was over par. This was the fourteenth hole when he took a five on a par four hole, he having only two holes above a four during the match. Three birdies came to him, one in the first, one on the sixth and the last on the eleventh, but he was putting several times for birdies but the ball either hung on the lip of the cup or was slightly off direction. His tee shots were straight down the fairways averaging 200 to 275 yards and his second shot were dead on the pin. Not once did his ball find the rough and only twice was he in the sand traps that guard most of the greens. On both these occasions he made fine recoveries laying his explosion shots close to the hole.

At the turn he had taken 33 strokes, two under par, and the gallery was marveling at his brilliant execution. This equalled the course record and the gallery began to realize that the course record was in danger. The second nine holes found Miller playing one under par for the first four holes and then taking a five to make it even par which he continued until the finish getting a 35 to break the record.

His nearest rival was Charlie Brooks, old enough to be Massie's father, but playing golf that would make many a youngster press to equal. Experience stood out all over Brooks and he was always dangerous but a tendency to hook in the first nine gave him plenty of trouble. Brooks took a 38 on the first nine to which he added a 36 coming in for a 74.

Dave Burt, the Shenecossett pro, was far from his usual form and he encountered much trouble on his tee shots which he was unable to keep out of the rough. His recoveries were good and on the second nine he played some brilliant golf, giving him a 39 which with a 41 on the first gave him a gross of 80.

Donahue, Miller's partner gave a most brilliant exhibition of recovery from the rough during the afternoon. His tee shots on many holes went astray and his ball found the rough and traps almost continually but he gave a brilliant exhibition of recovery. It was one of the high spots of the afternoon to see the remarkable shots of his from traps and rough. He turned in a card that showed a 40 for the first nine and a 40 for the second.

Miller and Donahue had the honor on the first hole and did not relinquish during the first nine holes, the youthful pair taking the first, second, fifth and seven holes, the others being halved, to give them four up at the turn. The first three holes of the second nine were halved and then Brooks with a birdie three on the thirteenth took the honor for the first time. The next was halved but Burt with a 20-foot putt on the fifteenth won the hole with a birdie three. The short sixteenth was halved in par threes and on the seventeenth Miller with par golf halved the hole giving he and his spartner the match 2 and 1. The eighteenth was played out for medal score. Miller needing a par four for the course record drove a long ball down the middle of the fairway but his second shot was twenty feet short of the green. His next he laid within three feet of the cup and was down in a par four.

The match was one of the best seen in eastern Connecticut the present season and although youth won it it was not without keen competition of age and experience. The cards:

Miller:
Out—3 5 3 4 4 3 3 4 4—33.
In—4 4 3 4 5 4 3 4 4—35—68.

Miller to Play at Worcester

Massie B. Miller today will play a 36-hole qualifying round for the National Professional Golfers association at the Worcester club today. The qualifiers will play in the National P. G. A. tournament at Baltimore later in the month. If Miller continues to play the same consistent golf that he played on Sunday there is little doubt that he will be right up among the leaders.

CARDS TAKE GIANTS IN 15-INNING BATTLE

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—(AP)—Fighting hand-to-hand with the leaders, the Giants received a set-back in their pennant quest here today when the Cardinals battled into the shadows of early evening to defeat the clan McGraw by 6 to 4 in fifteen innings. The victory sent the Cardinals into a lead of six and one-half games over the second-place Giants.

Clarence Mitchell's pitching was too much for the Giants over most of the route, although Bill McKechnie removed the ancient New York Nemesis just for safety's sake when he showed signs of weakening in the final round after the Cardinals had battered their way to a two run lead. Haid finished for the visitors, but credit for the victory remained with Mitchell.

Young Carl Hubbell relieved Jim Faulkner when the Cards went on a spree in the third and pitched fine ball until his game was taken from him in the fifteenth on singles by Bottomley and Blades mixed in with doubles by Holm and Hafey. Infield errors prevented the Cards from winning in nine innings.

Hafey hit his eighteenth homer in the first with two on base, and Jackson retaliated with his eighth with one on in the fourth.

RUFFING PITCHES BRILLIANT GAME FOR RED SOX

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Only two of the St. Louis Browns could successfully solve the offerings of Ruffing, the Boston Red Sox hurler, and as a result the Browns lost the second game of the series here today, 3 to 1.

Manush and Schulte each collected a pair of hits from Ruffing, while the Red Sox made half a dozen sacrifices to stretch eight hits off Blaeholder into a two run margin. The score:

Baltic Blanks Fitchville

Sunday at Sayles Field, Baltic, the Fitchville club met defeat at the hands of the Baltic Social and Athletic club, 5 to 0. Detremb pitched a great game for Baltic when he held the hard hitting Fitchville to 2 hits. Sullivan for the losers was hit hard at the start and with errors by his teammates the home team scored 3 runs in the first and 2 in the second. The heat was so bad that the visitors wilted but the home players seemed to like it as they sailed into the pitcher with a vengeance in the first part of the game.

NORWICH GOLF TEAM WINS AT PUTNAM

By the narrow margin of one point the golf team of the Norwich Golf club were returned victors over the Putnam Country club team Saturday afternoon at the Putnam course. The score was 23 1-2 to 22 1-2. Played under the most trying conditions, that of sweltering, vitality killing heat, the match was closely contested with Dave Morton and Eddie McKay leading the Norwich contingent with gross scores of 79. The remainder of the field was strung out with some scores reaching into three figures, but as it was match play the medal score was of little consequence.

The feature foursome of the afternoon's play was the match in which Morton was paired with Massie Miller against Ray Greene and Ty Andrews, pro of the Putnam club. Morton with his 79 won three points from Greene while Miller won the first nine from Andrews and the match for two points, Andrews beating Miller on the second nine for one point. All four were shooting close to par golf over the par 34 course.

Following the team match the Norwich boys were entertained at dinner by the Putnam team and as hosts the Putnam club prove to be all that could be desired in the way of entertainers. Despite the terrific heat that prevailed during the entire match it was one of the most enjoyable occasions in which the Norwich team has participated. The Norwich team will return the compliment on September 7th when the Putnam club will be entertained here. The scores follow:

A. L. JUNIORS TO MEET Y. M. C. A. THIS EVENING

The league leading Lexionnaires from Taftville, who have yet to suffer defeat in the Junior Twilight league, will meet the Y. M. C. A. nine at the Duwell field tonight. Although Taftville went through the first half of the league schedule without a defeat, the Yers are confident that they will deal out disaster to the villagers in the opening clash of the second half. Since chasing the jinx that camped on its trail for the first two weeks of the league season the "Y" has been having great ball and is liable to make good against the "rospective champs. It was the "Y" that gave the Elks their first set back two weeks ago and then a few days later turned around and swamped the Duwells. The batteries for tonight game will be as follows: Taftville, Raymond and Fontaine. Y. M. C. A., Greene and Crowell.

The schedule for the remainder of the week is as follows: Tuesday, Elks vs. Rotary. Wednesday, Y. M. C. A. vs. Jewett City. Thursday, Duwells vs. Elks.

For the purpose of stimulating interest among the organizations sponsoring teams in the loop the Lee and Osgood company announced during the latter part of the past week that it would donate a silver loving cup to be awarded each year to the organization whose team won the championship of the league. The organization winning the cup three times will gain permanent possession.

The trophy will be on display at the Lee and Osgood store this week.

RIVERVIEW RALLIES TO BEAT HARTFORD IN NINTH

Scoring two runs in the ninth with one out Riverview edged out the Hartford Red Sox Saturday afternoon at the state hospital diamond, 7 to 6 in one of the best played games of the year.

The going was nip and tuck throughout. Both scored twice in the first and Riverview added two more in the second while the Insurance City outfit knotted the count in the third and then went one ahead in the fifth before the locals evened matters in the seventh. Hartford scored once in the eighth and this looked like the deciding tally until the hospital lads put on their deciding rally in the final stanza.

Dinty Moore and Mondi Normandin led the hitting for Riverview, Moore with a triple, double and a single, while Normandin had three singles. Newberry of the visitors with a double and three singles led the stickers for the day. Score:

JARVIS BLANKS WINDSOR LOCKS WITH ONE HIT, TAFTVILLE BEATS BRISTOL

Taftville took both its state semi-pro league games over the week end blanking the Windsor Locks team, the latest addition to the league, 8 to 0, on Saturday and beating Bristol Endees, 9 to 7, in an eighth inning rally on Sunday at Bristol. Both games had their features, Lloyd Jarvis with his masterful pitching was the outstanding star of Saturday's encounter while Mondi Normandin with his home run and sparkling fielding was Sunday's shining light.

Jarvis pitched a brilliant game against the Windsor club, which came here with an apparently overrated reputation, and let them down with but a single hit. Not only did he hold them safe but he struck out 15 men and did not issue a pass, only one man, Fitzpatrick, the Windsor catcher, reaching second. Taftville played nice ball in back of Jarvis with Lefty Dugas with his three hits taking the hitting honors.

Taftville took kindly to Snow's pitching in the first three innings and scored their six runs in these innings. Snow at the beginning of the fourth inning retired in favor of Rabbitt who held the Taftville team to two hits and no runs for the remainder of the game.

At Bristol on Sunday Taftville fought an uphill fight for six innings to come through with a seven-run rally in the eighth inning that sent them home with a 9 to 7 victory and top position in the league. After scoring two runs in the first, Taftville was held scipless until the seventh while the Endees collected six runs. Christy opened the seventh by flying out to center. Jarvis was hit by a pitched ball and Dugas started the fireworks with a single. Eccleston was given a pass that filled the bases. Mills caught one on the nose and three runs pattered across the plate, the hit going for a double. Moore followed with a single and Mills was held at third. Moore stole second and both he and Moore counted when Lamorey doubled. Dobrowski grounded out but Mondi Normandin scored what proved to be the winning runs when he crashed out a home run, scoring Lamory ahead of him. Christy made the final out. Bristol threatened to tie the count but only one run could be chalked up. The scores:

YOUNG WALSH TURNS IN NEAT GAME AGAINST YANKS

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Young Ed Walsh gave 35,000 White Sox fans a thrill today, reminding them of his famous pitching father, when he fanned nine Yankees, the Sox winning 5 to 4. He also added a double to his part of the victory. Young Henry Johnson was touched for seven hits before he was relieved in the early part of the eighth inning. Johnson fanned two and gave five passes. Each of the young hurlers was charged with one or more wild pitches.

The defeat cut New York's lead in the American league to three and one-half games as the on-rushing Athletics were again victorious.

Young Walsh held the Yankees safe at all stages except in the ninth inning, when a single by Robertson and doubles by Ruth and Gehrig threatened. Koenig, however, pooped out.

Walsh not only chalked up one strikeout against Ruth, Gehrig and Meusel, but struck out Johnson, his mound opponent, three times. Metzler got the longest clout of the day, a three-bagger. Score:

VANCE TURNS BACK CUBS IN FINAL GAME

BROOKLYN, Aug. 5—(AP)—Dazzy Vance turned back the Chicago Cubs in the fourth and last game of a series here today and Brooklyn won its only victory by a score of 5 to 2. The Robins knocked Percy Jones out of the box in the first inning.

Vance fanned seven and allowed eight hits in pitching his 14th victory of the season. He had only one bad inning—the sixth in which three successive hits filled the bases and Hack Wilson drove home Ch'cago's only runs with a single.

Babe Herman led the Brooklyn attack with a single, a double and a triple. The score:

SOCONY BEATS VELVETMEN IN ABBREVIATED GAME

Socony of New London nosed out J. B. Martin in five innings, Sunday afternoon, at J. B. Martin park, 4 to 3. The game was called at the end of the first half of the sixth inning by Umpire Morin because of darkness occasioned by the approaching storm.

Socony took a 4 run lead before the locals started to find Chappell, Socony veteran and at the time of termination they were nicking him freely. On the other hand, Fisher settled down after his rough start and was well nigh invincible in the latter stages of the abbreviated struggle.

Socony scored in the first when Couillard beat out a bunt as a starter, stole second, after Foote rolled out. Barry singled to left scoring Couillard and went to second on the throw-in. Jim Murphy filed out but Burns scored Barry with a single to center. In the Socony second, Harron led off with a single, was sacrificed to second and scored when Hewitt put the ball over the canvas in left for two bases. Socony made its last run in the fourth when Couillard walked and scored on Barry's tremendous drive to left center for three bases.

Taftville started in their half of the third Belair, Murphy and Krauss singled, Liberty forced Krauss at second and Belair scored on the out.

In the fourth Noonan and Joubert singled and scored on Fisher's triple which also went to left center Fisher was caught on an attempted squeeze and the rally ceased.

Harron led the hitters with three singles in as many trips to the plate, while Barry with a triple and double also did some heavy sticking.

A fairly large crowd saw the game. Score:

NEW ENGLAND A. A. U. TO HELP DUWELL SHOW

Although it was originally intended to make the first Duwell amateur outdoor boxing show scheduled for the Duwell field Friday night, an All-Eastern Conn.-Western Rhode Island affair it now appears probable that a crack team from Massachusetts will be on hand for the opening bill. This information was gained last night from Duwell officials after they had received word from Frank J. Facey, secretary of the New England association of the A. A. U., that the body which he represents will do everything in its power to assist in making the Norwich shows a success.

So as to avoid a recurrance of the incident that

BUSINESS OUTLOOK IS PROMISING FOR THE REMAINDER OF THE YEAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—(AP)—Business came through the week stubbornly resisting the enervating influences of mid-summer, and there was nothing to dull the brightened outlook for the remainder of the year. This was in distinct contrast to the general decline which came at this time last year.

The crop outlook in particular was better than in any previous week of the year, and the aggregate output now promises to be slightly in excess of last year.

The steel industry still maintained a level of operations well in advance of the average for this time of last year. President James A. Farrell, of the United States Steel corporation, in a statement accompanying the second quarter earnings report, which showed distinct improvement over the previous quarter, attributed the slight recession during July from the 10 year record operations of June in part to the slackening of pace during the hot weather.

Automobile manufacturers continued activity at a rate of considerably above the average.

Response by buyers to new car offerings is expected to make the present summer the most active in the industry in years. Steel mills, experienced some recession in orders from automobile manufacturers, which was attributed to delays in changing to new lines. Detroit employment figures showed a substantial increase.

The demand for structural steel kept up unabated and several railroads have again appeared in the market for equipment. One of the most busy industries has been the agricultural implements sales persistently surpassing previous records.

The petroleum industry made marked progress in throwing off its recent depression. The bureau of mines announced that total stocks of oil in the country in June showed a decline for the first time in two years. Crude production declined during the week and gasoline prices were firmer. The textile outlook brightened as buying for autumn needs began favorably.

Car loadings showed the first definite improvement during July in over a year. Insolvencies during the month were less than in June and less than a year ago, but increased during the past week. Money rates still ruled high, but without apparent adverse effect upon business. Bank clearings were still high reflecting largely the month-end settlements.

MYSTIC DRIVER'S MACHINE KNOCKED DOWN OFFICER

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, Aug. 5.—James F. Howard, Riverside farm, Mystic, was arrested by Detective Sergeant John Cavanaugh Saturday charged with violation of the state motor vehicle laws in hauling a motionless trolley car from which passengers were alighting and will be presented in the police court Monday. He was unable to obtain a surety on his bond of $1000 and his auto was held by the police. The arrest of Howard was the result of his auto running down Sergeant Samuel Hick. The officer was on his way to his home, Blydenburg avenue. At the corner of Montauk and Blydenburg avenue, the officer started to alight. Howard was driving in a southerly direction and at a fast rate of speed. As the car came to a stop, Hick alighted and by that time the auto was close to the trolley car, but instead of Howard reducing the speed of the auto he continued to drive and struck the officer, knocking him down and bruising him. Sergeant Cavanaugh arrived on the scene and took charge of the driver.

Joseph Colosanti, 23 Pond street, Norwich, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Patrolman Dennis Cavanaugh charged with failing to obey a traffic officer's signal and breach of the peace. He furnished a surety on his bond of $100 for his presentation in the police court Monday. Colosanti was driving his automobile on Bank street and at the corner of Howard street, he was given a signal by Traffic Officer Dennis Cavanaugh, but the driver refused to heed it. When the officer reprimanded Colosanti for failing to accept the signal, Colosanti became insolent it is said, and his arrest followed.

CHARLES GRADY HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, Aug. 5.—Burglars operated successfully in Groton Friday night for when employes opened the stores of the Groton Hardward company and H. A. Preston, jeweler, Saturday morning, there was every evidence that robberies had been committed. The plunder obtained was not of large value for $100 worth of hardware comprised the loot taken from one store and from the other jewelry novelties were taken from a shoe case. The valuable stock there was in a safe. Both stores are in the same building and on Thames street. Entrace to both stores was obtained by the forcing of a rear window.

Saturday afternoon Captain Andrew McCarthy, Groton police, requested the New London police to arrest Charles Grady, about 22, of Main street, for Grady is suspected of having perpetrated the robberies. He was arrested and taken to Groton. Grady is a former employe at the Preston store and when searched, a key to the Preston store was found in his possession. He insisted the key was to his store in Waterford, but when inserted in the lock of the Preston store, it fitted and it did not when tried on the Waterford store lock. The police are now inclined to believe that the building was entered by means of the key and the open window in the rear was left that way to make it appear as if entrance had been gained by that means. A partial fingerprint mark found on one of the windows partially tallies with that of Grady. Grady was suspected of having robbed the store last April. He has a police record, having served 18 months in North Carolina on a charge of manslaughter.

SAILORS HELD FOR THEFT OF MACHINES

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON Aug. 5.—The state and local police believe that they have broken up an automobile thieving ring for in the arrest of Richard Glidden, 24, formerly of New London and Groton, but now residing at Narragansett Pier, R. I.; Cecil LeMar, 25, alias Stephen Huval and Stephen Burka, 26, submarine base sailors, it is believed that the trio have been implicated in the theft of autos, besides selling them and even to purchasing stolen autos and which they knew were stolen cars. LeMar and Burke were arrested at the submarine base Saturday and when presented in the police court, probable cause of the theft of autos was found and each held in bail for trial at the criminal term of the superior court. In default of bail, LeMar and Huval were remanded to jail, Glidden will be presented in court Monday.

The first intimation of the existence of the ring was the result of the state police receiving information that an Essex auto had been extensively damaged by fire on the Pleasant Valley road, Groton. The state police received this information July 27 and Officer Bernard Kenerson was assigned to make an investigation. In inspecting the serial engine number the officer detected that the numbers had been tampered with and communicated with William Keegan, New York representative of the Underwriters' Insurance company, who inspected the auto and determined that the engine numbers had been altered. Detective Sergeant John Cavanaugh was called into the case and a further investigation convinces the officers that the ring or a part of it was located in New London.

The investigation resulted in it being revealed that Richard Glidden, formerly of New London and Groton, had sold the auto to LaMar and with the latter's knowledge that he purchased a stolen auto, it is said. Glidden was arrested after LaMar and Burka had implicated the former in connection with the sale. Glidden married Josephine Klimmach, 61 Shaw street. Officer Kenerson, who was informed that Glidden frequently paid a week end visit to his mother-in-law, 61 Shaw street, went to the Shaw street house and when Glidden arrived he was in possession of an automobile, which carried New Hampshire markers. The engine numbers appeared to be perfect, but upon close investigation it developed that they had been altered. Glidden after his arrest, stated that his brother, Horace Glidden, Boston, had given him the auto as a commission for disposing of several autos. It then developed that the automobile is owned by a Boston man and was stolen. The automobile destroyed by fire was the property of Kate Wilbur, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

During the checking up of the transactions of Glidden, LaMar and Burka it developed that Pete Falvey, local young man, had been sold an Essex auto by one of the gang and that it was a stolen car. Falvey also had a bill of sale for the stolen auto. While making their investigation, the officers found another Essex at Jones' garage, Groton, that had been stolen. The car is owned by Manuel P. Batista, 26 Talbot road, Taunton, Mass. The officers also ascertained that the gang stole automobiles owned by Walter T. Murphy and Ira S. Avery together with a car owned in New Britain. These three cars will be recovered. The investigation of the officers to run down the gang carried them into three states, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. LaMar and Burka have made complete confessions it is said. Horace Glidden, it is believed, is the master mind of the auto thieves and he will probably be arrested this week.

Elisha Ryley, 45, of 23 Shapley street, a patient at the Lena hospital, made his escape this morning, but was found by Patrolmen William Manice and Cornelius Moriarty. He was later committed to the state hospital. Preston, Ryley succeeded in eluding the watchfulness of the nurses, and retreated through one of the entrances. He had not escaped long before that fact was discovered and the police summoned. The officers came upon Ryley but a short distance from the hospital.

William Griffin, 28, submarine base, was arrested at 3 o'clock this morning charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Griffin was in the vicinity of Bank street and Montauk avenue when his erratic driving attracted the attention of Patrolman Dennis Murphy, who arrested the driver. He will be presented in the police court tomorrow.

James Smith, 54, of Harrison, N. J., was arrested at 2 o'clock this morning by Sergeant John McGrath and Special Agent Jorgerson, railroad police, when Smith was detected stealing a ride on a New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad train. He will be presented in the police court tomorrow.

Antonio Cristina, 66 Jefferson avenue, made complaint to the police Saturday night that he had been attacked by Anthony Albino, 21, of Station 5, Waterford, and John Fishman, 22, of the same address. Cristina said that he was standing at the corner of Bank street and Jefferson avenue, when the Waterford men beat him without provocation. Patrolmen John Sullivan and Frank Philopena found Albino and Fishman near the scene of the row and arrested the pair. They, also, will be presented in the police court tomorrow. Both furnished bonds.

John Castagna, 34 Jefferson avenue, made complaint to the police this afternoon that his automobile had been damaged by being struck by another auto and he requested that the driver be arrested and charged with evasion of responsibility for the driver did not stop after hitting the Castagna car. Castagna had parked his auto in front of his home and it was while there that it was struck. He obtained the markers, which were 117-713. It was ascertained that the car is registered in the name of Harold Persson, 210 Hamilton street Hartford. The police of that city have been requested to order the driver to present himself in the police court tomorrow or Tuesday.

Undoubtedly the largest crowd of the season to visit Ocean beach, was that which thronged the shore resort throughout the late morning and this afternoon. The boardwalk and beach was a veritable mass of sweltering humanity and the number of automobiles that brought men, women and children to the shore, was greater than ever before this year. So great was the number of cars that every available space was occupied. An electrical storm threatened to break about 4:30 o'clock, but even the evident approach of a downpour did not cause the crowd of thousands to disperse. Another large crowd visited the shore tonight in an effort to be relieved of the terrific heat.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Breed Theatre

Fox Films' "Soft Living," which opened at the Breed theatre last night for a three-day run, is a clever farce based upon the question of love or alimony, with that lovely comedienne, Madge Bellamy, in the stellar role.

It was this little star's beauty that first brought her fame on the silver sheet, but now Miss Bellamy surely capitalizes on her ability and intelligence because she has found her forte in comedy.

Johnny Mack Brown, who supports Miss Bellamy in the role of the young husband, shows that leading men had better watch their laurels when he hits his stride. Although this is only the second picture in which he has portrayed a leading role, still he is the master of every situation.

The plot of the story is that of a wise little city girl who marries a rich country boy for his money. But the young millionaire proves that he is not to be fooled. He decides he will take his young bride to his hunting lodge instead of the bright lights of Broadway.

And then Madge is instructed in the ways and means of keeping up a house. When it comes to making a fire and cooking Madge is a decided failure. She doesn't even open a can, but everything comes out in the end. That is when another women enters the story, the girl confesses her love for her husband and everything is patched up.

Others who deserve credit in minor roles are Mary Duncan, Joyce Compton, Henry Kolker and Tom Dugan. James Tinling is responsible for the direction.

Palace Theatre

The age-old barrier to love—that of the passing years—is the motivation of the most startling film drama of the years, and Lon Chaney, portrayer of strange characters, has in it a vehicle that reveals more hidden facts in the gem of his artistry than any play in which the famous star has ever appeared.

This play is "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," Herbert Brenon's latest directorial feat, and one of Chaney's greatest triumphs. The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer spectacle, now playing at the Palace theatre, has in it so many remarkable features that, in describing it, one wonders where to commence.

The stage play was great—the film version a masterpiece. Brenon took the original Italian version of the gripping drama of the clown who became the idol of kings; of the waif he befriended, loved with a poignant passion—and surrendered for her own happiness in the great climax of the astounding play.

Chaney plumbs the depths of human anguish on one hand—on the other he stages a comedy which proves him perhaps one of the greatest comedians, when necessary, on the screen. The story has spectacle, thrills, laughs, romance, and a gripping dramatic theme that strikes the consciousness like a thunderbolt. It has everything a play can have.

Loretta Young, Herbert Brenon's screen Cinderella, proves as talented as she is beautiful, and Nils Asther, the young Swedish artist, is an actor of consummate skill. Bernard Siegel, as a foil to Chaney, contributes a well-balanced performance and Cissy Fitz-Gerald offers some clever comedy. Gwen Lee is beautifully convincing as Diane.

"Laugh, Clown, Laugh," is more than a mere motion picture; it is a memory that will last a lifetime.

OVER 150 ATTEND GUN CLUB OUTING

Thirty automobiles were required to transport the 150 members of the Taftville Rod and Gun club to Hopeville Pond Sunday for their annual outing, field day and clambake. Assembling at Parish hall on Merchants avenue at 9 o'clock, the cars left for the picnic grounds in a body headed by the automobile of Fred Dugas, president of the organization. Upon arrival at Hopeville many of the members donned their bathing suits and enjoyed a cooling dip in the pond, and others began a rehearsal for the sporting events which were staged later in the day.

At noon a delicious lunch of clam chowder, white bread, brown bread, crackers, sliced cucumbers, sliced tomatoes, lettuce and beets in vinegar was served by Chef Hormisdas Benoit, assisted by his aides, Herman Davignon, Alexis Davignon, Alfred Benoit, Jesse Laudette, Edward Gladue and Henry Wesman. For about an hour the company was entertained by the melodious concert singing by the Rod and Gun club chorus.

Shortly after 1 o'clock, the athletic and sporting events were run off under the direction of Edward Duphrey, chairman of the amusement committee. Secretary Paul Benoit kept the records and awarded the prizes, most of which were donated by the members.

Thomas Coleman was the winner of the fat men's race, open to contestants of 200 pounds or over, and Oliver Paul had the second score. In the swimming race, the winner was Victor Fontaine and the second ribbon went to Wilfred Fontaine. The tug-of-war was an interesting event and it took some time for Sam Plante's huskies to pull Bernard Hasler's team to its feet. Those comprising the winning team were Aldon Bouley, Arthur Trembley, Arthur Tellier, William Urban and Frank Benoit.

Those competing in the long distance and accuracy bait casting contests showed no mean skill with their rod and lines. Edward Duprey with a score of 127 4-5 was the winner of the first event, and his second was Oliver Paul with an average of 88. In the accuracy bait casting contest, in which official hoops at a distance of 60, 70, 80, 90 and 100 feet were used, Oliver Paul was the winner with an average of 8.9, and Theodore Kendall was second with a score of 7.3. In the boat race, Frank Gley was the winner, crossing the finish line just as his opponent Jake Troeger lost an oar at the final dash for victory.

With a hearty appetite worked up by indulging in the program of sports the hungry crowd sat down at the long tables under the shady oaks to be served an appetizing menu by Chef Benoit and his helpers.

The menu:

Baked Boston Bluefish
Sliced Cucumbers — Sliced Tomatoes
Lettuce — Clam Fritters
White Bread — Brown Bread
White Potatoes — Sweet Potatoes
Steamed Onions — Steamed Clams
Watermelon — Soft Drinks

The repast suffered a temporary interruption when an electrical storm with a brilliant display of lightning accompanied by severe cannonading of thunder visited the peaceful grove, but the boys returned to the tables and kept Chef Benoit busy with their calls on the dining tent.

When the crowd returned home in the evening they all cast their votes in pronouncing the affair one of the most enjoyable affairs ever sponsored by the club. Good weather prevailed for the greater part of the day, and more of the members enjoyed the water sports than usually do. Several big fish were caught during the day's fishing.

The committee in charge of the arrangements included Fred Dugas, Joseph A. Benac, George Boenig, John Paradis, Paul Benoit, Stanislas Benac, Dr. Harrison Gray, Edward Duprey, Zel Dugas, Joseph Dugas, Blair Cormier, Wilfred Sevigney, Arthur Weseman, Wilfred Beauchemin and Joseph LeClair.

METHODIST PASTORS OFFICIATE FOR UNCASVILLE CORNERSTONE LAYING

The cornerstone of the new Methodist Episcopal church at Uncasville on the site on the Norwich-New London highway, which has been presented by Mrs. Ralph Meicer, was laid at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon with impressive services at which several of the pastors from Methodist churches in this vicinity participated. It is expected that the church will be ready for dedication about Dec. 15.

There was a good sized gathering of the congregation and friends when the exercises opened with words to the congregation by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Smith. This was followed by the hymn Nuremberg having special application to cornerstone laying, led by the choir, and prayer was offered by Rev. Charles E. Spaulding, D. D., pastor of the Methodist church in New London. Responsive reading of the 132nd Psalm was led by Rev. Elmer Page of New London and the New Testament lesson was read by Rev. G. W. Potter of the Norwich Town church.

After an anthem by the choir, the address was given by Rev. Myron E. Genter of this city, district superintendent, whose theme was "The Building of The Church." He spoke from the text, Matt. 16.18, I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

Before the cornerstone was placed in position, Pastor Smith announced that the copper box to be placed in the stone would contain the Holy Bible, hymnal of the church, discipline of 1924, year book 1928, names of trustees and stewards, names of the building committee of pastors, of Bishop William F. Anderson, D. D., LL. D., of Rev. Myron E. Genter, district superintendent; of Rev. Charles Smith, the pastor; names of ministers present and assisting in the exercises, Rev. Charles A. Spaulding, D. D., New London; Rev. Elmer Page, assistant at New London; and Rev. G. W. Potter, Norwich Town.

The copper box was placed in the cornerstone by District Superintendent Genter, with whom Rev. Mr. Spaulding and Rev. Mr. Smith participated in the act of laying the stone, assisted by the builder.

After prayer by Rev. Mr. Spaulding, the congregation sang the doxology and the benediction was pronounced by Pastor Smith.

A beautiful silk flag which had been presented to the church by Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps of this city was displayed during the ceremonies.

The address of District Superintendent Genter was inspired, the singing by the choir was splendid and the service throughout impressive.

NORWICH WILL PROVIDE FOR FRESH AIR CHILDREN

The Norwich chamber of commerce is glad to announce that it surpassed the quota of 75 fresh air children for whom homes are to be provided for a two weeks rest and recuperation in Norwich. The final appeal for the fresh air children was made by the chamber of commerce through the medium of the Norwich Bulletin, on Friday August 3, and the following are the citizens who responded to help Norwich on the last day to go over the top: Max Rabinovitch, Miss Ella Norton, Harry M. Land, Mrs. Mary Boglisch, Mrs. Lena Milar, Mrs. Alfred Haring, Mrs. Lettie Knight, Mrs. John Riley, Mrs. F. U. Higgins, J. F. Ryan, the Misses Williams, Miss Mary E. Bundy.

A very fine spirit of civic character was displayed by several boys from Lincoln avenue, who stazed a children's vaudeville show in a Lincoln avenue garage last Friday evening for the benefit of the fresh air children. They set their goal on raising $5 so that they might be able to pay for the boarding of one child for one week. However, the thunder shower that hit the city about the time the show opened interfered with the gate receipts and the boys netted only $3 for the fresh air children. The chamber of commerce gratefully acknowledges the receipt of this amount and expresses its admiration of the spirit manifested by the Norwich boys. The names of the boys who put on the show are as follows: Edward Turner, chairman; John G. Fanning, treasurer; Lawrence P. Rich, and Lou Charles Maples.

Secretary Pilcher greatly appreciating that Norwich went over the top said: "Some of the letters that came from Norwich people in request for fresh air children are of the most touching nature, making one feel great satisfaction about the true heart of the Norwich community. It is very gratifying that Norwich so nobly went over the top in a real humanitarian cause and it is an additional exemplification of the kindness and hospitality of the citizens of the Rose of New England."

NORWICH TOWN

"The Mystery of Christianity" was the theme of the sermon given by Rev. George Warren Potter at the First Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning. The text was from 1 Timothy 3:16 "And without controversy great is the mystery of Godliness". In part Rev. Mr. Potter said, "God is the climax of mystery. Everything that God has created is so far like him that it is mysterious. There are three things I want especially to point out to you at this time. First mystery adds zest. Second mystery in life is no prevention of belief in the facts of experience. Third mystery in itself is a good reason why we ought to believe that Christianity came from God." A duet entitled, "Give Me Thy Heart" was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Irish. In the absence of Mrs. Lewis Aldrich the organist of the church Mrs. LeRoy Miner played. At the church school session Mildred Carter played the piano in the absence of Doris Rose who is enjoying a vacation. Mrs. Rose Carter took charge of the kindergarden department. Effie Ladd the kindergarden superintendent is receiving medical attention in her room as she was recently bitten by a vicious dog.

Rev. George Warren Potter was present at the laying of the cornerstone of the Uncasville Methodist Episcopal church Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Cripps and Ralph Smith of Norwich Town were also present at the services.

The attendance at the Gardner Lake Methodist Episcopal church Sunday afternoon showed the effect of the weather conditions. The attendance was somewhat smaller than the past few weeks when the average has been two hundred. It was estimated that the attendance was about 175. The pastor Rev. George Warren Potter used the theme "Mystery of God" for his sermon. The singing was in charge of Miss Dorothy Gillingham a counselor from Milo Light's camp. Mr. Jack Latshaw presided at the organ. The camps represented at the service were Tohaci, Cadaho, Adaiuan, Juanita and the New London Girl Scouts.

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, Aug. 6—Mrs. Roseanna Lucier, 42, Box 617, Taftville, sustained a cut on the left arm when a Nash sedan in which she was riding and which was operated by her son, Leonard of Taftville, skidded on the wet highway at one of the sharp turns at Windham village at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon and turned turtle after mounting a two foot stone wall at the Edward W. Avery property. Upon applying the brakes at the sharp corner the Lucier car skidded some 25 feet at the left of the road where it struck the stone wall and went over it, turning over on its left side. Mrs. Lucier was cut by glass from a broken rear window. The accident was investigated by Police Officer Roderick Lariviere. Lucier said that he would settle for damage to the wall.

One Step Enough

"As thou goest, step by step,
I will open up the way before thee."
Proverbs 4:12. Heb. Trans.

Child of My love, fear not the unknown morrow,
Dread not the new demand life makes of thee;
Thy ignorance doth hold no cause for sorrow
Since what thou knowest not is known to Me.

Thou canst not see today the hidden meaning
Of My command, but thou the light shalt gain;
Walk on in faith, upon My promise leaning,
And as thou goest all shall be made plain.

One step thou seest—then go forward boldly,
One step is far enough for faith to see;
Take that, and thy next duty shall be told thee,
For step by step thy Lord is leading thee.

Stand not in fear thy adversaries counting,
Dare every peril, save to disobey;
Thou shalt march on, all obstacles surmounting,
For I, the Strong, will open up the way.

Wherefore go gladly to the task assigned thee,
Having My promise, needing nothing more
Than just to know, where'er the future find thee,
In all thy journeying I go before.

—Author Unknown.

In Time of Care

Look up through life, its care and pain,
To something beautiful, to things
That are in beauty's old refrain
Made lovely as a star that sings.
Through care to beauty,
Thus to find
Joy for the heart,
Peace for the mind.

I care not what the cynics say—
Some far-on joy is in the day;
The world that bows my heart with care
Shall likewise lift my heart in prayer.
Through sorrow, worry,
Ache and strife,
Upward to beauty
Lifting life.

I've known it often as I went,
When clouds and shadows o'er me bent,
That I could look through them and see
A flower, a field, a fine old tree.
It was enough.
And it is now—
Beauty to bring
Its peace somehow.

ITALIAN SUBMARINE WAS SUNK IN ABOUT 131 FEET WATER BY COLLISION

F-14 Was Engaged in Attack Maneuver in the Adriatic Sea—In Suddenly Emerging It Was Struck by a Destroyer—The Crew of the Sub is Communicating With Surface Craft Through Special Signalling Apparatus—There Are Four Sets of Diving Apparatus at the Scene—Fresh Air is Being Provided For the Crew of the Submersible Through Mechanism—F-14 Carried a Crew of 22 Men.

ROME, Aug. 6—(AP)—The Stefani agency reports that the Italian submarine F-14 was sunk in 40 meters of water by a collision with the destroyer Giuseppe Missori this morning. The crew of the submarine are in communication with surface craft through special submarine signalling apparatus.

Weather conditions at present were said to be not very favorable. There are already at the scene four sets of diving apparatus and also a mechanism to supply the submarine with fresh air.

The submarine was engaged in an attack maneuver with the fleet seven miles west of the island of Orioni, which lies near the northeast coast of the Adriatic. It emerged suddenly under th prow of the destroyer Giuseppe Missori, which struck it.

The F-14 sank at once to the bottom in 40 meters of water. The exact position of the submarine has not yet been found but observers from a hydro-airplane said they had sighted it a little way from where the warship Brindisi lies at anchor.

Admiral Foschini was on board the Brindisi and has taken charge of the salvage operations.

The submarine sank at 8:45 a. m., Italian time, Monday, or at 4:45 a. m., eastern daylight time.

The F-14 is one of the coast defense submarines of the Italian navy. With ten or more others of its class it was built at Leghorn in the years 1916 and 1917. Its displacement is 260 tons at the surface and 318 tons when submerged. Its length is about 150 feet. Submarines of this class have a normal complement of 22 men.

The Giuseppe Missori was built in 1915. It is of 795 tons and carries a crew of 71.

The sinking of the F-14 was the first serious disaster to any Italian undersea craft since August, 1925, when the submarine Sebastiano Venniero disappeared during naval maneuvers off Sicily and was never found. Fifty men were believed to have lost their lives in her.

Available naval records give Italy 45 submarines in service at the end of 1927. Following the naval policy of many years, the majority of these were designed for coastal work in conjunction with destroyer flotillas. More recently, however, several seagoing submarines have been commissioned. One of these, the Balilla, last May attained a depth of 328 feet, which Italian naval officers claim as a new world record.

The small island of Orioni lies with others close to the shore of the province of Istria on the eastern border of the Adriatic. Istria projects into the sea like a gigantic cape with Trieste and Fiume situated at the points where its shores join the mainland.

The depth of 40 meters in which the F-14 was reported to have sunk is the equivalent of about 131 feet.

CLERGY INNOCENT OF OBREGON ASSASSINATION

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 6—(AP)—A statement declaring that the Mexican clergy is completely innocent of the of the crime of the assassination of President Elect Obregon was issued in Mexico City today in behalf of the Episcopal sub-committee. The statement was sent to the newspapers in the name of Archbishop Miguel de La Mora of San Luis Potosi.

Hope that the laws "limiting religious liberty" will be changed in Mexico was also expressed in the statement.

No information was given out regarding the whereabouts of Archbishop de La Mora. Most of the bishops and archbishops supposedly are exiled outside of Mexico, but it is assumed that Archbishop de La Mora may be living privately in MexicorCity.

The statement says that 95 per cent of all Mexicans are Catholics. Therefore any person committing any crime in Mexico probably is a Catholic but this does not mean that the Catholic clergy, episcopate and the great body of peoples who are Catholics are implicated in the crime.

Discussing police investigations into the assassination of General Obregon by Jose de Leon Toral, the sattement says that the result demonstrates clearly that the Catholic clergy had no responsibility for the crime. An interview with President Calles with a correspondent was then mentioned, the statement saying that remarks were attributed to President Calles modifying his previous declaration that the Catholic clergy were responsible.

MEXICO GRATEFUL FOR AMERICAN SYMPATHY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—Mexico's gratitude for the American sympathy and courtesies in connection with the death in the United States of her air ace, Captain Emilio Carranza, was expressed by Foreign Minister Estrada in a formal note to American Ambassador Morrow which was made public today by the state department.

"Although I have instructed Ambassador Telles to convey to the government of the United States," wrote the foreign minister, "the cordial thanks of the government of Mexico for the innumerable attentions, homages, and various manifestations of which the body of the Mexica aviator, Captain Emilio Carranza, was the object.

"I consider it my duty—and certainly a welcome one—also to address your excellency, in order to say how sincerely moved the president of the republic and his government have been upon learning of those acts which clearly reveal the friendly sentiment of the people and government of the United States toward my country, in honoring him who did so generously offer to that great nation his noble gesture of friendship and good will."

MYSTERIOUS MURDER ATOP THE PALISADES

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Aug. 6—(AP)—The only clue county authorities tonight had for the killing of a 30-year-old man found slain atop the Palisades was the report of an automobile seen frequently near the spot of late.

Authorities were checking up on the report in the belief that the car might have been used by the man and a woman for clandestine visits to the small woods in which the body was found.

It was first believed by police that the victim had been "taken for a ride" by a New York gang, killed, and his body placed in the woods.

The man had two bullet wounds in his head, his skull was fractured and his clothes had been soaked with gasoline and fired to erase any evidence against the slayers, police said, and also to complicate identifying the victim.

His hands were charred badly so that no fingerprints could be taken.

CANDIDATES FOR GREEK PARLIAMENT ABDUCTED

ATHENS, Aug. 6—(AP)—Brigands who captured two candidates for parliament, for whose ransom the government has agreed to advance large sums, let the day pass without indicating where the money can be paid. Absence of word from them added to the political anxiety of officials who desire to have the men released before the balloting in the Epirus district.

Eleutherios Venizelos, prime minister, has publicly declared the determination of his government to stamp out brigandage. The answer of the outlaws came in a report from Janina today telling of the kidnaping of a lawyer named Giras. This took place in the same neighborhood as the capturing of the two politicians.

The ransom demanded for the lawyer is one million drachmas, (about $13,000) This is one fifth of the amount asked for the release of the parliamentary candidates.

The political prisoners are Constantino Melas and M. Milonas, former under-secretary of finance. They belong to the progressive liberal party, one of the chief groups supporting the Venizelost government. It is presumed that their captors are taking them toward the Albanian border so that the band can get into that country as soon as the ransom money is received. Greece has no extradition treaty with Albania.

STRIKES CALLED IN TWO FALL RIVER TEXTILE PLANTS

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 6—(AP)—Strikes were called in two Fall River textile plant stoday when mill agents refused to receive committees of the textile mills committee, an organization which has been active for many weeks in connection with a textile strike in the neighboring city of New Bedford. In each instance only a part of the workers responded.

Spokesmen for the textile mills committee tonight claimed that 2,100 workers at the finishing plant of the American Printing company had walked out after Agent Nathan Durfee had turned down a request for an interview with James P. Reid of Providence, a labor organizer. The agent claimed that only from 30 to 40 men quit work but police estimated the number at about 350. Later approximately 100 workers walked out at the Lincoln mill under similar circumstances.

Demand of the strikers, as outlined by speakers at a rally this afternoon are:

"Restoration of a 10 per cent wage cut imposed some time ago; a 20 per cent increase above the old wage scale." Reid declared that a strike would be called in every mill in the city unless the mill owners granted these demands.

MISSING $3,500,000 BONDS TAKEN FROM MESSENGER

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6—(AP)—The Post Dispatch today said the $3,500,000 bonds now missing from assets of the International Life Insurance company were sent to Roy C. Toombs, president, in Chicago, June 29, according to a statement made by a company official who declined to permit use of his name.

The company official declared that the bonds were sent to Toombs only on his promise to pay cash for them, and that the messenger who carried the bonds was instructed by the board of directors not to deliver them to Toombs unless he did pay cash for them.

The messenger returned without the bonds and reported, according to the official's statement, that Toombs had taken the securities from him, and had said he would remit the money to the company that night. No such remittance was made, and the bonds, as stated by the state insurance examiners, investigating the company's affairs are still missing.

Toombs told the other officers of the company later according to the same informant, that the bonds had been negotiated, and that their full value would be refunded to the company, but that this process would take some time.

POLISH AVIATORS TO RETURN TO PARIS

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 6—(AP)—The Polish aviators, Maj. Kasimir Kubala and Maj. Louis Idzikowski, rested and refreshed after their flight above the Atlantic which ended so abruptly on Saturday, tonight were making plans for their return to Paris.

Mechanics already were en route from Paris to Oporto where lies their shattered plane, the Marszalek Pilsudski, which was brought to port by the same steamship which rescued its crew. The chief damage to the plane was to the wings and the airmen tonight were already talking of making another attempt to span the Atlantic by air. This apparently hinged upon whether the big sesquiplane could be reconditioned before summer weather ends.

Major Kubala, whose arm was cut when he fell on the deck of the steamship Samoa after the rescue, was so far recovered today from the wounds that he was enabled to rejoin his companion at an Oporto hotel and even made short sallies into the city.

Derailment Of Trains Kills Eight Persons

Illinois Central Trains Thrown From Rail By a Large Sewer Pipe.

MOUNDS, Ill., Aug. 6—(AP)—At least eight persons were killed and approximately 200 injured early today when a large sewer pipe, which fell from a freight train, caused derailment of two fast Illinois Central passenger trains one mile north of here.

Fifty-nine of the injured were taken to a Cairo hospital where two were expected to die. The others were able to continue their journeys.

The known dead are L. A. Drennan, 40, of Mattoon, Ill., an express messenger; Mrs. Bud Snyder and Joe Sidneck, both of West Orange, N. J., vaudeville actors; William Douglas, Negro train porter, and four unidentified Negresses. Drennan and the Negresses were killed outright. The other three died en route or after they reached Cairo.

Search of the wreckage continued late today and workers believed one or two additional bodies might be found.

The trains derailed were No. 3, southbound Chicago to New Orleans limited, and No. 16, northbound Memphis to St. Louis train, the Chickasaw.

Ed Whelen, conductor of the Chickasaw, said they had been warned of the sewer pipe, but struck it 2,000 feet sooner than expected. The pilot was torn loose and the train came to a stop with a jolt. The pipe was hurled against the southbound track and threw it out of line.

"Half a minute later," he said, "No 3 came roaring down the track at 60 miles an hour. The engine was derailed and plowed into the Pullmans of No. 16, ripping through the entire number of cars, where passengers were sleeping."

Ten cars of No. 3 and seven of No. 16 were derailed.

Relief trains were sent from Cairo and Carbondale.

ROSCOE "FATTY" ARBUCKLE BEING SUED FOR DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6—(AP)—A story of another "wild party" in which Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle figured, has called the once famous film funster into court—this time as a result of a divorce suit filed here today by his wife Doris Dean, screen actress.

Arbuckle's appearances on the screen ceased after he was accused of being responsible for the death of Virginia Rappe, a film actress, at an alleged hotel party in San Francisco more than seven years ago. He was acquitted after two trials, the jury disagreeing the first time.

The divorce suit today declared the "wild party" which sent the Arbuckle marital bark on the rocks occurred at the home of a "prominent resident" of Hollywood and that the comedian became "terribly intoxicated." He attempted, according to his actress-wife, to make ardent love to a woman guest who was rescued from the rotund ex-comedian by others at the party.

Among other things, Miss Dean charges that Arbuckle complained because she would not fight with him, telling her that as a result he could "get no kick out of life." On one occasion she said, he declared "I wish I had knocked your brains out."

The couple married in 1925, following the divorce of Arbuckle and his former wife, Minta Durfee Arbuckle.

Since he left the screen, Arbuckle for a time directed pictures under another name. He recently purchased a cafe to operate as a night club.

Listing Arbuckle's earnings at $3,000 a week, and his investments at $245 000, Miss Dean asks alimony of $750 a week. The court ordered Arbuckle to appear Aug. 16 for a hearing on temporary alimony.

MAMMOTH NEW GEYSER IN YELLOWSTONE PARK

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug 6—(AP)—Yellowstone park has a new geyser, in point of value and magnitude believed to be one of the larges in the world.

The new blower has burst out in the Fairy Creek region of the National park and approaches the size of the famous Excelsior geyser which stopped playing in 1888.

From a crater 100 feet wide, 120 feet long and eight feet deep, the new geyser bursts forth twice each 24 hours and for a three-hour period throws a stream of water 75 feet high. Occasionally the perpendicular stream reaches a height of 100 feet and at such times loud explosions occur every ten or 15 seconds. Many short diagonal streams spurt out of the crater.

Existence of the geyser has been known for several days and its movements have been under observation by Doctors L. Day and Eugene T. Allen of the Carnegie institute, who have been doing field work in the park. Tomorrow a party of officials will go to the spot and plan trails so that the new phenomenon may be visited by tourists.

The gusher is only a short distance from the location of the old Excelsior.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 6—(AP)—Edward B. Roe, late of Florida and Albany, 62 years old, and out of work, swam 12 miles downs the Ohio river yesterday while holding aloft a newspaper in one hand and a handkerchief in the other, just to prove he was able-bodied.

Years ago he had swum across the river at Jeffersonville, Ind., on his back, holding up a newspaper. Desperate in his search for work, he finally obtained two witnesses and entered the water. After swimming three hours in a pouring rain during which he crossed the river six times, to keep out of the way of high waves in the wake of steamboats, he left the water 12 miles downstream.

Story Of The Crash Of Seaplane "Whale"

Captain Courtney Gives Details of Experiences After Forced Landing.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—Capt. Frank T. Courtney and the three men with whom he cheated death after their seaplane "Whale" had crashed aflame in mid-ocean, reached New York today on the liner which picked them off the floating wreck of their aircraft.

It was a nonchalant crew which stepped off the city tug Macom at the battery, shook hands with Mayor Walker at city hall, and drove up Broadway through hurrying crowds to the hotel where they will stay while they remain here.

Capt. Courtney did the talking for his three companions while the Macom steamed from Quarantine to the Battery, and it was a graphic story he told of the forced landing, the hours of drifting, the fire in the engine room of the plane and the final rescue by the liner Minnewaska.

"We were up 1,500 feet when the fire broke out," he said, "and it took us only 30 seconds to drop to the water while Fred Pierce (the mechanic) stopped the gasoline feed cocks. We veered over 30 degrees and came down smack on the incline of an ocean swell with the aid of the flare made by our own flaming ship."

The crew thought there was a slim chance for any of them, he said, but they carried on even though Courtney had to stand up in the seat as the ship landed to protect his glasses without which he is virtually blind.

"The flight itself was a failure, he said, "but the results were not. It was necessary to fail to demonstrate that a plane like ours, forced down in mid-ocean, can be saved with the aid of a good radio."

When the engine room broke into flames, he said, he was talking to Pierce through a speaking tube from the pilot's seat.

"Suddenly Pierce, whose head I could see, disappeared," he said. "Then there was a red flush on the windshield and I knew what had happened. There was only one thing to do—get down as fast as possible, and we did."

E. B. Hosmer, millionaire Montreal broker who backed the flight, sat smoking a cigar while Courtney talked.

"I was just sitting there smoking and looking at the moon when the fire broke out," he said. "Then I felt a warm current overhead and all of a sudden it got hot and I knew something was wrong. There were some cans of gasoline in front of me and I ran over to protect them, but it got too hot and I had to go up where Courtney and Hugh Gilmour, the radio man were. You don't think much at a time like that and I was just wondering what was going to happen next?"

While he was wondering, he said, the ship smacked down on a wave and in a minute all four of the men were out on the wings looking at each other quizzically and expecting the ship to blow up at any minute.

"But just about then," Courtney went on, "the flames began to sputter and go out. It had been so hot that the metal struts supporting the engine were fused together, but that didn't weaken the ship enough to send the motor out through the bottom."

When they discovered they were not sinking, Gilmour crawled over to his radio set, hoisted his emergency aerial and began shooting out his S. O. S.

"After a while the Minnewaska picked up the signal and, although we floated along out of the position with the gulf stream, she picked us up," Courtney said.

"But if the Minnewaska hadn't come along we would have floated indefinitely. We could have stayed afloat for days in rough weather and weeks in mild weather. That flying boat is unsinkable.

"I set out on this flight to demonstrate that if there ever is to be successful ocean flying it must be done in the kind of boat we used. With that craft and a radio it can be done.

"If the Spanish ship reported near the Whale now will only let it alone I believe she'll float to the coast of Spain and we'll be able to use it again."

Had it not been for a defective fuel feed pipe, Pierce said, the Whale would have made Newfoundland easily.

"I wouldn't hesitate a minute to try it again," Hosmer told the mayor, and Courtney, answering a similar question, said "That's only a matter of financing."

PRIMARIES IN OKLAHOMA, MISSOURI AND KANSAS TODAY

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 6—(AP)—Primary campaigns in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma were wound up tonight as candidates made their final pleas for votest in tomorrow's elections.

National issues gained attention only in Missouri where sharp battles have been waged among candidates in both the major parties fo rthe nomination for United States senator with the prohibition question holding the leading place.

In Kansas and Oklahoma personalities and state issues pushed national politics into the background. Only minor state officials and congressional nominees were to be selected in these commonwealths.

The wet and dry question enters into both the republican and democratic senatorial races in Missouri, with Senator James A. Reed, who is retiring from public office, espousing the cause of James A. Collet of Salisbury, an avowed wet, who is seeking the democratic nomination.

SEEKING THE EXTRADITION OF BLACKMER FROM FRANCE

Decision Hangs Upon Whether "Perjury" is an Extraditable Offense in the Franco-American Treaty—The Case is Being Considered by the Legal Bureau of the French Foreign Office—Blackmer Had Been Indicted on Charges of Making False Income Tax Returns.

PARIS, Aug. 6—(AP)—Whether the "perjury" charged against Henry M. Blackmer, missing Teapot Dome witness is of the French or American brand, promises to be the determining question in settling the request of the United States for his extradition.

Mr. Blackmer was indicted in the federal district of Colorado on charges of making false income tax returns. Untrue income declarations are punishable by heavy fines in France, but perjury, as such, has been generally interpreted here to apply only to bearing false witnes sin court and under oath.

French legal circles are not certain that the listing of perjury as an extraditable offense in the Franco-American treaty means that American interpretation of the world is to be the determining factor in deciding whether persons accused of perjury are to be delivered to authorities of the United States. Local legal experts think there is a decided doubt as to whether a false income tax return is an extraditable matter under this treaty.

The case is being considered by the legal bureau of the foreign office. That department goes over all extradition requests to determine whether they are tainted with political motives, and also whether there is a presumtive legal reason for demanding the extradition.

If the decision on this question is in favor of the nation requesting the extradition, the papers are forwarded to the ministry of justice which passes upon the case in its general aspects and then refers to a court of five judges.

Blackmer's contention, according to his friends, is that he is wanted in the United States more for the sake of the Teapot Dome oil investigation than to answer to the charges respecting his income tax returns. He maintains that he came to France in the first place on a holiday before the Teapot Dome investigation was under way, that he did not make the journey in order to avoid testifying in that case and that he decided to remain here only after the agitation over his departure became acute.

Blackmer points out that he has been open in his movements and that he has made no attempt to hide, except from newspapermen.

Although the American embassy made formal demand for his extradition ten days ago, he has not been arrested. The French authorities have the promise of Blackmer's attorney that he will be available when wanted and until the legal aspects of the case are settled, they do not intend to take any further action toward him personally.

"BUTCHER BOY" ROMANCE CULMINATED IN MURDER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6—(AP)—Behind the closed doors of the police murder squad bureau today a man and woman described as prominent told officers what they knew of the "butcher boy" romance of Mrs. Myrtle L. Mellus, 41, which police say preceded her brutal slaying yesterday in her home in the exclusive Wilshire district.

While the identity of the couple was guarded by police, Leo P. Kelly, 29, was held in a cell nearby charged with murder. Frank Mellus, prominent club man, sportsman and manufacturer, husband of the wealthy society matron, said Kelly long had been their "meat market man."

His brain still forged, officers said, with liquor drunk before and after Sunday's tragedy, Kelly repeated his denials of guilt. He had gone to Mrs. Mellus' home while her husband was on a fishing excursion. Breakfast over and the Negro maid permitted to leave, they drank, he said, and a quarrel ensued. He beat her terribly, Kelly related, but said he did not kill her.

Mrs. Mellus' body, stripped of the blue pajamas which the maid said she wore at breakfast with Kelly, was found on her bed by Mellus when he returned home. A heavy blow from an empty bottle had caused death, while her body was covered with welts and bruises.

An hour after police had swarmed into the fashionable residence Kelly was found. Officers heard him breathing in a clothes closet and dragged him out to the accompaniment of his entreaties to them to kill him.

Out of the murder trickled piecemeal a story from investigators of an alleged illicit romance that started five years ago between the "handsome butcher boy" and the lovely woman of wealth. Mellus, when informed of it by police, collapsed and was placed under care of a physician.

Of the two persons being questioned, Detective Captain Ray Cato said:

"I am fully convinced Mrs. Mellus and Kelly were alone yesterday. If, however, I find that the other couple, who have been in the habit of holding parties with them, was present, I shall arrest the pair and hold them as material witnesses. Until such time I will not reveal their names."

An inquest will be held tomorrow.

BENCH WARRANT FOR HOSTESS HELEN MORGAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—Service of a bench warrant issued today for the arrest of Helen Morgan, actress and night club hostess, has been held in abeyance on the promise of her attorney that he would produce her in federal court tomorrow.

MADE DEFENDANT IN A $2,000,000 DAMAGE SUIT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 6—(AP)—Lucille Mussett Allison, to whom James H. Allison, Indianapolis capitalist, was married five days before his death, was made defendant in a $2,000,000 damage suit filed today by Sara C. Allison, his divorced wife. The suit was filed while funeral services were being held for Allison. Alienation of Allison's affections was alleged.

Allison and Miss Mussett were married July 29 at the Long Island home of Carl Fisher. Allison became ill of bronchial pneumonia and died Aug. 3. The suit filed by Mrs. Sara Allison alleged that by Allison's death the second wife became heir to an estate variously estimated in value from $3,500,000 to $6,000,000.

Fisher was Allison's associate in the founding of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and in extensive real estate developments in Florida. Allison's second wife was a resident of Miami, Fla. Following the marriage they took a trip through the east and while en route here Allison was stricken ill.

In the suit filed today, Mrs. Sara C. Allison said that she and Allison were married 21 years and lived together until June 27, last, when she obtained a divorce. A property settlement was made.

Allison was born at Marcellus, Mich., in 1872. The building up of his fortune began in 1904 when he became associated with Fisher in establishment of the Prest-O-Lite company, which manufactured an acetylene gas light for automobile headlights.

WOULD RATIONALIZE ALL CLASSES OF SOCIETY

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 6—(AP)—Weak, ignorant, emotional humanity has created a new world and must think out new ways of guiding it, Dr. Graham Wallas, London political scientist, today told a round table conference at the institute of politics.

"The most obvious difficulty in that course," he said, "is the gap between science and what we may call the organized will which lies behind the action of all government.

"For how can a man ignorant of all science, physical or political, so vote that the right expedients shall be tried by his government? How can he even come to desire that the right expedient shall be tried? That is modern civilization's problem.

"It's solution is a matter of rationalizing all classes of society so that the most important subjects of community life may be acted upon intelligently and effectively. The highest and lowest extremes of society must be brought into effective cooperation, and this same rationalization should be applied to international relations."

COOLIDGE CERTAIN HOOVER WILL BE NEXT PRESIDENT

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 6—(AP)—Certainty that Secretary Hoover will be the next president of the United States was expressed yesterday by President Coolidge to Senator Dale of Vermont, the latter revealed today before leaving Superior.

Senator Dale, who spent several hours yesterday at the summer white house, said the chief executive, usually reserved in his judgments and cautious as to predictions, had made it plain that he considered Mr. Hoover's popularity with the electorate more than sufficient to elect.

The Vermont senator admitted that in the course of his visit to Cedar Island lodge, Mr. Coolidge asked more questions than he gave replies, but added that in addition to a specific admission as to his feelings regarding the Hoover candidacy, the trend of the chief executive's queries bore ample testimony as to his beliefs.

It serves to illustrate the continual and diversified problems for the men, that day after day handle the heavy traffic carried by the buses over the state road. The man said the driver was a red headed chap and he allowed as how he was certainly onto his job, and grinned about it, too.

Near the Dorrance house in Plainfield right on the hill, the bus, filled with passengers, overtook a herd of a dozen cows being driven slowly towards home, along the highway. The man at the wheel slowed down, and then slower still. One fine sleek Holstein came leisurely up to take a sniff at the radiator, while on the other side, a gentle mannered Jersey almost peeked in at the door, the narrator added, and there was no trouble or haste in clearing the herd, and "I thought that that driver was actually going to offer the Jersey lady at the door, one of his red checks, so he could tell where she would like to go," said the observer.

The passengers were quite appreciative of such a fine herd of local stock, and it was learned also that the cows were entirely within their province, and according to state law had the right of way.

YOUTHFUL DRIVER FINED ON SPEEDING CHARGE

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, R. I., Aug. 6—Harold S. Hobart, 19, of Shelton, appeared before Judge William A. Wilcox in a session of Stonington town court at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the new town hall on the Stonington-Westerly road, on a charge of automobile speeding on July 28th. The court summons was issued by State Trooper George Webber of the Groton barracks who trailed the Essex coach from the time he reported it coming down Bopter hill, in Mystic, at a high rate of speed until it stopped at the filling station in Mystic on the state road at the junction of Washington street.

Trooper Webber testified that the auto was proceeding all the way from the Mystic drawbridge on the left side of the highway and at a speed shown by his speedometer of between 30 and 40 miles per hour and passing auto traffic at street intersections without slowing down with autos passing in both directions. Hobart was represented in court by Judge Herbert W. Rathbun.

Hobart took the stand in his own defense and testified that he was on his way to visit his mother, Mrs. William Hobart, at 71 Elm street, Stonington, and his operation of the automobile had resulted in no accident or endangered traffic on the highway. In fact, had later unsuccessfully tried to see if he could round the curve at the Mystic station, at 35 miles per hour.

Judge Wilcox found the accused guilty of speeding and ordered him to pay a fine of $10 and costs. Judge Rathbun gave notice of appeal.

COUNCIL TO INVESTIGATE BEACH RIGHTS OF WAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, R. I., Aug. 6—The town council met for regular August meeting on Monday morning in the council chamber of the town hall and following the open meeting went into executive session behind closed doors with Chief of Police Thomas E. Brown and following this another executive session with Highway Engineer A. L. Leon.

Chief Brown is reported to have shown the council fathers the work of the police department covering the month of July in detail, that the members of the council outside of the police committee might have some idea of the extent of police work.

Councilman George E. Broughton raised a question when a bill of $441 was presented for printing and advertising, stating that he did not want to approve a bill for payment until he had seen what the work was. Later folders and maps concerning Westerly, its beach environs, and highways were brought into the council meeting. George E. Utter explained to the councilmen that extra map printing was necessitated this year by the reason of the loss sustained in the Rhode Island hotel fire.

A communication from Holden P. Ballou, proprietor of the Atlantic Beach casino, was received relative to the condition of public toilets there. Having offered land to the town for this purpose he asked for action. An extended discussion was entered into by the council not only of sanitary conditions but on rights of way to the beach and the matter of parking spaces for automobiles to care for such a congestion as was reported to have existed on the past Sunday.

Councilman Isaac Smith reported that at Watch Hill he had found a right of way leading from Ocean View road to the beach near the Lihme estate to have been blocked off with stone and a lawn started. Recourse to zoning maps brought before the council showed many of these rights of way to the beach at Watch Hill, Pleasant View, Atlantic Beach and Weekapaug. On a vote, President Burdick named a committee consisting of Councilmen Rogers E. Trainer and George E. Broughton, to make thorough investigation along all these lines and report back to a future council meeting. The next council meeting will be a special one on building lines to be held on Thursday evening, August 9th, next.

Before the appointment of a council committee George E. Broughton presented the matter of the town ownership of land extending some 250 feet along the pond at the rear of the Atlantic Beach casino. He proposed, with the agreement of the other councilmen, that the marsh land here be cleared and a sand beach with safe bathing for small children be undertaken together with the erection of bath houses at a cost to the public which would meet only the expense involved.

Milk dealers' licenses were voted granted to P. J. Bruno, Westerly; Oscar Georgius, North Stonington; Joseph E. Murray, 11 Newton avenue; Henry H. Blackler, Shore road; William H. Whitmore, 56 Wells street and The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company at Pleasant View Beach.

Violating suspended sentence, 1; intoxication, 5; walking tracks, 1; breaking and entering, 1; wayward person, 1; not having powerful brakes, 7; no license, 1; obscure number plates, 1; insane person, 1; assault with dangerous weapon, 1; passing signal, 1; driving off auto, 1; idle persons, 3, three taken into custody.

Dr. Samuel C. Webster, health officer, reported ten cases of measles and seven of whooping cough.

The health officer recommended that property of the estate of Martha Doust, occupied by Mrs. Martha B. Wilson, be connected with public sewer, following complaint, and a formal order was voted sent.

Building Inspector Thomas Wills reported that during the past month 30 permits had been granted out of 33 applications. Permits were granted for the erection of nine frame buildings and one brick and stone structure. Permits were given for 22 additions. The monthly expense had been $27.05.

Charles J. Butler and James B. Butler were appointed public weighers.

The council endorsed the issuance of a note for $50,000 by the town treasurer for the sewers. The note is dated Sept. 1, 1928 and is due March 1, 1929.

Joseph Lalima of 193 Canal street complained of the unsanitary conditions existing in the brook in the rear of his property and Riverside Park. The council assured him that an investigation of the conditions would be made at once.

Written invitation was reported received by Clerk Whipple for the members of the council to attend the 150th celebration of the Battle of Rhode Island at Buck's Hill, Portsmouth, on August 29. This will be a state celebration. The councilmen present expressed a desire to attend, but they will not decide on who will go until the special meeting Thursday night.

An application was received for a permit to be granted the workers at New Bedford, Mass., to hold a Flower Day here to collect funds. It was voted to allow six girls to come here and sell flowers. The application was received from Richard T. Pearson representing the workers in New Bedford.

NOANK

NOANK WINS VICTORY OVER NEWPORT TEAM

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NOANK, Aug. 6—The Speed Boys of Newport, R. I., came to the fishing village on Sunday morning, coming in a large bus, to play the Dance Hall nine team at Dunn field in the afternoon when the hot sun was beating down on the field and only 50 fans were on hand to see the battle with umbrellas over their heads to keep the sun off. Coach Ike Burns sent to the hill for Newport, Buzz Saw Grant, with Ice Wagon Jackson catching. Coach Billit Crane, for the fox trotters, let the southern pitcher, Swift Carmer do his stuff with Battle Axe Bracci, receiving. Umpire Billie Fitzgerald called the game at 3 o'clock and in the fourth inning Buzz Saw Carmer found that the dancers could hit the apple and they got 3 runs on two hits. But he got out of a bad place with two men on bases. It was a double play that saved him. The shortstop, MacCarthy, caught a fly, back of second base. How that southern boy was pitching them over! The hotter the better for him. The drop ball was fooling the heavy hitters for the R. I. team and Buzz Saw Carmer was working like a clock, and the out curve was breaking good. It sent the Noank base runner, L. Sullivan, back to the bench by the air line three times. In the ninth inning, with three runs Coach Burns sent in a pinch hitter, Chesebro, with the bases full, who caught hold of the slow ball and sent the ball for three bases to tie up the ball game and the fans set back for the extra inning battle. In the 15th inning with the dance hall dancers at the bat, Swift Carmer won the game with a home run, that went out of the field and broke a window in a house across the street. It would make Babe Ruth lay down his bat if he could see that hit and it seems the ball is still going. Final score, Noank 4, Newport 3; it took 3 hours and 10 minutes to play the game.

Kenneth Steele spent Sunday at Savin Rock.

Peter Grant was driving his auto from Vermont to the village to spend his vacation with relatives and getting here on Sunday morning at the waiting room he was telling a small crowd that were standing out in front about a storm that he ran into before reaching Boston, of rain and lightning with hail stones as large as walnuts and several broke his windshield. He had to stop for the night. The lightning hit a barn loaded with 75 tons of hay and 5 cows lost their lives. I thought the ground was covered with moth balls, he said, it was so white. That was the worst storm that I was ever out in. The town was in darkness for a few hours. The crowd went and saw where the ballstones broke the windshield.

Capt. Billie Nusants and his boat Frances and a crew of two men came from Montauk with a catch of 6 sword fish and 25 tuna fish that weight 800 lbs. The largest sword fish was 492 lbs. The tuna fish were caught with about 25 feet of line. These are caught while the sword fish are away off shore. Mast Header Rollin Rathbun got hold of a big tuna, and the line around his wrist to haul it in and he pulled the fisherman overboard. But he caught the row boat and Capt. Musante helped pull in the fish and it weighed 100 lbs. That was Rathburn's first time at the tuna fish game.

William Banks has returned from a short visit in Boston, Mass.

Miss Anna Roberston of Westerly spent Sunday with Noank relatives.

BURNING PAIN OF SUNBURN YIELDS TO RABALM

"My skin burns very easily. I have to take unusual care whenever I am exposed to the sun. But a week ago I was careless. My arms, face and neck were badly burned and blistered. I applied Rabalm which a friend had recommended. The relief from pain was almost immediate. I can't tell you how soothing it was. The blisters gradually dried up and disappeared without breaking. In a week, my skin was as smooth and soft as ever."

When your skin has been burned by the sun or parched by the wind, just smooth on a little Rabalm. It requires no rubbing in, which is so painful in the case of sunburn. It needs only to be smoothed on easily with the lightest touch. It penetrates without rubbing. It will not stain clothing or bed linen. It has a pleasant fragrance which makes it agreeable to use on the face. Two sizes, 50-cents and $1.00 containing 3 times as much. RABALM is for sale by all druggists.

"OVER THE COUNTER"

DEAR DOT:

Well, Dot, what do you think of our business men? Wasn't it great the way they went out and in three days put over—way over—a $30,000 drive to secure a new industry? Such success strikes me as being significant that men who can work so well in building up a city must be good merchants to do business with. They must have that progressive stuff that is so essential in merchants today.

I want to tell you something about another opportunity that is going on on the street. It is the FACTORY TO YOU SALE now going on at the WILSON DRUG STORE. Believe me, there are some real bargains there. The sale is on for the whole month of August, giving you plenty of time to take advantage of a great saving on household and health necessities. It is strictly a Rexall sale, the Wilson store being local representatives of that famous drug line.

Incidentally the sale commemorates the 99th anniversary of the founding of the store. It was established in 1829 at 723 Main street and has continued as a drug store to this day. I hope they will enjoy another century of prosperity.

Just drop in and look over their wonderful offerings. Among the hundreds of items I noted: Olive Oil, $1.00 size for 59c; regular 75c Cotton Rolls for 49c; two 1-2-pound cans of cocoa for 26c; Opekoe Coffee, a really delicious coffee, two pounds for 73c.; etc., etc.

I also want to call to your attention a mighty convenient mail or telephone order system available at this store. Normally an order received this way for anything in the drug line, including prescriptions, is on its way by parcel post or bus delivery within the hour. I think it a very fine service, offering a saving of time and energy. The telephone number is 330 and I suggest you jot it down where it will be convenient.

Do you plan to attend the motion picture shows this week? I like to go because the CAPITOL and GEM houses are kept so cool. It's a big relief to get inside. Tonight is Gift Nite at the GEM—15 beautiful prizes given away free. Tonight and Wednesday night the CAPITOL is showing "Midnight Madness," starring Jacqueline Logan and Clive Brook, and Marie Prevost in "On To Reno." Quite a bill.

Well, I've exhausted myself for this time. Will write again Friday.

Yours, JANE.

WITH SLEEVES OR WITHOUT SLEEVES—THAT IS THE QUESTION.

During these torrid days (written Friday) what is your strongest consideration—appearance or comfort?

Would you suffer discomfort in a long sleeve when a short sleeve would be far more comfortable?

There is nothing that makes the rest of us so comfortable as to see someone else dressed comfortably; we admire and envy at the same time.

Few of us would wear a long-sleeved nightrobe during the coolest part of the day; why wear a long-sleeved dress during the hottest hours?

A purely personal question requiring a purely personal decision. We won't attempt to decide it.

But we will and do offer you the prettiest line of silk dresses you ever saw for $6.98—the short-sleeved and the long-sleeved varieties both being represented.

NEW ENGLAND STORMS

Severe thunderstorms, with high wind, heavy rain and hail have featured the hot spells this summer. Somewhere in New England terrific storms have occurred to break the period of hot weather and as the result death and destruction have been left in their path.

It was up through the Connecticut valley that the storm of Sunday spent itself and it wrought havoc galore. In the area about Holyoke and Chicopee it spent its force causing great damage to crops, flooded roadways, tore down poles, trees and wires, unroofed buildings, overturned garages, caused fires while several deaths and numerous injuries were reported. Conditions were created which will require considerable time to overcome. It was the worst storm of the summer and much more severe than usual.

New England has reason to congratulate itself on many occasions because it is so located as to avoid the effects of cyclones, earthquakes and for the most part the floods which from time to time visit other sections of the country. It escapes the fury of many of the storms which cause such destruction elsewhere and attributes it to the fact that it gets much protection from its hills.

Sunday's storm goes to show that there are times when we get a taste of what others are obliged to endure. Perhaps it is only on a small scale but it gives us reason to better appreciate the fact that we are so located as to escape the frightful wind storms on the great level stretches of country where hills are unknown, and where buildings, crops and everything go when cyclones or floods break upon them. Thus in spite of the opportunity to witness distressing havoc and heavy losses right at home we know by comparison that even though occasional storms are severe there is an advantage in living in old New England. Floods and disastrous storms are known but we are always happy when we have to admit that bad as they are this part of the country escapes much of the undesirable.

THE ELEVATED WRECK

The serious accident which recently occurred on the elevated road in Boston called for such a disclosure of the facts as would operate to prevent any recurrence. As the result of the inquiry that was at once started Governor Fuller of Massachusetts has seriously criticised the management of the elevated on the ground that there was a lack of discipline.

According to his statement the fault appears to lie directly with the motorman of the derailed train, but the presence of the motorman was chargeable to the management engaged in the operation of the road. Just what was involved in permitting that motorman to run elevated trains can be gathered to some extent from his record on that road. He had been reprimanded 37 times, reported as tardy for work or missing 94 times, suspended twice and recommended twice for dismissal.

The impression might be gained from this that no better motorman could be obtained for the position else the management would not have tolerated such an employe. On the other hand the governor's criticism placed the responsibility clearly upon the management. Naturally it prompts the thought as to whether that is the general character of discipline in the operation of the road.

Before the matter is concluded it will be possible to know more about the situation, for right on the heels of the governor's statement comes the Boston Transcript pointing to the fact that it was not long ago that the management of the elevated failed to get the backing it should have gotten when it was engaged in trying to maintain discipline. The inference is that had the management been given the backing it sought the situation would have been decidedly different. As it was the discipline prevailing may have been the type that the management considered it was expected to exert. At any rate the Transcript doesn't consider that it should be blamed for what it tried to and would have remedied had it got the right support some time ago.

Whatever may be the underlying facts there can be no satisfaction in trying to uphold a motorman with such a record.

STUDYING BOULDER DAM

Out at Denver this week there will assemble a commission of three engineers and two geologists who were named by Secretary Work of the interior department for the purpose of making inquiry into the merits of the Boulder dam proposition.

This project has been advocated and opposed by the states of the southwest. It has produced a red hot fight in congress each time it has been brought forward and the situation is such at the present time that inasmuch as the states which are directly concerned canot agree it is not an easy matter to present successfully to the country and congress.

Boulder dam would be constructed on the Colorado river. The states concerned are those which have an interest in the water from that river and those which hope to benefit by the storage reservoir and the power plant which it is desired the government should construct at that point. Naturally the idea of having the government enter upon such an extensive proposition for the benefit of a limited section and to the exclusion of private enterprise has encouraged opposition, and thus far in spite of all the efforts that have been made it has been impossible to present a scheme that could muster the endorsement of the states that have interests at stake.

Under the authority conferred by congress the commission will make an examination of the proposed site for the dam, will review the plans and the estimates made and will make its report to the secretary of the interior not later than the first of December concerning matters affecting the safety, the economic and engineering feasibility and the adequacy of the proposed structure and incidental works.

In view of the opposition which has been manifested and the uncertainty which has prevailed, it is surprising that such a method has not been resorted to before this. Such a report should furnish a basis for action one way or the other, while the matter of government ownership in connection with such a proposition may be dealt with upon its own merits.

ANOTHER SUNKEN SUB

In the sinking of the submarine F-14 by its collision with a destroyer while engaged in maneuvres in the Adriatic there appears to be a similarity to the circumstances which surrounded the loss of the S-4 off Provincetown last winter. This country will thus watch with interest the methods employed in endeavoring to raise the Italian craft. The presence of four sets of diving apparatus, means of getting fresh air to the men in the sunken sub and the establishment of early communication with the trapped crew indicates the preparedness of the Italian navy in meeting such an emergency. Conditions were apparently right for dealing with such a situation although it remains to be seen what handicaps the weather injects as to the progress that can be made in rescue operations.

This accident happened while a United States commission is engaged in studying devices for increasing the safety of those aboard underwater boats, having in mind just such situations as that in which a sunken submarine is placed. Apparently it is a problem which every nation which maintains submarines must face. There will be an inquiry to determine why the submarine did not know of the presence of the destroyer if it was in motion, and the difficulties in connection with the F-14 may depend to a large extent upon the injuries received, but there is no question as to the desirability of surrounding all those who enter submarines with as great a degree of safety as possible. Even though they are warships and must be equipped and run as such, if they are to be continued as such all possible protection that can be thrown about the crews during times of peace should be provided. Perhaps it will be shown that Italy has advanced beyond other nations in this respect. For the sake of those aboard the F-14 it is hoped so.

FEDERAL AGENTS WHO SHOOT

Because of the use of firearms in connection with the enforcement of the dry law warning was issued some time ago that showed the government's position. It disclosed that warnings had been issued to agents against the indiscriminate use of firearms.

That was following the shooting case at Niagara Falls. Since then, and quite recently a man named Boice was shot at Hoboken by a member of the customs guard. It was not a case of self defense but one involving the destruction of a quantity of liquor. The guard has not been white washed. The state authorities have claimed him for trial and the federal department of justice, acting upon a report which has been made by experts which have looked into the matter, has agreed that the state has full jurisdiction in the case and he will be tried before a New Jersey court.

It is to be expected that there will be a full and impartial trial. It will be a case of getting at the facts regardless of what the circumstances were. The accused will have adequate defense but we have no doubt that full emphasis will be laid upon the fact that possession of liquor, though it may be in violation of the law, or the failure to obey the order of the agent, does not justify the shooting of such an individual.

There are plenty of those who are ready to bring a gun into play the moment they find it to their advantage. Against this class of individuals desperate characters, it is necessary that those engaged in the enforcement of the law must be armed, but that doesn't justify reckless shooting by an official any more than at an official. Perhaps this will get the emphasis it deserves in the Jersey trial.

EDITORIAL NOTES

As is always the case the vacationing public is getting a great kick out of August.

The man on the corner says: Think of complaining about the coolness of a cool wave that follows a torrid spell!

Once again the westward flight across the Atlantic has failed and the hazards of such a trip are emphasized.

One report has it that John Coolidge must go to work soon. That being so we have the idea that John is the boy that can do it.

The fellow who is rowing a boat across the Atlantic is having plenty of time to think how nice it must be to cross in a yacht.

Even though it is plenty hot, few would exchange places with those in southern Brazil where extreme cold and snow are reported.

CAKE.

Dot, in tune with the freshness of the morning, said to Bob, "I'll bake a hickory nut cake today if you want me to."

Bob snatched at the suggestion and the rather serious expression on his face was immediately eclipsed by a hearty smile. A little later Dot, left alone, began to count the cost of her hasty offer.

"It's lovely to think of doing nice little things for people, but somehow when you get down to them—Oh, dear"—she cut the reflections and sped cellarward armed with a hammer, a pan and a bag of nuts.

The chime of the phone cut in on the ensuing operations. Bess Roberts announced in a gayly commandeering voice, "I'll be around in a few minutes to carry you down to the club. There's an awful row on about the rugs the committee ordered. We are routing out the members in order to come to some decision."

"But I can't go," stammered Dot, "I'm baking a cake."

"The idea," snapped Bess. "I thought you were a public-spirited individual." For a moment the request and promise hung in the balance and then, somehow the latter took on weight and Bess was crowded off the wire.

Dot returned to the cellar, but her mind was a segment of inconsistencies. Absolutely silly to tie one's self to a cake. She gave an angry whack at the nut she held, winced with pain, dropped the hammer and the nut simultaneously, rose stiffly from her kneeling posture, and in momentary agony, contemplated the abused finger.

"I'm through," she sniffled. "Bob can eat store cake."

She caught up the nuts, the pan, and the hammer, and returned to the kitchen. There she was greeted by a motto hanging above the sink. "HE WHO QUITS IS A COWARD." Exasperated, she flipped the wooden message around with its face toward the wall, but its hidden countenance seemed only to accentuate its suggestiveness.

Finally Dot took the pan, the nuts, and the hammer and went back down into the cellar. But before she had arrived at the mixing stage of her undertaking, the phone rang again. This time it was Myra Hemingway.

"My dear, at the eleventh hour, I am in possession of an extra ticket for the morning musicale at Glacier hall. I know you will jump at the chance to go."

Dot bit into the temptation heroically, but inside she was a flame of wrath. To think of forfeiting aesthetic delights in order to concoct delicacies just to please one's husband! She guessed she liked good music as well as Bob liked homemade cake. Matrimony was like a merry-go-round, always swinging in one direction, in favor of the man. With such thoughts, the cake advanced. By noon the latter reposed in kingly elegance upon Dot's best chop plate.

"There's my morning," she sighed, remembering the club ladies, the Persian rugs, and the musicale.

It was Saturday and Bob came home early.

"Hully gee!" he exclaimed, pointing toward the cake; "let's sample her, Twinkies."

In no time three huge slices disappeared, and yet not one single gust of verbal appreciation did he offer. Here was ample proof that self-imposed martyrdom for one's husband didn't pay. Dot reflected gloomily on the rewards of sacrificing wives, when it dawned upon her that her husband was talking.

"I didn't understand you."

"I want to know if you'll go, because—"

"Go where?" snapped Dot.

"To the opera tonight, because on my way home I stopped and got tickets. And, by the way, Twinkies, that cake was great."—Exchange.

NEW BOOKS

Tide of Empire. By Peter B. Kyne. Illustrated by W. Smithson Broadhead. Cloth. 387 pages. Published by Cosmopolitan Book corporation, New York, N. Y. Price $2.

In this story of the California gold rush, Peter B. Kyne ingeniously recalls that California in '49 was just waking rudely from a much older civilization than today's. He writes:

"What a gold age was that in California prior to the discovery of gold! Even to men whose brown palms had never closed over a gold coin poverty was unknown: no man went without food or shelter in that land where alms giving was almost a religion, where the meanest crime of all was to be niggardly."

The adventurous ways of Dermond D'Arcy, a young Irish nobleman who had ridden on horseback across the Rockies, ingratiates him with this society and particularly with the beautiful Josepha Guerrero, daughter of an Hispano-California rancherо. The feeling against the "Americans," the gold seekers who are ruthlessly invading the ancient settlements is however, sufficient to preclude more than a formal acquaintance. D'Arcy rides away to San Francisco, organizes an amusing group of misfits into champions of law and order and plants a mining camp on a remote corner of the Guerrero ranch.

In spite of D'Arcy's well meaning services to the Guerrero family, his boldness keeps him in hot water with them, though in contact with Josepha. But the same obstinacy that puts him in the way of adventures with both lawless miners and renegade natives finally smashes down the last barrier.

This is another of Mr. Kyne's fascinating stories that awakens and holds attention from beginning to end. It is a story of action but it likewise pictures California in a most interesting manner.

The Island of Captain Sparrow. By S. Fowler Wright. Cloth. 297 pages. Published by Cosmopolitan Book corporation. Price $2.

Mr. Wright is a man of surprises. His "deluge" started off like a triangle story, but wasn't. The Island of Captain Sparrow starts off like a desert island story, but isn't. And the only thing in it to identify Mr. Wright as a consistent sort of human being is its consistently imaginative, consistently creative twist.

Adrift in the Pacific, Charles Foyle reaches an unknown island surrounded by precipitous cliffs. He succeeds in landing, and, after some startling discoveries among the caves, finds himself in a forest, where drinking at a pool are legendary creatures, half man, half beast. Foyle learns from a French dryad—Marcelle by name—of the strange island and its stranger inhabitants. There are huge birds who act as gardeners; there are the loathsome descendants of Captain Sparrow's original pirate settlers and in the midst of all these strange inhabitants dwell the few survivors of an ancient civilization.

Against such a background the author whirls Foyle and the girl through one exciting adventure after another. Confronted by the island dwellers, escape for the pair seems impossible. Yet they find a way out. No sooner does Mr. Wright ease you into a setting of rare freshness and beauty than he begins to make things happen. The author shows great originality and tells an impressive story.

The War Debts. By Philip Dexter and John Hunter Sedgwick. Cloth. 173 pages with appendix. Published by The MacMillan company, New York, N. Y. Price $1.50.

This book is an attempt to draw together and consider the validity of some of the arguments for and against the payment of debts contracted by the allies during the World war and now due the United States. Certain considerations respecting the underlying causes, other than the debts, of antipathy between European nations and our own have been included. The authors present what America owes to England and France. Then they tell why the French and English argue that they ought not to have to repay their war loans. They also present some arguments from the American standpoint for the cancelling of the war debts, and after a discussion of these arguments they come to the conclusion that cancellation is the wisest policy from the point of view of business as well as of friendship and future peace.

YOUR HEALTH

INFECTION IN TUBERCULOSIS AND IMMUNITY

By LeRoy S. Peters, M. D., Albuquerque, N. Mex.

Much has been written—too much—about the ease with which tuberculosis can be contracted. People are paralyzed with fear when caught in the presence of a consumptive. Many states and cities have passed laws which work hardships on the unfortunate victim and are absolutely unnecessary for the protection of the remainder of the populace.

Tuberculosis is a disease of childhood. Infection begins at birth. One cannot be born in a civilized community without daily breathing into the system many tuberculosis bacilli. Repeated infection from infancy up with the right number of bacilli protects the individual. An immunity is established which in six-sevenths of the human race is protective for life. The other seventh break with clinical tuberculosis due to the fact that they were not properly immunized during early years.

What we must guard against in infancy and early childhood is a so-called massive infection before immunity is established. Suppose a child is born into a tuberculosis family or is in contact with an open case of tuberculosis, unless there is great care on the part of the sick person an overwhelming dose of bacilli will be given that child with the result that death will occur from a generalized tuberculosis with brain involvement—tuberculosis meningitis.

If the child is kept from direct contact with an open case repeated small infections will confer an immunity which is usually protective through life. However, if not absolute, later in life when subject to strain and stress through overwork, worry, acute disease or dissipation, the bacilli long dormant in the glandular system light up and are transformed by the lymphatics to the least resistant part of the body, which in the majority of cases is the lung. One has broken down in adult life when, not by virtue of some bacilli wafted him from another adult consumptive, but because of his own bacilli. The infection, as we call it, was endogenous (from within), not exogenous (from without).

What does all this spell in words of one syllable? Not that we must cease being careful about infection, for that is as dangerous as it ever was. But we must see to it that people are educated to protect children from disease.

If this is done, adult tuberculosis will takecare of itself, and in the years to come the disease will be a rarity. Add to this more education to eliminate the phthisiophobia now existent, and the world will be made a happier and healthier place in which to live.

Stories That Recall Others

One Up, Anyway

Two fellows who enjoy an occasional game of golf went out to the course to test their skill at the ancient Scotch pastime. In the office the following day they gave various accounts of their shots, but said nothing about the score.

"Well, how did you come out?" asked one of their fellow workers.

"Yes, who won?" chimed in another.

"Well, I was one up at the end of nine holes," said the more elongated of the two would-be golfers. "I lost three balls and found four."

NORWICH TOWN

The theme of Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey's sermon at Sunday morning worship at the First Congregational church, was "Why Worry?" I Samuel 27:1 was the text. And David said in his heart, I shall now perish one day by the hand of Saul, there is nothing better for me than that I should speedily escape into the land of the Philistines; and Saul shall despair of me, to seek me any more in any coast of Israel, so shall I escape out of his hand.

The Congregational Young Peoples Christian Endeavor service Sunday evening, was also in charge of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bailey, who ably treated the topic, Personal Conviction vs. Following the Crowd. Acts 5:27-29, was the Scripture reference. The four topics to be discussed during August come under the heading of "Responsibility Emphasis."

In the absence of Organist Herbert L. Yerrington, who is having his annual vacation, the organ at the First Congregational church on Sunday morning was supplied by Mrs. Olive Riley Roberts, of Norwich. Mrs. Roberts, organist at Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, is also having her vacation from her regular duties.

The mid-week service of conference and prayer Thursday evening, in the Congregational chapel, will have for its lesson theme "Christian Consideration," with the following questions for discussion: What Claims Have Others On Our Thoughts? How Do We Often Show Thoughtlessness? Alternative topic—The Transfiguration. Scripture references are found in Romans 15:1-7, and Luke 9:28-36.

When the conference for Sunday school teachers is held at Connecticut Agricultural college at Storrs, August 14th to 25th, it is expected that several of the teachers from the Norwich Town Congregational church school, will attend a part of the conference. The vesper services from the 15th to the 20th will be conducted by Miss Margaret Slattery of Boston, while Miss Frances Danielson will have charge of the demonstration school. There will be special courses for the pupils in New Testament studies, for beginners in materials and methods for primary teaching, for junior teachers, for teachers of adolescent pupils, as well as instruction in social and recreational leaderships and church school administration.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal? That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is an internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, sold by Lee & Osgood Co. and all druggists with guarantee of money back if it fails?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause—stagnation of blood in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation.

JOHN KUKLA ELECTED CEMETERY SUPERINTENDENT BY THE COUNCIL

The question of who should be chosen for city cemetery superintendent, which has been hanging fire since the new common council took office in June, was settled at the August meeting of the council Monday night when the solid republican council voted unanimously for John Kukla who will displace Aubrey W. Jarvis who held the office when there was a democratic majority in the council.

Mr. Kukla has been a well known tailor in the city for years and is also a musician, playing in bands and orchestras.

Mayor Lee Roy Robbins called the council meeting to order at 8 o'clock, but a recess was at once taken while the council members adjourned to the mayor's room for conference behind closed doors and it was 9:30 before the regular council session was called to order again in the council chamber for the transaction of business.

Petitions Presented

When the council was again in session, Clerk Weston C. Pullen read petitions as follows:

Mrs. Herbert W. Mitchell and Bridget McKelvey asked for extension of Garfield avenue sewer; referred to public works committee.

Hyman Rothman's petition for removal of branches from a tree in front of 20 Fairmount street was referred to the public works committee.

The same action was taken on the petition of residents of Robbins court to have it accepted as a public street with a deed from Lee Roy Robbins. Later the committee reported acceptance of the street and ordered the deed recorded.

Eight or ten Main street merchants between Rose place and Ferry street asked for a hearing on a change of the traffic ordinance so as to give a 20-minute parking limit there. They made the claim that the present brief limit is driving business away and discouraging their patrons. This was referred to the police commissioners.

A petition signed by Joseph J. Fields and others to have the traffic ordinance amended so as to make Church street a two-way street, with parking on only one side, was referred to the police commissioners.

A communication from John Troland of 2 Winchester place was referred to the public works committee. Mr. Troland wanted to know when the work was to begin on the Summer street sewer for which an appropriation had been made in the annual city meeting.

A claim made by Benjamin Wulf for rebate on an auction license was presented, referred to the finance committee, which later reported the recommendation to authorize the city treasurer to make the refund.

A communication from Attorney E. W. Higgins offering his services in the work of the committee on charter revision was referred to that committee, and a petition from Elmer E. Pitcher for appointment as city surveyor was received and referred to the public works committee.

The council adopted a resolution which was presented from the recreation commission asking that a balance of the appropriation which remains be held to the order of the commission for the purpose for which it was originally intended. The amount of the balance was not stated.

Mayor Robbins called for nomination for superintendent of city cemeteries and Councilman Charles A. Hagberg nominated John Kukla. The 11 ballots cast were all for Mr. Kukla and Mayor Robbins declared him elected for a year or until his successor is elected.

The council passed a vote directing the superintendent of city cemeteries to submit a new schedule of rates and charges for cemetery work.

An ordinance was proposed amending the ordinance of Nov. 4, 1907, applying to cemetery trust funds so that the minimum fund shall be changed from $100 to $50.

Mayor Robbins explained that this was because there are many half-lots owned in the cemetery now. The old minimum of $100 was established for whole lots, but now that there are many half-lots the $50 minimum is desirable. A hearing is to be held at the September council meeting which will be on the fourth of the month.

A hearing is to be held on the same date on another amendment which was proposed. This is to the ordinance concerning fireworks and provides for a license fee of $15 to sell at wholesale, $5 to sell at retail and $20 to sell at both wholesale and retail. The license is to be issued by the chief of police and there is a $5 penalty for violation of the ordinance which forbids giving or selling gunpowder to any minor under 14 without written order from parents or guardian.

Mayor Robbins stated this was meant to correct a condition where there had been little police knowledge or control in the sale of fireworks heretofore.

The annual report of the audit of city accounts by Charles S. Eaton was ordered printed in the journal as was the monthly report of Street Commissioner Herbert B. Wightman.

Printing of 550 copies of the 27th annual report of the fire department was ordered, and the usual number of the annual report of the gas and electric department was ordered printed.

Department bills were approved and ordered paid as follows:

Public works (57) $26,355.64, fire department (30) $8,827.64, recreation commission (16) $2,589.50, gas and electric department (224) $75,548.56, cemetery department (15) $1,515.75, police department (18) $6,655.48, street lighting $2,382.55, park department (13) $566.44, Deep River reservoir (8) $631.89, water department (44) $7,-336.39, finance department (52) $3,-874.55.

Councilman Hagberg reported the price of $60 quoted for a flag for the council chamber, size 30x24, including staff with halyards, and he was requested to secure a colored sketch to show the council, before placing the order.

Mayor Robbins warned the council members who serve on committees which have been appointed on special matters that he would expect to have some reports by the September meeting.

The council adjourned at 10.10 until Tuesday, Sept. 4.

"The department responded to 219 alarms, three more than reported in 1927. Of the above number of alarms, 23 were for fires and alarms beyond the city limits. The greatest distance traveled to an out of the city fire was to Westerly, R. I., Monday, April 16, 1928, at 1:35 a. m., 18 miles. Help was requested to assist in fighting the hotel fire, Engine Company No. 1 and the chief responded and arrived back at 6:30 a. m.

The building was three and one half stories, of frame construction and more than 100 years old.

"Several other fires occurred in the business district in the month of February which would have been disastrous but for the quick alarm sent in and the quick response and work of the department."

The report shows that the permanent force of the department consists of the chief, who is also superintendent of fire alarm telegraph, fire marshal and building inspector, one deputy chief, five captains, two lieutenants, 27 firemen, first grade, two firemen, second grade, two firemen, third grade and a call force of eleven men, a total force of 51.

Buildings and contents at risk amounted to $1,020,325; insurance carried on same $809,109; paid on building and contents $86,165; fire loss, insured and uninsured $86,165; loss above insurance, none.

In concluding the report Chief Stanton says:

"For several years recommendations have been made for a new station on the West Side to displace old No. 5 station. Also the need of a city service ladder truck has been recommended for several years. The above recommendations should have attention at the earliest possible moment. Also more fire alarm boxes are needed in all sections of the city and old pony boxes should be displaced and new boxes purchased.

"To the retiring mayor, the Hon. Milo R. Waters and Commissioners Greason and Ringella I extend my sincere thanks for their cooperation and support in everything pertaining to the interests of the fire department and benefit to the city covering several years.

"To the officers and members of the department as heretofore I again express my sincere appreciation for their cooperation and support on all occasions.

KOZIOL WILL BE MATCHED WITH BOY FROM BOSTON IN DUWELL A. A. AMATEURS

For the first time since he won the amateur lightweight championship of Rhode Island, Al Koziol, the local windmill will display his wares before the fight following in Norwich when he appears at the first of the outdoor boxing shows to be presented by the Duwell club at the Duwell field Friday night.

Although Al was seen in action here many times since taking up the industry of the padded mitts because of the conditions that have existed in the state for the past five months, nothing has been seen of him here since the night late last February when he flattened four of the leading simon pures of little Rhody within four minutes to win the highest honors of his class in that state.

Since winning the Rhode Island title he has fought no less than twenty bouts at Providence and won the biggest percentage of them with quick knockouts. Last week he fought the lightweight champ of Canada and sent him slumbering within less than a minute. Anyone that has ever seen the Laurel Hill boy in action will agree that there is no lost motion while he is in the ring. At the present time there is no one in the vicinity willing to tackle him, so that it will be necessary for the Duwells to import a competitor for Al's first fight in Connecticut since he became a champ.

Another of the old time favorites who always gives the fans a series of thrills, Charles Chape of Westerly, sent his entry in Monlay and will be matched with some suitable opponent on Friday. Chape is one of a team of five that will represent Westerly at the opening Duwell show.

A wire was received late Monday afternoon from J. Frank Facey, secretary of the New England association of the A. A. U. stating that he would positively have a team of out of state boxers on hand for the show Friday. Just who they are or where they are coming from is not known as yet. A letter containing all the details will be forwarded to the local club today by the New England A. A. U. secretary.

Everything points to a great show and a record crowd for the Duwell comeback in the amateur fight game as the best of simon pures lineup for the opening bell.

Out of Providence where Koziol last fought on Friday night comes the following story: Koziol, after having floored Billy Heathfield, Canadian lightweight, for a count of nine and then for the full count in the first round, was watching the Canadian's seconds reviving him. As Heathfield was returning fro mthe land of dreams and was still groggy the referee nudged Koziol and remarked out of the corner of his mouth, "Go over and shake hands with him." Koziol, his face wreathed in smiles, rushed across to Heathfield's corner, grasped the Canadian by the hand, pumped it up and down, and said 'Pleased to meet-cha."

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6—(AP)—The lowly Phillies gave the Chicago Cubs a rude jolt today by handing them a double licking. The Tail-Enders won the first game of a double header 8 to 7 and the second, 5 to 1.

Slipshod fielding by the Cubs helped the Phillities to runs in both games. Hack Wilson hit two home runs in the first game each time with man on base, and brought his total for the season to 26.

The Phillies pounded Charley Root hard in the pinches in the second game, while Alex Ferguson held the Cubs to eight hits. Score:

TWO DUSTY LEAGUE GAMES THIS EVENING

Two Industrial league games are slated for this evening. At Hollyhock Island the Insilcos and Thermos Bottlers play off their game postponed from Monday because of the inclement weather and at the Academy campus the Y. M. C. A. and Polish Citizens club outfits will tangle.

Both games have much bearing on the league race and plenty of action is promised.

The shift to Hollyhock of the postponed engagement is made so that not too many of these games will pile up at the end of the season.

Either Leo Jarvis or Jerry Lamphere for the Insilcos and Johnny Greene for the Thermos are the probable hurlers at Hollyhock while at the campus Henry Couture will in all probability draw the mound assignment for the Yers and Pete Labenski looms as the probable pitching choice for the Citizens.

Both games will start at 6:30 o'clock.

"Irish" Meusel Is Released.

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Emil "Irish" Meusel, outfielder, and Jimmy Caveney, third baseman, were unconditionally released by the Oakland Pacific Coast league club today. J. Cal Ewing, president of the club, said they had "not delivered as expected" this season. Meusel formerly was a star outfielder with the New York Nationals.

TAFTVILLE-VOLUNTOWN AGAIN TONIGHT

The clans of Troland and Burdick gird up their loins, shine up the bats and limber up their throwing arms and go at each other this evening on the Providence street grounds in a renewal of the baseball feud that has existed since early in the season. At the present writing the advantage is decidedly with the Burdick organization as that crafty manager has hung two defeats onto Troland's warriors and these have rankled deep in the soul of the gray-thatched Taftville pilot. Revenge is an inadequate word to express what Manager Troland is praying for against Voluntown-Glasco club tonight. Troland wants the scalp of Burdick, in fact he demands it.

But the question is—will he get it? The astute manager of Voluntown's baseball destinies, is not in the least suspicious, but preparedness is one of his many virtues. His demeanor sugests that old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. He announces to the world at large that he is bringing an umpire of his own to the game and insists, yes, emphatically insists, that this ump be allowed to officiate on bases. After deep cogitation on the matter it would seem that this action is a left-handed slap at Manager Troland's sportsmanship and upon the integrity of his umpiring staff. However that is as it may be but that there will be a ball game in which there will be a weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth is a certainty and no red-blooded fan can afford to miss it. The lineups of both teams remain a secret unth game time.

TIGERS HALT ATHLETICS IN PENNANT RUSH

DETROIT, Aug. 6—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers checked the advance of the Athletics today by winning the third game of the series, 8 to 5. Neither Whitehill for Detroit, nor Earnshaw for Philadelphia, the starting pitchers, finished. Whitehill was batted out in the seventh after three successive singles had scored two runs and Earnshaw was relieved by Rommel in the fourth when the Tigers scored three times. Rommel gave way to Quinn in the eighth. Harry Heilmann got his second homer in two days. Score:

KRESS AND MANUSH ARE STARS OF BROWNS' WIN

The victory, which gave the Browns a two to one edge in the series, was marked by much hitting, with Harriss and Griffin giving eleven safeties and Ogden of the winners ten. Score:

AULBACH AND NICOLL LEAD NEW ENGLAND PROS

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 6—(AP)—George Aulbach, Watertown, and Bert Nicoll, Belmont, with cards of 152, today led the New England Professional Golfers in their qualifying tournament for the P. G. A. title hunt in Baltimore. The matches were played over a wind-swept and rain-soaked Worcester Country club course, difficult under ideal conditions, but decidedly hazardous in adverse weather.

The others to land among the first five places were Willie Ogg, Worcester, 154; Louis Chiappetta, Sequin, 155, and Charles MacAndrews, Laconia, 156. MacAndrews won his place after a play-off with George Easton, Warwick; Dave Hackney, Merrimac Valley, and John Bernardi, Charles River. Easton carried MacAndrews to five extra holes before he finally was vanquished.

The scores generally were high, due to the sogey conditions, but the leaders largely overcame these obstacles by brilliant golf. Aulbach and Nicoll, after dubious starts, got into stride as the day wore on, closing with consistently good golf that kept them out in front.

Massie B. Miller, professional at the Norwich Golf club turned in a round of 77 in the morning but in the afternoon was forced to take an 84 giving him 161 for the 36 hole qualifying round. The sogey greens and fairways, driving rain and wind made a combination that made low scoring an impossibility.

JIM TROLAND TO PUT ON FAST BALL CLUB AT HOLLYHOCK GROUNDS SUNDAY

Taftville A. A., winners of the first round of the state league and at present leader of the loop, is to withdraw from the league and transfer its Sunday activities to the new Hollyhock Island diamond according to an announcement made last night by Manager James E. Troland. The Taftville pilot has long been dissatisfied with the calibre of teams that have come to Taftville as members of the state league and he finds that his club is losing money by remaining in the circuit. By playing away from home, he has barely made expenses and the break which he has been forced to accept relative to the schedule is not to his liking.

Manager Troland has decided that he had rather drop the league and play to a home-town crowd on Sundays than take his team afield. Arrangements for the use of the Hollyhock Island diamond which was opened early this month have been made with the recreation commission and the first game will be played on Sunday. The team will not be known as the Taftville A. A. but will go under the name of the Norwich Baseball club. The personnel of the club will be the same as the Taftville team that plays on Saturday at Taftville. Manager Troland is now ready for bookings for the remainder of the season and is keeping the wires hot between Taftville and cities in Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island arranging an attractive schedule for the local baseball fans. Tentative plans include games with the leading semi-pro clubs in these three states during the next two months with a late season program of games with Eastern league clubs and possibly a major league club or two, all depending of course on the support accorded his club by the fans.

Hollyhock Island, centrally located in the city, has been made into a real fast baseball diamond and recreation place, with bleachers for the accommodation of the crowds. For a first year diamond it is exceptionally fast and in another year or so will be one of the best diamonds in the eastern part of the state. Norwich has long felt the want of such a field and with a good Sunday baseball attraction it should become one of the popular gathering places of baseball fans in Norwich and vicinity. The parking facilities are excellent and large crowds can be accommodated with ease.

Just what team will be booked for the opening game is undecided but Manager Troland is endeavoring to book a fast club if possible but the suddenness of his decision has not left him much time to book a game and he will be forced to take most any club with an open date. Announcement of the team to be played will be made later in the week.

KAMM'S HIT IN 15TH BEATS THE YANKEES

CHICAGO, Aug. 6—(AP)—Bill Kamm, captain of the White Sox, and his roommate Bib Falk, kept the Yankees from increasing their three and one half game lead over the Athletics today. With two out in the fifteenth inning, the score tied at 4 to 4, and Falk on first base, Kamm landed on a fast ball from George Pipgras and drove it to deep left center to send Falk home with the run that gave the White Sox a 5 to 4 victory.

The Yankee's lead remained unchanged as the Athletics dropped a game to Detroit.

The veteran Urban Faber pitched the first eight innings and allowed all of the Yankees' runs to score. Grady Adkins finished the game and gave only two hits in the remaining seven innings. Waite Hoyt started for the Yanks and give three runs and eleven hits. Moore carried the burden for two frames, yielding a run and four hits, and Pipgras went in in the tenth, pitching himself out of a hole in almost every inning but being charged with the loss of the game. Adkins got credit for the win. Score:

ELKS AND ROTARY IN SECOND PLACE BATTLE TONIGHT

The Elks and Rotary teams play tonight in the Junior Twilight league game at Duwell field in what promises a stiff battle for second place in the race. Bot hteams are playing good ball and the winner this evening will get possession of the runner-up position, for a short time, at least.

The brand of ball played in this league is far above expectations, with several likely prospects showing up among the younger talent. Although the Taftville Legion team now leads by a safe margin, still the two teams that battle tonight and which are generally conceded the best chance of catching Taftville, have not given up hope by any means and the winner this evening intends to go right out after the villagers with renewed determination.

Riordan and Bamber for the Elks and Weisgraber and Drew for the Rotary are the probable batteries. The game starts at 6:30 o'clock.

LOUGHRAN SIGNS TO FIGHT SHARKEY, OCT. 5

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—Evidently prepared to relinquish his light heavyweight title, Tommy Loughran today signed articles with Tex Rickard for a 15-round bout against the Boston Lithuanian, Jack Sharkey, at Madison Square Garden, October 5. Sharkey's signature has not yet been obtained but his manager, Johnny Buckley, is to confer with Rickard here tomorrow.

After Gene Tunney's retirement, Loughran announced he was ready to abandon his 175 pound crown and cast his lot with the heavyweights.

Bouts Postponed

HARTFORD, Aug. 6—(AP)—Rain forced the postponement of the card of new talent professional bouts scheduled for tonight until tomorrow night. A new feature bout has been substituted for the original one, Maurice Holtzer, France, meets Eddie Curley, Boston in tomorrow's headliner.

WELTERWEIGHT CHAMP AT LAWN PARTY TONIGHT

Samuel Lazzaro of Baltimore will be in Norwich today. This announcement would mean little to the average person on the street but if we say that Joe Dundee is to be here today, why everybody at all versed in boxing lore would know that we meant the welterweight champion of the world. Joe Dundee, who won his way to the title through stiff elimination bouts after Pete Latzo had outgrown the class, comes to Norwich today to be the guest of honor at the lawn party of St. Patrick's church tonight. Dundee will arrive this afternoon with his retinue of sparring partners and will give a four round boxing exhibition with one of them as the feature of the boxing card arranged for this evening's entertainment. Dundee has had a colorful career in the ring and only last winter engaged in a controversy regarding the purse for his battle with Ace Hudkins in California.

Augmenting the feature attraction will be five or six bouts between local boys including Koziol, Jimmy Quinn, Mush Moriarty, Vic Dwyer and a number of other local favorites. The lawn party is to be held at the K. of C. grounds.

MISS NORELIUS SWIMS TO VICTORY IN RECORD TIME

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 6—(AP)—A brilliant championship victory by Martha Norelius of New York in the women's 400-meter free style swim and an unexpectedly severe defeat by the water polo team at the hands of Hungary by 5 to 0 featured the activities of the American Olympic water sports representatives today.

In addition, Clarence Crabbe of Honolulu, and Ray Ruddy of New York finished third and fourth respectively in the 1,500-meter men's free style final which was won by Arne Borg of Sweden, also in record-breaking time, with Andrew Charlton of Australia, the former champion, second.

There were only two finals on the day's swimming program but preliminary competition got under way in the 200-meter breast stroke swim and in spring-board diving. Thomas Blankenburg of Oakland, Calif., the only American breast stroke entry, qualified in a heat won by Eric Rademacher of Germany, world's record holder, in the new Olympic record time of 2 minutes, 52 seconds. Blankenburg finished second. In diving, Pete Desjardines, Miami Beach, Fla., and Michael Galitzen, better known as Mickey Reilly of the Los Angeles A. C., qualified for the finals, while the third American entry, Harold Smith, Los Angeles A. C., was expected to be admitted to final competition, although a dispute over scoring

EIGHT MILL TAX VOTED AT BOROUGH MEETING

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, Aug. 6—The adjourned annual borough meeting laid an eight-mill tax tonight collectible on the second Monday of September. It was announced at the meeting that the grand list of the borough is $2,260,155 and that the budget for the year is $23,736. The new tax rate is one mill less than the rate last year and Warden Harry E. Back announced that were it not for sewer construction costs that the borough must meet that the rate might have been as low as 7 1-2 mills. Following the adjournment of the annual borough meeting a special borough meeting was held to pass upon petitions for sewer extension in various streets. This meeting appropriated $224 for the extension of a sewer in Prince street, $715 for another extension in Stearn street, $250 for 100 feet of sewer street in Water street and $165 for a short extension on Franklin street. Walter Emerson was chairman of both meetings and Frank T. Preston clerk.

STATE PREPARES ITS CASE AGAINST "ICE BOX" BANDITS

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, Aug. 6—While they languish in the county jail at Brooklyn, awaiting trial for their lives a month hence, preparations for the court appearances of Albert Raymond and Roland G. Lalone are proceeding steadily and the state's case made ready down to the last detail.

That the prisoners sense their position is a desperate one is indicated by the array of counsel that has been retained for the defence. From a source that apears wholly reliable comes a report that the prisoners already have spent $4,000 for legal services.

The trial, set for early September, promises to become one of the most celebrated in the criminal annals of Windham county. Whatever the outcome of it, the cost to the state and county will run into thousands of dollars. Since early spring the prisoners, charged with the murder of State Officer Irving H. Nelson on last Good Friday night at Pomfret, have been confined at Brooklyn and constantly, day and night, under special, heavy guard. The bill for the guards alone will run into hundreds of dollars, and that item is but one of many involved in the procedure that eventually will result in the disposal of the cases.

All through the spring and into the summer representatives of the state have been engaged in investigations and inquiries along lines tending to build upon all other evidence obtained to warrant trying Lalone and Raymond for murder in the first degree, a charge that involves the death penalty in case of conviction. While the state is carefully guarding much of the information that it has obtained for use in the trial, it has become known that it has what is regarded as a strong case. The state will summon a number of witnesses from Massachusetts.

Though there is vast interest throughout the county in the case, few not in some way connected with the court proceedings will have an opportunity to attend the trial. The number of persons rating exclusively as spectators will be limited probably to as small as 50, though that figure may be exceeded slightly. This restriction, it is said, will be due to limited court room facilities for spectators. For Windham county, an unprecedented number of newspapermen will be on hand to write of the trial, numbers of them from Massachusetts, from which state Lalone and Raymond come, their homes being in Worcester. The prospect now appears to be that the case will be tried in Willimantic.

The drive to enroll Windham county women who have never become electors and who favor the success of the republican party is getting under way. This afternoon Miss Ida Armington, vice-chairman of the Killingly republican town committee and representing this town in this particular effort for the republican women's organization of the county, said that she is anxious to get in touch with all women who have not been made voters, but who may wish to do so and aid toward republican success in the presidential election in November.

It so happens that there are hundreds of women in Killingly who could qualify as voters if they wished, but who have never taken the trouble to do so. It being conceded that the national campaign just ahead is going to be one of the most lively in a generation and very closely contested in Connecticut, a special effort is to be made to add to republican party strength by recruiting additional votes from among the women residents of this town, and the same is to be done in other Windham county towns. Mrs. Armington says she is anxious to hear from all women who wish to be made electors and who are interested in helping the republicans achieve a November victory in Connecticut.

To the average person there is something very fascinating in contemplating how seeds can be dormant for many years and yet produce with unabated vigor if given the opportunity. This may be illustrated by mention of the fact that some flowering peas—not sweet peas, however—are now in bloom at the Wilfred Pluze cottage on Carter street. The seeds that produced the plants and blossoms that they bear had been kept for 27 years, and were given to Mrs. Pluze by a neighbor.

Alexander's lake is yielding some splendid strings of bass this year, and sportsmen who have been out on the beautiful body of water have been getting real thrills through battling with the gamey fish. Two Taftville men who were at the lake at the week end—their names were not obtained—brought in three bass weighing a total of 7 1-2 pounds, the largest of the three fish weighing 4 1-2 pounds.

This afternoon at the home in Wauregan where she lived with her sister, Miss Mary Mulcrue, the death of Sarah Mulcrue, 73, occurred. Miss Mulcrue was a native of Ireland. She came to this country as a young woman and had made her home in Wauregan for many years.

Such minor damage as the electrical storms of yesterday afternoon and last night did to wire service companies in this territory was being rapidly cleared up today by line crews. In strange contrast to the punishing heat of Saturday and Sunday, today's temperature, taken with the rainy weather, was so low as to find numbers of people wearing wraps for comfort.

Because of the torn up condition at the junction of Reynolds and Stearns streets the big motor coaches on the Providence-Hartford line are now getting in and out of Danielson via Stearns street and also going south to Wauregan and then to Brooklyn to avoid detours on the Danielson-Providence route. The use of Stearns street is likely to continue for an indefinite time, as work has not as yet been resumed on the abandoned contract of Eugene F. Gobeille.

Berry pickers are counting on this week to be one of the most profitable of the season for the time. The hot weather of the past week coupled with the rain of today was being counted upon to ripen vast quanities of berries that have not been ready for picking up to this time. However, the countryside hereabouts has yielded hundreds of quarts during the past fortnight.

That the Orpheum theater may be remodeled and ready for use again in early December, artisans employed there are putting in a great amount of overtime work. Very considerable progress has been made, though there remains a major part of the work planned to be done.

This afternoon 86 guarantors for next year's Chautauqua in Danielson had been obtained, and it was forecasted that the number will reach 100 in the immediate future. This Tuesday evening these guarantors for the coming year are to meet with Mrs. Frederic O. Armington at her home on Main street.

In the town court this morning Edward Demers, 28, of Putnam, was fined $100 for operating a motor vehicle while he was under the influence of an intoxicant and $10 for operating a motor vehicle without registration plates. Demers was arrested here last night by Officer John Gebert.

If that part of the Danielson-Brooklyn highway between the Quinebaug bridge and the Maples could be completed promptly much of the complaint arising over slow reconstruction progress would be overcome. Individuals having business interests in the area mentioned are said to be suffering considerable losses through diversion of traffic.

Attorney Harry E. Back was among the members of the bar from Danielson at the funeral services for Judge Edgar M. Warner in Putnam yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Henry C. Dixon of Norwich, formerly a practicing physician here, was a visitor in Danielson yesterday.

LOCAL CAR IS FACTOR IN EXPOSURE OF CUSTOMS MEN

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, August 6—The mystery surrounding the theft of a large Studebaker sedan, the property of Guy Zito, a local taxi driver, taken from his home in April 1923 has just been cleared up through a series of investigations conducted by William Ducondu, a private investigator in the service of the Canadian government. Shortly after the car was stolen, Captain William Jarvis of the Putnam police received information from Canadian customs officials, stating the stolen machine had been abandoned in Montreal and was at the time in possession of the government. Accordingly Captain Jarvis and Guy Zito departed for Canada to return the car to the United States. Captain Jarvis interviewed chief of customs, R. P. Clerk, in Montreal, who informed him that the car was in a storage house with other confiscated property and if identified the Putnam men could have the car by paying a sum of money, expended by the Canadians, to locate the car. Capt. Jarvis and Mr. Zito felt that the amount was too large, but went to the storage house and failed to identify their property.

Information was obtained from an employe of the customs bureau, that Clerk had recovered the car and was using it himself, giving Captain Jarvis a story to throw him off the trail.

Captain Jarvis stated today, he was not satisfied with Clerk's information and he proceeded to Ottawa with Zito, where he had a conference with Commissioner of Customs Farrell. Apparently Farrell was in league with Clerk as he stated that he could do nothing for them regarding the situation.

Mr. Zito at the request of Captain Jarvis, turned the case over to Investigator Ducondu, who in turn employed John Gagon, a Montreal attorney to handle the case. Ducondu conducted a number of investigations, which resulted in the crime being exposed and the government promptly dismissed the leading customs officials, Clerk and Farrell for their actions.

A civil action was brought against the two men in the Montreal courts and a settlement was reached, Gagnon obtaining over $300 damages from the men. According to Investigator Ducondu, Gagnon seeing the opportunity, forged Mr. Zito's name on the check and obtained the funds. Mr. Ducondu in an interview with Captain Jarvis, Sunday, stated he had proved Gagnon's guilt and has brought about his arrest in Canada, where he is being held for trial in the Montreal courts in September.

Captain Jarvis stated this afternoon that the government in Canada wishes Mr. Zito to go to Canada to appear against Gagnon when he is brought to trial.

HAVEN HOME TO BE DEDICATED ON SATURDAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, August 6—The Haven home for elderly and invalid people in the village of Abington will be dedicated with appropriate exercises on Saturday August 11 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The newly erected home has a bit of interesting history. It was originally an Advent chapel, and after years of standing unoccupied was purchased by Mrs. A. G. Griggs who formerly was Miss Susan J. Howe of Norwich, and was remodeled into a nursing home. Early in the year Mr. St. Morris Murray of Gewn Acres farm, Pomfret and Boston donated funds that constituted the beautiful addition that has just recently been completed and the name "Haven" was given it.

The furnishings for the Haven were given by Mrs. Murray and her mother Mrs. R. M. Clark, of Pomfret.

Those interested in this social service now being rendered by Mrs. Griggs at this home, which chiefly is caring for the old and helpless are cordially invited to attend the dedication.

Speakers for the occasion will be Rev. Sherrod Soule, D. D., of Hartford, a native of Abington and a nationally known historian of Connecticut, Rev. G. B. Hawkes of Abington and Rev. Yvo O. Wand of Niantic.

A wedding that took place this morning at St. Mary's church was that of Eugene Guilman of Woonsocket, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Guilman of that city and Miss Anne Theroux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleophus Theroux of Putnam. The couple were married at a nuptial mass celebrated by Rev. U. O. Bellerose, pastor of St. Mary's, who also solemnized the ceremony.

Warner Page of Brooklyn requested this morning a contradiction of the item appearing in the Putnam news in the Bulletin of Saturday morning, announcing his engagement to Miss Elizabeth Jackson of Putnam.

In Killingly Saturday evening John LaBelle reported to the state police barracks at Danielson, that his car, a red coupe had been stolen from his home. Police alarms were sent out by the state officers to police in surrounding towns. The word was received here by Sergt. George Liard of the Putnam police, who immediately set out with the local patrol wagon in an attempt to locate the stolen automobile. Near the Burrill home on the Providence road, Sergt. Liard nearly encountered an accident with an automobile of the description given him by the state police. The car failed to stop, increased its speed in the direction of Providence with the Putnam police official hot on its trail. The driver refused to obey to Sergt. Liard's command to stop, until he became desperate and fired a shot from his revolver at the fast moving vehicle. The report of the gun soon brought results and the driver came to a halt. Sergt. Liard, gun in hand, aproached the operator and was about to take him in when he informed him, that he was the rightful owner of the car. LaBelle proved this to the officer and informed him that his car had been returned a few minutes after he had summoned for police assistance in locating it.

Several times this has occurred in Putnam in recent months.

Terrific thunderstorms in the outlaying districts Sunday morning and Sunday evening disrupted telephone service in Putnam and Danielson, according to a statement from local telephone officials here today. In Danielson 150 telephones were put out of order and in Putnam 75 were not functioning after the storm. Linemen, early were on the job and this morning service was restored to all crippled stations.

A death in Pawtucket on Saturday was that of Mrs. Sophie Bibeault of Putnam, who died at the age of 84 years. Mrs. Bibeault is the mother of Eustache Bibeault of this city. She has lived in Putnam for many years, and at the time of her fatal sickness was visiting with relatives in Pawtucket. The body was removed to her home in charge of local undertakers.

A number of girls of St. Mary's parish left today for the Boy Scout camp at Crystal lake in Eastford to spend the remainder of the week. The camp grounds were evacuated Saturday evening by the remaining troops of the church who had spent the previ-

SPECULATIVE BUYING OPERATIONS CREATED BUOYANT STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—Disregarding the efforts of bankers to curtail the volume of speculative credit, the stock market continued to move upward today in response to selective buying operations in the oil, motor, mercantile, food, chemical and amusement shares. There were a few soft spots scattered throughout the list, but no evidence of any concerted selling either on the part of "bear" traders or frightened investors. Gains in most of the active issues ranged from 1 to 3 points, although a sprinkling of specialties were marked up 5 to 23 points.

The attitude that the corporations loaning money on call had a right to do as they wished with their surplus funds and that the obstacles recently placed in their way by bankers would be overcome. In some quarters, however, it was felt that the seasonal expansion of business this fall might result in a withdrawal of these surplus corporate funds from the call money market and create another credit stringency. It was pointed out that the federal reserve authorities might ease such a situation by buying government securities, but little hope is held out for such action on their part unless brokers' loans and rediscounts are materially reduced.

Call money renewed at 6 per cent today, as against 7 on Friday, and held steady at that figure despite the calling of about $10,000,000 in loans. Time money and commercial paper rates held firm.

Differences of opinion regarding the credit outlook as it affects the stock market are understood to have arisen among prominent operators who were largely responsible for the spring advance in prices. William C. Durant is credited for the belief that the situation—will work itself out without further action on the part of bankers and he is reported to have been a heavy buyer of stocks. On the other hand, Arthur E. Cutten, the Fisher Brothers and some of the other large operators are reported to be more concerned over the money situation, and inclined to restrict their activities until credit conditions are stabilized.

Motors moved forward again today under the leadership of General Motors which was bought in expectation of an extra dividend at Thursday's meeting of the directors instead of later in the year as reported last week. Oils were heavily accumulated on a further extension of recent gasoline price advances, and reports of large current earnings. Coppers also responded to the improved trade outlook. Kennecott and Utah reaching a new high ground.

National Tea soared 20 points to a new high record at 286 1-2. Among the score or so other issues to break into new high ground were Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Sears Roebuck, Grand Stores, Warner Bros. Pictures, American Ice, American Sumatra Tobacco, Motor Wheel, Otis Elevator, Coty, International Nickel, Electric Auto Lite and Dodge Bros. preferred, Barnet Leather and Tobacco Products common and preferred sold at the year's lowest prices.

Rails were quiet but firm.

Reactionary tendencies prevailed in the commodity markets, wheat losing about a cent a bushel and cotton 75 cents to $1.50 a bale on selling influenced by better crop reports.

The foreign exchange market displayed a slightly better undertone. Sterling cables ruled unchanged around $4.85 1-2.

POETRY FOR THE WIDE-AWAKES

"W'en a Pussy Cat Dies"

You'se as stiff an' as cold as a stone,
Little cat,
Dey'se done frowed you out an' lef'
you alone,
Little cat.
I'se strokin you'se fur,
But you don't never purr,
Nor hump up anywhere,
Little cat—w'y is dat?
Is you'se purrin' an' humpin' all done?

W'y fer is you'se little foot tied,
Little cat?
Did dey pizen you'se tummick inside,
Little cat?
Did dey hurt you wif kicks,
Or wif big, nasty bricks,
Or poun' you wif sticks,
Little cat—tell me dat?
An' holler w'enever you cried?

Did it hurt very much w'en you died,
Little cat?
Om w'y didnt you wun off an' hide,
Little cat?
I'se all wet in my eyes
Cos I 'most allus cwies
W'en a pussy cat dies,
Litt'e cat. Fink of dat!
An' I'se awfully sowwy besides.

Dest lay down here in de sof' groun',
Little cat.
W'ile I put de green grass all round',
Little cat.
Dey won't hurt you no more
W'en you'se tired an' so sort—
Dest lay twiet,
Little cat—wif a pat,
An' forget all de kicks of de town.

Genius

The little gray bird took a tuck in his song,
Then ran a swift seam of delight,
His silk was of sunshine, his stitches were strong,
His needles as jewels were bright.
He fluted and pockered and ruffled and hemmed;
With dew and with rapture the pattern was gemmed,
And I heard where I stood, how a streamer unwound—
A dear, unbelievable ribbon of blue—
How it went through the woods with a miracle sound
In spirals of color, ecstatic and true.
Your song, darling bird, I shall never forget.

—Angelo Morgan, in "Silver Clashes."

UNCLE JED'S TALK TO THE WIDE-AWAKES

In perusing a magazine the other day, Uncle Jed came across a story which brought to mind the accident which befell a 15 year old Plainfield boy several days ago. This boy was accidentally shot by his playmate, while playing with a gun. The item referred to was written by Angelo Patri, and he has the following to say:

"I believe that toy pistols are dangerous toys, in that they lead children to think that their use is a logical and proper idea. No man or woman may carry a gun without a permit, and to get one he or she must show good cause. But children are armed with guns and play murder and hold-up games with them. It seems to me that there are so many toys that children could use to advantage, and without harm to themselves or others, that the symbols of war might be omitted. Whether you are big navy or little navy, whether you are pacifist or militant, does not matter in the least. You are grown up and are responsible for what you do and are. But childhood is helpless.

"Personaly, I hate guns. I would not allow a child under 20 to handle one. If and when it became necessary for him to handle one, I would have himself trained to do so by an expert. I wou'dn't coax a child to love them. A broom, a rake, a shovel, a spade, a hatchet and hammer and nails, a wheel an da dog and a kite, a sand lot and a bat and a ball,a horse and a boat and a good pair of hiking shoes, a swim anda race, a sleep under the open sky seem better means of training to fine citizenship than the toy pistol, a rifle, or a sword."

LETTERS WRITTEN BY WIDE-AWAKES

Autobiography of a Doll

Dear Uncle Jed: The first of my life that I recollect is the time that I was in Santa Claus' home. For about two weeks I remained there. At last I heard Santa say to his dear old jolly wife, "I believe I'll take this beautiful big doll along with me and present her to a little sick girl who lives far out in the country." Imagine how proud I felt! I wished I could hold my nose a little higher, but this pleasure was denied me. Santa soon packed me in a beautiful Christmas box and filed me with a red and green string. It was very stuffy in there. I heard other toys also mention it. Before I realized where I was I found myself in a warm place. This I knew because the heat came through the box. On Christmas morn the sick girl, whose name was Anna Maria, opened the box. When she saw me she was so delighted that no words could express her merriment. I was thrilled to know that I could make the poor girl happy. For years and years Anna Maria played with me. To all her friends she showed me. One day her dog Ted got me and chewed my whole body but not my head. In spite of my wrecked condition my mistress played with me. When she was too old to play with me she packed me in a box and bequeathed me to her children.

At Rocky Point

Dear Uncle Jed and Wide-Awake Circle: I wonder if you would like to read my story about a trip I took yesterday. I went with my sister and her family to Rocky Point. We started about 8.30 in the morning and arrived around 10.30.

We had a very enjoyable time. The amusements were great. I know everyone likes them. We went on the merry-go-round. I went on a horse that went up and down. Then we went on automobiles that you steer yourself. Of course, I couldn't help from bumping into someone else. I thought I'd never stop laughing over it.

Then there were many other interesting amusements. The tropical exhibit; that was the most interesting of all. There were palm trees, oranges, banana, lemon and pineapple trees. Then there were the animals—snakes, alligators and others. One of the alligators was 200 years of age. There were many small ones, too. The man opened one of the mouths, showed its teeth. I'd hate to meet one that wasn't in its cage. There were many birds there, too. The monkeys were awfully funny. We watched them race and perform.

Before I knew it, it was time to come home. We arrived about 6. I was tired that night. I think you'd all enjoy seeing the amusements down there. I hope all of you are having a nice vacation.

On the Farm

Dear Uncle Jed: I have not written to you for quite a while, so this time I am going to tell you about my visit on the farm. Sunday night about 7 o'clock we started for a visit to the farm. After we had got there we ate our supper and then we went to bed.

Next morning we woke up very early and started our adventures of the day. My friend (Alice) took a flashlight and we explored all the places in the house. We found many holes in the foundation of the house.

Next day we went berrying, which was some more fun. They were very big berries. Some were blue and some were black. We had picked quite a few when it was growing dark. As we rode home we saw the old farmhouses and the beautiful flowers all in bloom. When we reached home we were very tired, so we all went to bed.

Very early next morning we got up to make some root beer, which came out fine. Next day I started home. I had a very nice time and I also like to live on a farm. Hope the Wide-Awakes will enjoy reading my story. Many happy thoughts to the Wide-Awakes.

Middle Atlantic States

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the second time I have written to you. This time I am going to tell you and the Wide-Awakes about the Middle Atlantic states. New York, New Jersey and pennsylvania are such a desirous place to live in for the following reasons: They are near the Atlantic ocean, so it is easy to export and import raw amterials. They are also near the Great Lakes, which afford water power. There are 102,554 square miles of land in the three states. The soil is sandy in New Jersey, which makes it a good place for cattle. It is a very hilly region, so that they can have cattler alsing in any place. The soil is fertile near the Great Lakes, so that they may also have agriculture. The climate is cold in the winter and warm in the summer. It is neither too hot nor too cold. Hope the Wide-Awakes will enjoy reading my story.

ALICE PERKINS, Age 13.

The Atlantic Cable

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the third time I have written to you. The Atlantic cable is over 2,000 miles long and runs through the ocean. One end of it is anchored at this continent and the other end is in Ireland. It was not very easy to lay this wire. The men who tried it failed many times. People laughed at them, but they were patient, for they knew it could be done. Two vessels sailed from Cork, each having one-half of the cable on board. In the middle of the ocean they spliced the two halves. Then one vessel sailedd to Ireland, while the other went to Newfoundland. It was done. A message was sent by Queen Victoria to our president. The cable was answered. After a few weeks the cable did not work any more. It took the men eight years to fix it over again. At last it was fixed again. From that day to this it brings us news. Now there are five Atlantic cables. The longest is between London and Calcutta, in India. This cable is ever 7,000 miles long.

My Unsuccessful Invention

Dear Uncle Jed: I am writing a story about my idea of making an airplane.

One day as I was reading a newspaper I saw a picture of an airplane, a simple one. I thought I would try to make a body and a motor of my own. I went to work at once. I made a body big enough to sit on it. Then I made the tail and wings. I got an old broken tricycle and used the back wheels for the plane. Now was the time to think for the engine. The engine I thought of was to have the front wheel of the tricycle and a chain on it. When the chain would turn it would turn the propellor and the airplane would probably take me in the air. I fixed everything and was wondering if it would go up. I had an alarm clock to make a noise like an engine. I was turning the wheel hard but the airplane didn't move an inch. I pushed it up a steep hill and I thought it would get started. I sat down without any fear how I'd go up in the air. All of a sudden I went down fast until I came to a hole in the ground. There I tipped over and broke the tail. I fixed it the best I could and pushed it up the hill again. As I was half way down the hill I saw that my plane was heading for some trees. I thought I'd dodge them, but my steering part broke and I went head-first into the tree with the plane. Everything in the front was broken. I looked at it with a cross-eye and went home with a sprained leg. The next time I'll try anything on a clear hill.

Celebrates 12th Birthday

Dear Uncle Jed: I celebrated my 12th birthday July 26. I had a hot dog roast in the evening. I had a beautiful birthday cake. It had six layers, each one of a different color, and pink frosting all over it and 12 candles on the top, set into candy candle holders. I received a nice gift from each guest. The oldest was 55 years old and the youngest a year and a half old. The baby had as good a time as anyone. But after a while the sandman came and the little fellow didn't want to go to sleep and miss the fun and he tried to pick his eyes open. It was too cute for anything.

It doesn't seem a whole year since I wrote to you about my 11th birthday party.

Time flies so I can't seem to crowd enough into my vacation. I am growing up fast. I will be in the 7th grade when school opens. I wanted to go to camp at Gardner lake this year, but my folks thought I had better wait until I am a little older. Perhaps I can go next year. A girl of whom I think a great deal is going, but I couldn't go with her anyway, because she is a high school girl.

I have made several cakes and a few pies, and I hope it doesn't seem conceited to say I am proud of it.

I have sewed a lot and I have a dress to make before school begins. I can take much finer stitches than I did last year.

I take care of my own room now and I take pride in doing so.

Well, I think perhaps I have told you enough about myself for this time.

Duck Stole Nest

Dear Uncle Jed: We have two ducks, a male and a female. We have had them quite a while. The remale stole a nest and had 15 eggs. Only two hatched out, but soon didd. Now she stole another and we hope she will hatch out more this time.

At the Beach

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to tell you of my adventure at Pleasant View beach. It was on a hot afternoon last year that this happened. A friend of my mother's asked me to go down to Pleasant View beach with them. When we got down there the water was very rough, as it always is. I got into my bathing suit and jumped in. I waded out quite far, because I did not know there were any breakers there. I jumped all the breakers and thought it great fun. But after a while I got tired and turned around with my back to the waves. I did not know that a breaker was coming in back when suddenly I felt I was being pulled down, down, down. I surely thought I w a gone, but I came up dripping wet, but none the worse for the accident.

Story About Sugar

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to tell you about sugar. Sugar is an important food because it furnishes heat for our bodies. Sugar is made from the juice of the sugar cane and sugar beet and from the sapof thesugar maple tree.

Sugar cane grows in warm countries Louisiana, in our country, grows a large quantity of sugar cane. The sugar cane grows in stalks from eight to 20 feet high and looks like cornstalks. The juice is boiled and purified several times before it becomes the granulated we use in our homes.

Sugar is also made from the sugar beets. Sugar beets are white and much larger than the beets we eat. They will grow in a colder climate than sugar cane.

A small amount of sugar is made each year from the sap of the sugar maple tree. The sap is taken from the trees in the spring, before the leaves come out. The sap is boiled and made into maple sugar. A large part comes from Vermont.

Visits Aviation Field

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the second time I have written to you. July 22, Sunday, we went to Atlantic Beach. It was too cold there for bathing, so we went back to Pleasant View. There we hired a boat and rowed around for about an hour. The boat leaked. My mother and I had to bail the water out while my brother rowed. We saw many crabs in the water. At last our hour was up and we took the boat back. We went to the car and ate our lunch. Then we started for the aviation field. We stayed there for some time watching the airplanes go up with passengers. It is an interesting sight to watch them go up into the air like a huge bird and go out of sight in the clouds, then glide down to the ground again.

How I Spent Sunday

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the first time I have written to you, and I hope you and the Wide-Awakes will enjoy my story.

I spent Sunday afternoon at the park with a couple of my girl friends. We walked up and back and we all enjoyed the rides on the swings and see-saws.

We took a walk around to see if the huckleberries were ripe, but only a few were, and the rest were green. We went back, bought some popcorn and some ice cream. Then we took our last ride and started for home.

The three resorts at Crystal Lake, Sandy Beach, West Rock and Crystal Lake Park, had large crowds over the week-end and the bathing accommodations were taxed to capacity.

Summer Colds

FOR quick relief from those annoying colds in the head that linger so in summer, melt some Vicks Vaporub in a bowl of hot water and inhale the vapors. Also place some Vicks in the nostrils and snuff well up the nose. It quickly soothes the inflamed membrane, and clears the head—without "dosing."

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"

Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of sour, take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

out week there. This is the first year that the Catholic boy scouts have been in camp, and the opening season was considered very successful. Instead of closing the camp Father Bellerose, the pastor of the church organized a group of women leaders to assume direction of a number of girls of the parish wishing to attend camp. Father Bellerose, secured the services of Alderman and Mrs. Migneault who will act as supervisors, with a number of professional and college girls who will act as councilors. They will return to Putnam on Friday.

According to an item appearing in the August issue of the Telephone Bulletin Miss Rose McGarry of Pomfret street has just completed 15 years of service as an operator in the Putnam telephone exchange. Miss McGarry entered the local office in July, 1913 and has been in continuous service since.

Also included in the continuous service list of telephone employes is Miss Beatrice Geer of Danielson, who recently completed five years of service.

Victoria Zaklukiwicz of Main street, a victim of an automobile accident on Main street, Saturday evening was reported today by officials at the Day Kimball hospital as being dangerously ill as the result of injuries sustained when struck down by the vehicle driven by Edwin Bennett of Holland, Mass. Her condition Sunday evening was regarded as serious and recovery is doubtful.
